Pumpkin Time? - - - -

Did the title make you wonder what this editorial would be all about? Well it's going to be about the Garrett County Agricultural Fair.

Is there anything wrong with that? You may say, the Fair won't be with us for another eight months, so why get all steamed up over it.

Well, here's the reason. It takes time to plan and to grow things. It is not a bit too early to begin thinking about what you would like to enter in the Garrett county fair, and then start laying your plans to make your entry the best it is possible to make.

Elsewhere on this page is an article about a meeting of the Fair Board of Directors.

This is just another meeting of several that have been held since the last fair ended in August, but the interest of the members is deep. And they keep plugging twelve months of the year.

They know from the records that the increase in interest, exhibits, exhibitors and premium money has been tremendous, and they are anxious that it continue.

The basic purpose of the fair, as H. G. Gortner, retiring president, said last year, "is to provide a suitable way to reflect the resources and accomplishments of the people of the county. In these years of world wide unrest, fairs, so typical of the American Way of life, should hold a deeper significance than ever before."

So if it's pumpkins you want to exhibit, try to make them the best pumpkins you can grow. This friendly spirit of competition, this desire to improve your products—there's nothing quite like it.

We'd like to see the Fair continue to grow and we believe it will. But we also want everyone to start thinking about it NOW. By sticking closely to agriculture and things of the soil, this little Garrett County fair can be made the best one in the state. We don't need a parade every day. We don't need horse racing. We don't need a lot of gambling concessions on the midway. All we need is an abiding interest in agriculture, the will to improve ourselves, and the urge to let others see what we are doing.

Junior Ski Club Races Are Slated This Week-End

The Junior cup ski races are planned for this week-end on Marsh mountain. Sponsored by the Blue Ridge Ski council the event will draw junior boy and girl skiers from four states, if the weather cooperates.

The races are sanctioned by the United States Eastern Amateur Ski association and will be governed by its rules. Contestants will be divided by sex and by age into four classes as follows:

Class 1, 16 and 17-year-olds; class 2, 14 and 15-year-olds; Class 3, 12 and 13-year-olds; and class 4, under 12

There will be competition also on a team basis. Each participating club will enter a team consisting of not less than 3 nor more than 8 skiers. Their individual scores will be counted on a team basis. A club trophy will be awarded to the winning team.

George Hankins, Cumberland, announced he already had received team entries from Baltimore and Washington. The team from Western Maryland Ski club will include Guy Hinebaugh, Jimmy Gibson, Bob Lohr, Harley Winer, Joe Alvarez, Jan Naylor, Mary Kay Alvarez, Beth Naylor.

In selecting the team an effort was made to get at least one skier in every class. Other junior skiers from the Western Maryland club will include Bob Stuck, Rhonna Winer, Linda Oursler, Barbara Zepp, Ann Nethken, Jack Alvarez, John Kerins, Joe Kerine, Bob Nordeck, Mike Naylor, Freddie Feld and Drake Gibbs.

The events in the meet will include a slalom race which tests the precision judgment and skill of a skirr in negotiating gates placed on a steep slope, and is a race against time. There will also be a giant slalom which places more emphasis on speed and nerve, officials say.

For the first time there will be a mother-son and a dad-daughter race. This is calculated to be a fun race and should lend a carnival touch to the events.

Scout Round Table Set For Next Tuesday Evening

Included in the discussion will be plans for scout anniversary week in February.

Election Officials Will Gather Monday For Special Meeting

All County election officials in the state are scheduled to meet in Annapolis on Monday, January 11, according to Lloyd L. Simpkins, executive assistant to Governor Tawes.

This includes all supervisors of elections, substitute board members, clerks, and attorneys. Planning to attend from this county are Board members, Albert Shaffer, Kitzmiller; Tom Metz, Lonaconing; George Meese, Frostburg; substitute members, Allen S. Paugh, Deer Park; and Fitzhugh Burrell, Kitzmiller; clerks, Miss Julia Rowan, and Mrs. Geraldine Turney, Oakland; and attorney to the board, Fred A. Thayer.

Governor Tawes will address the entire group, after which a general discussion of the state's election laws will be conducted.

Representatives of the Attorney General's office will explain existing law and answer any questions that may arise.

Mr. Simpkins said that many of the county officials were serving in their present capacity for the first time, and that those who served under Governor Lane, last Democratic governor, may not be fully familiar with the law, as revised in 1957. "Since this is an election year, it was thought wise that all of the officials receive a briefing on the laws under which they will conduct the elections this spring and fall. It may be that some changes need to be made in the law. If such be the case, these suggested changes can be discussed prior to the February session of the General Assembly.

The meeting will be in the House of Delegates chamber at 1:30 p. m.

Following a meeting of the local Board of Supervisors of Elections on Monday evening announcement was made of the four custodians of voting machines They are Waloughby Callis, Mt. Lake Park; Leonard Wilhelm, Lonaconing; Earl Opel, Frostburg; and James Bardy, Shallmar. They will go to Jamestown, N. Y., in February for training with the Automatic Voting Machine Company.

Lawrence Wilhelm Is Dead In Power Saw Mishap Jan. 2

Saw Blade Falls Apart As Men Were Working On Timber Job

Lawrence Edward Wilhelm 27, father of four children, was killed instantly last Saturday afternoon January 2, in a freak power saw accident near his home on Fingerboard road, west of Oakland.

Authorities who investigated the accident, said Wilhelm and his father-in-law, Frank Severe, also of the Oakland area, were cutting timber with an old-type saw when the saw broke into a number of pieces.

Authorities said the power saw was operated by connecting the belt to a wheel of an automobile. While cutting a piece of timber something snapped in the mechanism and the saw shattered, with several pieces striking Wilhelm on the head and body. The accident occurred about 3 p. m.

Assisting authorities was Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., deputy state medical examiner, of Oakland.

Wilhelm was employed as a cutter in a coal mine in the Hutton area. He was born June 26, 1932, a son of Frank G. and Blanche Virginia Kisner Wilhelm of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Besides his parents he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nancy D. Severe Wilhelm; two sons, Lawrence Edward Wilhelm, Jr., William Stevenson Wilhelm, Terra Alta, W. Va., two daughters, Miss Deborah Diann Wilhelm, route 1, Oakland; Miss Leona Elaine Wilhelm, Terra Alta; a step-son, Darrell Franklin Severe, route 1, Oakland; also four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Harriett Sharps, Hopemont, W. Va.; Mrs. Patricia Bailey, Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. Shirley Roy, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Barbara Metheny, Terra Alta; Norman Elwood Wilhelm, Dennis Brant Wilhelm and Franklin F. Wilhelm, Terra Alta.

The deceased was a veteran of the Korean conflict and served with the 605th transportation company, now stationed at Fort Story, Va. He enlisted March 27, 1951 and was honorably discharged April 29, 1955.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon, January 5, at 2 o'clock from the Pike-Watson Funeral home in Terra Alta, with the Rev. W. C. Dunson officiating. Interment was in the Terra Alta cemetery.

Marriage Licenses Increase For 1959

The county had an increase in marriage licenses during 1959, the total running one hundred twelve greater than the previous year.

During 1959 there were 1,705 marriage licenses granted with October being the busiest month with 192. Even with the increase there were 109 couples who planned to get married who for one reason or another, never went through with the arrangements. There were 1,881 license applications.

It happens this way each year. Last year there were 1,783 licenses applied for but only 1,593 issued.

The totals by month were as follows: January, 126; February, 94; March, 121; April, 97; May, 128, June, 161; July, 178; August, 165; September, 174; October, 192, November, 140; December, 126.

Statistics Show Trend Of County Business Firms

Statistics released by the district manager of the Baltimore office of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reflect the trend of business firms in the county during the past year. Figures obtained from the company's reference book for January, 1960, totaled 264 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers compared to 263 in January, 1959, an increase of 1.

The book lists only manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, real estate brokers.

During the year 71 changes were made in the book listings of county businesses, including 13 names added, 12 deleted and 46 changes in rating of continuing businesses

Council Discusses Charter Difficulties

A continuation of the discussion concerning the formation of a new charter for the town of Oakland occupied a good portion of the January meeting of the Mayor and Town Council held Monday night in the city hall.

Parts of the present charter are obsolete, according to several council members. City Attorney Lewis R. Jones pointed out that a lot of research was necessary before an up-to-date charter could be formulated. One of the basic problems was the necessity of wading through all minutes of the town council meetings for the past 48 years, to find out what additional ordinances had been passed and other pertinent facts that would be necessary in compiling a new ordinance.

Also discussed were plans for obtaining water from the Youghiogheny river. Money for this project will be raised by a bond issue and Mayor and council were awaiting word from the bond salesmen.

Only one motion was made during the two-hour session and that was to contribute $25 to the Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The street committee chairmen was ordered to investigate the need of a street light at the corner of 6th and Reese streets.

An application for a permit to erect an addition to the Oakland Revival center, on South Second street, in rear of the present building was tabled. The application stated the proposed addition would be 30 by 36 and would cost approximately $1,843.50.

Receipts amounted to $11,977.67. This included $197.25 from water, $3,838.72 from taxes and $7,891.70 from miscellaneous. Among the miscellaneous items were $2,645 for sale of Christmas trees from the town's water farm; $791.98 for parking meters, $2,880 from motor vehicle license fees and $1,280.41 from bank stock tax.

Expenditures amounted to $9,103.99 Among the items were $688.23 for street labor, $87.41 for street supplies, $378.34 for street lights, $718.22 for gasoline for garage; $550.04 for water labor, $1,243.83 for water supplies, $749.58 for power for pumps and $1,500 for capital outlay in the water department.

Sunday movie tax amounted to $56.45.

Rabid Fox Bites Dog Near Gortner

A rabid fox was shot and killed Tuesday after it had fought with and bitten a dog in the Gortner section.

The fight occurred on the farm of Milo Yoder, in the Hemlock Hollow area near Gortner, and the dog was owned by Mr. Yoder. The fox was shot three times with a shot gun.

Since the fight the dog has been vaccinated and will be penned up for at least thirty days. The vaccination is no guarantee that rabies will not develop, according to veterinarians.

The animal was shipped to the state livestock sanitary laboratory at College Park for positive diagnosis, but there was no doubt by those involved that the fox was rabid.

The Oakland laboratory reported also that the diagnosis came back Tuesday on the dog that was shot near the Eastern States Farmers Exchange on 8th street two or three weeks ago, indicated definitely that the dog had rabies.

Fair Board Seeks Growing Interest In Annual Event

Ways and means of making the annual Garrett County Fair "bigger and better," occupied the time of the Fair's Board of Directors which met Monday night at McHenry. The group met for the first time with the new president of the board, John J. Brenneman, of Accident.

Because of the continuing interest of the young people of the county in the county fair, one of the items discussed was the possibility of a Garrett County School day for this year's event.

Members of the board appeared particularly anxious that people of all ages begin now to make plans for their exhibits at the fair in August so that the annual affair continues its growth.

Evidence of the growth in interest in the fair was graphically shown by figures obtained from the county agent's office.

During the three years of the fair the exhibitors have more than doubled and the number of entries has more than doubled also. Amounts paid in premiums have almost doubled.

The figures show the following: 1957, 415 exhibitors, 1,053 entries, premiums paid, $2,029.50.

1958, 670 exhibitors, 1,546 entries, premiums paid, $2,538.75.

Wagner Again Manager

The board of directors re-elected Claude Wagner, Sr., as general manager of the fair. Mr. Brenneman appointed the following: Harland Bowman, McHenry, as grounds chairman; Harry Collier, Accident, parade chairman; Mrs. John Menges, Keyser Ridge, chairman of publicity and advertising; H. G. Gortner, Oakland, chairman of entertainment.

The possibility of gate prizes each evening also was discussed by board members Monday evening.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, February 8, at the Gerald Glotfelty tenant house at McHenry.

Double Tragedy

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Wilhelm, of Terra Alta suffered from its second tragedy in 48 hours when their eight room two-story frame house was ravaged by a fire at 12:35 o'clock Monday afternoon. Previously their son, Lawrence Edward Wilhelm, 27, was killed in a freak accident at his home on Fingerboard road, on Saturday when a saw blade broke and struck him in the face and chest.

The building and its contents were consumed. The Terra Alta fire company was called after the fire was discovered by William Spiker, of Oakland, who was driving a bread truck in the area at the time.

The fire completely destroyed the home. The family saved nothing but the clothing they were wearing. However, a cellar near the home, containing approximately 1,000 cans of food, was saved.

Fire was believed to have started in the vicinity of the furnace located in the rear of the home. Living in the house were Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm, their children still at home and several grandchildren. Wilhelm is employed at Hopemont Sanitarium. Terra Alta officials and friends have started a drive to assist the family.

The house was located about a half-mile east of Terra Alta, across the tracks from the Williams market.

Chas. F. Hammond Orphans Court Judge Is Buried Sunday

Charles F. Hammond, aged 94, judge of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, and court bailiff for many years, died last Thursday, December 31, at his home on Second street, Oakland. He had been in ill health for a year and several months ago underwent an operation which removed several of his toes. Arrangements were being made to return him to the Garrett County Memorial hospital at the time of death.

Mr. Hammond was a native of Cumberland, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Hammond. He resided in Meyersdale, Pa., at one time but came to Oakland some sixty years ago.

Mr. Hammond operated a stone crusher in the county for twenty-five years. He had served as court bailiff since 1930 and also served as a trial magistrate.

He was a member of Oakland Lodge No. 192, A. F. and A. Mr. Hammond was twice married, his first wife having died several years ago. Surviving are his widow, Clara Smoot Hammond, and a sister, Mrs. Nancy Cover, Meyersdale.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Methodist church, of which he was a member. The Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Oakland cemetery where the local Masonic lodge conducted rites at the grave.

Police Find Girl's Name, Age As False

A 17-year-old girl, arrested a week ago on a vagrancy charge in Baltimore, yesterday told the court that her mother did not treat her right and that's why she didn't move with her parents to Gormania, W. Va.

The Magistrate referred her for an interview to the Protective Services of the Department of Welfare.

Police have been unsuccessful in locating Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones, the name given as the girl's parents. Police said they discovered yesterday the girl was only 15 and that her name was not Jones.

Found asleep December 29 in a car near Loch Raven boulevard, the girl said she had no place to stay, no money and had not eaten for two days. She told police she had been staying with her sister, Mrs. Susanne Cullers, since her parents moved away, but that her sister moved also.

She also told police that when her parents moved to Gormania she remained behind because she didn't like her grandmother.

A police check yesterday produced information that the West Virginia woman had a step-granddaughter with another name and that the child's real mother was in Baltimore. The magistrate gave the girl a thorough scolding in court, wiped out the vagrancy charge and advised police to institute juvenile proceedings.

Named Case Worker

Paul Eary began his duties this morning as a case worker for the Garrett County Welfare board. He replaces Miss Ruth Keller, whose resignation became effective January 1st.

Mr. Eary formerly taught in the Garrett County schools and prior to accepting his present position was teaching in Terra Alta High school.

The appointment was announced by the Welfare Board which had made its selection from a list of eligibles presented by the State Commissioner of Personnel.

Tax Rate Is Due To Be Increased

Exact Figure Will Not Be Known For Several Days

Even with an increase of around a million dollars in the taxable basis of the county it was a foregone conclusion that there was going to be an increase in the county tax rate this year.

The amount of the increase was yet to be determined by the County Commissioners who have been at work for the past several weeks in listing the various categories in the budget.

They said that increases were being sought in practically every department, but whether or not the increases or a portion of the increases were going to be allowed, had not yet been decided.

Carl Schell, president of the board, said three of the increases were in schools, welfare and health departments. Schools were asking for some $426,000 in comparison to $395,886 given last year. Welfare requests were for some $62,000 compared to $57,758 in 1959 for the County Welfare board. There was a request for some $20,000 additional in the category of conservation of health. Last year the total was $18,107.17. Mr. Schell said a request had been made for an additional sanitarian on the health department staff. He added that the welfare department had approximately $3,800 left from 1959 funds, that would be turned back.

More money was being requested for roads, and roads employes were seeking increases in pay. Legislation at the last session of the legislature had made it mandatory to pay additional amounts to certain fire departments, and had given authority to levy a sum up to $25,000 for industrial promotion.

An increase of one million dollars in taxable basis would provide $20,000 in taxes at a tax rate of $2.00 on each $100 of assessable property.

Regulations make it necessary that the levy be completed by January 15. Mr. Schell said it might be possible to know the definite rate by the end of the week. He declined to estimate just what the rate would be. For the past several years it has been $2.00. There was some speculation as to whether it would go to $2.10 or even higher. Elra Garletts, member of the board, said, "you may be sure, it won't be any higher than absolutely necessary."

One thing making the calculation more difficult was pointed out by Mr. Schell. "Whenever our assessable basis increases the amount we receive from the state decreases," he said.

Dinners To Honor "Ike" Are Planned

Several Republicans from the county are planning to join the thousands who will have "Dinner with Ike" on the evening of January 27, at $100 per plate. Marylanders will have their dinner in the ballroom of the Lord Baltimore hotel, Baltimore. Many dinners are planned throughout the nation.

Guest speaker is to be Congressman Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana, Republican floor leader. He will be followed by President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon. They will appear on a closed circuit TV screen. "Ike" from Los Angeles and "Dick" from Chicago.

W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney for Garrett county, is the county's finance chairman for the dinner. The quota for the county has been set at eight. Just who would participate in the dinner was not known at this time.

Proceeds of the dinner are to be used for the Republican presidential campaign which will be conducted following the nominating convention in July.

Snow Falls Today

Snow began to fall about 9 o'clock this morning, and the rate with which it was continuing gave promise that there would be several inches of snow by nightfall.

Up until that time the winter had been very moderate. There was some rain on Saturday with Sunday some cooler and a spitting of snow. Monday was cool and clear early in the morning but turning cloudy around noon. Tuesday and Wednesday remained cool and mostly cloudy, with snow threatening but not appearing.

About Third of Snow Melting Material In Store for 3 Counties

Almost a third of the 57000 tons of melting agents and abrasives planned for use by the Maryland State Roads commission during the present winter throughout the state will be used on three western Maryland county roads. The state roads system includes 4,706 miles.

A breakdown of the figures by districts shows that in district 6 which includes Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, there will be used 2,306 tons of melting agents, 12,418 tons of abrasives and 256,350 linear feet of snow fence. That is almost 67½ miles of snow fences in the three counties.

The breakdown also shows that the total in melting agents and abrasives is 14,724 tons for district 6, and 37,932 tons for all the balance of the state.

The commission has erected 294 miles of snow fencing. The Commission owns 497 snow removal units and rents 81 vehicles on which commission-owned plows can be affixed, meaning that a total of 578 snow and ice removal units are available. Many of the trucks are equipped with spreaders for handling melting agents and abrasives.

The average annual expenditure involved in snow removal over the past two years on the State Roads system has been approximately $1,300,000.

The commission this year in cooperation with state police and telephone company has a plan designed to reduce danger to highway users when adverse conditions develop swiftly. The new plan calls for uncovering by state police of around 300 "icy road" signs when and where conditions develop, some of which are equipped with amber blinker lights. The commission forces alerted from headquarters immediately begin operations with snow removal vehicles. A two-way radio system aids in the operation.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi there, hope you all had a very pleasant holiday season. I really did.

You know the March of Dimes drive is now in progress and I feel that an effort on the part of our teen population would help a great deal. There will be special record hops in as many of the towns in the county as possible. The same entertaining troupe (with the exception of one who has moved away) that entertained for the School Bus Tragedy fund earlier this year at the Sutton theatre in Thomas, will appear. All but maybe one or two involved in the productions are teen-agers. Any performer or performers who would like to donate their services may contact me at DE 4-2534. Rock n roll, popular, or country entertainers are really needed, or if you dance or play an instrument.

"Molly Dee" and "Haul Away," two new numbers by the Kingston Trio, are on sale with the entire profit going to the March of Dimes.

There has been a fine group attending Teen Club in the past few weeks. Everyone has had the proverbial ball. Hope to see you all there tomorrow night at "the big record hop in the armory."

Jack Scott, whom you may remember by his hit "Goodbye Baby," is back in the groove with "What In the World." I find that in the past three weeks that there have been more requests for Jack Scott singing, "What In the World" than for Fabian, Frankie Avalon, or even Johnny Preston (Running Bear). There have also been requests for "My True Love", "Leroy" and "Goodbye Baby," some of Scott's earlier hits. Scott is an army man, but this seems to have hardly hurt his career.

Thanks, everyone, for all your kind comments on my special Christmas column. See you all next week, drive very carefully.

Southern High Staff To Study Practices Related to Theory

Members of the staff at Southern High School this week began an intensive study of how effectively they are putting into practice their philosophy of education.

The study which was initiated by a suggestion from the superintendent of schools, Willard Hawkins, is being followed in each of the schools this month as a part of an in-service training program for all teachers and principals. In a statement to all principals, he said this study should provide a challenge to all educational personnel to work toward a program which will bridge the gap between what we say we believe and what is actually done in the classrooms."

Heading up the five committees appointed to study the situation at Southern are Albert Ruger, Lewis Domenick, Mrs. Frances Patterson, Mrs. Adrienne Carter and Russell Fitzgerald.

W. Kenneth Johns, principal indicated that the administration and guidance department would serve as consultants to each of the five committees. Among the areas to be surveyed and evaluated are the testing program, ability grouping of pupils, attendance records, remedial programs, study of records of achievement of college bound students, link between the home and the school, study of the curriculum as to what could be added or deleted. These and several items will be carefully evaluated by each committee and report back to the entire faculty the latter part of January, Mr. Johns stated.

He added that the study could be compared with yearly inventories made each year by industry and store owners. As a result of this inventory we will have a better idea of how we are accomplishing our objectives in addition to pointing up some of the excellent work now being done the study will lead up some improvements, thereby enabling us to work toward improvement toward meeting the challenges of the

Upon completion of the study, it will be turned over to the superintendent of schools and members of his staff.

A Message From "Your Pharmacist"

OPERATING A PHARMACY IS NOT EASY.

The 1960 Drug Topics Red Book, just received, has 660 pages listing more than 160,000 different items made by more than 6,000 individual drug companies, of which 121 are new firms.

THERE ARE 13,842 NEW PRODUCTS

There is a total of 2,966 product changes involving new prices or sizes.

OUR PROBLEM IS TO STOCK WHAT YOU MAY ASK FOR.

We try to always carry your favorite brands of medicines and health-aids. In our prescription department we must be able to compound medicines, even when prescribed by physicians in distant cities.

WE CAN'T CARRY 160,000 ITEMS.

Not even a wholesale drug house does. But, by careful stock control we usually have what you want.

WE WILL QUICKLY GET ANYTHING

On the few occasions when we do not have what you ask for, we will get it and stock it for your future need. Unlike non-pharmacy outlets that only offer the profitable fast sellers, we carry many needed slow-turnover items. That is why we need and appreciate your preference on all medicine and health-aid purchases.

Rules For Operation Of School Buses to Be In Effect Sept. 1

A copy of recently approved additional regulations for operation of school buses throughout the state, designed to insure greater transportation safety for children riding school buses, has been received from the State Department of Education by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools.

The regulations will become effective in all counties as of September 1, 1960.

In setting up these new statewide regulations the department expressed an objective that every child would ride a safe bus driven by a well trained, competent driver.

A supervisor of transportation is to be named for each county with full salary coming from the state, based upon one supervisor for each 100 buses or fraction.

Garrett county has approximately 90 different vehicles transporting school children and Mr. Hawkins announced this week that Robert Martin, who has been an administrative assistant, had been appointed as transportation supervisor in the county and would take over this assignment full time in June.

Hawkins said his duties would be related to all phases of school bus transportation in the county with special attention given to selection and training of drivers, the care and condition of equipment and traffic hazards. There will also be a state supervisor of school transportation who will be on the state staff, with offices in Baltimore.

Other regulations:

Remove all buses from the road that have been transporting children for a period of ten years. This practice is already in effect in most counties, Garrett being one of the few that have permitted school buses to be used for a twelve year period. The state fully amortizes the cost of all school buses over a period of eight years.

Make mandatory a minimum of four bus evacuation drills per year.

Disqualify, as of September 1, 1960, all persons as drivers who have reached their sixty-fifty birthday.

Require periodic spot checks of buses in addition to the three regular inspections.

Conduct driver safety programs for all drivers during the school year.

Require all buses to carry three additional flares for emergency use, state to pay for the purchase of these flares.

Resurvey all bus routes from time to time, and bring about whatever possible improvements in economy, efficiency and safety.

Miss Patricia A. Egensperger, daughter of Mrs. Edith M. Egensperger of Cleveland, Ohio, and the late Frank J. Egensperger, became the bride of Donald O. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harland F. Bowman, star route, Oakland, on Saturday morning, November 28, 1959 in St. Rose' Catholic church, Cleveland, Ohio.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard F. Byrne, pastor. The church was decorated with white gladioli and candlelight on the altar. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Robert Cogens. She was attired in a white gown of imported Chantilly lace and pleated nylon tulle designed with a Sabina neckline edged with sequins trim and a lace bodice. The full length skirt had tiers of lace and tulle with a lace panel down the front and back, and a chapel train. A queen's crown with sequins and pearls held her French illusion fingertip veil edged with hand cut lace.

Her bouquet was of white gladioli, the petals being made in the form of a rose with streamers.

Miss Brenda Durach was maid of honor while Miss Martha Mladonicky, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a fluorescent rose taffeta ballerina dress with round neckline, three quarter length sleeves, with headpiece to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses. The outfit of the bridesmaid was similar.

Miss Karen Cozens, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a floor length fluorescent mint green dress and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. Best man was Patrick Ward and Harold Brown served as an usher.

The mother of the bride selected a champagne beige dress with brown accessories with a corsage of green cymbideum. The mother of the groom wore a rose beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of green cymbideum.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the VFW hall, Post No. 2533. A five tiered wedding cake was cut and served. "The King's band" provided music for dancing. A wedding breakfast was held for the immediate family at the Greenbrier on Pearl Road, Parma, Ohio.

The couple then left for a honeymoon through southern states. For traveling the bride wore a blue wool suit with black accessories. They are now residing in Cleveland.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

T-V Not All Good —Not All Bad

- Big Veins
- Fits
- Hemorrhoids

Q. What general effect does viewing television have on a child? Is it good or bad?

A. From one recent study it seems that viewing T-V is neither as bad as some say nor as "broadening" as others would have us believe. There was no evidence that viewing led to eyestrain, sleep disturbances, or lack of concentration in school. The investigators concluded that if television is a window on the world, it gives a view not so different from that provided by books, comics, films and radio programs. On the other hand, the ability of T-V to "broaden" a child's mind is not very different from that of any other form of mass media.

Q. What is the cause of enlarged veins in the back of the hands? Is there a cure? I enjoy reading Medical Mirror.—Mrs. B.

A. Thanks, Mrs. B., for this interesting question. Items like this appeal to many observant readers such as yourself. Prominent veins can be a sort of family trait. If the veins are large and close to the surface they tend to stand out. As we get older there is a tendency for the tissue just below the skin to lose fat. This further increases the prominence of the veins. Prominent hand veins are in themselves harmless and require no treatment.

Q. Our year-old son had a spell that looked for all the world like epilepsy. We were told at the hospital that the fit was due to low blood sugar. Is this possible?

A. Of course. To many people, any sort of convulsion or seizure means epilepsy. This is not the case at all. For example, in typical instances of coma (loss of consciousness) due to low blood sugar, a previously well child who for some reason hasn't eaten well, gets sick. He may become irritable and develop twitching or jerking movements of the face, legs and arms. The skin may become cold and clammy and the eyes roll in a peculiar manner. Convulsions are common. Any type of seizure, of course, is important and you were wise in getting medical assistance.

Q. I understand that some surgeons remove hemorrhoids in a way to prevent them from coming back. Would all surgeons guarantee the same results?—A reader.

A. Certain general principles are followed by all surgeons in correcting hemorrhoids, although there might be variations in the exact procedure used by individual surgeons. Those hemorrhoids removed will not come back but others can develop in the same area. There is never any absolute guarantee of complete success.

Safeguarding the potency of certain biologicals, antibiotics, insulin and other drugs requires that they be kept under correct temperature control. To provide this essential safeguard, a glistening electric refrigerator is an important part of our prescription room equipment.

Married In North Glade Church

The North Glade Methodist church was the scene of a candlelight wedding on Sunday evening, November 29 when Miss Donna Virginia Beckman became the bride of Guy Willard Harvey.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman, of Swanton. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl K. Harvey, of Homestead, Florida.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar by the Rev. Edwin Smith, of Morgantown, W. Va. The chancel was adorned with a vase of pink gladioli and carnations and candelabra with white tapers. The pews were marked with a white satin ribbon bow.

Miss Elaine Gnegy, of Oakland, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied George Edgar of Oakland who sang "O Promise Me," and "Because."

The bride who was escorted by her father to the altar wore a floor length gown of white lace with net inserts fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline with three quarter length sleeves and matching mitts. The finger-tip veil of illusion was held by a head band of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers of white satin ribbon.

Miss Betty Biser was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a baby blue chiffon ballerina length gown. Her headdress was of white fur with a blue veil. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Robert Harvey served his brother as best man. John Beckman, brother of the bride, and Arthur Harvey, brother of the groom, served as ushers.

Mother of the bride wore a royal blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's parents were unable to attend.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Ernest Harvey, Oakland, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Lawrence O'Brien, of Springfield, W. Va., and Miss Helen Pretzel, of Baltimore, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Bennie Beckman, Oakland, served the nuts and mints.

For traveling the bride wore a brown silk dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to parts of Virginia.

Mrs. Harvey is a graduate of Southern High school and attended Catherman's Business school. She is employed as a clerk at the ASC office in Oakland. The groom was graduated from Oakland High school and is employed at the Harvey Brothers farm. They are residing in Oakland.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Handy Gipson Was Last Week's Barber

Last week's old photo, showing an unidentified Negro barber standing in the doorway of his shop, has been tracked down by several readers as that of Handy Gibson, who operated a barber shop prior to 1890 on Railroad street in Oakland.

In the advertising columns of local newspapers of the period, Mr. Gibson advertises his services as "Handy Gibson, shaving, hair cutting, &c."

From a newspaper clipping of July 12, 1889, we find that "Jamesson and Shartzer have built a walk extending from the depot platform near Gipson's Barber Shop to their store."

The spelling of the name in the various newspaper references varies from "Gibson" to "Gipson," and it is believed the latter to be correct.

Mr. Gibson (or Gipson) did not enjoy the new walkway for long, however. In August of the same year, under the heading, "Death of Handy Gipson," we read:

"Handy Gipson, colored, the well known barber of Oakland, died at Johns Hopkins University Hospital, Baltimore, on Monday, August 5th, at 8 p. m. Deceased was at the hospital under treatment for cancer of tongue and throat. The cancer was successfully removed on July 27, and he stood a good chance of recovery, and on the morning of the 5th inst. He wrote a private letter to a friend in Oakland stating that he was in a fair way to recover. But at 6 o'clock Monday he became worse and died from the swelling of the glottis. He was about 40 years old, and had been a resident of Oakland for about 10 years. Deceased leaves a wife and two children. His remains were brought to Oakland on Tursday and interred in the Odd Fellow's Cemetery."

But the barber business did not remain idle long after Mr. Gipson's death. On September 6, 1899, the following was published:

"W. A. Davis, the Oakland Hotel Barber, has purchased the fixtures of the late Handy Gipson's Barber Shop and will carry on the business at the old stand. Davis is a good barber and we doubt not but that he will meet with good success."

Claims Another Site

Harry West, a former resident now residing with his son-in-law, Fred Tickell, said this week he believed the location of the barber shop to have been on Railroad street near Second, where the Ravenscroft building (now the Gonder building) was subsequently located.

Mr. West said he thought the barber's name was Joe Leekins, and that the photo was taken about 1889.

However, a careful examination of another photograph, showing this portion of Oakland before the erection of the Ravenscroft building, shows no evidence of such a barber shop and on the basis of evidence discovered to date it must be assumed that the picture depicted was that of Handy Gipson and his shop.

This week we are still in the barbering business—but we know not where. Perhaps some sharp-witted reader can put us on the track for additional information about this shop. Obviously, it is substantially built and located on the slope of a rather steep incline.

The old photographs currently being published are from the collection of E. W. Adams. In tracking down news accounts of events of years ago, thanks are due Henry Arnold. Readers are invited to submit for publication photographs of about 50 years ago. It is preferable that persons or events pictured can be identified. All will be handled most carefully and returned after use.

President Eisenhower planned to visit Brazil in February.

America is a land of bells!

Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells. . . . . all speak of a country where Freedom from tyranny exists.

Radio chimes keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.

Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside the fetters of worry that shackle our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.

Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Strong Churches

Lesson for January 10, 1960

A TRAVELING medicine man is not a registered pharmacist. They both make a living out of selling medicines; but there the resemblance ends. The medicine man is interested in the money and nothing else. The pharmacist is a member of the community and has a personal stake in the community's health. The medicine man has never had one to examine him; the pharmacist has to pass a stiff examination to be licensed. The medicine man seldom knows much about his stuff; the pharmacist spent years studying it.

Dr. Foreman

Likewise, the fly-by-night preacher is not, as a rule, a churchman. They both are religious professionals, that is to say they "live by the Gospel" as Paul put it. But the fly-by-nighter can be identified by the fact that he is interested chiefly in the money; the churchman is interested in the people of the church. The churchman is a member of the Christian community, he lives there, he feels responsible. The fly-by-nighter is irresponsible; the churchman has been stiffly examined, and has spent years learning his job.

Strong Churches Make Strong Christians

Saint Paul was one of the most successful evangelists who ever lived. But he never thought his duty was done when he had simply preached somewhere. Saint Paul was a traveling preacher, but no fly-by-nighter. He had a sense of responsibility for the Christians whom he had converted. He knew that just getting people converted and then doing no more about them is like a doctor who would specialize in delivering babies but would not care what they ate, drank or wore after that. A neglected baby is a sickly baby, and a neglected Christian is a sickly Christian. The best place for babies is in a good home; and the best place for growing Christians is with other growing Christians, namely in a church. Strong churches make strong Christians.

What Makes A Church Strong?

Paul knew all this, indeed we may say that this method of work demonstrated that this is true. He knew if he left weak churches behind him the Christians would also be weak.

The recipe for a strong church has not changed since Paul's time. Three foundation-stones for a strong church are mentioned in Acts 14:21-23. First of these is preaching. Paul had preached in these churches before; they had heard the gospel. But they needed further help.

Can Christians be strengthened by talk? Certainly if the talk is right. If the preaching in a church is faithful to the Word of God, and if the preacher is trained to preach, instead of being a fuzzy-minded Christian who likes to talk, the listeners in that church Sunday after Sunday are being fed, to the health of mind and spirit.

Organization and Worship

Another foundation for a strong church is organized leadership. A church is not a mere collection of Christians, a religious mass-meeting. It is, or should be, a power in its community. Its responsibilities to its members and through its members are many. To do what needs to be done, leaders are needed who have some authority, some capacity for planning, some gifts of persuasion, some far vision.

Paul preached and organized, but he also prayed. These churches were to be communities of prayer. A church where all the praying is done by a few people, a church where people go only to be talked to, or to meet their friends, is not the strong kind of church that will nourish strong Christians. The most important Person we can meet in church is not some local "Mr. Big." It is God; and if we do not meet him we have missed the meaning of worship. For the real source of a church's strength is not the preacher and not the official board, whatever they may be called or however good they are. Everybody knows that it is God; but why do some churches grow weak by forgetting that God is the Center?

1,875,000 Seedlings Available This Year

Some 1,875,000 seedling trees will be available for planting in four westernmost counties this spring, it was announced at the office of William H. Johnson, district agent.

A breakdown of the figures shows that some 800,000 seedlings have been earmarked for Garrett county; about 450,000 for Frederick county, 350,000 for Allegany county and 225,000 for Washington county.

The small trees, in age from one to three years, were grown at the State Foresty Nursery at Harmons in Anne Arundel county.

The seedlings, Johnson said, will be furnished to property owners for reforestation only and they must agree not to sell them as living trees. They may be cut for timber crops as they mature.

The available species include white, red, Scotch and Virginia pine, Norway and white spruce; tulip poplar; black locust, red oak and sugar maple. They will not be issued in lots less than 500.

The trees offer a periodic monetary return for the western section of the state. First thinning could be made when the trees are from six to ten years of age, as Christmas trees. When about 25 years of age another thinning could be made and the wood sold as pulp wood. Saw logs used in manufacturing lumber could be cut when the trees are from 40 to 60 years old.

Some 300,000 of the seedlings are to be planted in state forests of Garrett and Allegany counties and the remainder on privately owned land. Persons wishing to procure the seedlings may contact the district forester's office. The office will make recommendations as to best species of seedlings and planting methods.

The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Accident with Rev. William E. Carlson, pastor, officiating. White cushion mums and candles were used on the altar while laurel and pine branches decorated the chancel. White ribbon bows marked the pews for the families.

The bride had her sister, Miss Sharon Lee Kesner, as her maid of honor. Miss Anna Mae Bishop, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Carroll Smith, Deep Creek Lake, were bridesmaids. David Dawson, Falls Church, Virginia, was his brother's best man. William McCall and Robert Dawson both of Cumberland, were ushers. The bride chose Barbara Carlson for her flower girl and Richard Carlson for ring bearer. Miss Jane Guard, organist from Friendsville, played a prelude of wedding music as well as the "Bridal Chorus" from the opera "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's "Recessional." She also accompanied Mr. S. Oliver Rephann, baritone, of Frostburg, who sang "O Perfect Love" by Barnby. Malott's arrangement of "The Lord's Prayer" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of hand clipped white Chantilly lace over taffeta. The gown was fashioned with a fitted lace bodice closed with lace buttons, a high neck line with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves tapered to a point over her wrists. The skirt was a cascade of lace ruffles over a nylon tulle ruffled underskirt. Her finger top veil of imported tulle fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and variegated holly. Her only jewelry were pearl ear rings, a gift of the groom.

Her attendants, each wore a ballerina length taffeta gown with fitted bodice and full skirl with a full length butterfly bow. The maid of honor was in Camellia Red with matching feather hat and shoes. She carried a cascade bouquet to match the bride's. The bridesmaids wore Emerald Green with matching feather hats and shoes and carried cascade bouquets of red carnations and holly.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Social Room of the church. The bride's table was decorated with white candles, and a three tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bride and groom ornament centered the table. The cake was cut by Mrs. William Carlson and served by Mrs. Ruth Wolford, aunt of the groom. Mrs. Roy C. Torney presided at the punch bowl and was assisted by Mrs. Deleon T. Rush and Mrs. Mitchell Rush. Christine Carlson and Gloria Jean Wolford were in charge of the guest book.

Highlanders And Huskies Set For Season's First Cage Encounter

The first of two basketball games between the Southern Highlanders and the Northern Huskies will be played Friday night on the Southern High court. It will be the sixteenth meeting of the two schools since 1953 when the two high school system went into effect in this county. This game and the one to be played at Northern on February 20, will determine the county champion but will have no bearing on who will represent the county in district playoffs. Northern is listed in the "B" class while Southern is listed as an "A" school. Both ratings are determined by the number of male students in the senior high school.

In competition thus far Southern has won nine games and Northern has won six. The two teams split in 1952-53, Northern winning the first 39 to 36 and losing the second 41 to 37. They split again in 1953-54, Southern winning the first 81 to 58 and losing the second 49 to 65. The next two years Southern won all games 71-48, 57-37, 79-59, 81-68. But Northern came back in 1956-57 and won both games 68-63 and 77-74.

The next year each team won a game and the third game was played to determine the championship. Southern won this one 65 to 55. Last year the teams split again Southern winning 74 to 67 while Northern took the second game 79 to 75.

Southern will have available for competition Stuck, James, Broadwater, T. Colaw, Wine, Propst, Malone, Bolyard, Prince, R. Colaw, DiSimone, Craig and Miller. The Huskies will have Long, McKenzie, George Lowry, Rush, Umbel, Patton, McCurdy, Smith, Thomas, W. C. Umbel, and Spiker.

Patton has led the Northern High scorers in games thus far this season while Southern, although led by Terry Colaw, has four boys scoring in double figures. They include Ron Colaw, Dick Stuck, and Jerry Wine.

Coach this year for the Huskies is Alvin Jones, who is in his first year. Prior to that time Lilburn Brown was coach. He is now athletic director. Southern has had four coaches since 1952, Richard Travis, now athletic director; Jim Ritchie, now coach at Bruce High school; Kyle Wilson, now teaching in Baltimore county; and Carl Schoonover. Schoonover is in his fifth year of coaching.

Assistant coaches for Southern are Earl Adolfson and Tom Kuhn.

Officials of the game will be Carl Keister and Jim Retton, both of Clarksburg, W. Va.

The preliminary game between the Jayvees of both schools will start at 6:45 and the main game is scheduled for eight o'clock.

A Sock hop for students from both schools is scheduled for immediately after the game.

Mt. Lake Council Reverses Itself

The City Council of Mt. Lake Park reversed its decision to pay council members and mayor a salary, at a meeting on Monday, January 11.

The council had previously voted to pay $5 per meeting per council member and $5 per meeting for the mayor plus $15 per month.

The constitution of Maryland specifically prohibits elected officials from raising their salaries during their current term of office.

Boat Safety Bill Under Discussion

A proposed boating law which would include regulations covering Deep Creek Lake, was discussed last Thursday evening at a public meeting in the Court House in Cumberland.

Between 75 and 100 persons attended the meeting which was a joint one between the Tidewater Fisheries commission and the State Game and Inland Fish Commission. Dr. H. C. Byrd, chairman of the former, presided.

Most of the speaking was done by Jerry Valiant, of Salisbury, vice-chairman of the Fisheries commission. It was he who had prepared a suggested boating law which probably will be referred to as the Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries Committee of the General Assembly of the legislative council.

Mr. Valiant attempted to explain the major provisions of his proposed bill and then spent much time in answering questions raised by the legislators from Garrett and Allegany counties and from the general public.

Many questions concerned details about regulations. He explained that matters of regulation in many cases would be left up to the combined efforts of the Fisheries Commission and the Game commission sitting together with

Appeal Is Filed In R. W. Guard Case

Attorneys for Ronald W. Guard asked Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, yesterday to file an appeal to the Court of Appeals from the verdict rendered in the murder trial December 22.

Guard was found guilty of manslaughter by the full court bench sitting in the case and was sentenced to serve ten years in the Maryland penitentiary. Sitting in the case were Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris, Cumberland; and Associate Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin, Hagerstown, and Judge Neil C. Fraley, Oakland.

The ten-year sentence was to begin from the time he was placed in the county jail on October 25. Guard was taken to the penitentiary on December 30.

Attorneys in the case for Guard are Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and Earle C. Cobey, Frostburg.

Guard was convicted of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of George Raymond Schroyer, tavern operator at Friendsville. Guard was serving as a constable for the county at the time.

Many Items Under Consideration By Education Board

Members Back Salary Proposal Of State Department Of Education

Members of the Board of Education, at a meeting on Tuesday went on record unanimously as supporting a teacher salary plan sponsored by the State Department of Education and the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers calling for a salary scale of $4,000 to $6,000.

The proposed James report relative to the same problem was studied but not supported. Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent said this bill was designed largely for enefit of wealthy counties and would not benefit the smaller counties to any great extent.

Hawkins said the board felt the State department bill was the proper one and stated that nothing less than this bill would be sufficient if the principle of equalization of educational opportunities for all children was to continue.

Dr. Ralph Calandrella, president of the board, was absent due to illness and Maurice Brookhart, vice-president, presided.

Board members also discussed the annual budget which had not yet been returned by the County Commissioners. The budget called for about $15,000 more than last year which included a $200 pay raise for all teachers as of September 1, 1960. Hawkins said an extra amount of $8,000 shows in the budget due to increased county assessments but that $8,000 would be deducted from state equalization.

Mr. Hawkins also reported he had received no reply from the Commissioners concerning the request to borrow a small amount from the State School construction fund to add another room to the Red House school.

Among other items of business the board:

Refused a request of Playford Ryan to purchase two buses owned by Herbert Ritchie. Hawkins said the refusal was based on adherence to a policy adopted following the bus-train accident that no contractor could own more than one bus, and then only upon condition that he would be the regular driver. The policy is calculated to insure better qualified drivers over a period of time. Mr. Ryan already owns one bus;

Modified the new state ruling to retire all schools buses in use ten years or more as of September 1, 1960, allowing another year for transition period;

Held up petition of parents on Audley Riley route demanding a change in a bus stop until place

At school he is rated as an outstanding student and citizen and has high school letters in football, basketball and baseball.

Forest Camp Youths Held for Grand Jury

Two 16-year-old escapees from the New Germany Forestry camp for Boys, who eluded police of two states in a wild chase over Maryland and Pennsylvania highways were recaptured early last Thursday morning in a bullet ridden pick-up truck in Bedford county, Pa., and were given a hearing yesterday in the juvenile court at Oakland on a motor vehicle charge.

Robert McFadden, Cumberland, and Donald Hackery, Frederick, who escaped from a work detail Wednesday morning were tried for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

At the hearing Wednesday afternoon the court waived juvenile jurisdiction and both youths are being held in the county jail for action of the March Term Grand Jury.

They were recaptured by Pennsylvania authorities who notified Maryland State police.

While attempting to elude capture the young pair forced one Pennsylvania trooper's car off the highway. Their flight was halted only after several warning shots were fired by another trooper into the cab of the stolen vehicle they were operating.

A pickup was posted shortly after the boys escaped at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday but they could not be located. However at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday state police at La-

No Prospect Of Snow

The mountain top is getting its share of water this winter, but it is in the form of rain, not snow.

Wednesday's downpour of 1.11 inches would have made fourteen inches to fifteen inches of snow—if it had been snow, but it wasn't.

A light sleet fell on Tuesday to make travel hazardous but it warmed up during the night and caused it to disappear from the highways.

There was a little snow last Friday but since that time the weather has been moderate. There was some drizzling on Monday and Tuesday.

Ralph Weber, veteran weather man, said the winds were coming from the Gulf area and there was little likelihood that there would be snow for the week-end.

3 Damage Suits Ask $125,000 Each

Are Filed Against School Bus Driver and B. & O. Railway Co.

Three damage suits, asking $125,000 each, were filed yesterday, January 13, in the Circuit Court in Oakland, citing Leroy A. Campbell, of Deer Park, bus driver, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company as defendants.

These make a total of seven suits filed thus far as a result of the school bus-train wreck collision on the Mt. Lake Park crossing on September 10, in which seven students were killed and a number of others injured.

Four suits asking $100,000 each were filed on October 30 in the Circuit Court here.

Attorney for the three additional cases is John Brockenbrough Fox, of Baltimore. Plaintiffs are James Allen Hinkle, 12, Roy Olen Hinkle, Jr., 13, and Patricia Ann Hinkle, 14, all filed by their father, Roy Olen Hinkle, of Deer Park.

The suits in each case claim that Campbell, the bus operator, failed in his duty to operate the school bus in "careful and prudent manner and permitted the same to become stalled on the tracks of the railroad and that the railroad company failed to operate the train in a careful and cautious manner and that they were negligent.

Injuries to the three persons seriously injured were given in the suits. James Allen Hinkle sustained a fracture of the left ankle, left leg, and nasal bones, lacerations, abrasions and injuries and disfigurement to the head, limbs and body.

Roy Olen Hinkle, Jr., sustained a fracture of the jawbone and bones of the left leg, injuries to the right knee and leg, lacerations, abrasions and injuries and disfigurement to the head, limbs and body.

Safe Crackers Hit Grantsville Legion

Safe crackers broke into the Grantsville Legion home early Wednesday and escaped with about $680.

Maryland State police said the home was entered between midnight and daybreak. Intruders forced a large safe in the office of the post and took $650 from the interior.

Trooper First Class Milton G. Hart, who is investigating with Tfc. Glen D. Folk, said the intruders used a crowbar to break off the dial of the safe and then took the contents after punching out the dial mechanism.

The intruders also broke into a bowling machine and juke box and took an estimated $30 from the machines.

Entrance, Hart said, was gained by using a bar to force the back door of the post home. The bar also was used to force the door of the office in which the safe was kept.

It was the second major robbery in the area this week. The Veterans of Foreign Wars home at Romney was entered Sunday night and intruders removed a large safe from the building and escaped with loot estimated at $158.

Defense Station Damaged

The base station for Civil defense, located at Hooppole Ridge, some six miles north of Oakland, has been damaged by hunters or other persons unknown, it was learned this week.

The defense station is under the county roads department, and a reward of $500 has been offered for capture of the vandal or vandals.

Darrell Wotring, roads supervisor, reminded people that there was a $10,000 fine and up to five years in prison for destruction of civil defense property.

Sent To Training School

A male juvenile, aged 15, was sentenced yesterday to the Maryland Training School for Boys by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, sitting as a juvenile judge, at a hearing in the court room.

The youth was charged with not attending school and for mischief having when he did go.

Local History Preserved By Leisure Labor Of Police Chief

By Wilbur W. Close

"Hey, Henry, when did they tear down the boardwalk beside the old Garrett Bank?"

This, or one of a thousand similar questions dealing with local history, is frequently asked of Henry Arnold, Oakland police chief, as he makes his daily rounds through the business section.

Sometimes—an amazingly large number of some times, Henry is able to give the information on the spot. On other occasions, his answer is invariably the same:

"I'm not sure right now, but I'll let you know tomorrow."

Henry's source of information is his scrapbook collection of local newspaper clippings running back as far as 1886, and constantly kept up to date.

Mr. Arnold's hobby of preserving accounts of the hundreds of thousands of large and small occurrences which have contributed to the history of the county began because of his own curiousity.

Consults News Files

A number of years ago, seeking a particular bit of information concerning an event of a generation ago, Henry searched through the files of the former Mountain Democrat in Oakland, which at that time was still in publication.

He was particularly impressed by the large amount of interesting information available in the yellowing newspapers, and particularly distressed by their fast-deteriorating condition.

A few more years of neglect, or a few more visits by researchers, he felt sure, would reduce most of the aging pages to dust and an irreplaceable font of local history would be lost.

Shortly afterward, plans were announced to suspend publication

Scheduled to Speak

Carl R. Tuvin executive secretary of the Maryland Democratic State Central committee, will speak at a dinner meeting of the Federated Democratic Women's clubs of the county Monday evening, January 18, at 6 o'clock in St. Matthew's Parish Hall.

Tuvin, in charge of the party's headquarters in Baltimore, is also student chairman of the Young Democratic clubs of Maryland. He was graduated from Goddard college in Vermont in June, 1959. He participated in numerous Democratic activities in that state, and became a Young Democratic National Committeeman for Vermont. His father is a former resident of Frostburg.

Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, co-chairman, said the event would mark the opening of election year activities in Garrett county.

Being a covered dish affair, ladies are to provide a covered dish while the men will contribute 50 cents. Invitations have been sent to the Commissioners and members of the legislature and the Democratic State Central committee. Rev. Shelby Walthall, rector, St. Matthew's Episcopal church, will deliver the invocation. A quilt and $50 in cash will be given away.

A meeting of the club was held Monday to make plans for the dinner. Louis Hutson, chairman of the Democratic committee, gave tentative plans for the spring and summer activities.

Route Numbers Also Switch on Roads

In addition to trading routes 53 and 42 in the Friendsville area, the state roads commission and county also agreed to a change in the route numbers.

Official notice of the change was received by the County Commissioners last week.

The State Roads commission officially has taken over the responsibility of maintenance of that section of Garrett County route 53, between Friendsville and a point on U. S. route 219, at Sebold's turn, which will now be known as Maryland route 42, and has turned over to the county that section of road formerly known as Maryland route 42, between Friendsville and U. S route 219, at Kaese's mill, Bear Creek, which will be known as Garrett county route 53.

The change now makes route 42 from Sebold's turn to Friendsville, thence to Markleysburg, Pa., and route 53 will be from Bear Creek to Friendsville, thence to U.S. route 40 near Addison, Pa.

Total Deer Kill In County Set at 619

Garrett county's total deer kill in 1959 was placed at 619 by the State Game and Inland Fish commission. This included three bucks shot during the bow and arrow season. This compared to 713 last year, 704 in the regular season and nine during the bow and arrow season.

The grand total for the state was 4,419 compared to 4,596 the previous year. The state's total included 115 killed at the army chemical center, 806 at the Aberdeen proving grounds and 40 at the Woodmont Rod and Gun club.

Next to Garrett county in the totals was Allegany county with 562. Other totals: Worcester, 385; Dorchester, 326, Kent, 271; Washington, 223; Cecil, 201; Frederick, 194; Wicomico 111; County having the smallest number was Prince George, with 3. St. Mary's had 7, Anne Arundel 9. All the others were from 18 to 95.

Ernest Vaughn, director of the commission, said the decrease in the number of kill over the previous year was not due to reduced deer population but rather to a reduced number of hunters going afield because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Commissioners Increase Tax Rate to $2.35

Levy Completed This Week —Calls For Expenditure Of $1,204,331.93

The Garrett County Commissioners completed their annual levy this week and tacked a 35-cent increase on the tax rate, for a total of $2.35 per each $100 of assessable property. It was an increase of 17½ percent and marked the first time since 1946 that the rate had been anything other than $2.00.

The county will operate on an expected revenue of $1,204,331.93, and of this amount some $894,079.88 will come from the county tax rate of $2.35 on a taxable basis of $38,045,952, less an allowance of some $28,000 for discounts to taxpayers and $6,000 for insolvencies.

The tax rate was set at $2.30 on each $100 with a special levy for fire departments of 5 cents on each $100. This was calculated to bring in $19,022.98 which must be paid to fire departments as the result of a special law passed at the 1959 session of the legislature. Under the regulations the Oakland fire department will receive $2,740.37, while Friendsville, Grantsville, Deer Park, Kitzmiller and Accident companies will receive $2,440.37 each and Gorman and Bloomington $2,040.38 each. Fire departments last year received $9,160.

Carl Schell, president of the Commissioners, said that most of the departments had sought increased budgets, while revenue from other sources had shown a decrease.

There was a big increase for the Roads department from $220,838.71 last year to $310,081.90 for 1960. This included an increase of 10 cents per hour across the board for Roads department employes.

Other increases were shown in the Welfare department, the Health department, and the Board of Education. A big part of the increase in the Board of Education was because of bonds coming due this year. The figure here increased from $16,195.40 to $50,863.44. Capital outlay for schools showed a decrease from $26,300 to $15,000. Debt service showed an increase from

4-H'ers Show Eggs In Production Show

Three Garrett County 4-H'ers exhibited eggs this week in the 28th Maryland Poultry Production Show, Baltimore.

The 4-H'ers are Donald Bittinger, Oakland; Kenneth Sleyer and Garland Sleyer, Ryans Glade 4-H Club. All eggs in the Poultry Production Show will be scored according to their exterior and interior quality. Exterior quality will be determined by closely observing or checking the eggs for: (1) Shape and uniformity of shape, (2) Color and uniformity of color, (3) Uniformity of size, (4) Weight, (5) Shell texture, and (6) Condition or cleanliness of shell. Interior quality of unbroken eggs is determined by candling the eggs and observing the size and condition of the air cell, the condition of the yolk, and the condition of the white or albumen.

Exhibition in this event, the first for any Garrett County 4-H'er, helps to train the participant in the knowledge of selecting quality eggs.

UNICEF Drive Nets $164.05

One hundred sixty-four dollars and five cents was turned over to Mrs. R. Pyles in Cumberland, for Garrett county's receipts from the UNICEF drive which took place in October, according to Mrs. Robert Fazenbaker, of Bloomington, regional chairman for this county.

B. church, Swanton, the Youth Fellowship of Friendsville, Hoyes Methodist church, near Accident; Bethel MYF group, Mt. Lake Park, Bloomington MYF, Grantsville MYF, and St. Paul's Methodist junior high group in Oakland.

She said that other groups had mailed their collections direct to UNICEF in New York. This is a drive conducted by a branch of the United Nations for funds for children of foreign countries. It is done at Halloween and is calculated to take the place of "trick or treat."

The Health department had requested $38,219 but this demand was cut to $21,511.50 which was still an increase of almost $5,000 over the previous year. The department had sought an additional sanitarian.

Public welfare increased from $57,758.28 to $62,545.82, but Mr. Schell said the Welfare department had $3,000 to return to the county on last year's budget.

Court House employes under the commissioners received a $10 per month increase, including assessment clerks and clerk in the Commissioner's office.

Other estimated income had decreased from $372,000 last year to $344,000 this year. Included in this category was $103,130.59 from uncollected taxes of 1959; state share of salaries, assessor's office, $13,800; auto license fees $55,000; alcoholic beverages licenses, $7,500; traders' licenses, $6,000; beer tax, $50,000; and a number of lesser items. Cash on hand was $55,278.90.

School System

The school system of the county will receive $412,622. The breakdown shows $50,434 for salaries; $18,000 for the school share of motor vehicle license fees; $302,500 for operating expenses; $6,638 for debt service, $19,450 for incentive fund; $15,000 for capital outlay.

School Bonds and Interest

Under school bonds and interest $198,263.44 was needed for payment on principal and interest for 1941, 1949, 1953 and 1956 bonds. With receipts of $77,950 from state incentive fund, $19,450 for county incentive fund and $50,000 from the natural gas tax, amounting to $147,400, it left the commissioners with the necessity of levying $50,863.44 in this department.

The County Welfare Board will receive $62,545.82 with certain payments necessary to qualify for Federal and State participation in the various categories. These were divided into administration expense of $11,853.62; old age assistance, $22,095.48; aid to dependent children, $3,489.72; blind, $1,545.69; permanently and totally disabled, $10,419.36; general public assistance, $6,699.69; board for children, $7,072.44. Total payments in these categories reach $25,000 or better monthly. Also included in welfare are pauper burials of $1,000; indigent patients, $5,090; other expenses of $5.

The levy for hospital, above the amount received through the gas tax was $4,000 with $18,000 for debt service for the hospital addition, and $15,000 for patients to other hospitals.

The Commissioners levied $310,681.90 for highways. It was explained that $285,114.95 of this was for roadway operating expenses.

Other items included: recreation $17,509.19 including $6,700 for capital outlay; $11,875 for public service which included extension salaries, livestock sanitary service and laboratory; $4,850 for the liquor board; $19,520 for legislative and executive; Judicial, $22,540; election, $13,325; finance, $16,590; legal counsel, $1,020; general government on buildings, $33,395; community promotion, $6,275; Kitzmiller flood wall, $7,500; court house salaries, $7,620; public safety, $31,200.

Miscellaneous items will cost $62,450. The contingent fund was set at $34,000.

Resources of the county include $22,725,405 in real property; $1,009,931 for farm personal property; $1,526,616 for personal business properties and $11,785,060 for public utilities as received from the State Tax commission.

The latter two totals were estimated. This made the resources of the county $38,045,952.

The state tax rate this year has been set at .1375 on each $100 of assessable property and is calculated to bring in $36,090.88.

The levy is being published in full this week in The Republican and also for the following two weeks.

A check of former tax rates by Joseph Welch, treasurer, showed that the tax rate was $1.50 in 1945, $2.10 in 1946, and $2 in 1947, remaining at $2 until 1960.

Boat Safety Bill

four ex officio members. The ex officio members would include two State Senators and two members of the House of Delegates.

The proposed legislation appears primarily concerned with the licensing of all water craft on Maryland waters. It provides for the numbering of all craft propelled by motor in whole or in part. The license would be $5 for a three-year period plus $2 for each re-registration.

Mr. Valiant said the licensing of boat operators was one of the regulatory matters which would be left up to the commission involved.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Game commission emphasized that the mere passage of a new law would not provide for boating safety in Maryland. Proper enforcement was essential, he said. He estimated that it would require the services of six or seven additional part-time men to provide enforcement on the non-tidal waters of the state. This would include Deep Creek Lake, in this county.

Garrett county legislators on hand included State Senator Bernard I. Gonder and Delegates Leslie E. Savage and Elbert Buckel.

A group of residents of Garrett and Allegany counties who are concerned with safe boating on Deep Creek Lake will present a number of proposed regulations to the Allegany county delegates to the General Assembly during a public meeting tomorrow night.

Forest Camp Youths

Vale received a call from Henry J. Hummel, star route, Frostburg, who said he had observed two boys driving away from the Hummel home in his pickup truck.

Hummel said he and his wife were awakened by a noise in their yard. He went to a window and saw the pair in the act of stealing his truck. He called police and hurriedly dressed. Hummel gave chase in his automobile and later informed police that he had fired five shots from a .22 calibre pistol in an attempt to stop them.

Hummel followed the fleeing youths to Grantsville where he lost them and from where Maryland trooper B. J. Graham took up pursuit. Graham also lost the two boys in the Springs, Pa., area where they turned off into mountain roads.

Pennsylvania state troopers Norman Harvey and Arthur Oleskey were enroute to the region and gave chase when the boys drove onto Pennsylvania state route 53. In an attempt to halt the flight Harvey drove alongside the stolen truck to force them off the highway. Instead young McFadden swerved the truck toward the trooper's car and forced him into a ditch.

It was at this point that Trooper Oleskey began firing at the young escapees and succeeded in forcing them to stop their flight near Ursina, Pa. "It's a wonder no one was hurt," Trooper Oleskey said. "That truck looked like a sieve with all those bullet holes."

David Curran, field supervisor for the State Department of Public Welfare, came to the county for a full investigation. Mr. Curran makes frequent trips to the forestry camp and said the camp administration was doubly shocked because the behavior of the two boys up until this time had been above reproach. They were considered the non-aggressive type and had not been in any difficulty previously while at the camp.

Local 4-H'ers Are At Youth Meeting

Inadequate diets among teenagers is the problem for discussion at the morning session of the Maryland 4-H Older Youth Conference in Baltimore today. "Tips for Teens," will be directed by Vera Mae Frost, Washington County 4-H member attending the University of Maryland.

Garrett County 4-H'ers attending are: Thomas Magruder, Westernport; Ralph Buckel, Jr., Bittinger; Garland Steyer, Mt. Lake Park; Stanley Hardesty, Deer Park. Accompanying the group are Mrs. Johanna Stull, Assistant Home Agent, and E. Rankin Lusby, Assistant County Agent.

This year, county 4-H Older Youth Clubs will direct programs and projects to interest 4-H members and other teenagers in improving their diets and food habits. Research findings throughout the United States show that the teenage girl is the poorest fed member of the family. Six out of ten girls have poor diets with iron, Vitamin C and calcium usually low. Four out of ten teenage boys have poor diets with Vitamin C the lowest nutrient.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Fred Holtschneider, who died January 10, 1957.

Often in the silent night
I think of the loved one gone before
Who have passed forever from our sight
And have gone to dwell on that far off shore.
Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never fades
And we who have known and loved them
Whose passing have brought us tears.
Time speeds on, we soon will join them
In a better land I know
For every day is one day nearer
To our loved ones gone before.

Tragedy Has Stalked Family in County

Tragedy has stalked a Garrett County family over the past few years, and five lives have been lost as a result.

The tragic story of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joesph Lee, of Deer Park continued last week with the death of James F. Lee, 27, in Garrett County Memorial hospital, as the result of pneumonia.

All of the deaths with the exception of the father were of unusual nature.

Tragedy first took its toll in the early morning hours of January 23, 1955 when fire destroyed their home near Gorman. The blaze, which started when clothing hanging over a coal stove caught fire, claimed the lives of Margaret Ann Lee, 18 months old, and Loretta Lee, 9, and left the mother, Mrs. Evelyn Lee, now 52, an invalid for life.

The home was in an isolated section of the county without telephones and no fire company was summoned. The Lee family was exposed to snow and subfreezing temperature in scanty attire for several hours.

Loretta and the mother were flown from Oakland to Baltimore by Maryland National Guard but Margaret Ann was dead on arrival and Loretta died a few days later. Seven members of the family were hospitalized with burns.

On November 9, 1955, the father, Joseph Lee, died of pneumonia at the Garrett County Memorial hospital.

The family moved to Oakland and lived there until September 9 of last year. The following day, September 10, Shirley Lee, 12, was killed instantly in the school bus-train accident at Mt. Lake Park. A sister, Mary Jane Lee, was critically injured. Both girls had wanted to stay home from school that day to help their invalid mother with the moving chores.

Last week, less than four months after Shirley's death, Jimmy Lee died in the hospital. Mrs. Lee still resides in Deer Park with her daughter Mary Jane, and son, Alonzo Lee. Henry Lee, another son, is studying for the ministry at West Virginia Wesleyan college and David Lee resides in Hialeah, Fla.

Juvenal (65-140 A.D.) said

"A SOUND MIND IN A SOUND BODY IS TO BE PRAYED FOR"

In ancient days a sound body was truly a blessing for then known medicines gave very little help. Plagues would overnight dominate or wipe out cities. Any surgical operation was a death-defying ordeal.

Physicians can now prescribe effective medicines for which monarchs would have given their kingdoms in grateful payment. Yet these new drugs, many of which cost millions to research and perfect, are a few cents per treatment. They not only save lives, but by lessening sickness-time and requiring fewer visits from physicians, actually save you money.

Local History

of The Democrat, and Mr. Arnold's interest naturally turned to plans for disposition of the files.

He was informed by Mr. and Mrs. Thornton O. Deffinbaugh, owners, that no definite plans had been made, but that an offer to contribute the old newspapers to the Garrett County Historical Society had been rejected because of their bulk.

Several months later, Arnold had an idea. If the newspapers were too bulky to be preserved intact, why could they not be edited, examined and the items of particular and lasting historical significance be permanently available.

A scrapbook maker from 'way back, on any subject which struck his interest, the idea of preserving individual clippings in scrapbooks came to mind.

Began Compilation

Mr. Arnold's proposal met with the approval of the Democrat's owners, and his leisure activity which has occupied thousands of hours during the past years, was begun.

To facilitate ready reference, the idea of separating each clipping according to topic was conceived. Thus, at the present time, a half dozen large books are designated as to City Business, Births, Deaths and Marriages, Automobiles and Roads, Crime, Buddings, and other classifications containing hundreds of references.

Mr. Arnold takes the copies, one year at a time, and compiles those clippings he wishes to preserve. When all are selected, they are classified as to book, individually dated and pasted chronologically in the proper volume.

Of course, there are frustrations. In a number of cases, some issues are missing, others are too fragile to be handled, and some are not complete. During the period of the Oakland fire near the turn of the century, copies are missing for several years. Otherwise, the collection is a complete running account of life, commerce, progress and retrogression in the county for nearly 75 years.

"The Democrat was a typical county newspaper of its time," Mr. Arnold said, "and by that I mean long on items of non-local interest and short on many which would be important, but I believe the books I have represent more available reference material than can be found in any other place, except the complete files of The Republican dating back to 1877.

"A great many people were associated with the paper during its 75 years of publication," he went on, holding the issue dated 1920. "Here's an incomplete list of some of them who had been editor, publisher or who held some position on the paper up until that time—and since then there have been many more. A great many of these names would be recognized instantly by any older county resident."

He fell silent for a moment in thought. "You know," he said "there's something that might interest you. Of all the scores of persons who contributed in some manner to this newspaper during the 75 years of its existence, only two still live in Garrett county—and both of them are members of the staff of The Republican!"

Thinking of the many evenings and hours beyond count which went into the preparation of his books, we asked,

"Henry, I suppose it takes a lot of patience to pull off a project like this—and to be so successful in preserving only the news of lasting importance."

"Yes," he replied; "it takes a lot of patience all around."

"All around?" we asked. Then we noticed Henry casting a sly look at Mrs. Arnold, who was washing dinner dishes. Then we noticed also the stacks of books around the living room, newspapers strewed across the floor and the furniture disarranged to make working room.

"Yes," we said, "I guess it does take a lot of patience—all around!"

Woman's Club Has Reorganized Clothing Project for Needy

A reorganization of the Clothes Closet program for distribution of clothing to needy persons of the area, was announced this week by the Junior Woman's Civic club.

The Clothes Closet, which formerly handled both adult and children's clothing will now distribute clothing for school age children only. Adult clothing on hand will be given to local churches through Mrs. J. R. Walsh or Mrs. Ralph Pritts, Jr.

The following plan was announced for distribution with cooperation of home room mothers of local schools: civic club members will collect, sort, mend, wash and iron and will package clothes and have them on hand ready for delivery. Any teacher or homeroom mother having pupils who need clothing may contact Mrs Walsh or Mrs. Pritts, for further information.

The closet, with Mrs. James Helbig as chairman, was organized in 1957. The first drive was conducted in October of that year. A large amount of adult and children's clothes was obtained which was distributed from the old high school building. In the first year fifty families, including two hundred children were clothed. The second year clothing was distributed to ninety families and this fall thirty families were outfitted.

The supply of school children's clothing is depleted at present and another drive is set for Wednesday, January 20 by Civic club members. They will be assisted by Girl Scouts of troop 3. Persons having clothing to contribute may contact Mrs. Ralph Humberson, Mrs Thomas Kight, Mrs. J. R. Walsh or Mrs. Ralph Pritts, Jr., by telephone.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT: Better Health Through Knowledge

Why Can't Johnny Read?

- Cauliflower Ear
- Vitamins

Q. Our 7-year-old son has been very slow in learning to read. Does this mean that he is mentally below par?

A. No. Slow reading is not necessarily an indication of retarded intelligence. In fact, many children with reading difficulties have superior intelligence. At age 6, when most children enter the first grade, many are just not ready to read. In our educational system, where all children must conform to a set pattern, "reading readiness" is very much in the picture. The unready child rapidly develops feelings of inferiority. Soon emotional factors set in and something that should be simple becomes very hard. To discover the cause of reading difficulties requires professional services. The child should first have tests to establish the level of intelligence. The next step may be an eye examination to see if glasses are needed. The hearing, should be checked. If everything is in order the child may be given special training in word recognition and phonetics. Parents faced with this problem can get some good tips from certain books, a list of which will be sent to interested readers upon request.

Q. Is there any treatment for "cauliflower ear"?

A. Yes. When the ear is severely bruised, blood and serum collect on both sides of the cartilage (gristle) which forms the ear. This isolates the cartilage from the soft tissue upon which its nourishment and vitality depend. The undernourished cartilage gets soft, eventually collapses, and a shapeless "cauliflower" ear results. Treatment of the bruised ear includes removal of the fluid and application of supportive dressings. Correction of an old "cauliflower ear" requires plastic surgery.

Q. Please advise me in your column if it is necessary for a man of 65 to take vitamin tablets. Someone told me vitamin tablets were poisonous. Is this true?

A. Let's try to put some light on this subject. Vitamins are essential food factors. If vitamins were poisonous we would all be gone by now because we consume — and need — vitamins three times a day. All food factors necessary to health are supplied by an adequate diet. There are times, however, when the vitamin intake needs a boost. For example, the need for taking a vitamin product may arise during periods of illness or at any time when a person gets "off his feed." It is true that the taking of very large doses of certain vitamins, such as A and D, over a long period of time may cause trouble. However, the use of multivitamin preparations of moderate potency and in the recommended dosage is not at all likely to cause poisoning.

Note: The next time you are in our store raise the question of vitamins. We will be glad to discuss this subject in detail.

We point with pride to the thousands of prescriptions we have filled as evidence of our ability and readiness to serve your prescription needs skilfully, promptly, and economically.

American Oil Company, which sponsors the 4-H tractor program by providing record books and awards was represented by L. E. Connor.

An award in the form of a 4-H tie clip was presented to Harold White for serving as a 4-H leader of the Sunnyside Club for four years and helping with the tractor program. Dale Glotfelty, with six years of service as a local leader, waived his tie clip due to the fact that he received one the previous year.

Better tractor care results in longer tractor life, more power and lower operating costs, according to Mr. Sherard Wilson, Maryland State 4-H Club Agent, and that 4-H became a 4-H tractor how to do many small but important repair or maintenance jobs and, therefore, will get greater production from farm power units and not down on costly breakdowns.

The superintendent reported that the basement area in the route 40 school was being converted to use as the school cafeteria, to be ready by September 1, 1960, in order to free the all-purpose room for wider use in the school program.

It was pointed out that under new regulations at least ten fire drills must be held in each school annually, at least one every 60 days.

Also recommended was a bi-monthly inspection of all buildings for fire hazards. The superintendent was directed to notify the maintenance supervisor.

Board members and the superintendent plan to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City in February. Also scheduled to attend will be the two high school principals, the supervisor of transportation, a teacher of math from Southern and a teacher of science from Northern.

Last Weeks' Picture Is Not Identified

For the first time since the inauguration of the Old Picture series, our readers have failed to come up with a positive or tentative identification.

We refer to the photograph published last week, showing a cut stone barber shop. Most of those old timers who previously showed ability at placing the scenes are unanimous in their declaration that "It never was around here!" So far as we know, they are right.

N Puzzle This Week

To make up for last week, we are today printing two more or less related photos which are almost immediately recognizable. Both show portions of Route 219, prior to its surfacing, passing through two county towns.

In the picture of Accident, at the top, which was submitted by Mrs. Walter Bowman, can be seen on the left, the Goeringer blacksmith shop and the Gochringer residence. On the right, the white house in the foreground is a hotel operated by Mrs. Annie B. Reese. Next is the Fred Engelhart carpenter shop with sign. Farther up the street is John Gnegy's store and dwelling, built by Richard Fairall, now occupied by Earl Ault. The steeple of Zion Lutheran church is peeping above the right of tree.

Date of the photo is set about 1900. Shortly before this, a visit to the community of Accident caused an unidentified contributor to a county newspaper to write:

"The valley in which this little village lies is the largest and prettiest in Garrett. The hills slope gently on either side, and the homes and barns of the thrifty farmers hereabouts dot the landscape in every direction.

"Two stores in the village supply the community, and a number of prosperous artisans here pursue their avocations, among whom I may mention Adam Garinger (Gochringer), Adrian Fox and M. Monborn blacksmiths; Chris Snyder and Eli McMillan, saddlers, Val Kahl and Fred Englehardt, carpenters; George Burkhart, shoemaker; William Hoffman, tailor; Frank McFadden, tinner, and Henry Zinkan, wagonmaker and postmaster.

"The Methodists and Lutherans have nice little churches in town, and the Dunkards a large meeting house within a short distance. There is also a fine school house and many neat and substantial dwellings.

"Melchoir J. Miller, the well-known distiller, has within a few years built a large and commodious dwelling house, which in its style of architecture and furnishing will compare with any residence in the county. It has been occupied by a number of summer guests for the last two seasons, and because of the pretty location and salubrity of the place, ought and will in time become a favorite resort. Mrs. Miller is a most clever lady, and with her 'worse half' ought to succeed, for it is hard to find in this section a more genial and hospitable host and hostess."

The first peramanent settler in the area was James Drane, Jr., probably prior to 1778. The photograph reproduced is looking south from the center of the main street.

The lower photo, of the same general time era, is looking west on Oak street in Oakland, from the approximate location of Fifth St. In the left foreground can be seen the George Fulk property, and on the corner of Oak and Fourth the McIntire residence. Across the street on the right is visible the spire of the former F. A. Thayer, Jr., property, now owned by St. Peter's church, and two large frame buildings which were subsequently torn down for the erection of St. Peter's Parochial school.

Almost in the center of the photo, but probably not visible in this reproduction, is the old overhead girder type steel bridge across the railroad tracks, replaced several years later by the present structure which was subsequently improved with foot walkways.

Work In Literacy Program Aided By Local Church Groups

The work that church organizations and individuals are doing to aid the World Literacy program in regard to the Christian church was outlined this week by Mrs. E. Ray Jones, publicity chairman for the local organization of the United Council of Churches.

For some years Mrs. Vernie Smouse has served as chairman of the local committee for Little Libraries and has recently secured donations amounting to $210 which has been sent to the Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of Churches of Christ in America, to be used in the Lit-Lit program.

Local church groups giving to the fund are Amish church, Gortner; Conservative Mennonite church, Grantsville; Gortner Union Sunday school, Oak Park Church of the Brethren, Paradise United Brethren church, Loch Lynn United Brethren Ladies' Aid, St. Mark's Lutheran Pastor's Aid, Oakland; members of the Methodist Women's societies of Christian service of Mt. Lake Park, White church and St. Paul's, Oakland. Individuals also have contributed, it was stated.

Mrs. Jones said one of the most important outgrowths of the work of the United Council of Churches has been the formation of the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature in connection with the Lit-Lit program. She termed an illiterate church a crippled church and said a reading church can spread literacy to the entire community.

"Literacy and literature are effective tools for a growing church, for changed lives and for a transformed society," she said.

This is illustrated by work done in the past ten years in Liberia under leadership of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Sadler representatives of the United Lutheran Church in America who have developed a written form for the Loma language, where people have learned to read, and now have a newspaper and a growing library of Loma literature. But education for children often weaken the ties of family life when there is no adult education for parents. Dr. Lloyd Shirer, chaplain of Haiti's Albert Schweitzer hospital where 80 percent of the adult population cannot read or write, said this was a problem in many countries. Rev. Raul Fernandez, Cuban literacy technician, now launching literacy campaigns in Central America, cites a literacy rate of 75 percent in Cuba where a few years ago only about 60 percent of the adult population could read.

In Africa where there are 700 different languages and dialects, some 80 percent of the adults cannot read. The Lit-Lit program is designed to provide more books for these countries, but manuscripts wait for money for the cost of their publication. Mrs. Jones said $100 makes possible a new edition of 1,000 booklets, $500 subsidizes a new edition of 2,000 books.

Southern High Nips Parsons High, 72-60

Southern High School's Highlanders led all the way last Friday night in picking up their fourth straight win, a 72 to 60 victory over Parsons High school at Parsons.

The Oakland quint, coached by Carl Schoonover, now sports a 5-2 record for the season.

The Highlanders poured 30 field goals through the hoops in marking up the victory. Terry Colaw, with nine field goals and seven charity tosses, in ten attempts, accounted for 25 points to spark the Southern eagers. He was assisted in the scoring department by Jerry Wine with 17, Dick Stuck with 15, and Ron Colaw, with 11 points. Stemple also had four, while Bolyard, Craig and James went scoreless.

Parsons' attack was led by Polin who got seven two-pointers and a six out of seven right at the foul line to wind up with 20 points. McDonald and Dotson had 12 each while Parsons got 4, Oster 6, Alkire 3, Shrout 2, Schoonover 1.

Southern led in field goals 30 to 21 and got 12 for 19 fouls. Parsons got 18 out of 26. Southern was ahead at all the quarter periods, 14 to 8, 36 to 28 and 56 to 43.

The Southern Jayvee team was defeated by the Parsons Jayvees in a close preliminary encounter.

The Highlanders' next game will be against Northern Huskies next Friday evening on the Oakland court.

NEXT TO GODLINESS

Soap became a part of his daily life long before he understood its use. He's still more concerned with its bubbles than its cleansing properties—but he knows soap is mighty important.

And no one ever thought of postponing his bath until he was old enough to make decisions for himself!

Wise parents never postpone a child's religious training. Long before he is able to reason, he needs the character-building and guidance of the Church. Christianity should become important to him in his daily experience before its truths can be fully grasped by his mind.

We are fortunate that our churches are equipped to instill a vital Christian faith in the youngest child. Fortunate is the boy or girl whose parents begin his religious training in their church's Nursery or Beginners' Department.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Bible Material: Acts 15:1-35; Galatians 2:1-10.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 40:1-10.

Are We Free?

Lesson for January 17, 1960

HEADLINE writing is tricky business. You have only so much room, and so cannot always say clearly what you mean. That "Are We Free?" up there in the headline could mean some things it doesn't. The question does not mean, Are Americans free? Or, Are readers of this column free? The question is about Christians. Are we free?

Dr. Foreman

That still is not clear enough. Free from what? Christians are certainly free from terror in the presence of God. We are free from the burden of guilt. We are free (or have a right to be) from anxiety and worry and especially from the fear of death. But that is not the question we mean. To get down to brass tacks, our question is this: Is a Christian free from the law of God, especially from God's law as made known to us in the Ten Commandments?

The Question Is An Old One

The first Christians held their first great convention or conference to decide on this question. The way the problem came up with them was this: The first Christian churches, you remember, were made up almost exclusively of Jews. They were brought up on their Scriptures, our Old Testament, and they took it seriously as the Word of God. They found in it not a mere Ten Commandments, but at least Six Hundred Thirteen Commandments. It may have been a chore to try to abide by all these laws spread out over pages and pages of Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. But there the laws were, and conscientious ex-Jews who became Christians brought these laws right along with them.

Now when Paul and Barnabas went out on their evangelistic tours, the churches they started were made up, for the most part, of non-Jews, and most of those people knew nothing whatever about the Old Testament.

The Jerusalem Christians kept sending messengers to these new Gentile Christian groups, telling them they really were not Christians at all, they hadn't been saved because they hadn't kept the Law of God in every detail. The Gentile Christians said, Oh, but we are free from the law. The Jewish Christians said, No man is ever free from the law. So there at last had to be a great church meeting to decide who was right. There was a high debate, and finally an agreement. Scholars do not fully understand the terms of the agreement, which was sent out as a decree to all churches. But one thing is clear: the decision went against the Jerusalem church. The question really was: What do you have to do to be a Christian? What do you have to do to be saved? The Jerusalem church had been saving. You have to do a great deal to be saved. You have to be an avowed keeper of the Law before God will even consider saving you. But the apostles had a higher view. Essentially it was this: Every one who is saved, is saved by grace—that is, by a free act of God's loving will.

Free From Slavery; Freed To Serve

The question was settled there in that great Council. But it kept coming up, and Paul had to write to the Romans and to the Galatians explaining it all over again. It comes up in our time in many ways. What do I have to do before God will come to my rescue (for that is what "save" means)? There are two common wrong answers. One is that every single law in the Old Testament is binding on each Christian. It is keeping these laws that saves us, really. In short, God saves us provided we are good enough. The other wrong answer is that God saves us regardless, and then since he has saved us we can go do as we please. We can't possibly go wrong if we have been saved. The right answer is always this: God saves us because he is good, not because we are; and having been saved, keeping his laws is then a joyous token of our gratitude. Freed from slavery, we are set free to serve. God's grace can never be earned, it can only be taken—by faith.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

The Steel Strike "Settlement"

Although the agreement signed by steel labor and management last week settled a strike, it will inevitably begin vicious spiral of wages and prices. Shortsighted spokesmen have called the contract a "victory" for labor or a "surrender" for management, but, in truth, it was a severe defeat for a balanced American economy and the stability of the dollar.

Management agreed to terms apparently because it was warned by certain high-placed men in Government that punitive legislation would be forthcoming from the Congress if it did not sign. And so, steel management agreed to a new contract providing for wages higher than those first demanded by the unions last July. Dizzy with visions of labor votes, the administration interfered with due processes of arbitration and forced a settlement without serious consideration of its ultimate cost and its cumulative assault on our nation's market place.

The happy smiles of the steel workers will turn to uneasy frowns when the price of steel, as it must be, is raised. And when steel, a basic American commodity, goes up, everything else, cars, houses, roads, will go up. In addition, other industries presently involved in wage disputes, among them, shipping and railroads, will take their cue from steel and make similar or greater demands. The American public, of course, will pay for every cent of the wage and resulting price increases. Those with fixed incomes will tighten their belts another notch and steel workers' wives will begin paying more for groceries while asking themselves why their bigger pay checks are not going any farther.

Inflation is not an economic term confined to textbooks and classroom discussions but rather constitutes an expanding threat to every household budget in the nation. The steel strike has been settled, but there will be others, and the greater issue of inflation remains unsolved. Its solution does not lie in fitful interference by any administration, but in the considered legislation of the Congress. Happily, recent history has demonstrated that the legislative branch appreciates its responsibility not to labor nor management, but to the public, which certainly deserves a greater measure of protection than it now possesses in the event of industrial conflict.

Mrs. Buckel presented the topic, "Lutherans in Liberia," 1860-1960, by Elsie Otto, a missionary now serving in Liberia. It told of the beginnings and development of the Lutheran Mission in Liberia leading to the organization of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Liberia in 1948.

Education In Decade Ahead

By Willard L. Hawkins
County Superintendent of Schools

Here are some predictions and anticipations of the many changes that I believe will occur in our schools during the decade ahead. The trend is pretty well set in the direction of the changes suggested below. No doubt many more changes other than those indicated will take place during the next ten years. Never has there been a time of such rapid and far-reaching changes in our total society that influence every phase of living. It is through the process of education that these changes are coming about. Schools will provide the direction for many of the changes to come and by the same token will change themselves as they seek to meet the challenge of the times.

Curriculum Changes

Social Studies—Emphasis on government and how it works, international affairs; Emphasis on problems of democracy, taxation, social security, medical care, labor unions, politics, investments, defense spending, etc.

Greater emphasis on math, solving of problems, new math concepts, new methods to stimulate interest.

Greater emphasis on the physical sciences, experimentation, new ideas, space, travel, speed.

Greater emphasis on developing pupils to write better, to speak better, creative writing, public speaking.

Greater emphasis on the teaching of modern languages. Latin will largely disappear from the curriculum, proficiency in the ability to speak one or more modern languages for a much greater number of pupils.

Automation—teaching pupils to live in an age of gadgets, automatic devices, to operate machines.

Shop courses—will discard the practices of making obsolete projects—tie holders, dough boards—will concentrate on the scientific-electricity, mechanics, use of machine tools, radio and television repair, building materials, manual skills, developing skilled laborers.

Agriculture program will be streamlined, consume much less time—only for boys who will pursue an agriculture career—will include regular courses in biology, chemistry, physics, specialized courses in farm mechanics, farm management, conservation and soil improvement, animal and plant culture. Not more than two years of two periods per day for any one boy.

Commercial—much more time on spelling, punctuation, writing, grammar for all commercial students. Much more time on arithmetic, much more time on use and care of new office machines and equipment.

The elementary school will serve with greater emphasis to prepare children to comprehend the new and more dynamic curriculum as outlined above. Better training in the fundamentals, more emphasis on arithmetic, reading, writing, spelling, history, geography, music, health. Less time spent on busy work practices of questionable value. New thinking concerning grouping, grade classifications, promotions, time allocations, etc.

Wider use of educational TV will no doubt come about during the next decade.

An ever increasing percentage of high school graduates must be prepared for college.

Greater emphasis on physical fitness of all students rather than sports for the few.

The Professional Staff

School administration will continue to call for greater leadership. The teaching profession will gain in stature and position within the community. People holding jobs in education at all levels will be better trained and better educated. An increasing number of college graduates will enter the teaching profession, demands for a higher level of performance in the classrooms on the part of teachers as a whole will be on the increase, better pay will be provided for better teachers, much thought will be directed toward incentive pay for teachers, poor teachers will be weeded out of the profession as the result of demands of parents, teachers will have to prove their competence to receive tenure, the teacher shortage will probably lessen.

School Buildings

Aside from the great array of new building materials of all kinds, the chief theme in school building construction during the next decade will be "Flexibility." Not all rooms will be of the same size, partitions will be movable, rooms will vary in size according to need, individual study cubicles will probably become popular. Even the newest buildings today other than their external appearance do not suggest much change in program over those built fifty years ago. "Flexibility" is to become the standard for most school buildings of the future. This suggests many new ideas in the program of the schools—the break away from conformity to standard practices dealing with uniform class size, uniform length of periods for all subjects, uniform amount of time for all major subjects, etc. It suggests individual study time, longer periods for some subjects than for others, larger classes for some experiences than for others, small classes for individual instruction in some special areas, large groups for TV education, better guidance programs, etc.

Instructional Materials and Equipment

Rapid changes are to be expected in the many new instructional aids provided for teachers and pupils. These will be in all fields at all levels. These new aids if properly used will be of great help in the learning process.

New, attractive, and challenging textbooks will constantly appear on the market. Library materials will become more abundant and up to date.

Equipment for science, home economics, commercial classes, art rooms, and maps, globes, aids, shop machines will be new and designed for the future. Classrooms will be equipped beyond the fondest dreams of the most ambitious teacher by the end of the new decade.

Enrollment, Etc.

Millions more pupils will be enrolled in our public schools and colleges during the next decade.

Education will become a must for survival for every boy and girl.

National will concentrate on the education of its people during the new decade, as never before.

Tax dollars for schools will substantially increase.

There will be Federal tax money for the support of all schools before the new decade ends.

Opportunities for advancement in the field of education for people with competence, leadership qualities, and ambition will be greater than ever before.

Public Junior Colleges will increasingly become a part of the public school systems.

The school year and the school day will become somewhat longer.

Adult education programs will continue to grow and expand.

A rapidly increasing number of parents will want better schools and better education for their children, and these parents will be better able to evaluate the effectiveness of the classroom program.

The decade in which we have just entered in every way will be the greatest in our nation's history for the improvement, advancement, and promotion of the education of it people.

Better America - - - - -

William I. Nichols, editor of This Week magazine, had an effective and telling editoral last week under the heading "Who Can Make a Better America?"

Preceded by a quote from John W. Gardner, "There has never been a time in our history when we more desperately needed a sense of national purpose," he continues with the following:

"People today are worried by what they call the 'change' in America's moral climate.

"Yet what is happening now was foretold over a century ago. Writing in 1840, Alexia de Tocqueville predicted that the United States would enter a period when—for the first time in all history—people would have so much social, political and economic freedom that they could choose what they wanted in practically every aspect of life.

"But that, he said, would not be an unmixed blessing. With so much freedom and so much abundance, we are confronted with many more decisions than ever before—plus the increased risk of making wrong ones.

"Inevitably, some people choose the easy way and abandon discipline for indulgence, and honest work for quick gain.

"But there are millions more who every day use their freedom well and wisely, to work and grow along healthy, constructive lines.

"In a free world, there is no 'leader' who can put meaning, or purpose, or moral standards into our lives. We do it ourselves—by choosing. This is the real drama and the challenge of our times. The fate of our world lies within us—in our determination to lead better lives and to contribute to the building of a better America."

Clarksburg Man Dies On Icy Road

Is Garrett County's First Fatality Of The New Year

Icy U. S. route 50 just west of Table Rock claimed the life of a Clarksburg, W. Va. man Monday night as the result of a two-vehicle accident.

The victim was identified as Jerome James Donnellon 43, of 413 Seventh street, Clarksburg. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial hospital.

Donnellon became the first highway fatality of 1960 in this county. He was killed as he drove east on the Northwestern Turnpike just a few miles west of Red House and about seven miles west of Gorman, about 9:30 p. m. He suffered a fractured skull.

The man was operator of the D and M Auto Wreckers atop the Bridgeport Hill. His 1954 Chevrolet sedan skidded on the icy highway and hit a flatbed one-ton truck traveling westbound and down the mountainside.

Trooper first class Donald A. Tucker, said the Donnellon car skidded on the ice, crossed the center line into the path of the rig and was rammed headon. The car was demolished and considerable damage was caused to the truck.

Police identified the driver of the truck as Clayton O. Baker, 33, route 1, Oakland. He sustained a deep laceration of his forehead and was treated at Garrett County Memorial hospital and released.

Frank Lorig, Donnellon's brother-in-law in Clarksburg, said the man had left Clarksburg about 8 o'clock Sunday night to go to Baltimore where he expected to pick up a brother, Walter, for a return to Clarksburg.

Donnellon's widow, Rose, and four children, all girls, survive. They are Marie, a senior in Washington Irving High school; Judith Ann, freshman in Notre Dame High school; Donna Rose, fourth grader in Towers School and daughter at home. He also has two brothers, John and Albert, both of New York. Donnellon was born in New York but had been in business around Clarksburg for several years.

Industrial Survey Is Ready To Start

The County Commissioners announced early this week that the survey blanks for industry have been printed and are ready for distribution to workers. Maps have been cut up dividing the county into working areas.

They said they hoped the Service groups, including Rotary and Lions clubs of the county, Fire departments and Farm Bureau members can now promptly complete the survey.

They pointed out that if all members of the organizations mentioned would participate each member would need only about fifteen forms filled out to complete the job.

County's Tax Bills Due For Mailing During Next Week

Between 8,000 and 9,000 county tax bills are scheduled to be mailed to citizens of the county sometime next week, it was announced by Joseph Welch, county treasurer.

The list will not include tax on personal property or those business places paying direct through the State Tax commission.

The effort is being made again this year to send out the tax bills as early as possible in the hope the county would receive enough return to run the county for January, so that it would not be necessary to borrow on a short term loan as had been the case in previous years. The tax forms are the same size at last year and are light blue in color.

Mr. Welch said the list includes 203 more taxpayers than the previous year.

On all county taxes paid during January and February a discount of five percent is allowed. On all county tax paid during March and April a discount of four percent is allowed and on all county taxes paid during May and June a discount of three percent is allowed. No discount is allowed unless the whole amount of the tax for the current year is paid. No discount is allowed after June 30 and after September 30 interest is charged at the rate of one half percent per month. No discount is allowed on state taxes.

The tax rate this year is $2.35 on each $100 of assessable property. The state tax rate is 1.375.

Suit To Determine Legal Widow Of Richard Browning

One Widow In New York State, One In Mt. Lake Park

Testimony in a civil suit to determine just who is the legal widow of Richard S. Browning, who died last February 15, as the result of an automoobile collision, was heard in the Circuit court in Oakland on Monday before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley.

Two persons are claiming to be the widow of Mr. Browning. One is Helen Elizabeth Pratt Shafer Browning, whom he married January 14, 1959, and Margaret E. Browning, also known as Margaret E. Brown, of White Plains, New York, whom he married, according to the records, November 28, 1912, in Spokane, Washington.

The suit was sent over to the Circuit court from the Orphans' Court of Garrett county in June of 1959, after argument developed as to which person was entitled to be the rightful administrator of the estate, estimated at $15,000 to $20,000.

Letters of administration had been granted to Robert E. Browning (Brown), a son of Mrs. Margaret E. Browning (Brown), now residing in Bethesda. Then a petition for revocation of letters of administration and an application for appointment as administratrix was filed by Mrs. Helen E. Browning, widow, of Mt. Lake Park.

She stated she was legally married January 11, 1959, in Frostburg, by Rev. Paul Taylor. A copy of the records showed that application for the license was issued by the clerk of the circuit court of Allegany county November 7, 1958.

Democrats Hear Political Talk

Carl R. Tuvin, executive secretary of the Maryland Democratic State Central committee, discussed "politics" at a dinner meeting of the Federated Democratic Women's clubs of the county Monday night in St. Matthew's parish hall.

Tuvin declared "for the past seven years we have not had the leadership that the times call for. This lack of direction and leadership has 'owed the country down.'"

He termed the 1960 campaign the most important campaign to face the nation to date and will chart the course of the country for the next eight years. He claimed the Republicans had not lived up to the promises they made during 1952 and 1956 campaigns.

Some sixty persons attended the dinner.

Penn Alps Serves Highlands

One month after opening its doors to the public, Penn Alps on the Casselman, one-half mile east of Grantsville on route 40, is taking time out to evaluate its total program and more thoroughly acquaint the public with the aims behind its founding, according to Dr. Alta Schrock, executive secretary.

Penn Alps, a non-profit corporation chartered in Pennsylvania and governed by a Lemon board of Christian business and professional men and women, has as its total aim service to mankind in every area, physical, mental, social and spiritual.

One of the major purposes of the organization is to help people help themselves, to foster, implement and provide outlets for home industries for hundreds of people living in the Allegheny Highlands. A special effort is being made to serve the widowed, the handicapped, the unfortunate, the socially isolated and lonely, retired men and women in need of a challenge, youth who need the inspiration of creativity, persons unable to take their place in competitive public works.

A second major aim is to foster and revive the creativity, ingenuity and self reliance which made America great in the days of its founding, in doing this and in providing the leadership and equipment for home industries in the

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is running special trains for the Sunday races. The usual weekend ski train will be bringing contestants and fans into the area for the event.

George D. Hankins, of Cumberland, is racing chairman for the Western Maryland Ski club.

Plenty of Snow

There was plenty of snow at the ski tow last night, according to Helmuth Heise, in charge of the physical arrangements for the meet. He said there had been considerable drifting in the area with snow measuring anywhere from six inches to three feet. Snow fences around the tow had been completely covered and were being reset to catch additional drifting.

Competition for skiers in the junior division also are scheduled since the junior tourney of two weeks ago was called off on account of the lack of snow.

On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock there will be slalom competitions for juniors who are under 18 years of age. The juniors will be divided into four classes, 16 and 17 years of age, 15 and 16, 13 and 14, and ages 12 and under. Also on Sunday morning there will be a giant slalom competition for the juniors in the various classes. Each day's events are expected to wind up about 5 p. m.

Master of ceremonies will be Warren Gilbertson, Washington, D. C., former national ski jumping champion. Dr. Ray Ellis, Somerset, former captain of the University of New Hampshire ski team, will be chief course setter. The ski patrol will be headed by Dr. Joseph Alvarez and Howard Naylor, Oakland, chief timer will be Richard Welch. Bruce Anderson will be chief starter, Glenn Kline, course maintenance, Taft Oursler, communications; Dolores Elrich and Florence Quinn, registrations. Members of the Western Maryland club are to assist wherever assigned.

Registration are to be accepted at the main clubhouse at the slope until 15 minutes before each event.

This scholarship is awarded on the basis of his high school record, his attainment and promise in the field of music, and the recommendation of the music department.

REAL LIFE DRAMA - - This Could Be You

This is real life drama, and it could be you on the receiving end—a free gift that would save your life. But it takes many persons on the giving end to provide the supply of blood necessary to keep the program active.

Last week a woman had undergone surgery. She needed blood immediately. The supply at the Johnstown Red Cross blood center, being low, there was no extra blood at the Garrett County Memorial hospital. So a call went out to Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman of the local Red Cross chapter. Within twenty minutes after the hospital technician called Mrs. Stemple, a donor was there in the person of Maurice Brookhart, local implement dealer and business man. Mr. Brookhart is shown above giving his "O" negative type blood, under the supervision of Clayton White, clinical technician. The other picture shows the unnamed patient receiving the blood, under supervision of Mrs. Sue Teagarden, nurse. As a result of all this a woman's life is saved.

Every month it's the same. Some times it's every week, and it could be every day. Some people give blood regularly when the bloodmobile visits the area. Others give when the emergency arises. Other people need it hour after hour. The real-life drama of blood goes on around the clock.

Mrs. Stemple, in announcing the next visit of the bloodmobile unit to Oakland for Tuesday, February 2, was hopeful that at least 125 pints could be obtained. The Johnstown regional blood center which services Garrett and Allegany counties in Western Maryland and Mineral county in West Virginia, has issued an emergency call for donors because the available supply of blood has reached a critical low. Only emergency hospital orders are being filled at present and most of these are being cut sharply. Those in charge are asking that as many persons as possible donate blood at the Oakland Fire department collection point when the bloodmobile comes to Oakland on February 2.

Dr. Michael G. Mikesic, medical director, emphasized the serious-

Influenza Hits Area

An Asian or other type influenza has struck this area within the past two weeks. Although not of epidemic proportions, there are a hundred or more cases in Oakland and vicinity. One physician alone had twenty-five patients in the hospital this week with the disease.

Other doctors reported they had quite a number of patients. The influenza usually lasts four or five days. Absences have been numerous at both high schools this week, but this was attributed partly to the storm and not to excessive illness. There were over a hundred students absent at each of the two high schools yesterday.

Elementary schools also have shown quite a few absences due to colds and influenza.

K. Of P. To Mark 71st Anniversary

Committees have been named to plan for the 71st anniversary celebration and annual Ladies' night of Garrett Lodge No. 115, Knights of Pythias, to be held at Castle Hall on Friday evening, February 19 at 8 p. m. The occasion will also mark the 97th anniversary of the founding of the national order.

The entertainment committee includes Harry L. Stemple, Harvey M. Riley, Carlton E. Bowser and Floyd C. Durst.

In charge of refreshments will be J. C. Collins, Harland Kelley and Robert Groves.

This Friday evening, the rank of Esquire will be conferred on a class of Pages.

Wind Buffets Area 4 Inches Snow Falls

Wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour buffeted the area Tuesday in the wake of a three to four inch snowfall, making the day one of the worst on record for either this year or last. Roads also were the slickest in several years, making travel extremely hazardous.

The wind drove the snow with such force that motorists were compelled to stop frequently to discover whether or not they were still on the highway. Because of this condition schools of the county were dismissed at 1 o'clock Tuesday in order to give the buses time to get all children to their homes before dark.

School was resumed Wednesday morning although the snow continued to fly, but the wind had abated and there was not much drifting.

Roads Crews On Move

State and County Roads crews were busy around the clock in clearing drifts and cindering the slick highways. A number of trailer trucks were hung up on route 40 west of Frostburg.

Snow was measured up to four inches in this county up to Tuesday evening and perhaps an additional half inch fell Tuesday night and Wednesday. There were times when the sun attempted to shine, but it was only for brief periods.

Temperatures dipped into the 20s during Tuesday and remained there on Wednesday although it was near the melting stage.

Most of West Virginia was blanketed with snow with parts of Randolph and Tucker counties recording up to six inches.

For the balance of the week there was rain, sleet, and clear weather. Rain fell all night last Thursday night with skies clearing on Friday. There was a smattering of snow Saturday but it was back to rain on Sunday. There was also some rain and sleet on Monday.

Storm Continues Today

Stormy conditions continued into Thursday with snow still falling lightly. Ralph Weber, veteran weather man, south of town, reported temperature this morning at 9 above zero with some five inches of snow having fallen up to the present time.

The temperature was quite a drop from yesterday when 15 degrees was recorded at Accident.

Gas Production Shows Increase

County Receives $22,528.88, $10,000 Greater Than Last Report

Natural gas production in the past three months ending December 31 showed an increase of almost $10,000. The October report was the last quarter report and always was lowest of the entire year.

The report for the period was received Monday by the County Commissioners. The check was for $22,528.88 and was exactly $9,950.36 more than the one three months ago.

The number of cubic feet produced in the period totaled 1,229,650,000, over thirteen million cubic feet per day, compared to around eight million three months ago. The marketable gas was valued at $321,841.16 compared to $179,693.05 for the previous period. The largest check ever received for any 90-day period was $28,573.82.

The gas company's check was the amount for the seven percent tax on the marketable gas. The breakdown showed $9,011.55 as the purchaser's proportion of the tax (2.8 percent) and $13,517.33 as the producer's proportion (4.2 percent).

Thirty-eight wells were listed as producing gas, three more than the previous report. The four new wells were the Frazee, Doerr and Brobst wells. The Artis No. 1 well was not listed this time.

The four additional wells were those of Snee, Eberly, Eberly and L. N. Murray, making a total of seventeen listed under their names. O. Eberly has 46.875 percent, Snee 45.313 percent, R. E. Eberly 6.250 percent, and L. N. Murray 1.562 percent.

These wells again were the biggest producers, with the most productive being the Bowser well with 252,941,000 cubic feet. Next on the list was the Herman and Hanlin well with 153,201,000. Other large ones were the Black and Frazee with 130,516,000, Barbara Miller, 122,959,000, Earl Knox, over 81 million, Arnold George and Mitchell Rush both over 21 million. The N. K. Welch well first producer in the area, still was supplying over 9 millions.

The check was the first one in the new year and there will be three others. The totals for the past two years were $83,888.56, and $89,703.42. The first $50,000 in any one year goes toward liquidation of the school indebtedness. The next $25,000 goes toward expenses of the local hospital and any amount above $75,000 goes into a fund for new school building repairs or additional new construction. A percentage of the total received by the Commissioners goes to incorporated towns if a producing well is located within the corporate limits.

Since the first check for the tax on the marketable gas was received by the Commissioners in July, 1951, the county's governing body has received $468,449.14.

The complete report of the production by wells for the ninety-day period is shown in tabular form in today's issue.

Oakland F.F.A. Boys Receive Medals For Outstanding Work

Four members of Swallow Falls High School Future Farmers chapter attended the annual awards program of the Maryland State Farm Bureau in Baltimore last Friday.

Making the trip were Brooks Hamilton, Wayne Beckman, Joan Wildesen and Richard Dixon. Richard Bishoff, adviser also attended.

The boys received medals for their outstanding farming programs in vocational agriculture. Hamilton received two gold medals for his beef cattle project and complete farming program. Beckman won a bronze medal for his beef project. Wildesen won a silver medal for his project of 20 fat lambs and Dixon won a silver medal for his swine breeding program.

The four boys had a total project labor income of over four thousand dollars. Each boy recently received the Oakland Chapter farmer degree and Hamilton was named Star Chapter farmer. He has six purebred Angus cows and one-half interest in a bull purchased from the internationally famous Longview Farms of Burlington, W. Va. His cows recently produced four calves. In addition to his beef project Hamilton had three and one-half acres of cauliflower and broccoli and employs three boys to help with the summer work.

Beckman has a baby beef project and a swine program of two sows, two gilts and two fat hogs. Wildesen is presently feeding sixteen beef calves and two Duroc sows. He will feed twenty fat lambs in the spring. Dixon owns purebred swine purchased from Washington county and is developing an approved cross breeding program for feeder pigs. He has six O. I. C. and Duroc sows, an O. I. C. boar and 11 Yorkshire pigs.

Also accompanying the boys to Baltimore in addition to Mr. Bishoff were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hamilton, of Red House.

Program to Halt Downward Spiral In Agriculture Urged

A program to halt the downward spiral in agriculture and to improve agricultural income was among the items endorsed at the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Maryland Farm Bureau, held at Baltimore January 14, 15 and 16.

Garrett county's elected and voting delegates of the county farm bureau were among the 263 voting delegates and many others who attended the sessions. The delegates represented a state membership of 19,066 farm families.

Attending from this county were Ross Crowe, president of the county farm bureau and a director of the state organization; Keith Stahl, Sunnyside; Otis Riley, Pleasant Valley; Allen S. Paugh, Deer Park; G. Emerson Bisholl, Friendsville; Milliard Merrill and Mr. Guy Stanton, Grantsville; Mrs. Walter Mayerolf, Cove, vice-president of the Associated Women; and Mrs. Orval C. Glotfelty, Bittinger, a state director of the Associated Women of the Maryland Bureau.

L. S. Hartley, agricultural agent for the B. and O. railroad, presented $25 to each of three F. F. A. chapters in Maryland for outstanding achievement and one of these awards went to the Northern High School F. F. A.

Harry McDonald, Maryland Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, awarded citizenship medals to F. F. A. boys. Governor Tawes presented special recognition to boys for project work and boys of this county won ten medals.

Among the resolutions were the following:

Recommended reclassification of the law providing for taxation of land in agricultural production as such and in no other way;

Requested that the sales tax law be amended to exempt all agricultural chemicals, antibiotics, spray materials and weed killers; asked more serious consideration of economy in government, economy in public improvement expenditures such as school building construction, highway rights of way and improvements;

Urged making support of public education on a state-county and Baltimore city sharing basis;

Wanted revision of income tax and sales tax systems to produce the revenue if additional tax revenue is needed;

Urged passage of an act making it a crime of larceny to enter upon lands of another without permission and cut and remove growing trees, if present laws are inadequate.

Opposed a milk control commission for Maryland since most of Maryland's milk is already being produced under federal order;

Recommended that the program concerning calfhood vaccination against Brucellosis be resumed.

The bureau pointed out that during the first six months of 1959 the farm income dropped eight percent and cost of production increased three percent, seriously affecting agricultural income. It endorsed an aggressive program to halt this downward spiral and to improve agricultural income. It backed the American Farm Bureau's program of checking inflation, emphasis on markets, less government control, temporary retirement of productive land, vigorous research on production and utilization of farm products, promotion of a better diet utilization of our abundance to help the undernourished in foreign nations.

It also urged elimination of politics from the farm program, the use of sound economics and common sense to help the business of agriculture secure an adequate income for its producers.

The convention also urged that every effort be made to establish standard uniform time within each time zone.

Among those at the convention were Governor Tawes, Randall G. Sportleer, president of The Maryland Farm Bureau, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, and others.

that the license was granted November 20, 1958, and that they were married on January 14, 1959. On the application she stated he was 75 years old and not married.

She declared in her petition that she was legally entitled to administer Mr. Browning's estate and further stated that she would appeal the decision if revocation of letters to Mr. Brown was not granted.

In the answer to the petition for revocation Mr. Robert E. Browning (Brown) denied that the petitioner was legally married as alleged, that at the time a legal pre-existing marriage of Richard S. Browning and Margaret Lewis Browning was in effect which was never dissolved until the death of the decendent in Garrett County Memorial hospital.

He claimed no notice was required to be given to her since she was not the widow of the decedent. He claimed that the petitioner had knowledge of the pre-existing marriage of the decedent and that if the decedent "was party to any such alleged marriage ceremony it was only as result and consequence of the fraud, duress and coercion practiced upon decedent by the petitioner."

Mr. Browning or Brown declared that his mother and his brothers and sisters had given him the right to act as administrator.

ness of the storage when he cut an emergency order to Waynesboro this week from nine to three pints. "And they only got that because they have a bleeding case," he said. Several days ago a physician's order for blood for an operation at a Cumberland hospital was refused because not enough of the type was available and the operation was not "a matter of life and death."

The doctor said "It's the worst I've ever seen it."

Mrs. Stemple pointed out that the last visit to Oakland was on October 6th, so that it will have been four months before the unit is here again. She said the Red Cross chapter not only needs but "merits the whole hearted support of the public in this life sustaining program."

During the past period, January to June, the Oakland area was only nine pints short of its goal, so that it was not dropped from the list, but placed on a special list where blood would still be supplied when the need was acute, if the center had it to give.

All emergency calls are extra and are not credited on the total program and Mrs. Stemple pointed out that during the past year numerous emergency calls from the local hospital had been cared for. This included calls for 2 pints and 7 pints during January, a call for 2 pints in July, call for 4 pints in August, a call for 6 pints in October, a call for 3 points in November and a call for 2 pints in December. Donors were sent immediately upon each occasion, Mrs. Stemple said, in the same manner that Mr. Brookhart was summoned last week.

Mrs. Stemple added that she was "so completely sold on the blood program." She hoped others would come to the realization of the vital importance of it. The giving is painless, does not impair a person's health and so many times is instrumental in saving a person's life.

She urged a good response to the blood program at the next visit of the bloodmobile on February 2 at Oakland, and a scheduled visit to Grantsville on March 28.

Children in the case included James J. Browning (Brown) a son, Kansas City, Mo.; George Browning (Brown) a son, White Plains, N. Y.; Ellen E. Ditoro, a daughter, White Plains; Robert E. Browning (Brown) of Bethesda; and Audrey M Cleeff, daughter, Westwood, N. J.

Introduced into the testimony at Monday's hearing was the information that Robert E. Browning took deposition of Fr. John F. Fahy, pastor of St. Joseph's church in Spokane, Washington, who performed the ceremony in 1912 when he was assistant pastor. He produced the record book with the license along with the date of the ceremony as November 28, 1912, and witnessed by Fr. John DeKanter, pastor at that time, and Elizabeth Gerber.

A marginal notation on the record was in Latin, and Rev. Fahy said the translation meant "disparity of worship was obtained in order to place this marriage according to the rules of the Catholic church, a civil ceremony having been performed at an earlier date at some other place."

Among the witnesses summoned to testify Monday were James Edward Shafer, Arlene Shafer, Herbert C. Leighton, Rev. Paul Taylor, Mac G. Taylor, Dr. James Feaster, and Joseph E. Boden, the latter clerk of the Circuit court of Allegany county.

E. Ray Jones and Lewis R. Jones are attorneys for the defendant, Robert E. Browning (Brown), while Horace Whitworth, Jr., is attorney for the petitioner and plaintiff in the case, Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Shafer Browning.

Arguments in the case will be head in the Circuit Court on February 5.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Congress and Politics—On Wednesday, the 86th Congress reconvened for its Second Session. This session of Congress promises to be dominated by politics. Its every action will be tied to the fact that there will be an election this year. Each one of the 457 seats in the House of Representatives and 33 of the 100 Senate seats must be voted on in November. At the same time, the Presidency will be at stake—and several of my colleagues in the Senate seem to be running for the Presidency. As a matter of fact, since Vice Pres. Nixon, unchallenged for the Republican nomination, is President of the Senate, you will find within the walls of the Senate Chamber this session virtually all of the Prominently Mentioned jockeying for position.

What will Congress do this session? Well, what it will do and what it should do might present two different pictures. Some worthwhile legislation will sail through; some will get tough sledding.

Welfare Legislation— Welfare legislation will be pushed. Retirement payments are likely to be increased. Benefits for the totally disabled may be made more liberal, and I believe there will be favorable action on legislation which I co-sponsored for free health insurance to retired persons. I hope favorable action will be taken in the Senate on the House-passed Keogh-Simpson bill authorizing certain retirement plans for self-employed persons.

Farm Problems—There are sharp political differences over farm programs, and it is, of course, in doubt as to what kind of farm legislation, if any, will come out of this session. I would like to see developed a program which would (1) reduce farm aid costs, (2) halt the build-up of surpluses, and (3) reverse the sharp decline in farm income.

Federal Aid to Education—Everything considered, I do not look for this session to produce any legislation for Federal aid to school construction.

In the First Session, we in the Senate passed a bill to assist draftees through college after they have completed military service and also authorizing Federal grants for educational television, but I am in doubt as to what the House will do with these bills.

Labor—Settlement of the steel strike weakens demands for certain labor legislation. A higher minimum wage, with extended coverage, is likely.

Taxes—Don't look for an income tax reduction. It looks as though there will be another extension of the 52 per cent tax on corporate income. Excise taxes on transportation and telephone rates may be cut. There is no longer any excuse for wartime excise taxes levied to discourage travel and transactions during the Second World War. A thorny problem will be the financing of the Interstate Highway System, with Congress reluctant to further increase the gasoline tax.

Civil Rights—The subject of Civil Rights will be seriously discussed in this session, and, as in the past, I will support any effective and practicable Civil Rights legislation. There will be a fight, but I expect to see legislation enacted which will require local officials to preserve voting records in Federal elections—as an aid to Civil Rights investigations. Also, I believe there will be the formation of a Federal agency to settle local disputes over the racial problem.

Interest Rates On Government Bonds—Congress should certainly accede to the President's request to raise the ceiling on interest rates that the Government may pay on long-term Treasury bonds. This is necessary for sound fiscal management. I believe this has a chance of getting through.

Foreign Trade—There will be debate, as usual, on the general subject of foreign trade and tariffs. No great change in the present program is expected.

Congress may make a change in the Sugar Act which now guarantees Cuba about a third of the U. S. market at prices above world-market prices.

Foreign Aid And Nato—The Foreign Aid Program, which I prefer to call the Mutual Security Program, will be the "whipping boy" again in this session. It seems that some of the lawmakers who do not want to save money on anything else get very saving when foreign aid is mentioned. It has been evident to me for a long time that for each dollar we spend on so-called foreign aid we save several dollars on defense. My recent tour of military installations in Europe brought further evidence of this truth. I believe that despite all the oratory and maneuvering to cut foreign aid, right will prevail and the program will be continued about as it is now.

Defense Preparedness — We must face up to our defense preparedness questions. If our defense efforts are to continue apace, then where should emphasis be placed? This is of special interest to me as I am a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee. There is growing opinion that we must prepare for so-called brush-fire wars, rather than prepare exclusively for possible all-out nuclear war. The argument is that neither side would start an all-out nuclear war, with appalling consequences of possible total destruction on both sides, but that the enemy might venture brush-fire warfare for territorial gains here and there.

Space Exploration— We do not know yet what part space exploration may play in national security, but whether for defense or for peaceful purposes we must decide what priority space exploration activities should be given among the several demands for the use of Federal resources.

The Time For Decisions—These are some questions that must be answered.

Thoughtful men and women are sobered by the grave confusion in world affairs, and decisions must be reached. In this, we are aided by deep-rooted principles.

Freedom, the right to private property, and the ideal of exalting and enriching the individual in contrast to the state are cherished principles of this Republic. We are heirs to a costly legacy. Let us be worthy of this heritage.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Characters Easy To Identify This Week

It isn't hard to tell who is involved in this week's picture out of the past but it is rather difficult to tell just "What."

Telling who is involved is easy. The names appear on the back of the photo. Samuel Lawton is holding the head of D. E. "Course" Bolden, while "Cheap John" Michael is attempting to make "Course" eat a cantaloupe. A pistol in his left hand would indicate that he might have been successful. The colored boy on the left was Johnny Nates, who is casting doubtful glances at the revolver or "Cheap John."

Whether this was just a "made up" picture or the result of some home talent play, is not known. The date may have been around 1900 or 1905.

The picture was loaned to The Republican by Bernard Nally, who said it had originally come from Sincell's Clothing store.

The American Way

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Layman's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

A reader has written this columnist, mildly scolding him, because, as he puts it, "You have the bad habit of quoting big businessmen so frequently in your column."

His accusation is true. We do quote our top executives of industry and business quite frequently. But while pleading guilty, we have no apology to offer for so doing. And why is our head unbowed? The answer is quite simple:

When we have need of medical attention, we consult a physician; if a tooth is aching, to a dentist we go for surcease; when confronted with a legal problem, we seek out a lawyer; when in need of spiritual advice, we visit a minister, etc., etc. In each case a man is selected who is an expert in his field, a man who has studied his particular profession and successfully practiced it.

By the same token, when business advice is required, isn't it reasonable to consult an expert in that profession or calling? With few exceptions, the men who are at the top of industry, or banking, or business have reached that eminence through toil, study, application and ability. They know the "ropes" because they climbed up them. Therefore, whose opinion can be more valuable than that of a man who speaks from a background of successful experience and achievement?

And so, at the risk of further offending our critic, we would like to pass on some comments made to us recently by one of the nation's top executives who is outstanding in his particular sphere of business activity. With becoming modesty, he has asked that his name not be publicized. This particular businessman virtually lifted himself by his own boot straps—he climbed from nowhere to the prominent position he now holds.

The burden of his comments was on the necessity of the several component groups in our economy working together, rather than fighting each other, which, unfortunately is too often the case. He pointed out that the foundation of America's economy will be solid and secure only if agriculture, industry and labor cooperate to their mutual advantage. He maintains that there can be no tug-of-war between them, each striving for selfish advantage at the expense of the others, if this nation is to achieve the optimum standard of living for all of its citizens. "In a tug-of-war," he said, "the strength on one side cancels an equal amount of strength on the other side. Teamwork is vitally necessary, for in a team, strength is added to strength and the pull is doubled or tripled."

He is so right in that statement.

In our hearts you and I know that there are no easy devices by which men or nations attain distinction and greatness. If we have the courage to make the right decisions in these times, and if we have an abiding faith that the right will ultimately survive, we shall meet the difficult problems of our time with serenity and confidence. We shall know that we are helping to build a nation and a world in which the finer values of the human spirit may flower.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi there! Another snowy week. The New March of Dimes Campaign for 1960 is in full swing now. There will be record hops and other dances throughout the county for the duration of the campaign. Our first big record hop will be held at the Grantsville American Legion tomorrow night. Besides the regular hop there will be a stage show.

Saturday night we will be holding the March of Dimes Record Hop in the Armory from 8 'til 11. At both Grantsville and at the armory the Jivin' Five will be swinging right along with us.

I'm not connected with the Jivin' Five in any way but I think that if any of you in the northern end of the county likes live rock'n roll at your dances you might just consider the Jivin' Five. Remember all you Jivin' Five fans start making plans to attend now.

See you all in Grantsville tomorrow night and at the Armory in Oakland Saturday night.

Earth shocks continued to rock Peru.

As we take a look at our over-all economy, we can see many organized groups that can serve as unifying influences. Farm organizations and cooperatives, labor unions, trade and manufacturing associations must take the long view of what will serve the common interest, rather than the short view of an immediate selfish advantage. Newspapers (especially the grass-roots weeklies), trade papers, association journals, radio and television; all these can be educational forces to drive home the verities of mutual interest and the power which derives from cooperative effort.

Today we find the farmers clamoring for high prices for farm products while complaining about high wages paid to their best costumers—industrial workers; we see labor leaders contending for higher and higher wages, or restrictive arrangements which boost manufacturing costs to uneconomic levels; we witness employers who seek high prices or high profits while paying subnormal wages. All these certainly need education as to where, in the final analysis, their best interests lie. Particularly, do they need to learn the lesson that class legislation obtained by the efforts of pressure groups, with a single eye to their own immediate advantage, is the most dangerous solution to any or all of the nation's economic problems.

Now, those of us who believe in our American Capitalistic System of Free Enterprise, who are unwilling to cooperate in the planning for our common good, must not be too critical of Government if it undertakes, as it is doing more and more, to do our planning for us. If we cannot settle our own disputes, we certainly are in no position to say to Uncle Sam, "Hands Off." Much as we may decry government meddling, government redtape, government rules and government regulations, those unwelcome things are inevitable, unless the warring factions in our economy declare a moratorium on strife and consolidate their forces.

Our business friend had this to say in concluding his comments. "In times of war, we sent our boys and girls abroad to fight for democracy. They believed that America was a country worth fighting for. We must now, prove to those soldiers, sailors, and airmen that AMERICA IS A COUNTRY WORTH LIVING FOR. That can only be accomplished by all segments of our economy working as a team."

Penn Alps

tri-state Allegheny mountain area. Penn Alps hopes to materially reduce the relief rolls. With welfare and vocational rehabilitation officials behind the organization, particularly in this county, Penn Alps has made a modest but hopeful beginning. Of the some 105 producers now channeling their products through Penn Alps, a considerable number have been on the relief rolls for years.

In order to implement its services to deserving and needy people of the highlands—people of all faiths and creeds—Penn Alps recently opened a Crafts Shoppe now numbering hundreds of items representing the work of creative hands in modest home industries. Simultaneously a Pennsylvania Dutch restaurant was opened as a needed public service and as a means of attracting the tourist trade which would in turn patronize the Crafts Shoppe.

So Dr. Schrock points out that Penn Alps is not primarily a Restaurant nor a crafts shop, but first and foremost a facility designed to serve people of the highlands, to provide Christian witness here. Proceeds from both operations not required for liquidation of debts will be used in expanding the program. The board of directors is serving without remuneration and will not receive dividends.

Meals are served from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m., except Sundays with or without appointment. For family or larger groups, appointments will be helpful.

Is Your Name TASKER?

Do you know that:

Tasker, an old and honored surname, is principally of English and Scottish origins. According to most authorities on nomenclature, it was bestowed, when surnames first came into vogue, upon those who worked, or were paid, by the task or piece. However, there are some who say in its Scottish aspect, Tasker was applied to those who were employed in agriculture as threshers or reapers.

Jonathan Tasker served as a private in the New Hampshire troops during the Revolutionary War. He died in Bartlett, N. H. in 1806.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has listings of Benjamin, Richard and Ann Tasker who were residents of Maryland and heads of fahulies at that time. The first two lived in Prince Georges County and the latter made her home in Harford County.

The progenitor of many of the present day members of the Tasker family in Maryland was Thomas Tasker who represented Calvert County in the Assembly from 1692 to 1697 and was commissioned a justice of the Provincial Court in 1694. One of his sons was Benjamin Tasker (1690-1768) who was high sheriff of Anne Arundel County, was elected mayor of Annapolis five times, and married Ann Bladen, sister of Thomas Bladen (1698-1780), governor of Maryland, and daughter of William Bladen (1673-1718), attorney general of Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tasker were the parents of ten children.

William Tasker (1740-1800) was a distinguished English poet.

Cyril Tasker (1899-1953) was director of the research laboratory of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, Cleveland, Ohio.

Clinton Waldorf Tasker is known widely for his accomplishments as a research chemist with American Viscose Corporation at Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Edwin M. Tasker is president and a member of the board of directors, Toledo Stamping and Manufacturing Company, Toledo, Ohio.

Gerald W. Tasker is vice-president of the nationally known advertising firm of Cunningham and Walsh, Inc., New York City.

Gifts of books have been received from the Richard Davis family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Fraley, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Feld, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Jones.

The American Revolution is the subject of an exhibit of books in the front of the library. "The American Heritage Book of the Revolution" describes the war in detail with many colorful illustrations.

"William Diamond's Drum" by Arthur Tourtellot and "Forge of Liberty" by Leonard Falkner tell of the dramatic opening of the conflict. "Four Days in July" by Cornel Lenyel is the story behind the Declaration of Independence. Donald Clidsey's "Valley Forge" is an account of the winter the Continental Army spent at Valley Forge in 1777-1778.

"Prospects of a Golden Age" by John Dos Passos re-creates the excitement and color of the Revolutionary period in American history and the year immediately after it.

Two new novels of the American Revolution are Charles Mercer's "Enough Good Men" and John Brick's "The Strong Men."

Food Fallacies

Q. I have heard that toast has fewer calories than untoasted bread. True or false.

A. False. There are many other false notions about food. Here are a few: Food can not be stored in open cans. (It can.) Garlic cures high blood pressure. (It doesn't.) Food cooked in aluminum utensils will cause cancer. (It will not.) Oysters, raw eggs, and olives increase sexual power. (Pure fiction.)

Q. Your questions and answers about cancer are always interesting. Can you write more about this disease?

A. More about cancer would no doubt be helpful but in that case a lot of other health subjects would have to be by-passed. The American Cancer Society publishes an interesting and helpful pamphlet which answers more than a hundred questions about the disease. If you or other readers are interested, drop us a note and we will see that your request for the free booklet reaches the proper hands.

Q. Is self hypnosis possible? That is, can a person hypnotize himself?

A. Some can. The following occurrence is related by a doctor who uses hypnosis. After several visits a young married woman who was apparently dissatisfied with her progress, asked him: "Why don't you hypnotize me?" The doctor hesitated a moment and the patient added, "I know you can do it, because my husband can, and he isn't even a doctor." The physician made a slight gesture as anyone might do during a conversation and, before he could speak, the patient entered a trance-like state of hypnosis. She had hypnotized herself!

Q. My baby, now 18 months old, has spells of holding his breath to the point of losing consciousness. Dousing him with cold water will bring him out of it but is this wise?

A. This sort of behavior is thought to be a form of temper tantrum. Your form of "treatment" would probably leave baby specialists (and the baby) cold. The basic trouble, according to most authorities, is some kind of parent-child conflict. The attacks are harmless in that the baby can't continue to hold his breath after he becomes unconscious. However, medical consultation is strongly urged. The physician will offer advice which will help solve the problem. The "cure" will, however, depend pretty much on you.

Our prescription service is recommended to you by the pride we feel in being able to serve you well at all times.

Terry Colaw Leads Assault With 33— Patton Leads Huskies With 19

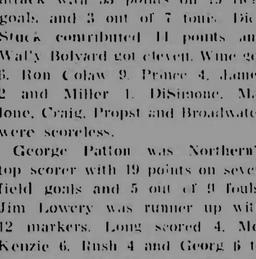
Coach Carl Schoenover's Southern High school Highlanders drew first blood in the series with their county rivals by defeating the Northern High school Huskies of Coach Alvin Jones, Ltd. Friday night at Oakland before a packed house. The score was 80 to 51.

Southern jumped off to a 20-7 lead in the first period and never was headed. There was never much doubt as to the outcome. Southern led 38-25 at intermission and 59-38 at the close of the third period.

Terry Colaw led the Southern attack with 33 points on 15 field goals, and 3 out of 7 tons. Dick Stuck contributed 11 points and Wally Bolyard got eleven. Wine got 6, Ron Colaw 9, Prance 4, James 2 and Miller 1. DiSimone, Malone, Craig, Propst and Broadwater were scoreless.

George Patton was Northern's top scorer with 19 points on seven field goals and 5 out of 9 fouls. Jim Lowery was runner up with 12 markers. Long scored 4, McKenzie 6, Rush 4 and Georg 6 to complete the scoring. McCardy and Umbel went scoreless.

The Highlanders racked up 33 field goals to 16 for the Huskies but Northern got 19 of 34 fouls compared to 14 of 28 for Southern. Jerry Wine of Southern and Lowery and McCardy of the Huskies fouled out in the final period.



The Southern Jayvees also won over their Northern opponents 48 to 26 in the preliminary encounter.

The attendance was figured at 1150 with 900 paid admissions, including 725 adults and 175 students. There were 85 members of the band and 20 cheerleaders from both schools, members of the Southern junior high and Jayvee teams, and miscellaneous others. All were finally packed into the gymnasium by using chairs along the sidelines and at both ends.

The second game of the season will be played at Northern High school on Saturday, February 20. The game was originally scheduled for Friday, the 19th, but it was impossible to get any officials for that date.

PREACH THE WORD

Recently my wife and I took a trip to the Smokey Mountains and stayed for several days in the mountains viewing the handiwork of our great God. When Sunday came we went to the nearest town and attended the Worship Services in a church of our own denomination. The preacher was a very polished, pleasing and eloquent man. He reverently opened his Bible before he began to preach, but for the first two-thirds of his ministry never used it. The last part of his message a little light flickered through so that it seemed as if he knew the truth of the Gospel. We returned in the evening to be greeted by the same prrocess. The Bible was opened, but this time he never referred to it throughout the course of the message. What a disappointment! A preacher friend of mine gave me this advice early in my ministry. He said, "People will not come to hear what you have to say, they will come to hear what God has to say." The only way they will hear this is if I will stick to the exposition of the Word of God. My primary duty is to "Preach the Word" in simplicity so that people may understand what God says, and "Stick to the Bible."

Southern Wins 6th Straight 84 to 63

Southern High's Highlanders coached by Carl Schoonover, scored their sixth consecutive basketball victory and seventh in nine encounters at Oakland last night by turning back Elk Garden's Elks 84 to 63, in a Potomac Valley Conference game. The Elks dropped their ninth game in 11 starts. The game was postponed from Tuesday night because of bad weather.

Terry Colaw once more was the big gun for Southern, hitting the nets for 31 points on 12 goals and 7 out of 9 at the free throw line. Wine hit for 11, Ron Colaw for 14, Stuck for 7, Bill Stemple for 13, Malone for 4, Propst for 2, and DiSimone for 2 to complete the scoring.

Dave Bardock packed up 16 points in a losing cause for Elk Garden. Others scoring for the Elks were Evans 7, Knotts 13, Harvey 11, Shillingburg 1, Junkins 7, Burke 1, Paugh 4. Non-scoring were James, Craig, Broadwater, Miller, for Southern, and Kalbaugh for the Elks.

Southern outscored Elk Garden 31 to 26 in field goals and hit on 22 of 31 foul attempts. Elk Garden hit on 11 of 19. The Highlanders could have made the score higher but called on the substitutes in the final quarter. They led at the quarter 20 to 13, widened the gap 19 to 30 at the half and held a 72-38 edge at the end of the third period. The Elks outscored Southern 25 to 12 in the final period.

The Southern junior high team was victorious in the preliminary 18 to 18.

The Highlanders will journey to Terra Alta Friday night for a return game with the high school there. Southern won the first encounter.

Md. Legislature May Liberalize Absentee Voting

The 1960 Maryland legislature may be asked to further liberalize election laws to permit college students, school teachers and others some distance from their homes, but still inside the state, to vote by absentee ballot.

The proposal grew out of a meeting at Annapolis Monday of county and Baltimore election officials, called together by Gov. Tawes for a review of the election laws in advance of the 1960 primary and general elections.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, executive assistant to Gov. Tawes, who presided, said he would discuss the proposal with the governor to determine whether it should be submitted to the legislature next month. The change could be made to apply to the 1959 primary and general elections if the legislature approves.

Maryland first extended absentee voting to civilians not on duty with the armed forces for the 1958 election. But under present statutes, only those civilians who expect to be out of the state on election day can obtain an absentee ballot by notifying their local election board at least 20 days in advance of the election.

Similar privileges are extended to civilians inside the state only when illness or other physical disability prevents their going to the polls.

It was recommended that it should also apply to those civilians who are some distance from their homes by nature of their duties but still within the borders of the state.

The suggested change was the only one of a statewide nature proposed at the meeting. There were a number of local problems. Many of the election officials, supervisors, clerks and board attorneys, attended the meeting which Gov. Tawes had called for a rundown on election laws.

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they scorched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, mince hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

God Changes Lives

Lesson for January 21, 1960

THE CHRISTIAN religion did not burst into the world as a brand-new set of ideas. Christians were not then—and right Christians are not now—just the same people with new ideas. A man does not become a Christian by believing something on Sunday that he hadn't believed on Saturday. It is true, a Christian does believe what he didn't believe before, or maybe had never even thought about. But the point is, Christianity doesn't stop with thinking. It goes on to doing, becoming. Something happens to the people who believe.

Dr. Foreman

The Second Mile

In the book of Acts we have glimpses of the changes that come into life that God has touched. The writer of Acts was not a philosopher or a theologian, he was a doctor, he was interested in symptoms. In his story of Paul's first visit to the little city of Philippi, he gives us the symptoms of being a Christian. First there was this woman, Lydia. Women had more freedom in the Greek world than in the Jewish world. This lady was a business woman, an independent merchant, presumably successful for she owned a house large enough to hold a number of house guests. You might have thought Lydia did not need to be converted. She attended prayer meeting, she was a worshiper of God. But she wasn't already a Christian, though she was on the way. This good woman we read, "opened her heart" to what Paul was saying. We know that Paul would be telling the story of Jesus. This God in whom Lydia already believed, this God she already worshiped, had actually come to earth, lived, suffered, died, risen again, in the person and the life of Jesus. Paul would certainly be saying that Christ died for us ... We don't know for certain what Paul said but we do know how God pursuing woman opened her heart. Just as simple as that. Now she was not a wicked person ... The change God wrought in her was not had-to-good. It was good-to-better.

Sanity

Then we have the strange little story of the poor slave girl who told fortunes. Today they would send her to a psychiatric hospital. In the language of that day, when Paul spoke to her the evil spirit came out of her. Now this girl was not bad, she was weak. She was no better than a trained seal, a thing to make dishonest money with. She was not running away from God or hating him, she very likely hated the sort of life she had to live. What we know about her is that the change which came over her took her out of the class of half-human things and made her a true person. She was no longer controlled by her masters, no longer by an uncanny spirit. She was a human being in her own right. The change Christ made in her was not wicked-to-good, but weak-to-strong, mental sickness to mental health, sub-human to human.

Conversion of a Brute

Finally we have the story of the jailer in that same city. Here was a genuine bad-to-good change. You would probably have said there was just no use hoping for anything good to come into his life. He was a man brutalized by his occupation, a man who made his living by being cruel to helpless people. Paul himself had (so far as we read) made no effort to convert him. But from the moment Paul said to him, "Believe—", something amazing happened in that man. It is a mistake to expect that when you have faith, something is going to happen to you. It may, or it may not. What is certain, if you are really converted, is that something is going to happen in you. We do not read that Lydia began to make money faster than ever. We do know the poor slave-girl was out of a job—and so was the jailer, perhaps. What was important, what they all experienced, was the power of God. In one person that power took a woman farther along the road she was traveling; in another that power took a girl out of degradation to dignity; in another, it changed cruelty to mercy. But always the same God!

To some, success means much money or outstanding accomplishment. To others achieving contentment is sufficient.
One thing is certain. It is difficult to enjoy any success without a healthy body. Just as you study to prepare your mind for success, you can also prepare your body. The first step is to visit your physician for a health check-up. Then, place the future health of your body in his care. Follow his suggestions for diet or weight control. Take the sustaining or corrective medicines he may prescribe. You can prepare now for future better health.

Emphasis On Rt. 40 Improvements Assured By Funk

Completion by 1965 of U. S. route 40 from Hancock to the Pennsylvania line through Allegany and Garrett counties, and completion of route 219 in Garrett county along with completion of the Cumberland Thruway, was literally laid in the laps of the Maryland General Assembly at a dinner meeting of the U. S. route 40 association in Cumberland last Sunday night.

John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads commission departing frequently from a prepared script, outlined problems and plans of the commission to get Maryland "as many miles of good primary roads as quickly as possible."

Mr. Funk explained that if the legislators at the coming session will approve the measure proposed by the commission and endorsed by Gov. Tawes and "unthe the hands of the commission," work on critical areas of route 40 in this section can start immediately.

Funk said the commission felt it must complete as many main roads as possible with the money available. He also listed a number of gaps all over the state that must be filled.

Under the proposed changes which must be made in the legislature, he said almost immediately the commission could start the section from Martin's Mountain into Cumberland, completing it by the fall of 1962. Then contracts would be let for modernization of the road from Sideling Hill to Polish mountain and to Hancock, to be completed by the end of 1963.

Westward from Cumberland, Funk assured the association it was aware of the importance of first class highways to the economy of Garrett county. The plan calls for completion of Route 40 from Cumberland to Keyser Ridge by the summer of 1963 was indicated as well as improvement of U. S. route 219.

He estimated the Cumberland Thruway would be completed by 1965, and that the road westward from Keyser Ridge to the Pennsylvania line would come along about that time.

Some 300 citizens from Garrett, Washington and Allegany counties attended. Several from this county who spoke were unanimous that 40 westward should be contracted ahead of the Cumberland thruway. Harry Edwards, Grantsville, said he had urged since 1921 that work be started on U. S. 40 at the Pennsylvania line and extend eastward. Several others urged U. S. 40 work ahead of the thruway.

Sermonette

By Area Ministers

B. Rev. M. L. Brown, pastor
CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Much has been said concerning the value of exercise. The stress lain upon exercise is usually at the door of our physical or mental faculties. Little is ever written concerning spiritual exercise. Prayer is one of the finest means of drawing close to God. Bible reading and attending church services adds much to our spiritual development. To add strength to our physical we exercise the weak members of the body.

Tribulations worketh patience wrote the author of the Epistle to the Romans. Tribulation he said,—this is an all embracing word that leaves nothing unexpressed. Tribulation worketh patience. After our tribulation, patience is added to our Christian character. This is the process of the darkness and silence, afterward turned to the healing breath of prayer.

Peter asks us to add to our various virtues. This word add is changed to the all expressive word "exercise" in the Amplified New Testament. Thus we read, for this very reason adding your diligence to the divine promises employ every effort in exercising your faith to develop virtue (excellence, resolution, Christian energy) and in (exercising) virtue (develop) knowledge (godliness). And in exercising knowledge develop self-control, and in exercising self-control develop (practice) patience, endurance and in exercising steadfastness develop godliness (piety). And in exercising godliness develop brotherly affection, and in exercising brotherly affection develop Christian love. For as these qualities are yours and increasingly abound in you they will keep (you) from being idle or unfruitful unto the full personal knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Messiah, the Anointed One.

1960 Looks Good—The year 1960 could be the greatest of all years for America. Business analysts studying all available statistics and trends, come to the conclusion that America's position is tops. This means success for all who will grasp the opportunities as they are presented. If all goes well, the odds being in favor of this, 1960 should see the national economy head toward the 510-billion-dollar mark—an unprecedented figure in American history.

Who Pays The Freight?—Have you ever wondered just where the Federal government gets all the money to do all the things it does? From you, the taxpayers, of course. The Government expects to collect a total of $77,100,000,000 during the current fiscal year, and here is where it will come from:

Individual income taxes $40,700,000,000 52.8 per cent.

Corporation income taxes $21,448,000,000 27.8 per cent.

Excise taxes $8,945,000,000 11.6 per cent.

Employment taxes $328,000,000 0.4 per cent.

Estate and Gift taxes $1,365,000,000 1.8 per cent.

Taxes not classified $9,000,000 0.01 per cent.

Customs levies $900,000,000 1.2 per cent.

Miscellaneous receipts $3,343,000,000 4.3 per cent.

Total $77,100,000,000 100 per cent.

Applause For Steel Settlement—On Wednesday in a speeh in the Senate, I took issue with those who have criticized the steel strike settlement and I said that it was apparent that much of the criticism stems from the fact that Vice President Nixon, who is given credit for an important part in the settlement, likely will be the Republican nominee for the Presidency in this year's election.

The settlement of the steel strike was the answer to the prayers of millions of Americans—not only steelworkers and their families, but the entire population. It was generally admitted that the steel strike was a threat to our entire economy. At its peak, over 1,200,000 workers were out of jobs. Many industries and workers in nearly all industries were threatened. For weeks there was an impasse. Then, light came through the clouds. A settlement was reached. Americans took a sigh of relief and felt gratitude in their hearts.

The Vice President of the United States was given credit for playing a principal role in the settlement, and, at first, no one seemed to begrudge him this honor. Then, when the first flush of victory had passed, Politics raised its ugly head.

Political opponents of Vice President Nixon say that the steel strike settlement is inflationary. Let's look at that. Under the settlement, the average earnings per year will rise less than 3.75 per cent. Now, compare this with the 4.5 per cent increase under the settlement for the can industry, and 5.2 per cent for the aluminum industry. These other increases average about 30 per cent more than the steel settlement increase. Mr. Roger Blough, Chairman of the Board of U. S. Steel, has verified the fact that the average annual increase in hourly employment costs resulting from the steel strike settlement will be 3.5 to 3.75 per cent. This is in contrast to other steel settlements during the post-war period, during which hourly employment costs have been rising at an average of 8 per cent a year. Thus, by the steel strike settlement, the post-war trend has been cut in half. The steel wage increase of 7 cents which goes into effect December 1960 is less than the average increase. As a matter of fact, 65 per cent of wage increases in 1959 exceed that figure. What this means is that the steel strike settlement is in line with others negotiated. It cannot be any excuse for setting off an inflationary wage pattern. As a matter of fact, the average increase in hourly earnings resulting from the steel strike settlement—slightly under 3.75 per cent—is less than the average increase covering all industry. In other words, the steel strike settlement tends to hold the line on normal inflationary trends.

Newspaper reports of the steel settlement were misleading. There was no 40-cents-per-hour wage increase, as some newspapers reported. There was a 7-cent-plus increase for one year and another 7-cent plus increase, and there were other miscellaneous figures (not wages) which, if added to the two separate 7-cent increases, would total 32.8 cents, but this figure is misleading. A table which I shall include below helps one get a truer picture of the steel strike settlement terms.

The settlement eliminated the "total escalation" clause that hitched wages to the cost-of-living index. Another advantage to management—and, in turn, to the public—had to do with the work-rules aspect. The settlement set up a union-management committee headed by an impartial third party representing the public, to set work rules. Steel company executives will tell you that this is what they wanted. This will without doubt improve work rules to the end that there will be more efficiency. Labor and management thus combine to increase the pace of productivity gains.

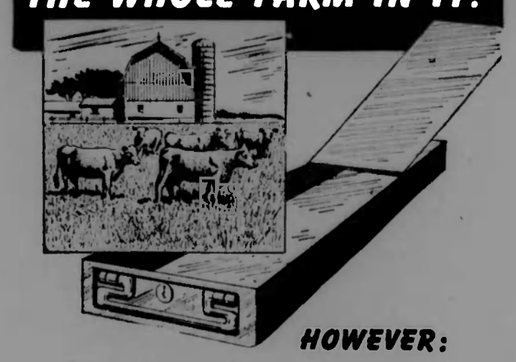
My thanks—and the thanks of millions of Americans—go to Secretary of Labor Mitchell and to the President of the Senate, Vice-President Nixon, for their part in the steel strike settlement.

I would ask those who have criticized the steel settlement: Would you have preferred NO settlement? What kind of settlement would you have proposed?

The simplified table below compares terms of the steel strike settlement with terms of union-management settlements in the can industry and the aluminum industry:

Increase in Wages plus increment Steel 7 plus 1.2 7 plus 0.6; Can 7 plus 1 2. 7 plus 1 2. 7 plus 1 2; Aluminum 4.8. 7 15. 8.86.

Cost of Living (max.) Steel 0.6; Can 6.0; Aluminum 6.0.



Insurance Steel 13.11; Can 1.50; Aluminum 5.64.

Pensions Steel 3.0; Can 2.00; Aluminum 2.63.

Total Steel 32.8. Can 34.1; Aluminum 35.08.

Hardware Bulletin of 1908 Contains Historical Gems

A Hardware bulletin, published by J. M. Davis and Sons in December 1908, over fifty-one years ago contains forty-eight pages of interesting material to the lover of history. The book was loaned to The Republican office by Mrs. Walter Harsh, of Hutton.

The booklet was designed primarily to boost the sales of the Davis Hardware, which it probably did, but there were many other items included in its pages.

For instance there was an article on the German Settlement congregation of the Church of the Brethren near Eglon, with a picture of Moses Fike, Jeremiah Miller, ministers in second degree; Aaron Fike, assistant elder; and Jonas Fike, presiding elder at that time.

There was a historial sketch by J. M. Davis on the Glades country, a picture of the original Davis homestead occupied by the family in 1858, on the Promised Land farm, a picture and story of Meshack Browning, the hunter, who died in 1859.

He lists James Cayton as among the early settlers of Oakland; Coleman Dandridge as the first colored man settler in Oakland, who came as a slave from Richmond, Va., to Miss Oto Cullen. He was set free by Miss Cullen and was employed by Horace West, later becoming coachman and dairyman for William P. Totten. It had a picture of Upton Bruce, a hermit who lived three miles south of Oakland and died about 1902.

There was an article on plant life of the county by J. E. Harned, who later wrote "Wild Flowers of the Alleghenies," which had wide distribution.

Some of the advertisers were the First National Bank, Robinson's Notion store, A. D. Naylor and Co. Naylor had just received a car load of bobsleds and sleighs. Other advertisers included J. W. Hart, dry goods; F. G. Hyde, jeweler; E. G. Naylor, blacksmith; L. A. Paulie, house painter and grainer; Dr. B. F. Selby, dentist; Freacy's store, Oakland Model Steam Bakery, Henry Lauer, proprietor; Renninger and Offutt, attorneys; Sturgiss' Pharmacy, Morrison's Railroad street restaurant; W. H. Bartlett, contractor; J. W. Leathers and Company, harness and saddlery; Matthews and Hamill, lawyers; L. J. Brown, farm machinery; Gold Mine Store of George M. Mason; W. D. Dixon, meats; Francis E. Gonder, jeweler; Charles Liller's Shaving saloon; Hinebaugh's Restaurant in the "Opera House Building;" David A. Ashby, jeweler; City Roller Mills of Helbig and West; F. A. Weimer, clothing; W. F. King and sons, painters; Cleveland and Hinebaugh, contracting plasterers; H. Creutzburg, groceries and meats; C. H. Echard, barber shop; Baumgartner, "The Little Man," Clyde C. Liller, barber; Offutt and Sons, clothing; D. E. Bolden, furniture; W. A. Gonder, phonograph man; Fred A. Thayer insurance; J. W. Whorton, contracting plasterer; Home Sanatorium of Dr. M. C. Huebaugh, Oakland Pharmacy; H. C. Sincell and company, clothing; Mrs. M. L. Scott, millinery; Arthur Townshend, general store; Dixon and Kelso, merchandise; and the Garrett National Bank.

The First National expressed the belief that "the panic will soon be only a memory and that the coming year will be prosperous." The Garrett boasted of growing from state bank in 1888 with capital of $25,000, changed to national bank in 1903 and capital and surplus at that time $85,000 and total resources of over $500,000.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

There Is Still Time—Brother

So reads a grim banner in the current film, On the Beach, a gripping and disturbing movie which depicts the end of human life from fatal doses of radiation. However, what is most disturbing about On the Beach is not its scary theme but its pacifist propaganda about nuclear testing.

Less than two decades ago, beneath a deserted football stadium in the heart of America the Atomic Age was born. Now, 18 years later a fleeting moment in the history of man, and before scientists have scarcely begun to explore the myriad potentialities of nuclear power, a few faint-hearts are declaring that this genie must be bottled up like some awesome genie already out of control.

This grotesque, unscientific eagerness to disown a power that this country discovered even extends to the issue of underground nuclear testing. While it is freely admitted that such testing produces no harmful fall-out or radiation, this limited experimentation is presently banned. Why? Because those who should know better have succumbed to dire warnings by unnamed scientists who declare that any nuclear testing is dangerous, when, in fact, not testing places America in far more serious danger confronted as the Nation is with communist perfidy and its unscrupulous determination.

Enormous pressures have been exerted by anti-nuclear scientists demanding that the United States discontinue testing before it is too late, but the simple banning of tests would not erase the knowledge of nuclear power from the minds of humankind, as the genie some of whom could be coerced by an enemy to use their knowledge against this country. And there is a more practical point: How can a test ban be guaranteed if one of the parties refuses to agree to an effective inspection system?

Basically, the question of nuclear testing is philosophical: Does the United States dare to be so naive as to believe that the Soviets would really adhere to a test ban? Or should this country defend herself by all means available as she did during the Second World War when she continued to experiment with poison gas despite Nazi assurances that it would not be used as a weapon? Nuclear power is a presently incalculable force for war or peace whose utilization in a Project Plowshare or Polaris will never be determined if a policy of prohibition is followed. But, there is still time, time to face the realities of 1960 and resume further underground nuclear testing without delay.

Time Of My Life

By Ralph L. Buckel, Jr., County Delegate To National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

I was a delegate to National 4-H Club Congress. I have had many wonderful experiences through 4-H club work and 4-H Club Congress is one that I will never forget.

The Maryland delegation met in Baltimore for a send-off luncheon. I was impressed to learn of the interest big business firms take in 4-H. There were many representatives from different companies at our send-off luncheon and while in Chicago special entertainment and meals were sponsored by such companies as the B&O Railroad, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Ford Motors, General Motors, Sears Roebuck and many others. I'm especially grateful to the Hercules Powder Company which sponsored my trip to Club Congress. At a special dinner for entomology winners, at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, A. E. Forster, the president of the Hercules Powder Company, welcomed the delegates. He said, "As you go on to greater accomplishments you will discover the material awards you receive will be accompanied by responsibilities that are the obligation of leadership."

The train ride to Chicago was a treat in itself. Getting acquainted with the friendly 4-H'ers from Maryland and Delaware made the trip very enjoyable. I also ate my first meal while riding on a train and it was quite an experience, too.

My sister told me that I would be kept busy at Club Congress but I had no idea how busy! Some days we would start at 5:30 in the morning and go to late at night and be kept busy every minute in between.

The meals and entertainment were out of this world. For instance at breakfast time we were entertained by the Purdue University Glee Club and at other meals the entertainment was so good that I almost forgot to eat the wonderful food. Many special banquets were held for winners in the various programs. They were held at such places as the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, The Top of the Rock in the Prudential building, and the Palmer House.

Several tours of interest in the city were arranged. In the Museum of Natural History there was everything from mummies to an opportunity to see yourself on television. At the Museum of Science and Industry there was an interesting display of cut-away submarines, rockets, and a jet engine. The place that really surprised me was the Chicago Board of Trade. It looked more like a madhouse than anything else to me. At the International Livestock Show we were treated to a box supper and entertained by a group of 4-H'ers from the Chicago suburbs. At the livestock show the Club Congress delegates and leaders had the annual 4-H parade in the amphitheatre.

At 4-H Congress we were like one big, friendly family. There were young people there from all fifty states and from Puerto Rico. We had fun together, ate together, and best of all worshiped together. On Sunday, in the ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, we had a very inspirational sermon by Dr. Kenneth Hildebrand on the "Roots of 4-H'ers." The thing that I think symbolized the unity of the 4-H delegates and leaders was the singing of The Star Spangled Banner as the flag, illuminated by a spotlight, floated in the breeze.

Club Congress is a great reward for any 4-H'er. There we can learn of the work done by the organization all over the world and of the interest people take in our organization. We realize how much we need to thank our extension people, our local leaders and parents for encouraging us in our 4-H work. It makes us proud to be 4-H'ers and makes us want to go back to our own communities and 4-H clubs and help "Make the Best Better."

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 83. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY MD., JANUARY 28, 1960 PER COPY, 8c NUMBER 48.

Unseen Friend - - - - -

There are no visitors in the room, but the patient is not alone. An unseen friend is there. The patient may be a child, a man or a woman, a minister, a laborer a bank president—it doesn't matter. The unseen friend knows no discrimination, plays no favorites.

He is present in the form of a bottle that hangs a few feet above the patient's head. The bottle is full of blood which flows slowly into the patient's veins.

The blood may have come from anywhere in Garrett county. It was collected by the American Red Cross, just as it will be collected on Tuesday, February 2, at the Oakland fire hall.

The patient may have a serious illness, a crushing injury, a major operation. In any case there is danger of death. But slowly, from a bottle, through a narrow tube and a three-inch needle, an unseen friend is giving life. The patient begins to feel the comforting warmth of a true blood brotherhood.

Perhaps the patient gives no thought to this life-saving friend but very often he looks up at the bottle with gratitude and wonders what would have happened if no one had responded to the call for blood.

Sometimes the patient recalls how he failed to show up at the bloodmobile, or put off giving blood because of fear. Where would he be now if everyone indulged in this childish fear?

In any case the hospital didn't manufacture the blood. No industrial plant can manufacture it. The greatest scientist can't produce a single drop of blood in a laboratory. It can be manfactured only by the intricate and mysterious mechanisms of the human body.

The ones who give, give freely. It is distributed by the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross. And every day, around the clock, some patient is lying in an empty hospital room. Although there are no visitors, he is not alone. Slowly he is receiving new life from an unseen friend, a friend who gave his blood—when the bloodmobile came to town.

The Red Cross blood program is vital. Make it a point to see that it is well supported. Give a pint of your blood on February 2.

Receives Donation for Bus Disaster Fund

The School Bus Disaster fund was in receipt of a check for $40 this week, contributed by the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship gronp of St. James church in West Friendship, Howard county.

The money was in memory of the late Rev. Paul R. Arts, a native of this county who was pastor of that church until his death, February 26, 1958.

The check was sent to Dr. Alvin Friend, local dentist. The letter said in part: "Knowing Reverend Artis' love of life and happiness, we believe he would have wanted us to remember him by helping others, as Jesus said in Matthew 25:40, 'Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'

"Our eighteen members and two counselors express a hope and a prayer that this small amount will help those students who are going through a period of rehabilitation and a promising future."

The letter was signed by Edward Slagle, president.

The money was turned over this morning to Wesley Schaible, cashier of the Garrett National Bank, member of a three man committee of Rotary and Lions clubs, to administer the fund.

A slide review of 1959 county activities will be shown. Plans and suggestions for additional leader meetings will be made at this time.

Miss Emerson will also attend a county workshop, February 3, at 8 p. m., at the Accident Fire hall, when she will give ideas for exhibits and booths.

On Medical Program

At a joint conference on medical convention held in Atlantic City, N. J., January 21 and 22, Richard T. Sanner, of Detroit, Mich., former Oakland resident, and Dr. F. I. Baumgartner were among those on the program.

The latter is secretary of the section on general practice of the American Medical association and participated in a panel discussion on "What About Sponsorship of Scientific Exhibits."

Sanner is public relations director of Medical Exhibitors association and manager of convention exhibits for Parke, Davis and company, a drug corporation. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sanner. His father was a pharmacist and worked for the late Dr. Joseph F. Harned. His mother was a daughter of the late R. T. Browning. He is a nephew of Misses Nell and Margaret Browning.

Sanner was graduated from Oakland High school and later from the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy.

Sanner was also member of a panel which discussed "Integration of Exhibits with the Scientific Program."

To Observe Youth Sunday at Methodist

St. Paul's Methodist church will observe Youth Sunday on January 31, when several youth will participate in the Sunday service. The theme of the service will be the three major decisions facing later adolescents: choice of mate, choice of vocation, and choice of a life philosophy. Speakers will be Earline Wise, Ed Umstot and Maurice Brookhart III. Other youth participating will include J. Bill Umstot, Susan Gibson, Buzz Updyke, Ann Lee Lohr, Carol Wooters, Sandra Orr, Tom Schaible, Douglas Buckley, George Porter and Ronnie Wise. Youth week is observed interdenominationally during the last week of January each year.

Guy William Hinebaugh II, right, of Oakland, copped the downhill for boys in class I, (16 and 17) at the third annual ski meet Sunday at McHenry. On the left is Glenn Steen Johnson, of Greensburg, Pa., who won the slalom in boys' class 2 on Saturday afternoon.

Two New Teachers Take Over

Two new teachers will take over their assignments in the Garrett County school system Monday, February 1. Both are mid-year graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College and will receive their degrees in June. They are Mrs. Rita Schoenadel, LaVale, and Charles Hutson, Kitzmiller.

Mrs. Schoenadel will assume the assignment of girls' physical education instructor at Northern High School to replace a vacancy in that department at the school. Mrs. Schoenadel is a graduate of Allegany High School and attended both Towson and Frostburg State Teachers Colleges. She is the mother of four children.

Mr. Hutson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hutson of Kitzmiller, will take over the principalship of the two room school at Deer Park. Mr. Hutson will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. McConnell who was forced to give up his position due to health reasons. Mr. Hutson attended Potomac State College for two years and then spent four years in the U. S. Air Force. Following his stint in the Air Force Mr. Hutson returned to Frostburg State Teachers College where he has completed his training to enter the teaching profession. He is married and has one young child.

Club Plans Lights For Football Field

Members of the Boosters' club of Southern High school and other interested citizens have instituted a project designed to provide lights for the Southern football gridiron, in order to make night football games available to the people of the area.

Among the many working on the project are Henry Gregory, Marvin Jones, Mrs. Norman Wine, Mrs. George Stuck, Donald Stemple, Calvin Pangh, George Reel, and others.

They are making a drive for memberships at $1 each and those who desire are giving more.

It was estimated that $5,500 would be needed to furnish lights. Usually the amount is greater than that, but Mr. Gregory said much of the labor was going to be contributed by workmen which would lessen the total outlay considerably.

The group was hoping to have the money raised and the lights installed in time for the games this fall. The Booster club members were of the opinion that the increased attendance at games would more than pay for the outlay, once night games were made possible.

Couple Arrested For Passing Bad Checks

Thurmond Whittaker and his wife Betty Whittaker, of Kitzmiller, were arrested last Friday on charges of passing worthless checks.

Given a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Leslie Sharpless, at Kitzmiller they were placed under bond for their appearance at a trial Saturday at 10 a. m.

Sharpless said they had issued worthless checks to the amount of $205. One of them was issued on a bank at Keyser, while others were drawn on the Garrett National Bank in Oakland. Sharpless said that Mrs. Whittaker had signed Mr. Whittaker's name on them. The checks were in amounts from $3 to $85.

Two cases were listed on the docket of Trial Magistrate Robert M Maroney in Oakland this week. Charles M. Pomraning, Annapolis, on a charge of non support of a minor child, prayed a jury trial and was released under $500 bond for his appearance at the March Term of Court.

Clinis William Dumire was apprehended on a charge of carnal knowledge and is being held in jail under $1,500 bond for action of the March term, Grand Jury.

Highlanders Setting Hot Pace Among Basketball Teams

Southern Highlanders are setting a torrid pace in the current basketball season, a glance at the statistics will show. With eleven games played Southern won nine encounters and has a total scoring of 819 points for an average of 74.45 per game.

They have hit 84 on two occasions, against Petersburg and Elk Garden, 80 on two occasions, against Northern and Alumni. Only twice have they been below 70 points and these were against Valley when they lost in an overtime struggle 54 to 52, and Tuesday night against Bruce when they won 69 to 49. They have lost only to Bruce and Valley.

Terry Colaw has led all scorers in the eleven games played thus far with 238 points. Dick Stuck is next with 170 while Jerry Wine has 138, Ron Colaw, 108, Bolyard 51 and Stemple 39. Lesser points have been contributed by James, Prince, Malone, D.Simone and Broadwater.

While scoring 819 points thus far Southern held its opponents to 646 points.

Several crucial games remain to be played. The Highlanders will tangle with Parsons on the home court tomorrow night having won the first game several days ago at Parsons 72 60. Valley will be met for the second time this year next Tuesday, after losing in the first game 54 to 52. Then Elk Garden will be played away on February 4 and Mountaineer will be played in Oakland February 9. Southern took the first games 75 to 67 and 84 to 63.

Piedmont will be met twice within a week's time. It will play in Oakland on February 12 and the Highlanders will go to Piedmont on the 16th. Northern will be met for the second time on February 20, at Accident, and the Highlanders will conclude their season at Petersburg on February 23.

Injured in Crash

Mrs. Ronald Green and infant son were injured but not seriously last Thursday evening when the car in which they were passengers was struck by an automobile driven by Willard Lloyd, of Deer Park.

Lloyd was traveling south on route 219, and at the Sand Flat intersection, attempted to turn onto the Sand Flat-Deer Park Highway, when it rammed the Green car, driven by Mr. Green. Mrs. Green and eight months old son were outpatients at the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland, having been taken to the hospital in the Minnich ambulance, but were released after emergency treatment. The Green car was damaged to the extent of about $900 and the Lloyd car, owned by Mrs. Lloyd, was also damaged to the extent of about $300. Corporal Sam Conrad, of the State Police, investigated.

Ski Carnival Set Saturday at Davis

Marilyn Buist, Washington, will be crowned Queen of Washington's Ski club at the sixth annual Winter Carnival Saturday near Davis, W. Va.

The coronation ceremony, climax of the three-day event, will take place during the Ski Ball dance at Blackwater Falls lodge.

The carnival includes slalom and giant slalom races on Cabin Mountain and two new competitions this year, a cross-country race Friday and a costume obstacle race Sunday morning.

Area Labor Pool Being Determined

An effort to determine Garrett County's employment force, in order to have a record of every person available for full or part time employment, got under way this week by members of service club organizations, fire departments, and the Garrett County Farm bureau.

Purpose is to provide definite information to interested industries which might be planning to locate plants in this area. Prospective new industries require this information, according to Carl Schell, president of the County Commissioners, under whose sponsorship the project is being conducted. Present employers planning expansion also need this information, he said.

To Visit All Communities

Every home in the county is to be visited. In order that the information desired is ready when the enumerator calls, a copy of the survey is being published in today's issue, and those in charge of the project are asking that each individual fill out the form in order to save time.

When the members of the farm bureau, service clubs and fire companies complete their visitations, other groups will aid in classifying, sorting and tabulating the information forms. Also assisting in the over-all planning are members of the Industrial Development committee which includes Harry Edwards, Grantsville; Jesse Walker, Kitzmiller; Robert Ridder, Gormania; Earl Guard, Friendsville; and Lowell Loomis, Oakland.

The committee is planning to have the forms completed and in the hands of the County Commissioners by February 15.

In order to do that all enumerators are urged to have their work completed by February 10, turning in their information to their area leader, who in turn will be responsible for getting all the blanks to the County Commissioners by the date desired.

Additional blanks, if needed, may be secured through the County Commissioners' office.

Southern Must Play Frederick to Qualify In District Tourney

A pair of qualifying basketball games by teams from Southern, and from Frederick, Carroll and Howard counties will be held three days in advance of the Maryland district 1 tournament to be staged at Allegany High school March 4 and 5, it was indicated last Friday by Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany county public schools, and director of the two-day event.

Class A Events Tuesday

The pre-tournament contests both in Class A, are set for Tuesday, March 1, with Southern High of Oakland playing Frederick High school's Cadets at Allegany High and Westminster High meeting Howard County High school of Ellicott City at Westminster. Winners will advance to the district tourney for Class A, B and C schools the same week-end at the Allegany High gymnasium.

Whether or not Northern High school, listed in Class B, would have to participate in any pre-tournament events, was not learned.

Southern, Frederick, Westminster and Howard are the only Class A schools in their counties and under the new setup they must play another Class A contender to get into the district affair. Heretofore, when there was only one Class A school in a county, it automatically qualified for the tourney.

In past years schools from four counties were represented in district 1. There will be six counties this year with the addition of Howard and Carroll. The number of districts in the state has been reduced from five to four.

Final plans are to be completed at a meeting of school officials on February 20, at Hancock.

Here For Ice Story

Ralph Reppert, feature writer for The Baltimore Sun newspapers, and Aubrey Bodine, photographer, were in Oakland this morning, in search of a story about ice skating and ice fishing.

The ice just wasn't anywhere to be seen—safe ice, that is, so the two men went in search of other feature material. They left this morning for Westernport, hoping to obtain information about the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

Roads Department Completes Report

The County Roads department in completing its annual report this week, showed total income of $849,738.79, and total expenditures of $929,336.60, leaving a total of $79,597.81 excess of expenditures over revenues.

Of the total expenditures $440,820.58 was for labor and $488,516.02 was for material and other expenses.

The department received $449,457.24 from gasoline and motor vehicle revenue and $219,958.71 from the County Commissioner levy. Maryland racetrack fund amounted to $20,361.04. Work done for others amounted to $41,445.27 while profit on trade-in of assets totaled $5,459.46. Sale of maps added another $15.66 and miscellaneous income amounted to $60.38.

Snow removal last year amounted to $51,970.46 compared to $110,161.83 the year previous. Road maintenance cost over $200,000 with some $100,000 for road construction.

The excess of expenditures over revenues which totaled $79,597.81 ended up by being $10,925.08 excess of revenue over expenditures. There was $183,000 borrowed which left an excess of revenue over expenditures of $103,402.19, but when accounts payable as of December 31, 1959 were subtracted, amounting to $92,477.11, the figure of $10,925.08 was listed as excess revenue over expenditures.

A scheduled of long term indebtedness attached to the report shows a total of $1,072,101.11. This was as a result of a series of six loans during the past several years. Payment of $55,765.08 was made on the principal during the past year and interest paid during the year amounted to $35,822.08.

The complete report is published this week along with the annual statement of the County Commissioners.

Interested Persons May Apply For Census Job

Any person interested in serving as a census enumerator during the spring is eligible to apply, it was announced this week by George R. Hughes, census enumerator for the district.

Mr. Hughes has set up a district office at 38 W. Patrick street in Frederick and he has announced that any person applying will receive an application form and a folder describing the job. He said there would be a written test for all applicants, to be held in the county and successful applicants will be trained.

He said there would be sixteen enumerators and one crew leader selected. They are to be paid on a piece work basis in densely populated areas and on an hourly basis in rural areas. Hughes said that a good enumerator would be able to make $12 a day.

The job is expected to last from two weeks to a month and prior to taking the census those selected will attend three three-hour sessions, for which those employed will be paid.

Throughout the district Mr. Hughes will direct a force of 31 crew leaders and 504 census takers in the five counties of the Sixth Congressional district.

Taking the 1960 Census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders and 100 district supervisors.

Prior to the start of the census all households will receive in the mail an advance census report form, a new census taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form which contains the basic population and housing questions gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Dick Marshall, Canadian, was winner of the feature event of the Ski Meet Sunday at Marsh Mountain.

County's Financial Statement Appears In Today's Issue

The county's annual financial statement, required by law, is published in this week's issue of The Republican.

It shows receipts of $1,495,364.20 and expenditures of $1,439,885.30, leaving a balance on hand December 31 of $55,478.90.

Receipts included $733,436.15 from taxes and interest, $177,867.46 from other sources, $25,000 from the natural gas fund for use in operation of Memorial hospital, and $437,858.45 from receipts for special accounts.

The report shows the levy for each department and the expenditures of each. It also gives an accounting of monies received for the hospital, the sheep fund, the public school construction loan, the school bond issue, school construction, sanitary district, the cigaret tax, and for the natural gas fund.

The entire report is found on other pages of today's issue.

Heads FFBL Council

Lowell Loomis, Oakland, was named chairman of the Garrett County Farming for Better Living Council, at a dinner meeting at the William-James hotel on January 20.

The meeting was an appreciation dinner given by the West Maryland Power company, as a result of 100 percent completion of the project by enrollees last year.

John H. Carter, retiring chairman, called the session to order and briefly reviewed the program. Jim Copeman, agricultural representative for the West Maryland company, praised the council members for their efforts.

Forty-eight farm families have enrolled thus far for 1960. There is a potential enrollment of 89.

Other officers who will serve with Mr. Loomis are Earl Wise, vice-chairman; Nordeck Shaffer, treasurer; and James Mellenry, secretary.

Scout Executive Board Is Meeting Tonight

The executive Board of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will meet this evening at 6:30 p. m., at the Ali Ghai Shrine Club, it was announced by Clarence Lippel, president.

Ralph McCreary, vice chairman of region three executive committee, Indiana, Pa., and Wilbur Condon, of the region three office in Philadelphia, will attend and conduct the annual review of the local council.

The President's cup also will be awarded at the meeting to the chairman of the winning district. Planning to attend the meeting from the Deep Creek District are George Stuck, district chairman and at least seven other scout district leaders.

Oakland Entrant Wins Many Events In Ski Tourney

Rick Marshall, Canadian, Wins Main Event Saturday

Rick Marshall, former Canadian national skiing champion, Sunday capped the feature event of the third annual Maryland State Ski Championships held on the Marsh Mountain slope at Deep Creek Lake, near McHenry.

Marshall, who is on the staff of the Canadian Embassy in Washington, streaked down the course in 2:36 seconds to win the men's expert downhill championship for the second time in three years. He took first place in the event two years ago but was skiing in the Adirondacks last year when the Maryland championships were held. Marshall also won the men's expert slalom event, held on Saturday.

Baltimore and Washington area skiers dominated the senior events on Sunday but Western Maryland ski club representatives including a number from Oakland, carried off most of the honors in the junior divisions.

Conditions Excellent

Excellent skiing conditions prevailed. The temperature was just a few degrees below freezing and there was only a light wind. Some 700 spectators viewed the program.

The course set for the expert downhill race by Dr. Ray Ellis, Somerset, Pa., who skied at the University of New Hampshire several years ago, was described by veterans as "tough", although five of the seven entrants negotiated it in less than 25 seconds.

A trio of Baltimoreans, Dean Campbell, John Parker and Lou Drouet, took second, third and fourth places with respective times of 23.9, 24, and 24.8 seconds.

Because of a mixup in scheduling, Mrs. Bebe Wood, Frostburg, did not arrive in time to defend her title in the women's expert downhill championship, which resulted in withdrawal of several other entrants and this race was cancelled. Mrs. Wood repeated as women's expert slalom champion in that event on Saturday.

Drouet, who placed fourth in expert downhill, was first in this event in intermediate class with a time of 25.1. Washington's Bob Hildreth was second and was followed by Robert Nordeck, Oakland, and Carl Benson, Monroeville, Pa.

Thirty-eight seconds was the best time recorded in the women's intermediate downhill, won by Carol Bennett, Falls Church, Va. Runnerup was Ingrid Bischof, Washington.

Cathy Gilbertson, Arlington, and Mary Jo Ikefer, Pittsburgh, were the only non-Marylanders to win first place trophies in junior divisions. The former won the junior downhill for girls in class IV, 11 years and under, with a time of 29 seconds, and Miss Ikefer took this event in class II, with a 37.9 effort.

Junior giant downhill for boys in Class IV was won by Jack Alvarez, Oakland, in 23.4 seconds, and he was followed by Johnny Kerins, Mike Naylor and Joe Alvarez, all of Oakland. Joe Alvarez won the junior slalom event on Saturday.

Janna Naylor, Mary Kay Alvarez and Linda Oursler, all Oakland, finished 1-2-3 in the downhill for

Bloodmobile Visit Scheduled Tuesday

The next visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile unit from Johnstown, Pa., will be in Oakland on Tuesday, February 2, and will receive contributions of blood at the Oakland fire hall from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, said there was quite a bit of sickness in the area and expressed the hope that everybody who was physically fit would offer to contribute. She said at least 125 pints were desperately needed to maintain the local chapter on the bloodmobile's accredited list to obtain blood when needed. Only emergency hospital orders are being filled at present due to the scarcity of blood.

Those who are always on hand to assist in the various departments will be there as usual, some taking care of the canteen, some the registration desk, and others doing running duty.

Listen Americans!
...by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

The right of a group of employees to strike for higher incomes and better working conditions has long been recognized by most of the people of America. When a group of employees decide to take strike action it is to be expected that they are willing to make a short-range personal sacrifice for the possibility of a long-range gain. It is to be expected that the company being struck will be at least temporarily disturbed to some extent. For many years in America's great industrial progress, the strike weapon in the hands of groups of organized employees obtained objectives, with few exceptions.

Today, however, the strike weapon in some notable instances is being used harmfully—harmfully for all citizens, including of course our millions of wage earners themselves. It is sometimes being used by individual labor bosses as a means of furthering personal prestige and power, even in some cases as a sop to personal vanity. The steel strike is an example of the crushing harm to a whole nation that now can be wielded by a single union leader.

Higher wages for the steel workers was not the real issue before the public of America in this strike. Most thinking people want to see wages and salaries constantly improving. Everybody benefits in universal progress of this sort—when it comes along through the healthy, wholesome growth of industrial production. But where unrestrained economic power is applied to force an action harmful to the whole nation, it is time to stop and think. This is the issue before the nation.

One of the best known economists in America, Professor Sumner Slichter of Harvard, recently completed a study and announced: "In the 10 year period, 1948-1958, average hourly earnings of all workers in private industry rose almost twice as much as output per man hour." This has been a factor in pricing American-made products out of the world market and thus jeopardizing our whole industrial system and the jobs of millions of wage earners.

It is important that the American people understand all the facts in this steel strike which by year's end had cost $10 billion. The cost will be borne by all of us.

The union proposed a two year contract. The industry wants to extend the contract to cover three years.

The union demands a 22 cent per hour increase during the two year period. The industry offers 30 cents per hour during a three year period.

The union demands a cost-of-living bonus in addition to the demanded 22 cents per hour wage raise. The industry offers up to 4 cents an hour additional cost-of-living bonus in 1960 and 1961 if basic wage boost does not cover the cost-of-living rise. The company now pays a 17 cents an hour cost-of-living bonus, and agrees to continue this one yet.

The union refused to change its present powers over factory work rules which industry claims is hampering the management functions of the business. Management offered to submit this issue to arbitration; the union refused.

These provisions offered by the companies would be on top of the present basic wage rates averaging about $3.00 per hour ($6,240 a year) and with the top job classification scaled at $3.97 per hour ($8,250 a year.) The company also offered in addition to pay full cost (now paying one-half) of life insurance for each employee ranging from $7,000 to $6,500 to increase the value of the pension programs for retirement and disability.

Winter Feeding of Wildlife Suggested

Many persons enjoy feeding grain and other seeds to the song birds during the winter period with the opportunity to observe the different species coming to the feeder. Many requests come to the Game and Inland Fish Commission offices and to the field men for seed for that purpose. Most persons requesting the seed are not cognizant of the fact that the operating funds of the Department are derived from the sale of hunting licenses and expended for activities favoring the game species, birds and mammals and that to provide hunting and fishing opportunities for the public. For this reason, the Department is unable to provide seed solely for the song birds.

During the winter period our protected friends of all species do not suffer unless prolonged periods of extremely cold weather and deep snow covers much of the natural food supply, seeds for periods of more than several days.

In order to avoid waste, feed should be put out in sheltered locations beneath a covering to exclude snow. For game species, feeding shelters erected on the ground should be open on at least three sides to permit birds or animals to escape attacks from predators. This can be done by covering the hopper-type feeding shelter or the lean-to shelter constructed of poles and posts or boards.

Feeding shelters or stations erected where mammals, like the rabbits and squirrels, will feed should be situated in close proximity to rather dense existing cover to provide avenues of escape for the animals if disturbed by predators.

Sketches of several game feeding station types are available from the Annapolis office of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, State Office Building.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

"SPEAKING SOFTLY 1960"

Although the United States is willing, even eager, to declare its superiority to the Soviet Union, as reflected in the welcome statements of General Twining and Secretary of Defense Gates last week, this country appears reluctant to make a similar assertion about Cuba, a young, hot-blooded nation almost certain to misinterpret American restraint for weakness.

In fact, Premier Fidel Castro has described a mild statement by Vice President Nixon about the Cuban policy of "confiscation without compensation" regarding American property in Cuba, as an "insolent declaration." Castro has also termed a State Department letter protesting illegal acts against American citizens in Cuba as an "excessive and insulting note." Furthermore, last October, the Premier suggested indirectly that he would demand the United States remove the famous naval base at Guantanamo Bay on the southeast coast of the island. Gitmo, as Americans call the base, has 1,600 military personnel, installations valued at $60 million and the only jet airfield in the area. Clearly, this nation has important economic interests in Cuba, which cannot be dismissed so contemptuously.

Evidence is mounting that many intelligent Cubans are tiring of Castro's unilateral actions. The latest political refugee to arrive in the United States is a newspaper publisher, who has stated: "Dr. Castro is interested in being allowed to keep up his fantastic brainwashing of Cubans through a Governmental chain of ten newspapers plus many television and radio stations." When freedom of the press is sacrificed on the altar of expediency, tyranny must surely follow.

The increasingly unstable premier, whose addiction to unin-hibited harangues is characteristic of logorrhea, must be made to realize that he cannot describe remarks by American officials as "insolent" and "insulting" nor allow President Eisenhower to be caricatured as a "rapacious eagle in dove feathers" in an official organ without provoking justifiably strong comment. The United States must be prepared for further outbursts of Castronics, whose latest target was the Spanish ambassador, ordered to leave the country within 24 hours. If the present situation continues to deteriorate, the American Government may well have to re-examine its policy in Cuba, paying special attention to Teddy Roosevelt's maxim to speak softly and carry a big stick.

Special Studies in Science to Continue

Along with several thousand American high school Seniors, Garrett County High School received a special announcement from the National Science Foundation Summer Institute Program this week.

The program which was developed for the first time last year was created in recognition of the important role of high school and college teachers in developing our scientific manpower potential. The Institutes are designed to strengthen the subject-matter competence of science, mathematics and engineering teachers.

During the summer of 1960 there will be 381 Institutes. Funds are available to provide 18,900 high school and college teachers of science, mathematics and engineering. The Foundation grant to each institute covers the cost of tuition, fees, stipends, and allowances. The maximum stipend is $75 per week, plus $15 per week per dependent up to a maximum of four. A travel allowance for a single round trip from home to the institute is set at a maximum of $80.

Application for the scholarships must be made before February 15.

Last year four teachers from Southern took advantage of the program. Three were enrolled at the University of Maryland. They were Eugene Flinn, junior high mathematics; Mrs. Evelyn K. Watson, junior and senior high mathematics and Harold Miller, biology. Others of Southern teachers attending summer institutes were Mrs. Mary Baldwin-Wallace College in Ohio.

W. Kenneth Helsel, principal, indicated that several teachers from Southern were interested in the program this year. Teachers who attended last year are eligible to attend again, if they so desire.

At Republican Meet

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, of Bittinger, president of the County Republican Women's club attended a board meeting of the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland at Friendship airport, Baltimore, on January 18.

The Federation voted a gift of $500 for the Bertha Adkins Fellowship fund for college scholarships to young women majoring in political science, government and politics, being given by AAUW, of which Miss Adkins is a member. The money was contributed as a tribute of respect for Miss Adkins' work in the Republican party. She is now under secretary of health, education and welfare.

Special activities on February 29 for the party's welfare were urged by the Federation president and those present were urged to read editorials from newspapers on election issues and make a list of each candidate's stand on major issues.

A Women's national conference was set for April 25 in Washington. The party's goal in 1960 is to mobilize "our differences into strengths." A survey showed that 35 million young people will be of voting age in the coming election.

Lions Are Jailed—But It Was All In Fun

Lions club antics went a little farther than two of the members anticipated Monday evening and as a result Robert Stanton and Charles Meyer found themselves behind bars for over an hour.—But it was all in jest.

Apparently it was "old officers' night and Bob Stanton was in the position as tail twister. He cut off a few ties and when some of the members refused to pay the regular fine of ten cents he drew out a .45 revolver and fired at one of the members.

Of course it was only a blank but it made a whale of a noise. Sheriff Jim Frantz was summoned and was informed of the shenanigans. As he started to cart Bob Stanton away Charles Meyer got unruly by tossing a roll at Stanton, so Frantz collared him too.

Towny Naylor got some good camera shots of the two behind bars, too late for publication) and Father Carney, seeing the confusion, from the Rectory across the street came over to the sheriff's office to see what had happened to two of his faithful parishioners.

Somebody called their wives and a modified bedlam prevailed—but only for a brief time. It was all in fun, everybody finally realized.

Papanicolaou Test for Cancer

● Drugs & Mongolism ● Pep Pills

Q. Would you please discuss the Pap, or smear test for cervical cancer? I have heard that this test reveals cancer years before it can otherwise be detected.

A. In its earliest stage of development, cancer of the cervix (neck of the womb) seems to be confined to surface tissue for some time (months, perhaps, but not years) before it penetrates into the deeper structures. The best chance for cure is during the early, surface stage. Several tests can be used to detect trouble early, one of which is the Papanicolaou or smear test. This test is based upon the fact that cancer cells are more loosely attached to one another than normal cells. They thus tend to shed more easily and, in cervical cancer, the abnormal cells tend to collect in the vagina. Cells are obtained by swab, spread or smeared on a glass slide, and studied under a microscope. The Pap. test has the advantage, so far as the patient is concerned, of being quite painless and simple. If suspicious cells are found, other tests are made to confirm or definitely rule out cancer. (More about the Pap. test next week.)

Q. I understand that the drug DEA (dehydroepiandrosterone) (whew!) is a big help for mongoloid children. How is it given and is it really effective?—Mrs. N.

A. The use of dehydroepiandrosterone in mongolism was reported in 1958 by a Spanish physician. The drug was given by injection for long periods. The doctor concluded that DEA is the most effective agent yet found for mongolism. However, the treatment does not transform the mongoloid into a normal child. On the other hand, DEA is reported to improve the physical appearance and mental condition of such patients; to make the mongoloid features less noticeable; and to help the child make a better social and family adjustment. It is only fair to point out that vitamins, thyroid, glutamic acid, and other forms of treatment have also had their day. The abnormalities of mongolism are already present at birth and it is very unlikely that a "cure" will ever be found.

Q. Can athletic performance be improved by taking "pep pills"?

A. Perhaps, but use of drugs for this purpose has been condemned by the American Medical Association and various athletic associations. Amphetamine drugs ("pep pills") even in moderate doses can cause addiction and produce other harmful effects. Such agents are, of course, perfectly satisfactory for use by doctors for well-recognized medical indications. This does not include their use to "pep up" athletes.

Golden Wedding Event Held

Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, of Kitzmiller, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, December 27, with an open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Many relatives and friends attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Layman Harvey December 26, 1909, by the Rev. W. W. Sutton, pastor of the Methodist charge at that time. They have four children, Mrs. Louise Lloyd, of Jessups; Mrs. Mildred Gough, of Baltimore; T. Sgt. James W. Moore, who is serving with the air force, at Waco, Texas; and M Sgt. LaMark B. Moore, who is with the U. S. Army procurement agency in Korea.

Mrs. Moore was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wilson of Short Run. Mr. Moore is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, of Kuzmiller. They have three grandchildren.

The First Arab Car

The United Arab Republic has become the first Middle Eastern country to manufacture automobiles with the production of the "Ramses," the first Arab-made passenger car for popular use.

Designed by engineer Georges Hawi, the midget automobile is constructed from parts obtained from British, German, and Italian firms. The Ramses is to be produced in three models: a four-seater, a three-seater, and a jeep-type model. The four-seater is priced to sell at about $1,120, with budget terms of $17.50 a month, making the Ramses the cheapest car in the Middle Eastern market.

President Nasser bought the first Ramses and many UAR ministers are on the waiting list for one of the new cars when production gets underway on a large scale.

The Ramses, one of the few cars with a motorcycle-type chain drive, will do between 50 and 70 miles an hour at top speed and is expected to get about 51 miles to a gallon of gas. About 150 cars will be turned out this year. The manufacturers hope to be producing 1,200 cars in 1960 and 5,000 by 1961. Larger cars may be added to the line later to reduce the import of expensive foreign models.

A truck and bus plant is scheduled to start production later this year. This factory is to be built with the idea of manufacturing, at a later stage, all the parts for the vehicles locally. The factory's initial output will be 200 buses and 1,000 trucks annually.

The Ramses convertible, pictured here, was the first to leave the production line. Other models will soon follow.

FREEDOM IS UP TO YOU

By George Peck

(EDITOR'S NOTE. George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

Kiwanis International, with clubs both in Canada and the U. S. A., adopted for its 1960 theme: "Freedom Is Up To You." With an enviable record of service over many years to the communities and countries in which its clubs are located, Kiwanis this year has outlined the most ambitious program of objectives that it has yet undertaken. We would like to pass on as much of that program as space will permit:

1. Exemplify the Highest Moral and Spiritual Values is the number one objective. About this Kiwanis tells its members, "When God created man and gave him a free will, He also gave him an assist through life by providing him with the Golden Rule which is often quoted, "Do unto others as you would have them to unto you.' The code and creed and belief of Kiwanis are based on that advice."

2. Urge Complete Understanding Between Canada and the United States. This particular objective struck a most responsive chord with this columnist. Regular readers of this column know that it repeatedly has stressed the necessity for continued harmonious relations between these neighbors. Says Kiwanis about this objective, "The long history of supporting friendship between our two countries must be fortified by new and impelling activities. The history and the traditions, the government and the thinking of our two peoples can be equally known on both sides of the border. The goal of this objective is to make this so."

3. Develop Individual Citizenship Responsibility. "Ours is a heritage of Freedom." Kiwanis says to its members. "Our ancestors knew Freedom best for it had demanded most from them. It was not easily won, but is is easily lost. Each of us cannot escape the demand upon us to preserve that which we are free to enjoy. . . It has been said that we require more laws—and other regulations, controls and censure legislation—to guide our progress in the right direction. We have a tendency to depend more and more on government for personal services to provide us with those comforts we expect of life, with the result that we are being worn down with excessive taxes and a lowering of national morale and morals. We must strive to develop self-control and self-discipline lest we degenerate under the bankruptcy of the Welfare State which, historically, is not only fraudulent in philosophy but leads only to the abyss of failure. Individual effort under the air of freedom, self-initiated, will forever guarantee us the liberty to determine our own individual destiny."

4. Stimulate Youth to Strive For Excellence; Broaden All Youth Activities.

5. Organize and Support Effective Programs For Senior Citizens. "Tomorrow can mean a time of fulfillment—or a time of frustration—for an ever increasing number of senior citizens," Kiwanis says of us oldsters, "There are full-fledged members of our society. They cannot be ignored . . . The Solidarity of our social structure is at stake. Evidence of concern will lead to the development of successful projects for our older friends and neighbors."

6. Generate Individual Concern For Safety, Improved Traffic Laws And Enforcement.

7. Demand Sound Fiscal Policies In All Phases Of Our Economy. Says Kiwanis, "We are concerned. Taxes continue to rise. The demands on the income of the average family in a typical community seem to exceed all expectations. The efficient use of the tax dollar, we believe, is a part of the sound policy so urgently requested. Our national status may well depend on the soundness of our fiscal policies, whether these refer to the individual or to the country as a whole."

8. Promote Free Enterprise And Foster Labor-Management Cooperation. This objective really pleased us it dovetails with our own theme and banner, "The American Way." Kiwanis avows that "Man's eternal struggle for Freedom of opportunity is reflected in his belief in the free enterprise system . . . Free enterprise is worth understanding and promoting so that it will be preserved for oncoming generations. But this system is no one-way street. All are interdependent in our economic system. It is true that Labor and management alike have their differences . . .

The Good Samaritan...

A unique sect of about 200 Samaritan Jews still live peacefully in the Biblical town of Nablus, 40 miles north of Jerusalem, Jordan. Samaritans are strict adherents to the concept of one God, believe only in the first five books of the Old Testament, and make three pilgrimages a year to sacred Mt. Gerezim for sacrificial rites.

The Patriarch of the Samaritans, dressed in red turban and flowing white surplice, is shown here pointing to the words of the Torah or Law of Moses. The Good Samaritan who came to the rescue of the stranger on the road to Jericho, as recounted in the Book of Luke, was a member of this sect.

Popularity of Tree Planting Continues

Another banner tree planting year is forecast for Garrett county by R. Thomas Thayer Jr., Assistant District Forester, as a large portion of the 800,000 evergreen seedlings scheduled for county distribution have already been allotted.

Thayer said that interest in the popular program had been increased by a recent change which lowered the minimum acreage for machine planting to three suitable acres, and by plans to put into operation a hand planting crew for areas too rough for the machine. The forester said these changes, which are noted in an advertisment in another section of the paper, would allow more persons to take advantage of this conservation practice.

This year's shipment, scheduled to begin arriving late in March, will bring to nearly seven million the number planted for timber production, watershed protection, game cover and Christmas tree thinning.

Landowners, who receive the seedlings free of charge, agree to allow the trees to remain for a timber crop, and to make only thinnings while the crop is developing. Cost sharing assistance for planting the trees is available through the local Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Application for trees should be made to the Department of Forests and Parks, Court House, Oakland.

"The fenders on our car we got in the Want Ads — are acting up again!"

SENATE CLOAKROOM

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R. Md.)

Citizenship For Federal Workers —This past week I sponsored legislation which would permit Federal employees living in Maryland and Virginia and working in Metropolitan Washington to take part in local politics. Its purpose was to re-establish the right of each individual to use his free time to participate with his fellow citizens in the basic functions of local government. Thousands of our Maryland citizens have been disenfranchised by reason of the fact that they work for the Federal government. This is not only unfair but against the best interests of good government. I think that instead of denying these Federal workers the right to be citizens we should be doing everything possible to encourage them to accept the responsibility of citizens at the local level.

A National Fisheries Center—I also introduced a bill leading to the establishment of a National Fisheries Center in Washington, D. C. The Center would provide the cultural and educational facilities of an aquarium and a fisheries museum, facilities for national casting tournaments, office space for fishery brokers and commission merchants and fishery organizations. It would also house attractive seafood restaurants.

"Spare That Veterans' Home!" I have asked two department heads to consider the taking over of the Temporary Home for Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines, located at 9th and Pennsylvania Avenue, S. E., Washington, D. C., threatened now with being closed down. This home, formerly a Naval hospital, has been used since 1922 to house transient war veterans while they are visiting Washington to discuss their problems with Members of Congress and Federal agencies. Food, lodging, and other assistance were provided by the home for 138 veterans from all parts of the country last year alone. The Navy Department, which has not used the property since 1922, now proposes to report it as "excess," which action would automatically lead to its sale. It was to prevent this action and to assure the continued valuable services of the home that I contacted the department heads.

More Praise For Steel Settlement—Further study of the steel strike settlement gives employers still more to cheer about. In our previous newsletter, we referred to the fact that the new steel contract made a start toward adjusting differences over work rules, particularly as might affect so-called featherbedding practices. In addition to that, the steel contract points the way for the further cutting of manufacturing costs. It puts a ceiling of 6 cents on the amount that can be paid to steelworkers in cost-of-living allowances during the 30-month contract. What's more, the new contract contains a provision that may hold cost-of-living raises to as little as 1 cent an hour, or even less. Under that provision, employers are permitted to withhold-cost allowances to offset higher insurance costs. It is possible that the steel settlement has provided a starting point for further moves to reduce labor costs in industry generally.

Promise Of A Balance—Last week President Eisenhower sent to Congress his proposed Budget. Thoughtful people of both political parties are pleased because there is promise of a Balanced Budget—and the possibility of a surplus. The budget is larger than ever before, but in an expanding economy the larger amount is justified in providing for the necessary items.

I do not say that I will go along on every item in the President's Budget, but generally speaking I will support his position. I will weigh the arguments, pro and con, on each item as it comes before the Senate, and then make my decision, always keeping in mind two things: (1) the need of the nation and its people, and (2) the importance of a BALANCE between the amount of money taken from the people in taxes and the amount spent for them by their Government.

Maryland Projects In The Budget—The President in his budget message proposed needed public works projects in Maryland, as follows:

Baltimore Channel deepening $1,500,000.

C & O Canal Park campgrounds $100,000.

Fort McHenry employees' residences $51,700.

Harpers Ferry restoration work $100,000.

Antietam, Fort McHenry, and C & O Canal Park roads and trails $175,600.

George Washington Pkwy. and Baltimore-Washington Pkwy. $2-372,500.

There is also a Maryland-Delaware item of $103,000 for Inland Waterway planning, Delaware River to Chesapeake Bay.

Defense Preparedness—Our Senate Committee on Armed Services has started a close study of our Defense Preparedness. The members of the committee felt encouraged by facts presented to us last week by Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates, Jr. The Secretary asserted that the balance of military power still is heavily in this country's favor even though Russia "may enjoy at times a moderate numerical superiority in long-range missiles." Our Committee is going to explore what has been described as the "missile gap." We are also going to weigh very carefully the arguments about "weapons of yesterday and today" as compared with "weapons of tomorrow and the future." We are going to explore with Defense experts both civilian and military, the area of disagreement over Defense policy.

Speed-Up In Missile Program—President Eisenhower proposes to expand the nation's arsenal of long-range missiles by one third. Congress is expected to agree. As a result, —Production of Atlas and Titan—ballistic missiles with a range of 5,500 miles—will be increased from 200 to 270. Atlas became "operational" last year. Titan, a year behind in development, has not fared well in recent tests, but is expected to be "operational" by year's end.

—Production of Polaris missiles, designed to be launched from submarines to hit targets 1,200 miles away, will be boosted from 141 to 192. Polaris is expected to be in production by December.

Khrushchev's "Fantastic Weapon"—When the Soviet ruler recently announced that Russia intended to drastically cut its armed forces (which, by the way, is what the U. S. A. did right after World War II) he boasted of "a fantastic weapon" which Russia now has in the hatching stage." Hatching time can mean from three to five years away. I am told by a military expert—and we have a lot of fantastic weapons "hatching."

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 7 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with its restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, larger, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Attend Prayer Vigil At Fort Dietrick

Lawrence Sines, of Swallow Falls, Rev. Don Matthews, Crellin, and Rev. Norman Harsh, of Eglon, journeyed to Frederick last Saturday to participate in the Vigil and Appeal at Fort Dietrick, nearby. This Vigil has been kept ten hours daily since last July 1 as an appeal to stop the preparation for Germ Warfare. Rev. Harsh said Fort Dietrick has been since 1932 the U. S. research center for development of germ warfare.

For three hours the three men stood in line silently near the main entrance to the fort. For most of that time the leader was a Wisconsin Evangelical United Brethren minister. The group was joined in the afternoon by a Quaker from Falls Church, Va.

Since July persons keeping Vigil have numbered 1 to 35 from several states.

During a noon-hour respite the local men visited the Church World Service center at New Windsor where they saw the warehouse and processing buildings where relief clothing, some of it collected by churches of the Oakland area, is sorted and packed for shipment to needy areas in U. S. and abroad. They also saw the training center and program for Brethren Volunteer service, a Church of the Brethren program in which youth are trained for 1-2 periods of service in social welfare projects all over the world.

Messrs. Sines, Matthews and Harsh said they planned to write to their Senators and Congressmen about the Vigil experience and encourage their support of a Concurrent resolution in the Senate and House of Representatives which would reaffirm a policy against the use of CBR (chemical, biological and radiological weapons.)

THE COUNTRY-PULPIT

WEEKLY SERMON by Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

In the Sky An Eye

A Correspondent for the Detroit Free Press writes in her column about the prospect of putting up a space platform upon which an observatory could be mounted. She states that the unmanned observatory able to circle the earth every 24 hours at the height of 22,500 miles is a possibility within the next 10 years. The title she used arrested my attention: Whaddaya Know! An Eye in the Sky." I thought about a different eye that has been looking down upon humanity for a good many years. It is the eye of Almighty God. One observation of what His eye saw is recorded for us in Ps. 14:2-3 which reads, "The Lord looked down from Heaven upon the children of men to see if there were any that did understand and seek God. They are all gone aside, they are all together become filthy, there is none that doeth good, no, not one." He was not at all pleased with what He saw. But He, in His infinite mercy, devised a plan whereby man could be rescued from the awful results of his sin. The plan is called the Gospel. The Gospel tells of the Son of God coming from Heaven to be the substitute for the sinner by dying in his place for his sin.

Win Bowling Balls

Cathy Gander, Oakland, and John Foley, Mt. Lake Park, were awarded the bowling bowls as the result of a benefit contest conducted for the March of Dimes in the area.

Participants paid $1 for the right to enter the contest and each person's score and handicap were based on a three-game average. Including the handicap score Cathy Gander rolled 515 for three games and John Foley rolled 621.

Presentation of the awards will be made Friday evening according to Charles L. Briner, campaign director for the March of Dimes in the county.

He said there was no report as yet on the contributions during the campaign. The containers have been in place throughout the month in many places in the county. He said there would be no Mothers' March in Oakland this year and urged everyone to contribute generously to the containers.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Who Can Identify Picture This Week?

Who can identify the time and place of the picture this week? Those around The Republican office are stumped. The hill in the background lends itself to the belief that the building was on Liberty street and the hill is Ferguson's hill. A. D. Naylor who build his hardware store on Liberty street many years ago, has no recollection of any such building on that street. And he said that definitely the man in the picture was not he.

It has also been suggested that the shop could have been located at Crellin, although there is no basis for the assumption. There was no identification on the back to indicate the year or the place. Perhaps some of the readers may enlighten us.

It was learned that the picture last week was the result of a play in the old opera house where home talent events took place frequently in the early days of the century. The opera house was located on the third floor of the Hinebaugh Restaurant building, which floor was eliminated last year when the owners made a two story building out of it.

Use of Insecticide, Heptachlor Banned On Forage Crops

The use of the chemical, heptachlor, for controlling insects on forage crops can an longer be recommended, announces Ted Bissell, University of Maryland Extension entomologist. His statement follows the decision of the Food and Drug Administration to reduce the heptachlor residue tolerance to zero on all food and feed crops.

Food and Drug Administration, after studying toxicological data, had previously established a residue tolerance of 0.1 part per million for this chemical. This meant that a ton of hay might contain not over 14 grains of actual heptachlor. There are 2,625 grains in the 1½ pints of heptachlor used as a spray for forages. The FDA is concerned particularly as to the amount of chemicals that are carried over from feed and found in milk and other food products, Bissell explains.

Recently, it has been established that residues of heptachlor in, or on, a plant are converted into another chemical form, heptachlor apoxide. This material appears to be more toxic to warm blooded animals than the original and is more readily excreted into milk. Following this discovery, Food and Drug has rescinded its tolerance of 0.1 parts per million and declared a zero tolerance for alfalfa and other forage crops. This means that crops or milk with any heptachlor residue may be seized, Bissell points out.

Therefore, Bissell says, the University of Maryland can not continue to recommend the use of heptachlor on any forage crop, including alfalfa, clover, grass hay, corn silage, or any pasture.

While there are other chemicals that will control alfalfa weevil, there are none that are quite as satisfactory as heptachlor. Since it can no longer be used for controlling alfalfa weevil, he recommended, that farmers spray with either 3 quarts of methoxychlor (1.5 pounds actual) or 1½ pints of malathion (1 pound actual) per acre when most of the alfalfa plants show infestation and the crop is 10 to 12 inches tall. Respray if necessary, but not later than 7 days before harvest or pasture use, Bissell warns. Methoxychlor or malathion will knock out the weevil larve on the plants, but neither one will prevent a quick reinfestation. About a week is the limit for weevil control. Methoxychlor is also effective against meadow spittlebug in the spring and potato leafhopper in the summer.

It is important to control the alfalfa weevil which is capable of reducing alfalfa yields by a fourth of the crop. Losses from this insect on a Statewide basis, at Maryland's present rate of production would be about 50,000 to 60,000 tons of alfalfa hay a year, Bissell says.

WHEN A MAN HAS A BROTHER

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I John	2	9-12
Monday	I John	4	20-21
Tuesday	Romans	12	9-10
Wednesday	Proverbs	17	17
Thursday	I Corinthians	16	13-14
Friday	John	10	9-10
Saturday	Psalms	55	13-14

A man's got to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother . . . especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother!

In the eyes of the Church, all men are brothers, just as all men are equally beloved. As long as there is a church near you, you are not alone. You have only to open the door and walk in and you will be at one with your fellow man . . . and at home with your brothers.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Acts 17; I Thessalonians 1 through 2.
Devotional Reading: Luke 8:4-15.

Response

Lesson for January 31, 1960

A VISITOR from America was talking with a missionary to an Eastern country. "I read your letters," he said, "but it seems to me they are all success stories. Now that I have visited you out here I know you have a great many failure-stories. I know these have caused you a great deal of disappointment and even tears. Why don't you put some of these failure-stories into your letters?" The missionary's reply was, "Well, the American churches don't want us to weep on their shoulders. What they want is success stories, so I give 'em what they want. But it's only half the truth."

Dr. Foreman

Some Acts, It Seems, Were Wasted

The whole Book of Acts is a kind of missionary news-letter on a large scale. But Luke, good doctor that he was, knew that an honest ease-book will include the failures, the patients that died in spite of everything. The book of Acts does not give a careful reader the impression that everything was rosy in the First Century. Some acts of the apostles were fruitful of good. Other acts, it seems, were wasted, so far as visible results went.

There is nothing automatic about preaching. The same sermon will have opposite effects on different persons. This has always been so. Take the story of Saint Paul at Thessalonica, Berea and Athens. He visited those places in 1-2-3 order. He was the same Saint Paul—but what a difference in the responses he got! Thessalonica got into an uproar; he had to make a quick get-away by night. Berea was much better, he got Bible study classes going. Some imported hoodlums from Thessalonica broke up the meetings but it wasn't Berea's fault. And then we find Him in Athens, ancient city named for the goddess of wisdom. But when Paul offers them the heavenly Wisdom they do not recognize it.

Is It God's Fault?

Some people think that God does not really want every one to be saved. So he never tries hard to get through to the people he has no intention of saving. The "call" of God is such that it comes to some in a loud compelling sound; to others in a whisper they cannot hear at all. Very few people really believe this. Most Christians believe that God sent his son into the world to save the world, that God desires all men to be saved. They dare not lay the blame for failures on God. So it is said by many that wherever a failure of the Gospel message has to be chalked up, the fault is not God's but the messenger's. The witness was not given in an attractive way, the minister did not speak with conviction, sins in the lives of Christians erect a barrier that no "good words for Jesus" can get over. There is much truth in this, of course. Most of us who are older can remember preachers we heard in years gone by, preachers we thought ridiculous (and maybe they were). If we are Christians now, we thank God that finally God's message came to us by a more credible messenger than some of those.

Some People Never Open Their Mail

But after all, the heart of the reason why some respond to God and some don't, is in the hearts of those who hear. Consider the difference, in these notes in Acts, between the believers and those that never believed. There were at least three points of difference. 1. Some were serious, others laughed it off. God's message, with some people, is like a registered letter marked "Deliver to addressee only." The mail man delivers it, the man knows the letter is for him—but then he tosses it into the waste-basket without opening it. He is afraid he will have to answer it. 2. Some of Paul's hearers (as in Athens) were quite willing to talk about religion, it's quite a conversation-piece. But when it came to doing something, making a decision, they lost interest. Talkers-only are not going to sit very close when God's conversation gets personal. 3. Some were humble; others too proud to listen. Isn't that the root of it?

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Rev. BRUCE E. BOSLEY
Walnut Bottom Assembly of God Church, Swanton
St. John 17:21—"That They All May Be One."

"Like a mighty army, moves the church of God. Brothers we are treading where the Saints have trod. We are not divided, all one body we, one in Hope and Doctrine, one in Charity."

The above quotation is the third verse of the beloved hymn 'Onward Christian Soldiers," but has much significance to the Church today.

In Christ's prayer to His Heavenly Father, just before His betrayal into wicked hands to be crucified for the sins of the world, He prayed for His disciples. Chief of those things for which He prayed was not for a great Church or some material possession, but that this small group of disciples that were soon to be given the full responsibility of spreading the gospel, that He had begun to teach, Might Be One. Yes one in Doctrine, the Blood of Christ. One in Hope. Christ coming again. One in Charity, pure Christian Love. This was the desire of the heart of Christ at that crucial hour and we can't help but feel that it still is the desire of Christ in His Church today. If there was ever a need for the Blood Washed Christians to hind together as one for the great challenge that lies before us, it is today.

Our challenge is even greater than the challenge that faced either David when he met the great giant, Goliath, or Elijah when he faced the prophets of Baal on Mt. Carmel, but with faith in their God, they were victorious, and we can be too.

Our need as Christians or as the Church today is not material possessions or numbers added to the Church, although these are not without value, but a great Spiritual Awakening that will cause Christians to realize that the task is too great for us to go against the foe as an army divided against itself.

Abraham Lincoln once said, when the Union was about to split over the question of slavery, "United, we stand, divided we fall." So it is as the living Church of Jesus Christ.

Our foe or adversary is not other Christians or religious organizations, who believe in the "blood of Christ," but the forces of evil and the powers of darkness that are out to destroy the "cause of Christ". One Christian or group of Christians cannot be victorious over the enemy if they pull themselves aside and go into battle alone. It is only as we bind together as one great army of Christian believers, not divided over some point of Doctrine, but bound together by the cords of true Christian love, can we be victorious, as Christ was and would also have us to be.

We as Christians today have a great heritage that cost our forefathers many hardships, beatings, much criticism, and even life itself to give us. How foolish we are to take for granted any part of that great heritage, but let us rather arise with new zeal and determination to "fight a good fight of faith" to defend the great Christian Faith that our forefathers fought for and that cost Christ His life's Blood to give us.

We can have the assurance that Christ not only prayed for His disciples, but in verse 20 of St. John 17, Christ prayed "for them also which shall believe on me through their word." This includes all true believers. Christ has prayed for us. Christ has prayed for you. What a consolation! How this should give us new courage. Take heart "fellow Christian," we are on the side that will be victorious as we bind together as one to fight our common foe, "the devil who goeth about seeking whom he may revour". Christ has said, "Even the gates of Hell shall not prevail against My Church." Let it be the desire of every Christian believer "That We All May Be One", knowing the victory is ours in the name of Christ Jesus our Lord.

Rose Wins National Flower Election Test

Voters of Maryland have selected the rose as their choice for the official flower of the United States, according to results of an election conducted by Florists' Telegraph Delivery association. The rose garnered 286,841 votes nationally in the election, more than twice the total of its nearest competitor, the carnation. Third place choice was chrysanthemum.

The rose was most favored floral candidate in 48 of 50 states. Only Colorado and Hawaii voters named carnation as top choice. Varieties of rose are already state flower in New York, Iowa, North Dakota and Georgia.

Official returns were to be submitted to a Congressional committee who may consider recommendations on legislation for an official flower.

The United States has no national flower, although discussed for more than 40 years in Congress. Bills have been introduced in 15 sessions nominating various blooms for the honor.

Other flowers in the running in the election included Lily of the Valley, orchid, tulip, gladiolus, camellia, black-eyed susan, mountain laurel, geranium, magnolia, goldenrod, rhododendron, daffodil, peony, shasta daisy, grass, corn tassel, marigold, in that order.

Bittinger-Lee Marriage Performed

Miss Joan Lee, daughter of William Lee and Mrs. James Vorgias, of Baltimore, became the bride of Delbert Bittinger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bittinger, Sr., of Mt. Lake Park, in Bethel Methodist church in the Park Tuesday evening, January 12, at 6 o'clock. The Rev. Randall Prince, pastor, officiated.

The church was decorated with palms and candelabra flanking a sunburst of white gladioli and fern. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Jay L. Bell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy and lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a white orchid and from which streamers fell.

Mrs. Carlton Lee, of Baltimore, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a medium blue sheath dress and carried a cascade of white gladioli. Gary Bittinger, Baltimore, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert Speicher and William Murphy, of Mt. Lake Park.

For her sons wedding Mrs. Bittinger chose a winter white dress with black accessories. Her flowers were red rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bittinger, Sr. Mrs. Carlton Lee cut and served the wedding cake and Mrs. Sam Meyers, Jr., served the coffee.

After a brief honeymoon the groom flew from Pittsburgh to San Diego, California from where he will leave shortly for a two year tour of duty on the island of Guam.

Among the out of town guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bittinger, Mrs. Helen Mohr, and Mrs. Frances Kulacki, all of Baltimore.

Southern Hi Tops Bruce For 9th Win

Southern High School's Highlanders extended their winning streak to eight games Tuesday night by downing Bruce High School's Bulldogs at Oakland by the score of 69 to 49.

The victory enabled Coach Carl Schoonover's quint to square accounts for an 80-73 defeat at the hands of the Westernport quint early in the season. The win gave Southern an overall record of 9-2. The loss was Bruce's third against eight victories.

Four Southern players scored in double figures. Dick Stuck headed the assault with 16 points. Terry Colaw dumped in 15 points, Bill Stemple garnered 12 and Wally Bolyard accounted for 11. Wine scored 6, Ron Colaw had 7 and James 2. Non-scoring were Prince Malone, Miller, DiSimone and Broadwater.

No Bruce player scored in double figures and Bill Wright's eight points was high for the losers. Beard had 6, Wilson 3, Wiltison 7, Grove 6, McDowell 6, Miller 5, Smith 2, Jones 2 and Dayton 4.

The game was clean all the way through, not one foul being called during the first quarter. Southern left no doubt that it was on the way to victory by starting off with a band and holding an 18 to 6 edge at the end of the first period. It led 30 to 13 at the half and 52 to 26 at the end of the third period.

Southern outscored Bruce 31 to 21 from the field and each team scored 7 points at the foul line. Both sides were off at the foul line with Southern scoring 7 of 20 and Bruce 7 of 18.

Southern displayed superb guarding and gave the Bruce Bulldogs few chances for open shots. Coach Ritchie, apparently irked by the mediocre showing of his fust stringers, sent in an entire new team in the third period.

The Highlanders have two more games coming up. They play Parsons High on Friday evening and next Tuesday evening will meet Valley High of Lonaconing. The latter was the first game at Valley earlier in the season in an overtime battle 51 to 52.

In the preliminary encounter on Tuesday evening the Bruce High Jayvees defeated Southern 41 to 33.

Good Example - - - - -

The American Automobile association has distributed some good advice for parents. It urges that they set a good example for their children in traffic. We have been advocating this for years.

A motorist's driving attitude often is the result of lessons learned from the example of his parents early in life, the manager has asserted. "The youngster who has watched his parent for several years flout traffic laws tends to grow up with an understandably irresponsible attitude toward his own driving. For this reason it would be accurate to say that good or bad driving attitudes often are learned at the knee of one's parents."

He urges parents to start their children early in developing traffic responsibility by demonstrating the importance of observing simple pedestrian safety rules, such as crossing only at corners, not crossing between parked cars, and obeying pedestrian crossing signals.

It has been said before that a good example is worth a thousand lectures. There's an old joke about the minister who urged his flock "not to do as I do, but do as I say," that is applicable here. Some parents confuse their children by preaching traffic safety and then ignore safety regulations at every turn.

If parents observe the traffic laws, the chances are that the youngsters will follow suit. Generally they will enjoy imitating their elders.

The same attitude should hold true in observance of the moral and spiritual laws. And we certainly could stand a pick up in these two categories.

Groundhog Sees Shadow: Still Claims Early Spring

It was easy to interview Mr. Groundhog this year. Instead of spending a cold Tuesday afternoon searching out the elusive rodent to get his views on the weather for the next six weeks, the famed forecaster called on us.

"Just thought I'd save you a trip this time," he called as he pushed open the office door and stood in front of the gas stove.

"Mighty good of you" we replied. "I suppose you have come to person to deliver the bad news." Looking out the window, one could see why. Although flakes of snow were in the air this February afternoon, the sun was brightly trying to turn them to rain, and it seemed impossible that anyone—even a groundhog—could miss seeing his shadow under those circumstances.

Mr. Groundhog followed our gaze through the window pane. "If you're thinking of me seeing my shadow, and the six weeks of additional winter you're in for, you're guessing wrong, Dad," he said. "Although you haven't had enough winter yet to more than dent the coal pile, so far as I'm concerned the worst is over and now there's nothing to look forward to but progressively nicer days—until you folks begin to holler about how hot it is. Of course there may be a few setbacks because leap year makes predicting even more difficult."

"Look," we said, amazed. "Aren't you the same Groundhog we've been interviewing for how many years?" He opined that he was. "And don't you admit that you've seen your shadow several times today?" He agreed. "And isn't this groundhog day, Tuesday, February 2, 1960?" Again he nodded yes.

"Well, then," we said, "If all these things are true what happened to the old story about the six more weeks of winter?"

The oldester stood there, shaking his coat tails before the blaze. "Just like so many youngsters, you don't look a thing through," he reprimanded. "And I'm surprised, for I never thought a newspaper man would settle for only half of a story. Your information is cor-

The association will endeavor to raise $4,000 this year. Mrs Irvin Fehl, Oakland, has been named heart Sunday chairman.

Highlanders Trim Valley 79 To 57

Bag Tenth Win In Row—Four Players Hit For Double Figures

Southern High school remained unbeaten at home and copped its 11th victory of the season by downing the Valley High school Black Knights of Lonaconing Tuesday night by the score of 79 to 57. The triumph was the 10th in a row for the Highlanders and was played before a capacity crowd.

The victory by Coach Carl Schoonover's Highlanders avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of Valley in the opening game of the series at Lonaconing in December, 54 to 52 in an overtime contest.

Southern showed a determination from the start of the contest, pressing its opponents closely and giving them little opportunity for set shots. The Highlanders took an 18 to 12 first quarter lead, held a 13-point advantage at half-time at 37 to 24, and increased it to 15 points at the end of the third period at 54 to 39. They scored 25 points in the final frame while holding Valley to 18. Their fast break paid off time after time and on several occasions they stole the ball from their opponents who seemed confused by the constant all court press.

Jerry Wine, Ron Colaw, Terry Colaw and Dick Stuck hit in double figures and accounted for all but seven of their team's 79 points. Wine was high with 24 tallies while Ron Colaw had 18, Terry Colaw 16, and Stuck 14 markers. Bolyard had four points and Stemple got 3, while James and Prince were non-scoring.

High scoring honors went to Jim Getty of the visitors who hit for 25 points on seven field goals and 11 out of 12 from the foul line.

Southern hit for 32 goals, twice the number Valley tallied from the field. However, the Black Knights had a good night at the charity stripe, hitting for 25 of 32. Southern had only 15 out of 28 foul tries.

Ron Colaw and Dick Stuck for Southern, and Reidler for Valley left the game in the final period with five personal fouls against them.

Southern's victory was its 11th against two losses while Valley now stands at 9-6 for the season. Southern's only losses were single games to Bruce and Valley. It will travel to Elk Garden tonight for a return engagement and will return to the local floor next Tuesday for a game with Mountaineer high. Southern won the first encounter against both these foes.

In the preliminary game Southern Junior Varsity won over the Valley Jayvees 41 to 33.

Individual Cards Available to Voters

Individual cards, indicating a person is an active voter and duly listed in the office of the Board of Supervisors of Elections, are now available for the 8,851 registered voters.

Miss Julia A. Rowan, clerk to the board, said the cards could be picked up at the office in the basement of the court house in Oakland. She pointed out that the expense of mailing would be prohibitive for the board, since it is operating on a restricted budget.

This is the first time that such cards have been available from the local board. Miss Rowan said it was customary in a number of other counties. The card serves as an identification, and also shows that a person has been an active voter.

Farm Credit Shareholders To Meet February 9th

The annual Stockholders' meeting for the Potomac Valley Production Credit and Federal Land Bank Associations for Garrett County members will be held on Tuesday, February 9, at 7 P. M., at the William-James Hotel in Oakland, as announced by A. O. Riley, Director.

All Stockholders of these two Farm Credit organizations are invited. The meeting will begin with a dinner, followed by an election of officers and presentation of financial reports.

Fair Board To Meet

Members of the Board of Directors of the Garrett County Agricultural Fair association will meet Monday evening, February 8, at 8 o'clock at the Gerald Glotfelty tenant house at McHenry, it was announced by H. G. Gortner, vice-president. John Brenneman, Accident, president, is in Florida this week but may be back in time for the meeting.

Among the items to be discussed are the revised premium list, arrangements for various concessions, and specific dates for the opening of the fair.

School Equipment Now Being Ordered

Approximately $10,000 worth of classroom instructional materials are now in the process of being ordered by the Garrett County Board of Education, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools. This order is made possible by the National Defense Education Act which pays one-half of the bill. The materials ordered are for instruction in the fields of math, science, guidance, and modern languages, and must be approved in advance by the State Department of Education.

The purpose of the federal legislation is to upgrade instruction in these areas. Money is provided on a 50-50 matching basis. Garrett County is entitled to $18,000 this year but is only able to match $5,000 of this amount. The rest of the money will be forfeited if not used prior to July 1, 1960. The provisions of the NDEA are made on a year to year basis. Unless renewed, the act will expire at the end of a four year period.

Westcoat Fined $750 On Liquor Violation

Joseph Westcoat, who operates the Sky High Tavern along Deep Creek Lake, was fined $750 on one of three violations of the alcohlic beverage laws, at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney last Friday in Oakland.

Westcoat pleaded guilty to the charge of possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale. Two other charges, one on possession of whiskey, and one on selling beer on Sunday, were dropped. The fine and costs were paid.

Westcoat had been held under $500 cash bond since his arrest following an automobile wreck involving Carl Kyle, who is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Kyle is in the local hospital suffering from a broken leg.

Clothing Thief Caught

In another criminal offense disposed of this week William Music, of Baltimore, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny at a hearing before Magistrate Maroney last Friday and was sentenced to serve nine months in the House of Correction.

Music admitted stealing a top coat, a suit, a belt, gloves and a pipe from Richard A. Bird, of Parkersburg, while riding on a Baltimore and Ohio train one evening last week. He got off the train at Oakland. When B. and O. police began searching, Leslie Baker, night policeman here, remembered seeing the man get off the train and recalled him going to the home of a relative here. He was arrested in Baltimore and returned to Oakland for the hearing last Friday.

Southern Continues Torrid Pace Among Basketball Teams

Southern Highlanders continued their torrid pace in the current basketball season this past week with 51 points last Friday and 79 points Tuesday night in two victories.

Southern has now scored 952 points to date with 749 for their opponents and the average points per game is now 73.2. Only three games have been less than 70 points.

Attendance Tuesday night was the second largest of the season with an estimated 700 present. There were 608 paid admissions, 349 students and 259 adults.

Terry Colaw leads all scorers with 292 points and he is followed in line by Dick Stuck, 197, Jerry Wine, 159, Ron Colaw, 129, Wally Bolyard, 63; Bill Stemple, 43, Don James, 40, John Prince, 12; Steve Malone, 6, Brenton Propst, 4, Jerry DiSimone, 1, Carroll Miller, 3.

Five games remain to be played with Mountaineers, Piedmont (2) Northern and Petersburg.

Booster Membership Showing Increase

Sales of membership cards by the Southern High School Athletic Boosters' Club is progressing satisfactorily, Marvin Jones, president announced today.

While an exact figure could not be given, Mr. Jones indicated that approximately 500 cards had been sold to date. Membership fee has been set at $1.00. Money derived from the sale of the membership cards is to be used to purchase insurance and football shoes for the Highlander football squad next year.

Kenneth Johns, principal, praised the group for the fine job it is doing.

Plans to place lights on the field have also been under discussion by the club for quite sometime, but nothing definite has yet been made official. It was hoped that an estimate of the total cost could be made sometime this week. It is expected that this will be the principal topic to be discussed when the club meets again on Thursday, February 25.

Also included in the long-range plans for the school's gridiron plan are plans to build a press box and shower room.

Persons desiring to obtain a membership card may contact any of the following persons or business establishments: Marvin Jones, Kenneth Johns, Mrs. George Stuck, Mrs. Sara Wine, Greg's Restaurant in Mt. Mr. Sharpless said the pair had passed a total of seventeen checks amounting to $358.

Deer Park Firemen Called to Swanton

Deer Park firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Burza Wilt at Swanton on Saturday morning, about 11:30 when the furnace in the home overheated and ignited the floor of the two-story frame residence.

Firemen were forced to use gas masks to enter the smoke filled basement and extinguish the blaze. Mrs. Wilt was credited with saving extensive damage by immediately closing all basement doors upon discovery of the fire. This came as the result of a demonstration by Deer Park firemen at Swanton recently when they gave out information as to what to do in case of fire.

No estimate of the damages was available but firemen said Mrs. Wilt's loss was covered by insurance.

Mayor, Council Renamed

Running without opposition the mayor, two councilmen and tax collector for the town of Kitzmiller, were re-elected at the annual election on Tuesday.

Earl S. Skaug was re-elected mayor for a two-year term. Dr. Ralph Calandrella and James E. Droppleman was renamed to the city council and Henry Evans was named tax collector.

A total of 20 votes was cast.

Revival Center Is Refused Permit To Construct Addition

The Mayor and Town Council, in regular session on Monday evening denied the application for a permit from the Oakland Revival Center, Leroy Harvey, minister, to construct an addition to the present structure on Second street, south of Oak, in the town of Oakland.

The application was before the council last month but was tabled. Since then the council received a petition signed by fourteen people in that area, setting out the reasons for urging that the application be refused.

The petition said that the "conduct was noisy, loud, boisterous and generally unbecoming a quiet residential neighborhood, sometimes as many as four nights a week;" that "during meetings conduct creates disturbance among whole neighborhood, so regular as to constitute a nuisance," that "no toilet facilities were available and persons use the grounds in rear of the building for toilet purposes, creating health problem and a disgrace to the neighborhood;" and that the "enlargement would only add to the problem already in existence."

A letter was dispatched to Mr. Harvey, telling of the council's actions.

Citizens Contribute 103 Pints of Blood

Two persons reached the three-gallon club membership Tuesday as 103 citizens contributed a pint of their blood at the regular visit of the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit was made to the Oakland fire hall.

Those reaching the three gallon total in giving blood were George T. Perrine and D. C. MacMurray, both of Mt. Lake Park. In addition there was a two-gallon giver and seven one-gallon contributors. Joe E. Browning's contribution of a pint Tuesday made a total of two gallons for him, while those reaching the one-gallon total were O. T. Graser, Dan J. Hershberger, Hugh Maffett, Wesley Schaible, Mrs. Robert Wilt, George Welling and Arthur Friend.

Among the 103 who gave blood some 25 or 30 were from the Amish community at Gortner. Some sixteen came by bus provided by Emile Germain, which has been a regular occurrence for the past two or more years.

The statistics of the day were given out by Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman. There were 121 scheduled, 65 kept their appointments and there were 58 walk-ins. There were 20 rejections, 13 first time donors. Forty of the 103 pints contributed were deimte replacements. Mrs. Stemple said a number of those who did not keep their appointments called to explain that they could not do so because of illness.

Because of the widespread influenza in the area, Mrs. Stemple said the Red Cross chapter was well pleased with the response.

Weather Mostly Clear

The weather has been mostly clear during the week but moderately cold. Monday morning the temperature stood at six above zero for the coldest reading of the week.

There has been no snow to speak of for more than a week. Friday and Saturday mornings were foggy but skies cleared fairly early in the day. A very light sprinkling of snow fell Tuesday morning, Groundhog day, but the sun peeped through at noon.

Financial Report Shows Oakland In Good Condition

The annual report of the town of Oakland once again shows the municipality is in excellent financial condition.

The town showed receipts of $136,750.36 and expenditures of $125,924.39, leaving a balance of $10,825.97. The balance was not quite as large as last year, however, when the tabulation showed $17,498.11 on hand at the beginning of the year.

Receipts included $41,513.97 from taxes, $34,433.10 from general; $32,561.86 from water department; and $10,843.32 from the police department.

Expenditures included $37,256.92 for the street department, $54,776.02 for the water department, $13,458.73 for the police department and $20,433.62 for miscellaneous. Both the water department and police department expenditures exceeded receipts, but expenditures in the police department were $2,000 less than the previous year. Items for labor and supplies was above last year because of the necessity of hauling water for several weeks when the supply gave out in the regular wells.

Among the expenditures was $737.37 for capital outlay for municipal building, $3,590.04 for garbage removal, and contributions of $25 to Heart association, $25 to County Fair, $250 to Mt. City Band, $100 to Deep Creek Lake Promotion council, $100 to Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, $60 for playgrounds, and $50 to basketball league. Police protection $10,297.50 with $1,272.96 for equipment, and $285 for the emergency police and disaster service. Traffic lights expense totaled $534.25.

Mrs. Gladys Nordeck, clerk-collector, said that better than 92 percent of the 1959 taxes had been collected.

Receipts showed $12,274.45 from motor vehicle and gasoline revenue, and $9,372.21 from parking meters plus $559 for parking space. Meter violations brought in $660.82 and general fines $212.55.

The town's total indebtedness is now only $8,500, which includes West Maryland Power company bonds of $5,000 and $3,500 on a note for the water farm which is paid off at the rate of $1,500 annually. Two Teacher Salary Bills Are Explained

[illegible] before the Legislature explained the work to Washington County superintendents of schools

The Adams bill which has the approval of the legislative council and the writer has nothing for teachers public [illegible] here [illegible] more Mr Hawkins said when they receive $400 additional per year He said the Adams bill also requires the state minimum be raised by $500 all at county expense which imposes nothing more on the counties than they are already doing by providing $500 or more above the state minimum which ranges from a low of $4,000 in this county to a high of $4,750 to $5000 in Baltimore and Montgomery counties.

He further explained no state equalization money for current expense operations would be received on the $400 increase on state minimum required under the Adams bill at county expense He cited in that for Garrett one cent tax rate since it costs the county nearly three times as much to raise $400 as it's local tax rate as it does Montgomery or other wealthy counties." Spot check of salary would be received on the $400 provided by the state under the Adams bill for teachers in their eleventh year or more five and more to receive an additional amount for current expense of approximately $8500 per year would be [illegible] to raise salaries of more county teachers and pay increasing costs of fuel, insurance and insurance He said a great many teachers in this county have had maximum experience and would be eligible for the $400 under the provision

Philosophy Versus Practices Studied In County Schools

A rather extensive study is just being completed by the principals and teachers of the Garrett County schools to determine the extent of the gap between philosophy or what we say we believe should be done for children and practice or what is actually done for them in the classrooms of our schools. Results of the studies have been submitted to Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent, and supervisors for study. Mr. Hawkins said the results are most gratifying. "It is a simple matter to have on paper a program for the education of children that measures close to the ideal situation. It is quite another matter to put this program into practice on a day to day basis in the classrooms," he said. He further explained that "the crux of the whole teaching process centers largely around the ability of the schools to organize for the best learning possible and of the classroom teachers to recognize the individual differences and individual needs of the pupils they teach, and then do something about them."

The study just being completed in the schools deals with areas of pupil growth and progress as classroom guidance and the place of the teacher in this field, the school testing programs and the use to which the results of these tests are put, caring for the individual differences of children which deals with special programs for high I. Q.'s, low I. Q.'s, the in-between group, where most children are found, and grouping practices. The study deals further with attendance records of children and their relationship to success in school, it deals with the study of the records of achievements of college-bound students, and it deals with a study of the school curriculum, what might be added or deleted.

The study also deals with the evaluation of the extra curricular programs of the schools and the extent to which it provides for the education of all youth in the schools. It deals with an analysis of the variability and adaptability of the total school program in order to provide an appropriate education for all. It deals with an analysis of the concepts of teachers and their understanding of what is meant when people speak of an appropriate education for all youth.

The study also deals with the various experimental practices found going on in the class rooms of some of the most enterprising teachers.

Mr. Hawkins said the reports on the whole show a very high relationship between theory and practice in the classrooms of the county. Emphasis for the past two years has been on the theme of "Caring for Individual Differences of Children." "The extent to which educational theories are put into practice determines to a large measure the effectiveness of the learning experiences of children. Garrett County can point with a great deal of satisfaction to the degree to which this goal is being achieved in the classrooms throughout the county," he concluded.

Southern High Cops Ninth Game 54 to 52

Southern High School's Highlanders come from behind in the final minutes last Friday night at Oakland to conquer the Parsons at 54 to 52 and keep the season series with the West Virginians.

The win kept alive one of the longest winning streaks in the area. The Highlanders have now copped nine straight and have a 10-2 record for the season. Southern won its first encounter with Parsons on January 8, 72 to 69, on the latter's court.

Southern led 19 to 15 at the end of the first period, 34 to 32 at the half but trailed by three points, 41-44 going into the fourth period. The Highlanders, coached by Carl Schoonover, surged ahead on a field goal by Dick Smeck who had been held out temporarily because he was having foul trouble and had four personals against him. His score came with about 2:30 remaining on the clock. The basket gave them a 48-47 lead which they held the rest of the way. Southern led 54 to 50 with ten seconds left to go and just before the whistle sounded Parsons put in another two-pointer, but it was not enough.

Jerry Colaw, Stack and Jerry Wine scored 18, 13 and 11 points respectively to pace Southern. They appeared to be off in their shooting around the basket and made only six out of 14 fouls. The Highlanders out-scored in field goals 24 to 21 but Parsons had 10 for 18 at the foul line. Leading scorer for Parsons was Parsons with 11 points. McDonald and Oaster had ten each.

Others scoring for Southern were Rou Colaw 5, Stemple 1, Bolyard 8. Non-scoring were James and Prince.

In the preliminary the Southern Jayvees defeated the Parsons junior varsity 31 to 30.

SRC Will Seek Road Plan Change

The Maryland Legislature, convening yesterday, is to be asked for more money to build highways, according to John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads commission, but the picture he will paint in seeking a change in policy will show that such a decision will face them in the near future.

The Roads commission will recommend that the state virtually throw away the book during the last five years of the so-called 12-year program initiated in 1953. It is proposing that the commission be allowed to spend 330 millions on 400 miles of primary roads, which would leave only an estimated 40 million for secondary roads.

The amount of money available for road building will drop off sharply after 1965. That's when the last of bond money authorized in 1953 for the crash program will run out. After that Funk estimated the state would have only about 40 million a year contrasted to the present 71. Three quarters of the money after 1965 will have to go into federal or primary roads, again leaving the secondary program with very little.

Under the present 12-year program laws Funk said the State was faced with the alternative of raising taxes or changing the policy. It is recommending that the bulk of the remaining money be spent on "an arterial system of highways that would move traffic efficiently and safely and give an economic lift to all the regions of the state."

Groundhog

rect, but you don't have it all!"

"O. K." was our reply. "Would you mind giving with the missing data?"

"It's a pleasure," he replied. "You see, actually the prediction holds true ONLY if I see my shadow at high noon. Any other time doesn't count. Now, for your information, the sun supposedly rose this morning at 7:13 o'clock. However, it did't break through the clouds until 11:30, and for the first time I saw my shadow.

"But here's the difference: From about 11:45 until almost 12:30, the sun didn't shine, and I didn't see my shadow! So that puts a different complexion on the whole thing," he stated.

"Look here," we said, "Who are you trying to kid?" The old boy looked dejected a moment, as if our disbelief had embarrassed him. Finally, he broke into a smile.

"Over there on that shelf," he said, pointing, "Is a set of encyclopedias. How about looking up Groundhog Day?"

To please our visitor, we opened the book marked "Glo to Joh" and sure enough, came upon a listing for Groundhog Day. "Before we go any further," we warned, "Are you sure you want me to read this? It just might make you look silly."

Mr. Groundhog just grinned, and said, "Go ahead and read." We did:

"Groundhog Day, February 2, the day on which the ground hog is supposed to cease hibernation and venture from his hole. Tradition has it that if the ground hog sees his shadow at noon on that day he becomes frightened and returns to his hurrow and six more weeks of winter ensue. If the day is cloudy at noon, and he does not see his shadow, he remains outside and an early spring follows."

"Well," he said, as he pushed open the door, "I guess that settles it. If you can't believe the ground hog, maybe you'll have more faith in your encyclopedia."

And with a slam of the door he was out to join the sun—apparently not frightened at all.

P-TA Committee Approves Pay Scale Hike for Teachers

The Executive committee of the Southern High School P-TA went on record as approving the salary pay scale plan as proposed by the Maryland State Teachers Association and endorsed by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers at its regular meeting last Monday evening. The plan calls for a minimum beginning of $4,000 for a teacher with B.A. degree and sets a maximum of $6,000.

In dicussing the endorsement of the increase for teachers, Charles Briner, president of the group, explained the necessity of increasing salary scales for our teachers. "Many counties are already paying beginning salaries well above $4,000. If our county is to recruit and retain qualified teachers, the salary requested must be approved. In the long run, it is our children who suffer when qualified teachers are not available, he said.

Other business conducted included a statement from Mrs. Robert Lohr, membership chairman, who reported that 308 persons had become members of the local association this year, an increase of 52 more than last year's figure.

Emil Germain, treasurer, reported a balance of $116.06 in the treasury.

Mr. Briner asked for delegates to attend a P-TA Public Relations workshop to be held in Hagerstown on February 26. Expenses for those attending will be paid by the association.

Robert Wooters, program chairman, announced plans for a panel discussion dealing with "Teenagers, Cars and School" at the next meeting of the association, February 15. It was suggested that three students, a parent, Mr. Flinn, driver education teacher at Southern, and Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor, serve on the panel.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi there! Guess I've skipped a week or so and I'm really very sorry. Semester exams and a million other things kind of put you in a spin.

I had a very nice record hop in Friendsville last Friday night. The kids were so great, and seemed to enjoy themselves so much, that I would like to have a hop there once or twice a month.

In cooperation with Southern High we have been slightly rearranging our club schedule. This week we are back on that schedule and we will have Teen club on Friday night.

You will probably be called upon at your home within the next day or two to buy a record for the new March of Dimes. This record is by the Kingston Trio and the sides are Molly Dee and Haul Away. They are 75c apiece. This record was made especially for the New March of Dimes Foundation.

I should like to give my sincere apologies to everyone in Grantsville for failing to produce the entertainment which I had promised. My only excuse is that I had an extreme lack of cooperation. I would feel bad if it were on my own and put only me on a spot. Yet this was for a wonderful cause and put not only me but our county March of Dimes chairman on a bad spot. I am ashamed of not only myself, but of those who were to entertain and did not cooperate.

A new boy has hit the big lists. His name is Ronnie Dawson and he recorded a song that you hear people singing on the street, in the corridors at school and sometimes in the classrooms (much to the teacher's dismay). It's a waltz basically and it's called "Hazel". So if you hear the refrain "Hazel, Hazel you shouldn't have done it," remember Ronnie Dawson.

I'm still proud of writing about "Teen Angel" after I had heard it on WOWO, Fort Wayne, Ind. I picked a winner, and so did Mark Dinning.

See you all tomorrow night at Teen Club, and you can read "Teen Corner" again next Thursday, as much teen news as I can collect will be the major contents.

P.S. Aren't we proud of Southern's basketball team?

Sen. Kennedy In Maryland Primary

Sen. John F. Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat, entered Maryland's May 17 presidential primary Tuesday.

Gov. Tawes offered Kennedy every courtesy at a joint press conference, but gave no commitment.

The winner of the primary is entitled by law to the state's 24 votes in the party national convention as long as Maryland delegates feel there is a possibility of a person being nominated.

Prior to his entry into the Maryland scene, Kennedy had announced or filed in primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Story of Penn Alps

By DR. ALTA SCHROCK

Since the days of the early settlers, the Allegheny Highlands have cradled men of independence and initiative—rugged men of the soil. Wild game, ranging from deer and bear in the hill section to native buffalo in the Berlin Glades, provided meat for hand-hewn tabbs, white turnips, rye and corn were grown on small plots of ground near humble log cabins of the settlers. Men lived frugally but well, and held their heads erect as self-respecting proprietors of the land they loved and tilled.

They created and built and assembled with their hands, and dreams came to fruit through nimble fingers.

Then came the machine age and urbanization, followed by the specter of unemployment with its attendant relief roles which grew in an ever-widening circle throughout the highlands. Ingenuity and creativity, which had played so important a role in the early days of our country, began to dwindle and give place to dependency. In the absence of small industries in the hill country, young men and women moved out of the mountains in an ever-increasing stream, their destination—Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, Baltimore. Talent and leadership sorely needed in the area were drained away, lost in the assembly lines of the urban giants of the eastern United States.

While the human river was flowing cityward, people in the mountains began to dream dreams of the hidden human potential in these hills. As long as 25 years ago this dream began to take shape in the minds of some, as home industries were visualized and our arterial highways were seen as outlets for the work of native hands.

In July, 1958, a group of men and women first met at the Springs School to share this dream. In August of the same year, Penn Alps was organized officially with a 13-man Board of Directors, who sincerely dedicated themselves to making this great dream come true.

Men and women of vision are invited to visit Penn Alps on the Casselman, one-half mile east of Grantsville on Route 40.

Girl Scout Groups To Become Part of Area-Wide Council

The first organizational meeting of the new Girl Scout council which will include the girl scout groups of this county has been set for March 4th, it was announced.

The council will include not only the troops in Garrett county but those in Allegany, and Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire and Grant counties in West Virginia, and a part of Bedford county, Pa.

Adult leaders in this county have selected the second week in February for a campaign to raise $1,000 as the county's share in a total council budget of $27,675. Kenneth L. Lawton has been named chairman of the drive. Parents and registered Girl Scout adults will make a house to house canvass of the Oakland and Mt. Lake Park areas in an effort to raise the amount.

Leaders declared it would be the hope of the new council to give every interested girl an opportunity to participate in the Girl Scout program. Contributions from other parts of the county are to be mailed to Mr. Lawton in Oakland.

The funds are to be used for organization and maintenance of troops in the entire council area, for training both new and experienced leaders, for enriched troop and camp program, for increased public understanding and support of the Girl Scout movement, and to provide opportunities for members to participate in activities on a council-wide, national and international basis.

At present there are four troops in Oakland, and two in Mt. Lake Park, comprising 156 girls and 48 adult leaders.

State Budget Totals Over $476 Million

Gov. Tawes yesterday proposed spending $476,758,352 for state operations next fiscal year. And he took out of circulation a 12-million dollar general fund surplus which might add to the outlay.

The total is 40 million dollars more than Maryland is spending in state and federal funds this year. No tax increase was necessary as he dipped into the surplus for $9,722,789. This left 12 million unspent in general funds. It has been eyed for possibly increasing salaries of school teachers and state employes beyond limits recommended by Tawes.

In his budget message Tawes warned the legislature to keep hands off the surplus.

State employes already had announced they would propose a beer tax increase to finance the 5 million dollar general cost of a 10 percent hike in salaries. School teachers have proposed no tax program for their requested increases which would add an estimated 15 million to state spending over a two-year period.

The general fund budget submitted by Tawes includes approximately six and one-half million for the increases which would benefit only veteran state employes and veteran school teachers.

- Papanicolaou Test

Q. What is the best thing to do when a feverish person has a chill?
A. Apply external heat in the form of hot water bottles and extra blankets. Warming the skin makes the patient more comfortable and tends to head off more temperature. Here is a brief explanation. During a chill the skin vessels contract, skin temperature falls, and the feverish person experiences a sensation of coldness. The lowered skin temperature triggers heat control centers in the body and shivering follows. The muscular work of shivering may increase heat production by as much as 200 per cent. The idea is to prevent shivering and the unwanted increase in body heat by warming the skin as suggested.

Q. Is there any connection between the amount of salt a person consumes and baldness?
A. None that we know of.

Q. What causes the breasts to become smaller after birth of a baby? This has happened to me once and I'd like to prevent it this time.
A. The questioner does not say whether there has been a loss of body weight but this may have occurred. Measures to increase the body weight, therefore, are more likely to be helpful than efforts directed toward the breasts themselves. Exercises to improve the chest muscles might help but it is only fair to say that the outlook is not too promising. The mother's breasts are affected by nursing. If the previous baby was breast fed, the reader might discuss with her doctor the possibility of placing her next child on a formula.

Q. Why don't doctors do the Pap. test on all women patients?
A. The Papanicolaou test is very useful, especially in examining large groups of women of all ages about whom nothing is known of their medical history. The situation is somewhat different when the doctor is dealing with individual patients. Here he questions the patient, determines her age (cervical cancer occurs in about one out of a hundred women past age 35—much less frequently in younger women), inquiries about the menstrual history, and perhaps by a general examination, determines what types of tests are indicated. He may or may not suggest a smear test, depending upon the circumstances. On the other hand, cancer detection in large measure is the responsibility of all of us. Early cancer must be looked for. For women this means monthly self-examination of the breasts and yearly examinations of the reproductive system by a physician who will use the most practical methods which can be applied.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's physician.

Tries New Army Rifle

Army Pvt. Richard E. Kitzmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Kitzmiller, Route 1, Oakland, is shown with the Army's new rifle—the M-14—which is being introduced to paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky. The 101st Airborne Division, spearhead unit of STRAC (Strategic Army Command), is the first to receive the new rifle as limited quantities began arriving at the base. A welcome sight to Kitzmiller, the M-14 will give him increased firepower, lighter weight and easier maintenance without sacrificing the wallop of the present M-1.

Designed to replace the M-1, the carbine, the .45 calibre submachine gun and the automatic rifle, the M-14 fires 7.62 millimeter ammunition which is now the standard cartridge for all NATO troops. Kitzmiller, a member of Headquarters Company in the division's 502nd Infantry, entered the Army in June, 1959, and received basic training at Fort Hood, Tex. The 19-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Southern High school.

Attend Charter Review of Potomac Council Scout Area

Nine boy scouts and explorer leaders from the Deep Creek district were in Cumberland last Thursday night for the annual dinner and charter review for Potomac Council.

They heard reports of various committees and applied for a renewal of the charter which is an annual requirement for all scout organizations.

The district set a goal of 275 members in scouting by the end of the year. The 1959 total was 225. Included in a written report by George Stuck, district chairman, were a number of the activities of the district within the past year. There were 109 advancements in rank during the year.

Training courses and six roundtables were held. Deep Creek district was host to the largest council camporee ever held. During the year units in Crellin and Mt. Lake Park have been reactivated and several new units are in the process of being organized, under direction of John Forman.

In 1959 the district won the Tom Bess President's cup but lost out this past six months period to Nemacolin district by one percentage point.

The scouts are preparing to celebrate anniversary week next week, February 7 to 13. The year 1960 is golden anniversary year in scouting. Heading the committee for jubilee activities in the district are Howard Naylor and Dr. H. R. Gibson.

Attending last Thursday's session in addition to Naylor and Gibson were George Stuck, Kenneth Johns, Rev. Charles Godwin, Ralph Fauber, Darrell Malone, George H. Hanst and John Forman. The latter was named on a committee to arrange an appreciation dinner and Merritt Feather was placed on a committee to select the leaders eligible for the Silver Beaver award.

Recreation Gain Is Seen in County Area

The growing importance of recreation and tourism in both Garrett and Allegany counties and the betterment of the overall economy was pointed up by the business gains shown in selected service establishments covered by the 1958 Census of Business by the Bureau of the Census.

The income or receipts of these businesses covered in 1958 showed a $1,397,000 gain over the 1951 census in the same type of places in Allegany county and Garrett county showed an increase of $597,000 in receipts over 1951.

Last week's old picture, showing a blacksmith standing in the door of his shop at an unidentified location, stirred memories of a number of readers but failed to produce any positive proof regarding the site, or the identity of the smithy.

Several persons were still of the opinion, suggested last week, that the building was located on Liberty street in Oakland, perhaps a forerunner of the present A. D. Naylor and Company.

Among these was Earl Shartzer, who said he remembered the structure as being in the vicinity of the present A. D. Naylor and Co. building, east of the Schley hotel, which was at the time close by the railroad station.

The white building to the left of the photo, he thought, could have been the Merrill store building, located on Railroad street, and he expressed the opinion that the smith standing in the doorway of the shop was E. G. Naylor, a brother of A. D. Naylor, who preceded the latter in the business here. The hill in the background he thought would be Crook's Crest.

Still others indicated it might have been the blacksmith shop of John Yellowly, which was located at the junction of Second and Water streets in Oakland.

A note from another reader, Mrs. Anna M. Witter, of Hagerstown, expresses the opinion that the photo was one section of the mill and shop of the old Kendall Lumber company, at Crellin. She said her father, Lloyd "Buzz" Wilburn, worked there in 1919 and 1920.

A careful examination of another photograph of the Kendall operation, from the files of The Republican, leads to the belief that the general construction of the buildings, and the terrain, could have placed the shop in this location, but most opinion favors the Oakland location.

The Photo This Week

Today's photograph shows a very different Mellenry from that known to the thousands of summer and winter visitors to Deep Creek Lake. In fact when this picture was taken, there was no lake, and no water is shown in the low field just beyond the town on Route 219. The lake was constructed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company and opened to the public in 1925.

The town of Mellenry was named for Dr. James Mellenry, an Irish immigrant who became a personal friend of George Washington and held numerous high positions in the Revolutionary army and the new United States government.

In later years, for reasons of his health, he abandoned his home in Baltimore and, together with several other persons, bought large land holdings in the section which was to become so well known as a tourist and vacationers' attraction. The land was originally known as 'Locust Tree Bottom.'

However, Mellenry returned to Baltimore in 1814 where he died May 3, 1816.

A Message from "Your Pharmacist"

HOW MUCH PROFIT DO YOU THINK

a pharmacy earns on each sale? Very few people realize how reasonable drug store service really is.

AUTHENTIC STATISTICS REVEAL

1. The actual wholesale cost to the pharmacy, of everything you get from us, averages 65.1c of every dollar you spend. This leaves 34.9 for all expenses and profits.
2. Salaries or wages in the average pharmacy are 19.2 cents per dollar of sales. This leaves 15.7c.
3. Other expenses like rent, heat, insurance, telephone, advertising, repairs, license fees, electricity, deliveries and state taxes amount to 11.1c of every sales dollar.

THIS LEAVES 3.7c NET PROFIT.

Which means that, if the average pharmacy were to reduce all prices only 1c on each dollar, it would lose money.

ARE WE COMPLAINING?

Of course not. We try to achieve this national average to be competitive and depend on increasing volume for satisfactory total profit.

If something is sold below its cost plus overhead expense, then other articles must be excessively priced. Personally, we prefer to make a fair profit on each sale, instead of raising prices on unfamiliar items.

STEP OUT IN IT

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

One of the disturbing discoveries of life is that the truth one man cherishes seems a mystery to another.

But is that surprising? We live in a world of doors and locks. To the man with the Key a door opens. To another it remains closed.

Among the keys to spiritual truth is one called HUMILITY. It accounts for many of the millions who worship God every Sunday in the churches of our land.

An American President once said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the knowledge that my own strength, and that of all around me, was insufficient for that day."

He ruled a nation divided. But neither Blue nor Gray ever questioned the humility of the man who signed his name, "A. Lincoln."

Not only the portal, but the Truth of God's House, is every Sunday an Open Door to humble men!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sticking To It

Lesson for February 7, 1960

PEOPLE get the strangest ideas about what it was like, nineteen centuries ago. When a thing has been a success for that length of time, people forget that it ever trembled on the brink of failure. Names that have been honored for nineteen centuries, we think must have been held in high honor from the start. When the most we know about a place long ago is the names of some very good people who lived there, we suppose everybody was cut from the same cloth.

Dr. Foreman

The plain fact is, Christianity had to fight for a toe-hold in the world in which it was born. It was not an irreligious world, the place was swarming with religions. It was not a world that felt "hungry for the gospel." It was not a world where the "higher values" were much sought after. In short, it was a pretty discouraging place to start.

Corinth, Cross-Roads Capital

This was specially true at Corinth. Paul started the Christian church going in that city. He has been known so long as an apostle that it is easy to over-rate his reputation at the time of his peak years. If you had got one citizen of Corinth, any citizen at all, by the corner of his toga and told him the Paul the Apostle, yes sir a real apostle, think of that, was coming to the city and intending to start a Christian church, the Corinthian citizen would have said something like—

"Apostle—what's that? Paul—who's he? Never heard of one or the other. Oh, a religionist is he? We've more than enough of that kind here. I hope he's not from the east? He is? From Jerusalem?—Oh—a Jew . . . Well, outside of being a superstitious lot those people are noters by nature. Mark my words, there'll be nothing in the synagogue before that nuisance has been here long. You can have him."

That wouldn't exaggerate a bit the scornful reception Paul might expect in Corinth—and he knew it. He wrote some years afterward that he came to Corinth in weakness (probably ill health), and in much fear and trembling—in modern slang, he was all shook up.

Paul the Dauntless

Nevertheless Paul was determined to start a Christian church going in that big booming indifferent city of Corinth. Not only were there all the difficulties of making a dent on a large commercial city, but Paul himself had good reason for not feeling at his best. He had just come from Athens, where (to be blunt about it) he had been a flop. Indeed he had been chased out of more cities than he had been invited back to. He had not stayed anywhere long, he had to battle for the chance to be heard. Would he do any better at Corinth? No Corinthians would bet on it.

As a matter of fact, in spite of the riot that did occur, just as you might have expected, in spite of being ignored, slandered, opposed, threatened, ridiculed, he stuck to it . . . and won. When he left that city he left behind him a Christian church which for all its faults had enough Christians to keep the church on its way all their lifetime.

In Spite of Everything

What kept Paul sticking to it? It was partly his own stubborn temperament, partly having friends who believed in him. But the main reason was that he was convinced he was doing God's work. People who get discouraged about the church ought to read about Paul again. In spite of ill health, active and bitter opposition, riots and threats of riots, in spite of the great difficulty he found in getting members from the "better class," in spite of the coarse materialism of a city like Corinth, the poverty of the church and its many problems, Paul did what he believed the Lord wanted him to do—stay with it till the job was done.

God surely wants his church to succeed, today as at any time in the past. But it is likely to succeed, in city or in country, wherever it is, only if the people who are responsible for it share, as Paul did, had something of the persistence of God.

Northern Is Loser To Valley 64 to 54

Valley High School of Lonaconing defeated Northern Huskies at Accident last Friday night by the score of 64 to 51.

The win by the Black Knights was the 8th of the campaign against five losses, while the Huskies now own a 4-7 mark for the season.

Getty paced the visitors with eight baskets and 5-6 at the foul line for 21 points, while Garlitz hit for 17 points. However, the honors in scoring went to George Patton of Northern who dumped in 27 points.

Valley hit for 25 baskets from the field compared to 21 for Northern, and made 11 of 18 attempts at the foul line. Northern had 12 for 18 at the foul stripe.

Valley led by only one point at the quarter, but increased the lead to 6 points at the half, 29 to 23. The third period found the two teams only one point apart at 35-31. Valley went on a rampage to score 29 points in the final period while Northern was making 20.

Scoring for Northern besides Patton were Long 7, McKenzie 7, Lowery 8, McCurdy 5, Georg was non-scoring.

Bear Creek Church Has Youth Service

In recognition of Youth Week the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, with Rev. Rogers Fike, pastor, presented a special pro- gram Sunday morning with the youth of the church taking re- sponsible parts in the program. The Call to Worship was presented by Sharon Rush followed by re- sponsive reading led by Ellis Schlossnagle. Scripture was read by Glenn Lane with Shirley Alex- ander leading in prayer. Offertory was presented by Mack Rush with Faye Alexander and Tommy Speicher serving as ushers. Mem- bers of the youth choir composed of Sharon Rush, Linda Schloss- nagle, Mary Ellen Beachy, Mack Rush, Barry Rush, Ellis Schloss- nagle, Denny Jensen and directed by Mrs. Irene Miller, rendered a special selection of music.

The message of the morning— "Youth—Everyone Desires It", was geared especially for the young people. Three of the most im- portant choices youth have to make were explained as the choice of a "life companion," "a vocation" and of "following Christ."

The closing prayer was by Bar- ry Rush. Pianist for the morning service was Nancy Miller.

By G. BRYAN BLAIR, Pastor
Mt. Lake Park Ev. U. B. Church

"Except A Man Be Born Again, He Cannot See the Kingdom of God" John 3:3) "Yes sir, I am going to start attending church and Sunday school." Most pastors hear these words every week from someone. They are usually in answer to a query as to why the person isn't already attending. Sometimes one is set to thinking, as to what the answer might be if, instead of merely inviting folks to church, we asked them if they knew the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal saviour. Some folks endure a church service while others find their strength for the week ahead. Only one who has his mind on spiritual things will see Christ and the kingdom of God in a worship service.

This thought brings us back again to the statement by our Lord "Except a man be born again." Perhaps no other Bible doctrine has been more abused and yet neglected than this one. Everyone recognizes the impor- tance of a natural birth in the lives of each of us. The parents and physician cooperate to insure the healthy normal birth of the child. For a long time after, certain vitamins are administered and cer- tain precautions are observed to insure the steady growth of the child into adulthood. Compare this to the treatment given to new converts in some quarters by some so-called adult Christians. Immedi- ately after the convert professes Christ as his saviour they begin to observe to see "if he'll hold out." They would not dream of merely watching a new born infant to see if he could "hold out" on his own. They would try to assist in teach- ing and caring for him, not ex- pecting that he would be on his own for many years later. In the Christian life there is a real and definite need for the proper pre- natal care before one can become a Christian. Christ explained this in St. John 6:44 "No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him:" In other words, we are not born as Christians anymore on our own doing than we could be born through a natural birth by our own will.

Jesus further explained the meaning of this in St. John 16 when he mentioned that the Comforter or Holy Spirit would not only en- courage the hearts of believers but convince the non-Christian of his unrighteousness and thereby draw him unto Christ. God's word clearly outlines that there are three defi- nite periods in the life of a Chris- tian. The time before his "new birth" when he realizes that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God", the time of "His Spirit bearing witness with our spirit that ole things have passed away and all things are be- come new, that we are the chil- dren of God", and the life-long process of growing in grace where- by we become adult Christians able to withstand "all the fiery darts of the wicked". Just as it is important to consult the physician during all the periods of natural growth in our lives so it is impor- tant to get full knowledge about real spiritual growth. The writer of Hebrews complained that there were many who were still feeding on milk when they should be full grown and subsisting on strong meat. Much of the whining and inactivity in today's Christianity is from those who never have been really born again. Others never have gotten beyond the "milk" stage in life. Don't take the advice of every religious "quack" that has something to say about the matter but turn to God's Word and the help of a sincere, earnest Christian pastor or friend and dis- cover that Christ is the "Great Physician". He is able to help us all through life, making each step better than the one before.

30-Day Assembly Session "On Trial"

The thirty-day session of the General Assembly, which began yesterday, is actually to be on trial this year, according to politicians who claim to know "what it's all about."

This is the sixth of the so-called short sessions in Maryland and there is some feeling it may be the least—at least in its present form.

There was growing sentiment to make some changes at least year's legislature. They were put off at the urging of Gov. Tawes, as this would provide the first real ex- perience with both the governor and the majority of the Legisla- ture belonging to the same party.

The short session was intro- duced in Maryland primarily for adoption of a budget every year instead of every two at one 90-day session. The originators of the short session sought to limit its scope by excluding bills of a local nature and any that could wait.

Otherwise only bills having to do with state budget and revenue matters, an acute emergency and in the general public welfare could be legally considered. But inter- pretations of bills under the emer- gency and general public welfare rules have allowed a flow virtually unchecked.

Principal suggestions of the past have been for equal sessions rang- ing from 45 to 75 days with no bobtails barred on the types of legis- lation or one short session limited strictly to the budget.

Game Dept. News Flashes of Interest

Several "gas flashes" distributed by the Game and Inland Fish Commission are of interest to Garrett residents this week.

Groundhog Hog—with the passing of Ground Hog day and the coming, we hope, of spring a field note from one of the conservation officials advises that a Garrett county farmer is making use of the surplus groundhogs shot on his farm to feed his trout and minnow ponds. "This is not a direct feeding" quotes the informant, "but ingeniously the farmer has hung the groundhog over the pond where maggots and bugs from same drop down automatically to feed the fish."

The rearing troughs at Beaver Creek hatchery are bursting with more than one-half million fish awaiting transfer to outside pools. One hundred ten thousand adult trout over 7 inches are ready for stocking. These adult brook, brown and rainbow trout will be moving into the streams the latter part of March.

In the final year of a five year study on Deep Creek Lake, conservation officials will pursue the study of introduced predators such as great northern pike, walleyes and chain pickerel. Results to date indicate a general reduction in yellow perch population. A noticeable increase in the carp population is indicated and every effort will be made to control the unwanted species to improve recreational fishing in Deep Creek Lake.

A recent news release on ice fishing suggested getting out "gigs". This was meant to be "jigs." It is illegal to gig fish through the ice and jigging is a term used in ice fishing to attract fish to the ice hole area by silver minnows, spoons, etc.

Ray Of Hope - - - - -

Ever since "cradle to the grave" security was inaugurated during the Roosevelt administration in the early thirties, many American citizens have lacked initiative, the excuse being it was an unnecessary qualification. There has been almost a stampede away from responsibility. The trend has seemed to be that government owes everybody a living and that the government's supply of give away money is inexhaustible.

Every now and then there has been a ray of hope for a change in attitude, and one such ray shines forth brightly this week. Some Lime Institute was criticizing Senators Butler and Beall of Maryland for favoring an amendment to a bill in Congress last June that would have cut the appropriation of the Agricultural Conservation Program by 150 million dollars. But the Garrett County farm bureau board of directors, representing 223 farm families, extended congratulations to the senators for their stand.

The board said it did not make sense "for the A. C. P. office to pay out large sums of money to farmers for practices that would increase production and for the same office to pay out money to farmers for taking land out of production." The board asked that activities of A. C. P. be restricted to practices of a permanent nature such as woodland management and conservation reserve. This attitude for self sufficiency could be siguificant.

For all the unwise spending of the past generation, some future taxpayers will have to pay. For all the free aids and services, someone will have to foot the bill.

Democratic candidates for president are all campaigning this year on Eisenhower's "failure to spend great sums of

Incidents In Captain Brock's Heroic Life Are Recalled

Last Survivor Of Charge Of Light Brigade Buried Here 39 Years Ago This Month

By Wilbur W. Close

A movement of forty years ago, to commemorate a mans life, ended, oddly enough, with his death in Oakland 39 years ago this month—on February 19, 1921.

This death, following a lingering illness, brought to an end the story of Captain James Brock . . . a story which, for the record, began with the celebrated Charge of the Light Brigade and ended in a small tailoring shop on Alder street in Oakland where the retired army officer ended his days with nothing more lethal than the needle and scissors, emolems of his trade.

In between times, Brock survived the murderous attack at the Battle of Balaklava during the Crimean war, was commissioned in the Royal Army and was personally awarded the Victoria Cross by Queen Victoria in recognition of his heroism under fire.

Capt. Brock's first claim to fame came on October 25, 1854. A private in the Eleventh Hussars, commanded by the Earl of Cardigan, his company of 100 men was one of six to fight the Russians at Balaklava under the collective title of "The Light Brigade."

Of the 600 men and seven officers participating in the charge made famous by Alfred, Lord Tennyson in his epic poem, "The Charge of the 600," only 150 survived—many of them seriously wounded.

"Cannon to the right of them, Cannon to the left of them . . . Volleyed and thundered," wrote Tennyson as Victoria's Poet Lau-

P-TA To Discuss Teen-Age Drivers

"Teen Age Drivers and School" will be the principal topic to be discussed at the Southern High School P-T. A. meeting next Monday night, Charles Briner, president announced today.

A panel moderated by Robert Wooters, program chairman, will be composed of students, Southern's guidance counselor, Ernest Spoerlein, and Eugene Flinn, driver education teacher. Students taking part in this program include Ann Lee Lohr, Maurice Brookhart and Rodney Barkhurst.

Also to be discussed is the Maryland Congress of P-T. A.'s support of the Maryland State Teachers' salary program.

In the absence of Kenneth Johns principal, Carl Everly, vice-principal, will represent the high school at the meeting. Prior to the business meeting which will begin at 8:00, teachers will be in their homerooms for parent conferences. Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor, will also be available for conference.

In view of the fact that report cards have recently been issued, this offers an excellent opportunity for parents to discuss progress of their children with teachers" Mr Johns stated.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

S. F. Hamill Named To Orphans' Court

The appointment of Stuart F. Hamill, Sr., Oakland attorney, as a member of the Orphans' Court for Garrett county was announced this week. Mr. Hamill was one of those recommended for the office by the Democratic State Central committee.

He will fill the vacancy created by the death of C. F. Hammond several weeks ago, and will serve until the regular election in 1962. The other two members of the court include Roy Turney, of Accident, and Truman C. Bittinger, of Oakland.

Ridgeley Man Hurt In Route 40 Crash

A 22-year-old Ridgeley man was hospitalized as the result of a chain-reaction highway accident involving three vehicles early last Friday morning on U. S. route 40, at the west end of Grantsville.

Admitted to Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland was Gary S. Barker, of Ridgeley, who was a passenger in a car operated by his father, Sherwood L. Barker.

According to State Police the multiple mishap was caused by an icy spot on an otherwise clear highway. A tractor-trailer operated by Willie James Bruce, 31, of Montgomery, Ala., jackknifed on the road to block both east and west traffic.

The westbound Barker car crashed into the tractor-trailer, according to Tfc Donald R. Wade, who said the auto was unable to stop on the slick road. Another westbound automobile, operated by Vera Hope Powers, 28, of Snow Hill, Md., also was unable to brake to a halt and crashed into the Barker vehicle which was demolished.

Barker's father suffered bruises and a nose laceration.

Unusual Weather Scheduled to End

The unseasonable weather of the past week was scheduled to end today or tomorrow, but indications were that much of the severe winter weather was again set to pass by "on the other side."

Garrett county had an unusual snow storm last Saturday evening. While snow fell in Oakland only to a depth of about an inch, there were three inches or more at Mt. Lake Park, less than two miles away, and even more than that registered in Deer Park and eastward to the top of the mountain.

It continued to snow and blow on Sunday but not enough to block highways. Enough snow was provided to make skiing possible over the week-end.

Thawing began on Monday with some rain Tuesday and Wednesday continued warm with the temperature getting up to 60 degrees yesterday. Although very unusual, this was no record, according to Ralph E. Weber, veteran weather man. What was unusual, he said, was the fact that up to the present time we have had less than two weeks of winter.

Southern Rings Up 11th Straight Win

Terry Colaw Tallies 30, Ron Colaw 23 In 12th Win Over Elk Garden

Terry and Ron Colaw meshed a total of 53 points between them last Thursday night to lead Coach Carl Schoonover's Southern High floormen to an 87 to 72 victory over Elk Garden High school in a Potomac Valley conference contest at Elk Garden.

The victory was the 11th straight for the Highlanders who chalked up their 12th triumph against two setbacks. Southern was last defeated on December 15 in a 54-52 overtime hattle at Lonaconing and avenged that setback by whipping Valley in Oakland 79 to 57 last week. Southern is 3-0 in the P. V. C. The loss was the ninth for Elk Garden against three wins in the league.

Terry Colaw scored 12 field goals, 6 of 8 fouls and 30 points. Ron Colaw was runner-up with 23 markers on 10 field goals and 3 of 4 fouls. Dick Stuck tossed in 11 points and Jerry Wine collected 10 to make four players in double figures. Stemple also had 1, Bolyard 4, Prince 6 and Malone 1 to complete the scoring. DiSimone was non-scoring.

Dave Burdock with 17 points and Garv Evans with 16 to his credit were the top scorers for Coach Paul Kalhaugh's quint. Also scoring were Burke and Harvey with 11 each, Junkins 2, Shillingburg 7, Knotts 3 and Paugh 5.

Southern started with a 26 to 12 lead at the quarter and held a 20-point lead at halftime 50 to 30. At one time in the game Oakland had a 26-point advantage. Elk Garden hit on a number of long set shots.

The Highlanders got 37 field goals to 26 for the Elks but the latter had the advantage at the foul line. They shot 20 of 32 while Southern had 13 out of 22 attempts.

In the preliminary game Elk Garden junior high defeated Southern 34 to 26.

Kitzmiller Man Is Jailed For 30 Days

A third party entered the scene this week in regard to the passing of bad checks.

Trial Magistrate Leslie Sharpless had Marshall Tasker, Kitzmiller, before him on Monday on a charge of receiving money under false pretense, and with being an accessory to the bad check writing of Thurmond Whitlaker and his wife Betty Whitlaker, also of Kitzmiller. He pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of 30 days in the county jail.

Sharpless said the amount of worthless checks cashed in the area since December 15 now totaled $672.37. Some of them had been cashed at Helbig's Mill, the Garrett Truck and Implement Company, Browning's store in Oakland, and the Grange Milling, at Mt. Lake Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker were sentenced last week to serve 90 days in the county jail but Mrs. Whittaker's sentence was suspended upon condition of good behavior.

One of Six Oakland Youths Is Held As Juvenile Delinquent

Six Oakland area teenagers were arrested last Saturday night by City Police in Cumberland in connection with the theft of food from a market in that city. City Police said they received the complaint around 6 p. m. and within an hour had all six youths in custody.

Sgt. Clarence C. Roby and Officers Royce J. Clayton, James A. Brown, Murl S. Boggs and J. Carl Stouffer combined efforts to catch the teenagers.

One youth was nabbed at a gasoline station, three were picked up in an automobile and the other two were spotted walking in the area of the market.

The youths denied being in the store. However, an amount of meat, bread and potato chips were found in the area where the youths were located in the car.

One of the six was charged with being a juvenile delinquent at a hearing before Magistrate Louis Fatkin. Fatkin deferred sentencing until May 9. The youth made restitution in the amount of 82 cents, it was stated. The five other youths were not charged.

The magistrate ordered all of the juveniles to get hair cuts.

Judge Fraley Hears Arguments in Case Of Browning Estate

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley heard arguments last Friday in the Garrett County Circuit court in the case involving the estate of Richard S. Browning, who died February 15, 1959, as the result of an automobile accident.

Judge Fraley also received briefs from the attorneys in the case. The trial was held January 18 in the Circuit court.

Two persons are claiming to be the widow of Mr. Browning. One is Mrs. Margaret E. Browning, also known as Margaret E. Brown, of White Plains, New York, whom he married according to the records, November 28, 1912, in Spokane, Washington. The other is Ifelen Elizabeth Pratt Shafer Browning, whom he married January 14, 1959 in Frostburg.

The suit was sent over to the Circuit court from the Orphans court of Garrett county in June, 1959, after argument developed as to who was entitled to be the rightful administrator of the estate, estimated at $15,000 to $20,000. The estate includes some valuable property on Deep Creek Lake, it was stated.

Letters of administration had been granted to Robert E. Browning (Brown) now residing in Bethesda, a son of Mrs. Margaret E. Browning (Brown). Then a petition for revocation of letters of administration and an application for appointment as administratrix was filed by Mrs. Helen E. Pratt Shafer Browning, widow, of Mt. Lake Park.

Attorneys for the administrator of the estate are Lewis R. Jones and E. Ray Jones. Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., is attorney for the second wife.

The question Judge Fraley now must rule on is "Who is the lawful widow?" A written opinion will be filed within the next few weeks.

Farm Group Votes To Support Cut in A C P Budget

County Bureau Sends Letter Of Approval To Both Maryland Senators

United States Senators J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler received a congratulatory message this week from the Garrett County Farm Bureau, praising them for their support of an amendment that would have reduced the budget of the agricultural conservation program. The amendment failed and the National Agricultural Limestone Institute had criticized the senators for their stand in favoring reduced expenditures.

The letter to the senators is self explanatory and is published in full. The letter of commendation was the result of a meeting of the board of directors of the farm bureau, held on January 27, and is signed by Ross Crowe, president. The letter:

"Under date of Dec. 14, several of us received communications from the National Agricultural Limestone Institute criticising you for your action on June 2, '59 in voting for an amendment, introduced into the Senate by Senator Williams of Delaware. The purpose of this amendment was to strike out the figure $250,000,000, and to insert $100,000,000 in its place for use of the Agricultural Conservation Program during the next fiscal year.

"We, the Board of Directors of the Garrett County Farm Bureau, representing a membership of 223 farm families, in regular session, by unanimous vote, wish to extend our sincere congratulations to both of you for the brave stand which you have taken by favoring this reduced expenditure.

"As we are risking some of our popularity, (and are keeping money from our pocketbooks) by taking this stand, we know that you also risked yours by taking the firm stand which you took.

"But, to us it just does not make sense for the A. C. P. Office to pay out large sums of money to farmers for practices which will increase production, and for the same office to pay out money to farmers for taking land out of production. We are not opposing A. C. P. in its entirety, but are asking that its activities be restricted to practices of a permanent nature such as woodland manage-

Sandra Savage, who won the Betty Crocker Homemaker award at Southern High last week, was among the five highest rating girls in the state, it was learned from the assistant director of the program. A letter to this effect was received by Ernest C. Spoerlein, guidance director.

The examination papers of the five are being reviewed by Science Research associates. First place winner will receive a scholarship worth $1,500 while second place will get a $500 scholarship.

Road Plan Preview Heard By Delegates

Western Maryland delegates got an advanced look Tuesday at the State Roads Commission plans for their share of the new network of highways to be completed over the next five years. The program was presented to the legislature Wednesday.

The Commission seeks permission to abandon timetables of the 12-year roads program and concentrate on construction of 390 miles of main highways in the state.

They were assured that improvements to U. S. 40 from Hancock west to Keyser Ridge, some 44 miles, rate high priority among construction plans. He said the new timetable calls for completion of this mountainous stretch by 1963, except for the seven-mile Cumberland Thruway which will be constructed from 1962 to 1965.

In addition the remaining two incompleted portions of U. S. 219 improvements in this county would be finished by 1965 giving motorists good highways all the way to Deep Creek Lake. The 4.8 mile stretch from Hoyes to Deep Creek would be finished by 1962 and from Keyser Ridge to Accident by 1965.

New Auto Tags For 1960 Are Shipped

Over 4,000 sets of auto license plates for the 1960-61 year for passenger automobiles were shipped yesterday to Joseph H. Welch county treasurer. They won't be on sale, however, until sometime in March.

The tags will have a light green background with black numbers and letters. They will be for both front and rear of the vehicle. They must be attached to automobiles by April 1 and may be attached after March 1. The tags will expire March 31, 1961.

Garrett county tags will have the letters "G C" and numerals starting with 25-01 and running to 65-99.

License plates also may be obtained by sending the applications direct to the office of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in Baltimore. Application blanks have not yet been mailed to auto owners from the commission office but this will be done the latter part of February, it was stated.

No special numbers are to be available this year. Welch said his office would strictly adhere to the regulation of the department. "First come, first served" will be the motto, he said. All tags will be sold consecutively just as they come off the pile.

The treasurer's office is also authorized to sell trailer tags, not for hire, this year.

Welch also announced he would collect $8.00 from persons this year who did not have liability insurance.

Power Company Will Spend Huge Sum on Building Projects

Monongahela Power company will spend approximately $31 million over the next three years for construction projects designed to keep power supply ahead of constantly growing demand.

Don Potter, president of the electric utility which serves most of northern and central West Virginia and adjacent areas in Ohio, Maryland and Virginia, and that while $16 million of the total will go to complete the new generating unit at the company's Willow Island station this year, an average of $8 million per year for the three-year period is planned for line construction and service improvements.

The Willow Island unit, costing a total of $25,600,000, will be completed by early fall. In full operation, it will add in excess of 175,000 kilowatts to the system's power supply.

During 1960, approximately $5,500,000 is budgeted for the distribution system designed primarily to provide adequate voltage conditions. Constantly growing use of electricity in the home is contributing importantly to load growth, Potter pointed out, also that much of the scheduled construction program represents building for the future, since a steady trend towards all-electric living is anticipated.

In the last three years, the Monongahela executive said, some 700 electrically-heated homes have been built in the company's service area.

Major projects scheduled to start during 1960 are:

Grafton-Buckhannon 132,000-volt line, to provide improved voltage and continuity to the Elkins and Southern divisions and to facilitate maintenance. Cost, $1,105,000.

A new 132,000 volt line to Fairmont Aluminum company, to serve expanded operations-$430,000.

Mr. Wolfe retired and the board agreed.

Approve Improvements

Improvement projects for the summer included the library room for Kitzmiller school, replacement of gym floor at Northern High, painting interior and exterior of the Friendsville, Deer Park and Red House buildings, painting of interior of high school shop buildings and some exterior painting of the high schools as time permits. In regard to the gym floor at Northern the Board approved a concrete floor covered with a resilient vinyl tile as most practical and most inexpensive.

Placement of orders amounting to $5,600 for instructional materials available under national defense education act, was approved. Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the amount is matched dollar for dollar by the federal government. The materials are for improvement of the educational program in mathematics, science, foreign languages and guidance.

A survey of vital need for books and instructional materials in any classroom in the county showed no serious shortages existing anywhere.

There was no action on the plan to construct an additional room and to enlarge the all purpose room at Red House. The board had requested approval from the County Commissioners to borrow $40,000 from the State School Construction Fund for this work, but no reply had been received, it was stated.

Mr. Hawkins, in regard to matters discussed at a recent meeting of school superintendents in Baltimore and a hearing on the teacher salary bill, reported much support for the teacher salary bill but said the governor and legislative council had taken a firm stand in favor of the James bill, which is designed to benefit those with more teaching experience.

The board is seeking bids for purchase of a new automobile, to be one of four in the low priced field.

In reply to complaints from parents that bus drivers were using creamery hill when roads were icy and dangerous, the board notified the superintendent to instruct the drivers that hill was not to be used at such times.

An organizational meeting of an educational council is set for this evening at the Center street school auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

Members of the board and the superintendent plan to attend a meeting of school administrators at Atlantic City, starting February 13, which annually attracts around 30,000 board members and educators.

Where I Get Superior Strength

The argument about our Defense potential boil down to this: Critics of the Eisenhower Administration, particularly certain candidates for the Presidency, say that there is a "missile lag", and the basis on the accepted fact that the U. S. S. R. is producing more intercontinental missiles (ICBM's) than we are. (Regardless of the Administration, on the other hand, answer that missiles aren't everything, that our over-all strength is superior and our over-all deterrent power is adequate.

If the ICBM were the only means of delivering a nuclear warhead, the criticism would be important. The ICBM is not the only means. So long as our other means are effective, the prospect that the Russians will outbuild us in ICBM's is no cause for alarm. Matching missile for missile is not necessary. In fact, whether Russia's advantage in ICBM's will be four to one, or two to one, or less, is not important. The over-all potential is what counts.

Our retaliatory capacity is great. The enemy would have to reckon with our manned bombers of the Strategic Air Command with its 100 bases, with our tactical air forces deployed overseas, with the might of our Navy carriers, with the Polaris submarines, and with the Army's missiles. Our over-all strength includes such solid things as foreign agreements on mutual security, bases on foreign soil, and production capacity. Our industrial might, which has been a powerful arm in two world wars, must be taken into consideration; I feel that no contender can prevail without industrial superiority—and we have that.

We are talking about material things. Spiritual values, too, are on our side. Impregnable strength lies within the heart of Americans. We have an abiding faith that the right will survive. If we could not hold to this, then all history and all philosophy would have taught us nothing—and life would have no meaning.

Costs Of War—The Federal budget breaks down into the following five categories:

Major national security	54
Interest	11
Debt retirement	5
Veterans	7
Agriculture	7
Other	16
Total	100

The 54 per cent for major national security is not the only charge attributable to war or the fear of it. "Interest" and "debt retirement" will go largely for past debt incurred by war. Most of the waste in the agricultural program results from carrying over war-inspired farm legislation into peace. A substantial fraction of "other" is defense inspired, and includes such hefty items as the conduct of foreign affairs, the space program, veterans' housing, civil and defense mobilization, and subsidies to the merchant fleet.

A Flying Ship On Order—An 80-ton hydrofoil ship has been ordered by the U. S. Maritime Commission. The craft, tentatively scheduled for launching in June 1961, will be the first full-scale test of hydrofoils, underwater "wings" that let the craft skim over the waves at high speed—a big vessel at 85 miles per hour.

Construction At Record High—Despite the effects of the steel strike, the value of new construction put in place in 1959 reached a record high of 54 billion, 300 million dollars, the Department of Commerce reports. Expenditures for private construction at 383 billion represented a gain of 14 per cent, while public construction at [illegible] billion [illegible] per cent higher than 1958. Private residential building [illegible] from 18 billion dollars in 1958 to 22.4 billion in 1959, accounted for four-fifths of the overall increase.

Another Spender—You have been hearing about backdoor spending. Let me tell you about another. That's a list of 16 Government agencies that have been authorized over the past 29 years or more to borrow from the Treasury to finance activities and the amounts they still owe the Treasury:

1. Commodity Credit Corporation—$2.7 billion dollars;

2. Rural Electrification Administration—almost 3 billion dollars;

3. Farmers Home Administration—963 million dollars;

4. Export-Import Bank—1.9 billion dollars;

5. Housing and Home Finance Agency—2.8 billion dollars;

6. International Cooperation Administration—1.2 billion dollars;

7. Reconstruction Finance Corporation—now liquidating;

8. St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp.—112 million dollars;

9. Veterans' Administration—930 million dollars;

10. General Service Administration—19 million dollars.

Spend, Spend, Spend! Pay, Pay, Pay!—I am constantly getting letters asking me to support some certain bill authorizing the expenditure of Federal funds for a particular service or project. Many good people push their pet projects, some worthy, some [illegible], while often insisting that Congress stop spending men.

I don't like it any more than you do, but before I take a few. The 29+ billion dollars of current public debt, plus 250 billion dollars of future commitments for past services, plus 3 billion of C. O. D.'s, adds up to the incredible total of 728 billion dollars. The other friends, is the Federal government's gross [illegible] is [illegible] billion, [illegible] annual cost of [illegible] and [illegible] on [illegible] all. [illegible] of Federal [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Exams Scheduled For Census Takers

Examinations will be held in Cumberland Friday afternoon for positions as crew leaders in the 1960 census in Garrett and Allegany counties

George R Hughes Jr., district supervisor for Maryland's sixth congressional district, said about 25 applicants from the two counties would take the tests set for Friday afternoon at 1:15 at Fort Hill high school

He said the crew leaders, four for Allegany and one for Garrett county, will be selected on the basis of tests within a week or 10 days.

Applications for census enumerators are still being taken at the District Census office, 35 West Patrick street, in Frederick. Mr Hughes said interested persons should write, call or visit the district office to make applications.

After crew leaders are selected and tested plans completed post cards will be sent to enumerator applicants notifying them of the date, time and place of qualifying tests which will be used to make selections

Crew leaders will be responsible for training enumerators and current plans call for all personnel to be selected and trained by April 1. Garrett county will have one crew leader and 16 enumerators

Mr Hughes advised this week that applications for enumerator positions should be submitted as soon as possible He added that while the number of job applicants is quite heavy in some areas, applications from this county were not, and that additional applicants can be taken

Enumerators will be paid about $12 per day, either on a piecework or hourly basis Some mileage will be available for enumerators working in rural areas. Crew leaders will be paid about $15.60 daily.

The census will be conducted in connection with a U S Bureau of the Census housing questionnaires which will be left at every fourth house for the owner or renter to complete

Captain Brock

reate, and "Into the Valley of Death rode the 600!"

During the carnage which followed, as the English cavalry charged into the face of firmly entrenched Russian guns, Capt. Brock later recalled that "men and horses by the hundreds went down in one red burial blend." The battle covered a distance of a mile and a half and lasted only about half an hour, he said.

Himself badly wounded, he was able to rescue a more sorely injured comrade and the two found safety behind their lines. It was for this act of heroism that Capt. Brock later found himself before Queen Victoria as she presented him with the Victoria Cross, inscribed "For Valour," and said to him, "Your Queen is proud of you."

The war in which Capt. Brock distinguished himself was in itself distinguished in a number of ways.

Possibly more than any military campaign, it was related very directly with the Crusades of hundreds of years earlier, in that its primary purpose was to keep the Holy Land open to Christian nations. For this purpose England, France, Turkey and Sardinia had handed themselves together against Russia. Of relatively small political or military consequence, it nevertheless stirred the patriotism and enthusiasm of the people, and this feeling was fanned by such poetry as Tennyson's "Charge," known to every school child.

During this war, too, Florence Nightengale, an English nurse, found battlefield first aid facilities so wretched that she later founded the Red Cross to improve the plight of the wounded soldier. The Crimean war also was the first to be covered by news correspondents and photographers.

Following the war, Capt. Brock came to the United States, where he pursued his trade as a tailor in New England, later in Cumberland and finally in Oakland, where his shop was located on Alder street in one of the rooms now occupied by the DeWitt and DeBerry store.

By 1920 Capt. Brock, now 85 years of age, had outlived all other members of the famed "600"—the only man of his regiment who had not entered the Valley of Death for the last time.

It was during this year that considerable interest developed locally to secure the cooperation of the British government in recognizing the lone survivor of one of Britain's most famous campaigns. But before the movement could get underway, Capt. Brock himself entered into the valley from which there could be no return.

For the past nearly 40 years, Capt. Brock's grave in the Oakland cemetery, where he lies beside his wife, has borne no hint of his unusual military career, being marked simply "Capt. James Brock" together with the dates of his birth and death.

The grave is decorated sometimes on Memorial Day by local veterans' organizations, with the United States flag, and curiously enough, on the grave is a metal marker of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Perhaps this is symbolic of Capt. Brock's allegiance to both countries.

money" for all kinds of New Deal welfare programs. We thought that slogan "New Deal," was dead, but apparently far from it. John Kennedy is telling people they are being cheated by nierarchy spending. The battle cry is not what the Eisenhower administration has done, how much it has spent—but how little. The administration's unforgivable sin, apparently is excessive conservatism. Those candidates will do their best to get back on the "tax, tax, tax—spend, spend, spend" program, to the everlasting detriment of the United States.

That's why we are happy when even one tiny little ray of common sense appears on the scene. Incentives, not subsidies, meet human needs.

The trend to the belief that government owes everybody a living, must be stopped somehow. More power to people like these who compose the farm bureau. They want self respect retained, whatever the cost.

Listen Americans!
...by Dr. George S. Benson
Searcy, Arkansas

Some universities and colleges are refusing to participate in the Federal Defense Loan program because the student receiving a loan from it must pledge allegiance to the United States of America and sign an affidavit declaring he is not a member or supporter of the Communist Party. Some of them say this requirement constitutes an affront to freedom of belief and conscience. Most Americans will not agree with this viewpoint.

The student loan loyalty oath is just another safeguard which our Congress has erected against the contuating growth of an evil force dedicated to our utter destruction. If a student or prospective student believes in the violent overthrow of the U. S. Government and the establishment of Khrushchev as Red Dictator of our nation, and is working as a conspirator to achieve that goal, then no university or governmental agency or college president should be covering up his true colors and financing his education. A normal youthful man or woman should be proud to declare loyalty to country.

The Communist world-wide apparatus draws most of its leadership staff from among college graduates. When the U. S. Army investigated the astounding success of Communist "brain-washing" of American GI's in the North Korean prison camps, it was revealed that the Communist instructors at the camps were in many instances graduates of American colleges and universities. Their college education had helped prepare them to become highly valuable propagandists and psychologists adept at controlling the minds of non-Communists.

Just recently a 91 year old man came to our offices seeking material with which he might alert the people in his community to the dangers of Communism. He told about his daughter who had become a Communist while a student in an American university. He said that after a number of years away from college she claimed to have divorced herself from Communism. But he said he doubted it. This woman had become a Communist through the recruitment efforts of other student Communists at the university she attended.

One recent Fall school opening, a young man entered a teachers college in a Western state. He quickly became a member of the Communist Party cell on the campus. His father saw the radical change taking place in him and upon investigation found that he had become a Communist. The father went to the college president.

The father later testified at a legislative hearing: "I complained to him (the college president) about the activities of these young Communists and the Communist Party generally, there at the normal school and told him how they were weaning my son away from his home, and from the church and from everything decent, for that matter, and all the consolation I got out of him (the college president) was the statement, 'Mr.———, someday you will be proud of your boy, he's alright.'" The college president was mistaken: the father never became proud of his son. The son, alienated from family and apparently a steadfast Communist, became a teacher in one of the big Western universities.

The loyalty oath for students borrowing money from the federal government represents one blockade to the Communists, in one of the most vital areas of their work—education.

Is Your Name YODER?

Yoder is an old and honored surname, is principally of German origin. It is the equivalent of Jeder and Feder, German surnames which are believed to be derived from the Old German personal name Theodoric. The latter stems from the Old German "theud" and "ric" (German "reich") or "people and ruler". Thus Yoder may be interpreted literally as "ruler of the people".

Jacob Yoder (1758-1839) served as a private in the Pennsylvania troops during the Revolutionary War and took part in the battles of Brandywine, Germantown and Valley Forge.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has twenty three listings of persons by the name of Yoder who were residents of Pennsylvania and heads of families at that time. The census records of Maryland for the same period have no references to the name of Yoder.

The second court in Garrett County was held in December 1873. Henry Yoder was a member of the grand jury at that time.

There are eleven references to persons by the name of Yoder in the latest directory of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society.

Carl Minter Yoder (1858-1945), a direct descendant of John Yoder who settled in Lehigh County, Pennsylvania prior to 1734, was a successful manufacturer of metal products. Educated in the public and evening schools, he invented a machine which rolled, bent and beaded sheet metal and steel for industrial purposes, and in 1910 he founded, and was president of, Yoder Company of Cleveland, Ohio to manufacture his new machine. Starting with only one employee besides himself, Mr. Yoder developed the business to one with more than 800 employees at the time of his death.

Albert Henry Yoder (1883-1940) was professor of education at the University of North Carolina. Dale Yoder is professor at the University of Maryland.

40's

A decade of extremes. Natural gas growth was slow, but steady, until the end of World War II. Then—an avalanche of requests for gas service. Temporary gas shortages cropped up in cold weather. Eventually, Southwest gas would supplement the local supplies during the heating season. But the 40's saw only Appalachian area gas available to meet this skyrocketing demand. For the 50's, gas-moving facilities had to be enlarged and some Southwest gas had to be obtained.

This was a busy 10 years. For the first time, Southwest gas was piped to residents who had depended on local gas for over one-half century. Pipeline construction moved at a phenomenal pace. The link to the supplier of Southwest gas was completed. Area gas-moving carriers were rebuilt and enlarged. Rising costs hit us hard. The cost of Southwest gas rose as all sections of our nation bid for that gas. Pipeline construction costs increased. And, with all this, natural gas still remained the most economical automatic fuel for every household and heating use.

This decade promises continued growth and prosperity. We will work to help lead this progress. Today, a modern, virtually unseen gas plant springs into action immediately to meet your gas demands, summer or winter, day or night. This rebuilt plant symbolizes our pledge: Furnish nature's finest fuel—Natural Gas—at prices that keep it the best automatic fuel value.

Mild Weather Brings Early Fish Stocking

Mild weather has increased interest in early fish stocking, according to the State Game and Inland Fish commission.

Several loads of fish in regions 1 and 2 of Western Maryland are being put out in February this year to give fishermen an early trout season.

Albert Powell Hatchery superintendent, said one of the most successful trout production seasons had been experienced this past year. Four thousand adult brook trout weighing over 12 pounds have been raised at the Bear Creek hatchery and are to be equally distributed over the ten trout counties. Four hundred adult "tackle buster" trout will be divided equally among the ten counties. According to commission officials 20 percent of the 110,000 adult trout stocked in the 155 miles of Maryland trout waters will be brooks, 17 percent brown and 63 percent rainbow.

The season for trout closes March 14 at 8 p. m., and will reopen April 15, at 5:30. The fee for a state resident fishing license is $3. $10 for non-residents who are permitted to fish state-wide in inland waters. A special year long license for residents of Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, good for Potomac River only, costs $3.

Short Income Tax Blank Is Explained

The new short return form 1040-W provided for 1959 Federal income tax filing has been explained by the director of internal revenue for the Baltimore district.

The new two-page return form may be used by any individual whose income consisted of salary and wages, regardless of amount, and not more than $2,000 income from interest and dividends.

Husband and wife whose combined income meets these tests may file a joint return on this form. The new form is designed to allow taxpayers the benefits of head of household, sick pay exclusion, dividends received credit, retirement income credit, itemizing deductions for contributions, interest payments, medical expenses and the like. Formerly none of these benefits could be claimed without filing on the regular four-page form 1040.

The simple card form 1040-A is still provided for taxpayers whose income is under $10,000 consisting of salary or wages reported on form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends and interest.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT: Better Health Through Knowledge

More About One-Shot Allergy Treatment

● High-Living & Blood Pressure ○ Stomach Acid

Q. Last summer I took the usual injections for hay fever. Next year I'd like to try the one-shot cure. Will the new treatment be ready by then?

A. Maybe, but let's review what is now known about the one-shot method. First, it's not a "cure." It helps in the same way as ordinary allergy injections and these don't cure—they just keep things under better control. There are other misconceptions about the new "one shot" allergy treatment that need clearing up. Here are a few:

Fancy: The one-shot method is simple.

Fact: It isn't. It's quite involved, and a number of injections are required to get the one-shot treatment under way.

Fancy: The one-shot preparation is available through drug stores.

Fact: It is not now commercially available. Most of the material used so far has been hand-made by only one allergy research laboratory.

Fancy: The new method will cost less than the old.

Fact: Because of the cost of manufacture and the time required in the preparation and treatment of each patient, the present cost is usually the same as or more than that for ordinary treatment methods.

Q. It seems to me that half the people I know have high blood pressure. Isn't this due to the fast pace of modern living?

A. Emotions, pressures, and drive play an important part in pushing the blood pressure up, but as we have pointed out before, this is only part of the picture. It certainly seems true that "civilization" isn't so good for blood pressure. Doctors have found that few natives in Africa have high blood pressure. Move these people to cities and the blood pressure of many starts to climb. Life, it seems, is difficult; presumably it is more difficult on Main Street than in tranquil, tropical forests. However, the move to cities introduces other factors. The diet changes and diet is certainly another factor in high blood pressure. Obviously, this matter of blood pressure can't be explained solely on the basis of the pressure of modern living.

Q. Do doctors have anything to counteract stomach acid and the terrible bloating I have?

A. Gassy bloating may be associated with an acid condition and, if so, your doctor will give you something to "counteract" it. In many cases, however, the real trouble can't be cleared up by such a simple remedy. Lots of bloating occurs even when there is no acid condition. The affected person may have a "nervous stomach," gallbladder disease, or may just be swallowing air. The basic trouble could be in the colon or lower intestinal tract—not in the stomach. All the possible causes will be probed by your doctor. As in any condition, effective treatment can be prescribed only after a diagnosis is made.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's physician.

"I take it that it is best for all to leave each man free to acquire property as fast as he can. Some will get wealthy. I don't believe in a law to prevent a man from getting rich; it would do more harm than good. So while we do not propose any war upon capital, we do wish to allow the humblest man an equal chance to get rich with everybody else. When one starts poor, as most do in the race of life, free society is such that he knows he can better his condition; he knows that there is no fixed condition of labor for his whole life."

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Irvin G. Steiding
SAND FLAT ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Text: Jude 3 . . .and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints. Someone said that, "here was a man who started out to write an encyclopedia and ended up writing a memo." The lines of our text are some of the most powerful in the complete New Testament.

The writer of this text is one of the four men who are mentioned in the New Testament as brothers of our Lord. James was the first bishop. He writes a letter which bears his name and is part of the New Testament. James' letter was addressed to the Jews of the Dispersion. Jude's treatise was evidently to the Gentile churches in which he set forth the Gospel of the common salvation.

In bringing this text to our present day, and everyday life of the community, I believe these words are needed for this day. I feel that the majority of the people of our area are desirous for a revival. A testimony received by a man in this area was that he had been praying for a revival for 37 years, and he believed that God was still going to answer his prayers. Jude says we should "earnestly contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints".

A New Ttestament revival can be for us if only we will repent of our sins and call upon the Lord as spoken of in II Chron. 7:14. A Book of Acts repetition can be for us today. Acts 2:17 "And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour ont my Spirit upon all flesh."

This being a day of the social gospel, and the gospel of modernism, and liberalism, a day in which a real born-again experience is thought to be "out of date". Instead of praying though and finding Christ real to our hearts, the trend is join some church, and just do the best you can and everything will be all right. Jude's words are, "contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints".

Jude urges every believer to "to earnestly contend." If everyone reading this sermon would make it a prayer to not be satisfied with a lifeless worship and testimony, but seek the Lord with all their heart, remove prejudice, and contend for the faith, we can see religion in reality.

Friend, sooner or later we all will come face to face with reality, all of us are going to come face to face with God, and I trust you will counsel with your hungry, longing heart in this moment. Ask yourself: "Is this not what I need? Isn't it true that this is what I have been looking for? Why should I wait longer? I am going to know the mighty Saviour of the New Testament for myself and in such a fashion that I will have His power resting upon my life." Jesus will send it if only you will believe.

Plaid Uniforms End Five Year Tradition

Sporting new cheerleading uniforms for the first time in five years are members of the Varsity cheering team at Southern High school, Oakland. Ann Lee Lohr, Georgia Ann Glotfelty, Margaret Nally, Kathryn Mosser, and Shirley Warren.

The traditional Scotch plaid "Highlanders" uniforms are not to be discarded. The cheerleaders plan to use the old uniforms in some of the home games this year and possibly some of next year's games.

The new uniforms, white monogramed sweaters and red and white skirts, were designed by the cheerleaders. Mrs. Thomas Fraley of Crellin, Maryland, was responsible for the needlework.

Ann Lee Lohr, head cheerleader, stated that the corduroy and gore materials cost the cheerleaders twenty-seven dollars. The cost of labor for making the unitorms was seventeen dollars and fifty cents, bringing a total of forty-four dollars and ninety-five cents.

The Varsity cheerleaders, along with introducing new uniforms have been busy introducing new cheers to Southern High rooters.

Booths Must Tell Story in 60 Seconds

"Make your booth a 'tell-a-vision' show" explained Miss Dorothy Emerson, Associate State 4-H Club Leader, University of Maryland at an Exhibit Booth Workshop held January 3 at the Accident Fire Hall. Each booth, Miss Emerson stressed, should show and tell as well as tell and teach an idea.

"It is essential to tell a story in 60 seconds" said Miss Emerson. The reason for this is that people move fast, so in order to get a message across, it must be done simply and to the point. Methods used to get the messages across are done through such things as signs, background arrangement, and action. The essential element in all of this, it was explained, is to plan, plan, and plan.

Ninety-three 4-H'ers and homemakers attended this workshop to learn how to develop booth exhibits. Many of the clubs put exhibits in their communities and in the Garrett County Fair to explain and tell about their activities.

North Star 4-H Club had the largest group attending for any one club with a total of nine. Coming the longest distance were two 4-H clubs Potomac Highlanders and Ryans Glade. Other 4-H clubs represented were Bittinger Boys', Bittinger Girls', Monte Vista, North Glade, Grantsville, Accident, and Negro Mountain Homemakers Clubs represented were Bittinger, Casselman Valley, Mars Hill, Accident, and Grantsville.

This event was sponsored by the Garrett County Extension Office.

BY JOHN R. FOLEY
Congressman 6th District

On January 6th the second session of the 86th Congress got underway. Thus far there has been no activity on the floor of the House. The various committees and their subcommittees have, however, begun the initial processing of bills carried over from the First Session. It is expected that beginning with the first week of February debates and votes on bills will begin.

Early action by the House Public Lands subcommittee on January 13th resulted in the unanimous reporting of the Antietam Battlefield Preservation Bill, H. R. 1805. On January 20th, the House Interior Committee reported the bill by a unanimous vote after a proposed amendment was defeated by a vote of 10 to 5. At the present time no final decision has been made as to whether the bill will go to the Rules Committee or be placed on the consent calendar.

Prospects are excellent that the House, early in the session, will pass H. R. 2331, the bill to establish the C & O Canal National Historical Park. I have talked with almost all members of the Rules Committee and have received a generally favorable reception. On January 18th, Chairman Howard W. Smith, Dem., Va., wrote Wayne Aspinall, Chairman of the Interior Committee, concerning H. R. 2331, as follows: "Mr. Foley recently spoke to me concerning this matter and I told him that I would be more than happy to discuss the matter at the first meeting of our committee." This first meeting of the Rules Committee should be held early in February.

In addition to the foregoing important matters, other issues are coming of great significance to our Congressional District. The President's Budget proposals for 1961 would cut back the Federal aid for impacted school areas by $54 million. The administration is seeking to reduce this school program by appropriation having failed last summer in a direct legislative approach. H. R. 7140, containing the administration's cutback and cut out proposals was voted down by the Bailey subcommittee. The fight will resume all over again to make certain that this program will be fully operative during 1961.

The Corps of Engineers is continuing its survey of the Potomac River Basin between Harpers Ferry and the Metropolitan Washington area. The President's Budget for 1961 includes $400,000 for the survey. This will leave a final balance of $320,000 for 1962. The results of the survey will have a profound influence on the future of the people of the Sixth District.

Farm Families May Be Losing Protection

Many Garrett County farm families may be losing protection that's legally theirs according to a report from W. B. Wiley, District Manager of the Cumberland Social Security office.

Due to misunderstanding of the social security law, many farmers believe that filing social security reports on farm earnings is voluntary. In other instances, farmers believe that two or three years of social security coverage is sufficient to receive payments.

Self employed farmers having net earnings of at least $400 in a taxable year are required to file tax returns with Internal Revenue Service and to pay the social security tax. Even though net earnings from the farm do not amount to as much as $400 in a year, a farmer may report his social security by the "Optional method" if his gross income is $600 or more.

The length of time a farmer needs under social security depends on the date of death or when he reaches retirement age. As an example, an individual who reaches retirement age this month will need 4½ years to be insured. The mandatory social security reporting requirements are relatively unimportant, Wiley stressed, when you realize that through these reports a young farmer with moderate income can provide for substantial monthly income to his family in case of his untimely death.

During 1959, there was approximately $192,000 paid in survivors benefits to 375 widows and children in Garrett County, Wiley stated. These payments ranged from $49.00 to $254.00 a month per family, according to the amount of covered social security earnings reported by the deceased worker. These survivors benefits continue to the family as long as there are any minor children, or any disabled children, regardless of age, in the family.

In addition to survivor benefits, recent amendments to the Social Security Act provide for disability payments for those disabled farmers who are at least 50 years old, who have a minimum of 5 years of social security coverage, Wiley stated.

Many farmers, both young and old, apparently do not realize the protection features of the social security program.

A farmer who dies with insufficient credits could leave a widow and minor children with no income whatever; or when he does reach retirement age, he may find that no benefits are payable since he lacks the proper number of credits.

A free booklet "How Does Social Security Affect Farm Families?" is available from the Social Security office in Oakland, or additional information is obtained from a social security representative who is at the Armory in Oakland every Tuesday morning at 10:30.

Mountaineer High Ball Player Dies Following Wreck

A 17-year-old basketball player from Mountaineer High school at Thomas, W. Va., died Sunday morning, February 7, of injuries he sustained in a car-truck collision Friday evening near Thomas.

Victim of the crash was Joseph Carl Geroski, Davis, W. Va., who died in Tucker county hospital, Parsons, of head injuries.

Southern High school was scheduled to play Mountaineer Tuesday evening but the game was postponed until sometime next week.

Also injured in the crash and admitted to Tucker County hospital were the victim's brother, Vincent Geroski, 16, and Robert Walters, 17, Davis, W. Va., operator of the car.

The three had just left their homes in Davis and were going to the high school in Thomas for a basketball game. Cpl. S. E. Tribett and Trooper A. J. Wade, West Virginia state police, said the Walters youth apparently dropped off into the berm and he lost control when he tried to get it back on the highway. Troopers said Walters then crossed the road and struck a small pickup truck which was headed toward Davis. The truck was operated by Earl Gafford, Bartow, W. Va., who sustained minor face and head injuries. A passenger in the truck, Leroy White, also suffered minor head injuries. The other Geroski youth sustained a fractured jaw and the Walters youth a fractured right arm.

The victim was a senior and was regular center on the Mountaineer High basketball team. The other youths were substitutes.

A requiem mass was celebrated Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Veronica Catholic church with burial in the Catholic cemetery at Thomas.

Bus Transportation Of School Pupils Is High In County

Garrett County school bus transportation takes by far the largest percentage of current expense money for school transportation of any county in the state, according to figures released by the State Department of Education. The total percentage of county school current expense money used for transportation in Garrett County is 19.81% as compared with 4.81% for the state average, approximately four times as much.

Bus contractors in Garrett County are all paid the top dollar on the state formula for that purpose. There are no fleet owners or county-owned buses or bidding for routes which keep the cost down in some counties where such systems are employed. In addition, a vast area, sparsely populated, must be covered with small buses which are proportionately more costly to operate than large ones. The Garrett County Board of Education has provided bus service to isolated dirt road areas, a practice that cannot be extended further due to cost, it was stated by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent.

Various cost averages were revealed by Mr. Hawkins in the following paragraphs.

While highest in transportation costs Garrett County ranks below the state average in its expenditures in all other categories of school costs. In administration, Garrett County spends 2.29% of its current expense budget as compared with 6.49% in the highest county. It spends 66.29% of its current expense budget for instructional services (mostly teacher salaries) as compared to 78.84% in the highest county and 75.21% state average. Plant operations (reflecting a low salary scale for school custodians) shows that 4.93% of the Garrett County school budget is used for such purposes compared to 10.11% for the highest county and 8.81% for the state average. Maintenance in Garrett County costs 3.20% of the current expense budget as compared to 5.62% for the high county and 4.13% for the state average. Fixed charges cost .89% of the current expense budget as compared to 2.20% in the highest county. Other school services in Garrett County cost 2.59% of the total current expense budget whereas in the highest count 4.30% fo for such purposes, while the state average is 3.40%.

However, Garrett County ranks 14th in total per pupil belonging cost, or about average for the state. The amount spent is $310.25 per pupil per year. By comparison, in Harford County the amount spent per pupil is $311.22, or approximately the same as in Garrett. Of this amount, however, in Garrett County nearly $80 per pupil goes for transportation as against $35.00 in Harford County. This allows $45.00 per pupil more in Harford County to be spent for items of educational need than is available in Garrett County from the same amount of money spent per pupil. In addition, Harford County also receives federal funds for schools due to its location in a federally impacted area. Montgomery County shows the highest per pupil expenditure in the state at $363.66 per pupil. The lowest is shown in Anne Arundel at $288.65 per pupil. This county has a very low per pupil transportation cost. Both Montgomery and Anne Arundel counties get additional money from the federal government under the federally impacted area bill.

School transportation, although highly important and essential, does nothing to provide quality in education. Quality in education, Mr. Hawkins said, is determined by the kind of teachers available, the kind of supervisory program available, the kind of leadership available, the kind of textbooks, courses of study, instructional materials available, and by the kind of special instruction available, such as music, art, health, guidance, library services, etc. When the per pupil transportation cost is deducted from the total per pupil expenditure in Garrett County it drops from the $310 per pupil to approximately $230 per pupil, or the lowest in the state. In other words, Garrett ranks among the lowest in the state as far as the amount of money it has to spend on the education of each pupil is concerned.

One of the first tasks of the county transportation supervisor, Mr. Robert Martin, when he takes over his assignment full-time June 7, will be to survey all school bus routes in the county with the aim of cutting costs whenever possible by greater efficiency in the routing of buses.

WEEKLY SERMON
Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

TWO POINTS OF VIEW

There are those in Christiandom today who believe that this world is getting bettor and hetter - - that a rosy future lies ahead in this atomic age. They point to many still unconquered mysteries and the challenge they present. They believe that through teaching of Christian principles that eventually the cause of Christ will win. Then there are those who believe that things are rapidly approaching a climax of disaster. That wars shall continue and perilous times lie ahead. They believe that the flickering light of the true Christian faith will have all but flickered out as the end approaches. They look upon this world as a doomed ship in mid-ocean while rescue squads are frantically endeavoring to save as many as they can before the ship goes down. As we look at these two views, the human heart wishing for the best and hoping for the future chooses the first view. We have lived long enough to know that our best hopes are often sadly disappointed. Suppose we let the Bible decide between these views. If you want to know, look up these passages—Matt. 24:4-14; Luke 18:8; Luke 21:25-28; II Tim. 3:1-13. It is plain from these verses that the world is doomed. Jesus Christ offers the only hope for a better future.

The first landing of man on the moon was predicted for the 1970's.

The old photograph printed today was submitted by Mrs. E. H. Dilley, of Route 1, Oakland, who recalls the event as an activity of the Knights of Pythias, the date probably 1900.

Mrs. Dilley said she is able to identify several of the persons pictured, and stated "The third man from the right, second row up from bottom with straw hat is my uncle, the late Simon Myers. Directly above him and to his right is Hopwood Kildow, and above to the left is Isaac Hann. Directly in front of him is C. D. Shaffer, Sr.

"Others in the picture which I can identify are Dr. Henry W. McComas, James Painter, Oscar Kitzmiller and John Menhorn.

"Also in the photograph are at least two living members, A. D. Naylor and M. V. Kildow, who probably recall more of the event than I do."

Mrs. Dilley said she believed the occasion to have been a picnic, but was not certain of the location. Judging from the blossoms on the trees, it must have been in the early spring.

Mrs. Dilley has also supplied us with other photographs which should be of interest in other sections of the county, and which will be published in subsequent issues.

Call Firemen To Gorman; No Fire Is Discovered

Oakland firemen were summoned to Gormania Tuesday afternoon by a woman who gave her name as "Lick," saying her home was burning down and "please hurry."

Firemen were unable to find any fire, any people by the name of Lick, or any indications that there was a conflagration. The Gorman fire company had not been called and people of that community were unable to furnish any information whatever. It probably will be chalked up on the fire company records as another "false alarm."

New Zealand Is Theme of Talk to Junior Civic Club

Last Thursday evening was "Spouse Night", as the Junior Woman's Civic club members entertained their husbands at a covered dish dinner at the Methodist church. Approximately fifty people were in attendance. Guests in addition to the husbands were Mr. and Mrs. Meade Foster, Mrs. O. T. The meeting was planned and arranged by the club's officers, Mrs. Harold Trickett, Mrs. Fred Thayer, Mrs. Willis Shaffer, Mrs. Smith Lantz III, and Mrs. I. R. Rudy, Jr. Table decorations were carried out in a Valentine Day theme.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftiest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

BAINBRIDGE COLLEGE

No other domestic question enjoys so much attention and so many solutions as education, particularly at the university level, because of the Soviet challenge in the field of science. Liberals, who are most liberal when dealing with other people's money, insist, as usual, that the answer to the current shortage of classrooms is more Federal aid while such knowledgeable men as Admiral Rickover concern themselves with the contents of education.

Surely, the present pressure could be somewhat alleviated by converting a currently unused facility into a science college and placing it under the direction of an educator unafraid of Spartan simplicity. Accordingly, I have written to President Milton Eisenhower of The Johns Hopkins University asking for his reaction to the possible transformation of the Bainbridge Naval Training Center into a civilian science college. Bainbride was built years ago for the training of tens of thousands of naval recruits but due to a gradual deactivation, many of its buildings now stand empty.

The establishment of a science college at Bainbridge would not depend upon the expenditure of Federal funds because there are several large foundations, among them Ford and Rockefeller, which spend millions of dollars annually on projects far more experimental and less urgent. It might even be that Bainbridge could be a model school whose conversion and operation would encourage similar programs across the country wherever unused Federal or state buildings are located. If the Bainbridge plan could be perfected, the Federal government would surely permit the utilization of the Naval Center as an independent facility or an integral part of an existing school. Naturally, the control of the school would lie in the hands of its board of trustees.

Serious thought might also be given to a coordinated industrial-educational project wherein a science college and an electronics industry, for example, would sustain and complement each other. More specifically, the people of the Bainbridge area would surely welcome the presence of serious young scientists interested in obtaining a sound education rather than those comforts and conveniences so temptingly displayed in college bulletins and Hollywood films. Serious young Americans understand that what this country needs is not another Athens but a Sparta of science.

New Industry - - - - -

We aren't one to "go off half cocked" every time someone mentions the possibility of new industry in the area. So many times in so many areas an industry will move in and before long troubles surpass benefits.

But we got a picture yesterday of the definite possibility for a new industry in this area that seems to have unlimited potential. In other words, a great opportunity is before us.

The establishment of a lumber industry in this area appears to us to be a "natural." And the thing we like particularly about it is that it isn't designed to change the basic pattern of living for any one of us—except what we desire to change as a result of better living conditions.

It has to do with what we already have here—trees, and the utilization of those trees. It is the first industrial prospect that has appeared on the horizon that will influence the purchasing power of a great number of people. Such an industry would make sense to the people of this county.

Its effect would be far reaching—to the small woodlot farmer and also to the commercial lumberman.

People associated with the new venture are all men in the lumber industry who have made successes of their particular business. They are respected men in their own communities. They are not offering any fly-by-night scheme. This is a business proposition with them, but it should boost our economy in years to come by a considerable margin.

They are seeking the support of local citizens because they want to know if we would like to have such an industry around. Support for this program will prove our interest.

Boat License Bill Goes to Legislature

An act to license and regulate power and sail boats in Maryland was introduced in the Maryland Legislature last Friday.

The State has until April to assume jurisdiction over regulating such boats or the federal government will license them.

The act, revised from one which failed at the last session, would require owners of any boats not manually propelled or registered with the federal government to register them with the Department of Tidewater Fisheries after June 1.

The fisheries department would have primary responsibility for administration of the act, although the Game and Inland Fish department would be in charge of boats on inland waters.

Licenses would cost $6 and be effective for a three-year period. Fees would be used to administer the act and to develop waterways and other improvements for the boating public.

The proposed law also sets some regulations on water skiing. It prohibits skiing between sunset and sunrise and requires that there be a second person in the towing boat at least 12 years old to observe the progress of the person being towed.

Reports of boating accidents would be required to be submitted to the Tidewater Fisheries Department within 48 hours if death or disappearance resulted, and within 5 days if person injury or property damage was involved.

A controversial section which would have required that no person under 12 be allowed to operate a boat unless accompanied by an adult was deleted before the act was introduced.

The bill was sponsored by House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson for the Tidewater Fisheries department.

Injured In Accident

Mrs. Stanley Savage, of Clarksburg, W. Va., was painfully but not seriously injured last Friday morning at Fairmont, W. Va., in a two-car accident. She suffered shoulder, back and neck injuries.

Mrs. Savage, driving a new 1960 Plymouth, was enroute to her home in Clarksburg when the accident occurred with Rodger Richard, of Shinnston, W Va., driving a 1960 Corvair. A passenger in the Richard car suffered leg injuries. Both automobiles were damaged considerably.

Mrs. Savage is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beckman, of Swanton.

Roads Department Has New Blower To Remove Snow

The County Roads department this week invested in a new piece of equipment that will be usable in normal times but has a snow blower attachment that will be particularly effective after severe snowstorms in opening blocked highways.

Carl Schell, president of the County Commissioners, announced that a new tractor shovel had been purchased from the Rish Equipment company at a cost of $16,640. The snow blower attachment cost an additional $7,350.

Considered one of the most modern pieces of equipment, this blower will remove drifts up to fourteen feet high, and when doing jobs on drifts that high will remove about 5 miles per hour. On ordinary drifts it will move much faster. The equipment also will be used for widening the openings through drifts following storms. The machine has a capacity of 17 cubic yards per minute.

During other months of the year it will be used as a pay loader.

Mr. Schell said the county had one other snow blower, obtained from a surplus equipment company, but this has no up and down action and can cut through a drift at only one level.

A demonstration was given Monday on the county roads and the result was excellent, Mr. Schell said. He said all highways were completely open by evening on Monday and that no complaints had been received by the Roads department as a result of the storm just past.

Bill Will Protect Antietam Battlefield

Passage by the House of Representatives of a House Bill providing for protection and preservation of the Antietam Battlefield, was announced by the office of John R. Foley, congressman.

The legislation authorizes purchase of 600 acres of land by the Secretary of the Interior. This acreage is the principal historic portion of the battlefield which had never been under federal ownership. The remaining 1017 acres will be protected by easements which the Secretary of the Interior is now authorized by the bill to purchase for a reasonable sum.

The celebration of the Maryland Civil War Centennial in 1962 is now in the planning stage and this is the first step taken to implement the celebration.

March Term Juries Selected Monday

George Stuck Named Foreman Of Grand Jury—Women Selected

Seventeen women were drawn for jury duty among the forty-eight persons selected Monday morning by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, to serve at the March Term of the Circuit Court. This is the second jury selected since the law went into effect granting women the right to serve on juries. The first time fifteen were selected, but some indicated they did not desire to serve.

The law doesn't actually compel a women to serve on a jury, but after being selected, if she doesn't want to serve she must go through a stretch of "red tape." She must present her objections in writing to the clerk of the Circuit court within a certain period after being notified that she has been called to duty.

The twenty-three grand jurors and twenty-five petit jurors were selected in the presence of attorneys and court officials. Judge Fraley named George F. Stuck, of Oakland, as foreman of the Grand jury which is scheduled to convene Monday, March 14, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Other members of the grand jury include Audrey M. Edwards, Evelyn H. Holliday, Albert Magruder, Clarence F. Arnold, Wayne Frederick, William E. Clatterbuck, Daniel B. Wilson, George Vitez, William S. Beaver, Earl O. Wonderly, Olga A. Elliott, Clark V. Durst, John R. Thrasher, Leah C. DeWitt, Carlton Bowser, Helen T. Baumgartner, Ward K. Livengood, Dorsey Guard, Raymond Schlosnagle, C. Glenn Shaffer, Ruth Hoye, Stanley E. Callis. Six of the twenty-three are women.

The petit jury is scheduled to report for duty Monday, March 28, at 9 a. m. Members include Velma D. Sweitzer, Clayton E. Speicher, Curtley H. Bernard, Sadie G. Roth, Wilda G. Fahey, Carl H. Richter, George D. Meese, Etheline Jones, Oneda J. Davis, Virgil T. Steyer, Jr., Clyde C. Gnegy, John Gordon Callis, Charles O. Hanlin, Britten Martin, Ross D. Sowers, Edith Hutson, Albert L. Walter, Pleasant C. Thrasher, R. Russell Ryland, Mabel Bender, Ethel B. Hesser, Frank P. Turner, Daniel G. O'Brien, Marie E. Schmidt, Lorena F. Smith. Eleven of the persons named on the petit jury are women.

Directors Re-Elected In Credit Associations

A. O. Riley was reelected to serve as a director in the Production Credit Association and E. Ross Crowe was named to serve again as a Federal land bank association director, at a meeting of the association at the William-James hotel in Oakland on February 9th. Some 65 members and guests attended.

Claude W. Wagner, Sr., of McHenry, served as chairman. Announcement of the directors was deferred until the final meeting February 13th at the Shrine club near Burlington. Others named were E. Foster Dyer and John W. Fisher as Production Credit association directors; and S. R. Pancake and David P. VanMeter a Federal Land Bank association directors.

The two associations are a part of a national farm credit system which makes long and short term loans to farmers in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Mineral and Pendleton counties in West Virginia.

Exhaust Fumes Fatal To Grantsville Girl

Miss Sonya Clair Patton, aged 23, of Grantsville, was found dead Sunday morning, February 14, in the garage of her home, a victim, authorities said, of carbon monoxide poisoning. She resided with her grandmother, Mrs. Orpha Patton.

Miss Patton was found dead lying in the seat of her car about 11:30 a. m., by her grandmother.

Trooper Glen D. Folk, who investigated for the Maryland State Police, said death was accidental. He said there were no indications of suicide or foul play. Officials said Miss Patton was on the front seat of her car as if she were tired and said it was possible she became ill just after she drove the car into the garage.

Authorities said she had been visiting friends in nearby Addison, Pa., left there at 1:15 a. m. and apparently reached home about 1:30 a. m.

Her grandmother, Trooper Milton Hart said, was not alarmed when Miss Patton failed to come home, as she often stayed with her friends in Addison all night. The switch was still turned on when the body was found, but the car had run out of gas. The heater was still running. One possibility was that the high winds which were sweeping the county had driven exhaust fumes to the front of the car, making her ill.

Miss Patton was a native of Grantsville and had been working for a number of years at the Salisbury undergarment factory. She was born January 24, 1936, a daughter of Mrs. Betty Patton. Surviving are her mother and grandmother.

Miss Patton was a member of Christ Lutheran Church and the church missionary society.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Newman Funeral home in Grantsville with Rev. David Fetter, pastor, officating. Interment was in the Grantsville cemetery.

Train Is Derailed At Swanton Thursday

Ten cars of an 84-car Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight train were derailed last Thursday morning near Swanton on the 17-mile grade.

The train was enroute to Cumberland from Grafton when the cars jumped the tracks, causing considerable damage to both the freight cars and the tracks. The wreck blocked all three tracks at 81st bridge. After the overturned cars were uncoupled the engine continued to Cumberland with 68 cars.

Passenger train No. 11, westbound was delayed for more than three hours. The westbound track was cleared prior to 4 p. m. but two others were not opened until Friday morning. Train No. 12, eastbound, was on time in Oakland but about 20 minutes late arriving in Cumberland.

No one was injured in the wreck.

Return Match With Mountaineer Quint Will Not Be Played

Southern High school will not be able to meet Mountaineer High of Thomas in a return engagement, according to regulations of the State Athletic association, it was learned this week from Dick Travis, athletic director at Southern.

The regulations provide that no high school team may engage in more than two athletic contests in any one week and that the season be limited to 20 games. Apparently the only exception is when bad weather prevents a game from being played. It may be scheduled at a future date agreeable to both teams and may make an extra game for a particular week.

Last week the game between Mountaineer and Southern was cancelled because one of the players of the Mountaineer team died following an automobile accident. The game was tentatively re-set for February 18 but Herbert Stiner, state supervisor of physical education and secretary of the State association, said there was nothing in the by-laws to cover the situation, therefore no game could be played unless Southern failed to qualify for the district tournament. But West Virginia tournament play begins about that time.

Southern won the first encounter at Thomas on January 5, 45 to 41.

Sheriff Takes Issue With Suggestion To Combine Jails

Report Of Jail Inspections Represents Complete About-Face

Now it's the other way around! For a number of years the inspector of the jails in Maryland has been recommending that the Garrett county jail activities be moved to Cumberland, Allegany county. But this year he did a complete about face. He recommended that Allegany county's prisoners be sent to the Garrett County jail in the name of economy and more efficient operation.

But Sheriff James E. Frantz, of this county, took sharp issue against such a recommendation by the Maryland Board of Correction for the combined operation of the two county jails.

The recommendation was made by J. B. Dellinger, executive secretary of the Prisoners Aid association of Maryland, who conducted an inspection of the jails for the Board of Correction.

Dellinger recommended that authorities of the two counties work out an agreement whereby the Oakland jail would be used to house prisoners of both counties, and the Cumberland institution utilized only for transgressors awaiting sentence in Allegany county circuit court.

Says Change Impossible

Sheriff Frantz said such a change is impossible under present conditions, explaining that his entire force consists of but a single deputy, that facilities for feeding any large number of prisoners is totally lacking, and that he would not consider working under the proposal at his present rate of pay.

Sheriff Frantz submitted his own recommendation for a combined operation by stating that he felt the most feasible plan would be for the construction of a new and modern jail located at a point about halfway between the two county seats. He added that if the jail would be constructed a warden and staff should be hired for

Quick Recovery from Storm Is Effected

There was a quick recovery from the season's worst storm which settled over this area last Saturday and Sunday, continuing into the early Monday morning hours.

The storm closed the schools for one day, but classes resumed on Tuesday with most of the students in school.

Sunshine and rising temperatures helped win the fight which had kept snow-fighting equipment on the roads from Saturday through Monday night. There was wind up to 35 miles per hour or more.

By Tuesday 95 percent of all main roads in the county were bare and side roads were 80 percent or more cleared and in passable condition.

Snow piled up in some areas in drifts of seven feet or more. Oakland on Monday had a high of 25 and a low of nine above, according to Ralph Weber, official weather observer. Some ten to twelve inches of snow fell during the two-day period.

The storm was over most of the Eastern seaboard area and snows up to 18 inches fell in states south of here. The snow came from Texas and dropped some 18 inches in Virginia, 11 inches in Tennessee and 10 in the Carolinas as it curved northeastward.

Highways were particularly hazardous on Saturday and early Sunday before workmen had an opportunity to get them cindered. Numerous motorists were stalled on the hills and those without chains or snow treads were in deep trouble. Many cars slid off the roadway into ditches on the mountainous regions.

Attendance at church on Sunday morning was extremely slim in most of Garrett county.

Word on the schools went out about 8 o'clock Sunday night by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of transportation, Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools was in Atlantic City attending an educational convention.

Soon after it was known there would be no school the strong winds appeared to abate. Monday was clear and moderate and the end of the storm gave the county and state road officials time to redouble their efforts to get all roads open which they succeeded in doing by the end of the day.

Definite Possibilities For Half Million Dollar Industry To Come To Oakland

TO AID HEART VICTIMS—Two pieces of equipment recently purchased by the Garrett County Memorial hospital will help in the treatment of certain types of cardial troubles. The Defibrillator, left, stops the action of tremulous heart beat before serious damage can result. The Cardiac Pacer, smaller of the two, restores a normal heart beat to the patient by means of controlled electrical contacts.

Lumber Firm Would Like To Move Into Area

Activity Is Under Sponsorship Of Corporation Of C. Of C.

Definite possibilities for bringing a half million dollar industry to Oakland was outlined yesterday by members of the Board of Directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

The announcement came just a few days after the Chamber, at a special meeting last Friday night, agreed to form a development corporation for the purpose of helping to provide land and buildings for industry in this area.

Members of the Chamber said that the Harco Lumber company was hoping to come into the territory to set up a complete lumber business for the purchase of logs and lumber, for the manufacture of furniture dimension products, to provide kiln dried lumber in quantity, and to utilize the entire tree in some form or another. Associated in the company would be the E. C. Grimm Lumber company, of Terra Alta, Hardwood Corporation of America, with a sales agency and dimension plant at Asheville, N. C.; the Bemis Lumber company, Robinsville, N. C.; and the Veach-May-Wilson Lumber company, of Alcoa, Tenn.

First Contact Months Ago

Mr. Grimm first contacted the County Commissioners several months ago who okayed the idea and suggested working with the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Grimm said he started several months ago to interest officials of these companies in placing a dimension plant in the area. As a result officials of the company came to the mountain top, spent much time in covering the ground closely from Lake to Kingwood and decided that Oakland was the ideal place for such an industry.

He then obtained information about the lumber potential of the area from the Forestry department and individual timber operators, resulting in a decision that this section would be able to support an industry on a perpetual basis, assuming that the people of the area would enter into an educational program, for wise management of forest land. He cited one instance of operators cutting up sizeable logs into mine props for $55.00 a thousand when the same log in one piece would bring twice the amount.

The operation first of all would include a building 60 by 250 feet for a general purpose building and another one 64 by 40, about 30 feet high for kiln drying of lumber. It would furnish work for some 15 people at the start and for two or three months, and would

Hospital Adds Two Pieces of Equipment

Two new pieces of scientific equipment, to aid in the treatment of heart diseases, have recently been purchased by the Garrett County Memorial hospital and are now in place in the institution's operating rooms.

Henry W. McComas, hospital administrator, said receipt of the Defibrillator and a Cardiac Pacemaker puts the local institution on a level with much larger medical centers for treatment of this type of ailment.

He explained that under some circumstances, it is necessary to stop the action of an erratic heartbeat, and the Defibrillator, shown to the left in the accompanying photograph, does just that, while emergency treatment is given.

Following use of the Defibrillator, or in connection with oxygen during many other types of heart standstill, the other unit restores heart beat at a predetermined rate and maintains it through electrical impulses. To the extreme right in the picture are shown several sets of grids, which are attached to the heart muscles and control action of that organ.

McComas added that the local hospital is one of the first in the area to install equipment of this advanced technical nature and said the institution would "continue to keep abreast of advances in medical equipment so that our patients will receive the same general treatments expected in much larger medical centers."

Southern-Northern To Meet For Second Time on Saturday

The second of the two basketball games between the Southern Highlanders and the Northern Huskies will be played Saturday night on the Northern High court. It will be the seventeenth meeting of the two schools since 1953.

Southern will be out to make it two in a row, having won the first encounter at Southern on January 15 by the score of 80 to 51. The Huskies, however, have indicated they will be out for revenge in an attempt to even the series. The game will determine the county championship but will have no bearing on the district tournament. Southern is listed as an "A" school, while Northern is listed in the "B" class. Ratings are determined by the number of male students in the senior high school.

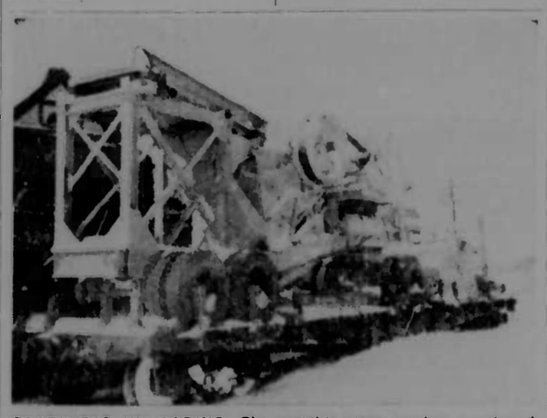
The game was originally scheduled for Friday, January 18, but it was found impossible to obtain competent referees for that date, so the Saturday night date was decided.

In competition thus far Southern has won 10 games and Northern has won 6. Last year the teams split. Southern winning the first game 74 to 67 while Northern took the second game 79 to 75.

Lilburn L. Brown, athletic director at Northern, said there would be a preliminary game between the junior varsity teams of the two schools, starting at 6:15. The varsity game is set for 8 o'clock.

Brown announced another change in the schedule. The game with Bruce High school, supposed to have played on December 8, was postponed on account of inclement weather and was rescheduled for Monday night, February 22, at Northern. Game time will be at 8 o'clock with a preliminary game at 6:15.

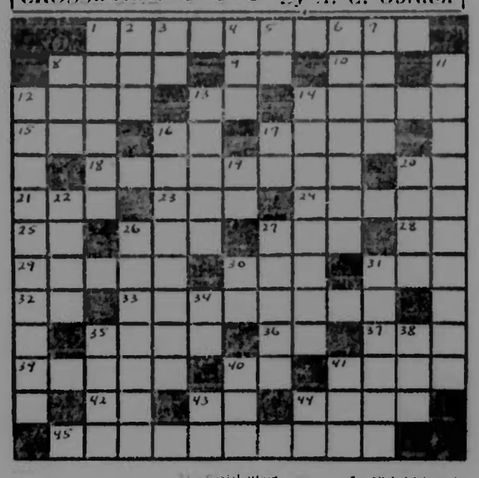
Fire Company Number Changed At Kitzmiller



Carl Schell, member of the Kitzmiller Fire department, informed people of that area this week that the telephone number of the fire department had been changed. The new number is Glenview 3-4531. Previously it had been Glenview 3-4331. All calls for assistance from the department coming during the daylight hours should now come to the 4531 number. He said the night call is still the same, Glenview 4-4071.

Portable Crusher For Commissioners Arrives In Oakland

The portable stone crusher, purchased last November from the McChing and Logan Equipment company of Baltimore for $13,000, by the County Commissioners arrived in Oakland Monday and unloading of the equipment was completed the following day.



At the time of the purchase Carl Schell, president, said it would be possible to move the stone crusher to any point where a road was being improved and that there would be great savings effected by using stone at the site instead of transporting stone from a crusher to the job. He said the commissioners felt the machine would pay for itself within a few years.

The stone crusher was one of several purchases made recently. A number of pieces of surplus equipment were purchased through a division of the U. S. government at savings of several thousand dollars. All are for the County Roads department.

READY FOR UNLOADING—The portable stone crusher, purchased by the County Commissioners last November, arrived in Oakland on Monday and was unloaded Tuesday. It will be put in operation as soon as weather permits the working of the roads.

ELECTRICITY is your BETTER way to cook and so much cleaner, too!

This is not an empty advertising claim — check for yourself. Ask a friend already enjoying electric cooking if you may make the white glove test. It's easy. Quickly bring to boil a pan of water — on any one of the accurately controlled top units. Then rub the finger tips of a white glove across the bottom of the utensil. They will be snow-white clean.

Just imagine how much cleaner your kitchen will be without soot, greasy combustion products, and fumes. Little wonder modern homemakers prefer electric cooking — it's clean — it's flameless.

Sheriff Takes Issue

its maintenance, thus leaving him and his deputy and Sheriff Paul C Haberlein and his five deputies in Allegany county free for full time police work in their respective counties.

Cites His Duties

In noting the disparity between the sheriff staffs of the two counties Frantz said he is faced with the same duties as Haberlein and that he and his deputy are on call around the clock. Frantz also stated that if Haberlein favored the Dellinger recommendation he was unaware of the condition and setup of the Garrett county jail. He said any expansion of the population of the Oakland jail would necessitate much remodeling of the structure in addition to the hiring of extra deputies, guards and cooks

Haberlein, in supporting the state proposal, said Mrs. Frantz was paid $50 a month to serve as cook for inmates and to do matron service when women are prisoners, while pointing out that Mrs. Haberlein is paid nothing for matron service in Allegany county. Frantz said his wife also gets no pay for matron service, and that $50 is paid for her services as cook. Frantz said the Allegany jail has a full time cook and assistant each of whom is paid more than Mrs. Frantz

Sheriff Haberlein had also cited the difference of the two counties in purchasing food for prisoners, explaining that the Allegany institution is expected to provide three meals a day at 75 cents per prisoner per meal with the cost charged to the county commissioners, while Garrett County prisoners are fed on a fee system of $1 per day, with any profit being returned by the sheriff. Sheriff Frantz said the fee system has proved a financial burden to him, especially since he has so few prisoners that he cannot purchase staples in quantity. He also pointed out that the equipment in the Garrett county jail is his own, except for a stove and sink. All utensils used also are his personal property, Frantz concluded.

In his annual report Mr. Dellinger again recommended that the fee system of feeding be abandoned and that food be charged directly to the County Commissioners. He said that painting and repairs to the roof and plumbing were underway at the time of the inspection.

He remarked that it was difficult to keep the jail clean and sanitary because of the lack of traffic and the lack of prisoners to do maintenance work.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

"This Is My Own, My Native Land"—Last Monday, at a special breakfast commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, I sat enchanted at I listened to four Boy Scouts from different parts of the United States talk on the subject, "What My Parents Mean To Me." I could not help but draw a comparison between our youth and the regimented youth of Russia.

I wouldn't trade any of those fine boys I listened to—or, for that matter, any other group of wholesome, parent-loving American boys—for the best little robots being turned out by the Soviet system — nor would I trade the family life and the educational system which are an integral part of the character of American youth for anything the Communists might have to offer.

As a matter of fact, while critics of American education have been loudly praising the Soviet system, the Russians have been taking a long, hard look at themselves, at their shortcomings—and envious looks at us. They are now instituting drastic changes in their educational system to emulate some of the facets of American education. Soviet schools have met the needs of the State, but not the needs of the individual. They have been used to indoctrinate political theory. In the Soviet Union, conformity is not a matter of choice. Classrooms have been factories; little robots have been turned out on the assembly line to memorize and recite. Russian educators now realize that their heartless, unemotional, machine-like stress on academic performance has left the great majority of their young people in an awkward and frustrating situation. A part of their frustration stems from their knowledge that their standard of living is far below ours.

President Eisenhower got to the heart of the fundamental difference between our people and the Russians in his recent press conference, when he said, "We place above all other values our own individual freedoms and rights, and we believe that the operation of such a system in the long run produces more—not only, more happiness, more satisfaction and pride in our people, but also more goods, more wealth."

Russia's Industry Far Behind—The Soviet official report on production presents a spotty picture. In 1955, the production of Soviet industry was only about 22 per cent of that of our industry, or about what ours was in 1913, and Russia's production in 1913 corresponded roughly to this country's production in 1877. To overcome their bad situation, the Soviet government made an all-out effort to increase production, but they are having their difficulties. Their 1959 report shows that production, instead of increasing, has declined sharply for such items as natural gas, coal, synthetic fiber, tires, turbines, drilling equipment, excavators, prefabricated houses, window glass, sewing machines, washing machines, clothing, freight cars, automobiles, trucks, farm machines, and numerous other items. Our lead over Russia in industrial production continues to widen.

Defense—Not A Good Issue After All—Opponents of the present Administration in the coming election now concede (privately) that they will get nowhere by assailing Eisenhower's judgment on Defense. These critics of our Defense program don't like to be reminded that the United States is now spending 10 times as much on ballistic missiles each day as was spent for that purpose in any year before Eisenhower came to office.

By the way, the nuclear-powered submarine, Polaris, is ours; Russia hasn't anything like it. The Russians admit they cannot compete with us in bomber aircraft, and it's freely accepted that our SAC bomber fleet is the most powerful in the world. And what about space satellites? Weren't 7 of the 9 satellites now in orbit put there by the United States?

Space Probes—American scientists will fire two rockets around the moon and three more into the depths of outer space during the next 17 months, according to the Space Administration. The five major rocket launchings are part of a total of about 160 firings under current plans. By 1963 the United States will be aiming shots at Mars and Venus. This program was revealed last week in testimony before a Congressional committee.

New Military Construction Last week Secretary of Defense Gates sent to Congress the Department's military construction program, itemized by States and countries, and Maryland ranks high on the list. The new construction projects in the United States total $790,512,000. Maryland and Texas are in a virtual dead heat for second place, each with about $22,500,000 listed for new projects. California is first. About 71 per cent of the total is to be spent on Air Force projects; about 16 per cent on Army projects; about 13 per cent on Navy projects.

An Example Of Federal Aid—This past week, the Senate passed a 1.8-billion dollar "Federal Aid to Education" bill. It faces strong opposition in the House, and a probable Presidential veto

How would Maryland fare under the Federal Aid to Education program? During the debate in the Senate, figures were prepared showing the effect of the program on each of the 50 States—figures showing just what each State would get from the "Federal Aid" and just what each State would have to pay for the "Federal Aid."

Under the bill as then written the bill as passed by the Senate was slightly different, Maryland's prorated share of the total from the Federal government would be $7,693,077, from this would be deducted the administrative cost. The extra Federal taxes from Maryland residents to pay for this "aid" would be $9,234,723. In other words, Maryland residents would have to pay about $2,000,000 more than they'd get back In addition, Maryland residents would have to put up "matching funds" This, my friends, is what they call "Federal Aid". It's anything but free!

"What So All Fired Important About Inflation"—You have to make $12,113 a year now in order to have the purchasing power of a $5,000 income in 1939. If you made $3,000 in 1939, you'd have to make $7,035 now to equal it; or if you made $10,000 in 1939, you'd have to make $25,671 now to equal it, here's the table:

If your 1959 gross income was (A) $3,000; (B) $5,000, (C) $10,000.

Less income taxes (A) 30; (B) 59, (C) 269

Your income after taxes was (A) 2,970; (B) 4,941; (C) 9,731

If your 1959 income was (A) $7,035; (B) $12,113; (C) $25,674.

Less income taxes (A) 846; (B) 1,816, (C) 5,395.

Less lost purchasing power inflation (A) 3,219; (B) 5,356; (C) 10,548.

Your income after taxes in 1939 dollars (A) 2,970 (B) 4,941, (C) 9,731.

"Another Day Older—"—Out of each 8 hours of work, the average American works 2 hours and 16 minutes to pay his taxes, 1 hour and 28 minutes for food, 1 hour and 21 minutes for housing, 36 minutes for transportation, 34 minutes for clothing, 19 minutes for medical care, 18 minutes for recreation, and 1 hour and 5 minutes for all other expenses. The Capacity To Appreciate

Some people are born tone deaf. They cannot distinguish one note from another. We hardly expect such a one to appreciate fine music. It just does not register. This explains why so many people do not appreciate reading their Bibles or enjoy a Bible centered message. They do not care to talk about spiritual matters. The reason for this failure is that they lack the capacity to appreciate the things of God. Since their spirit is "Dead in trespasses and sins" (Eph. 2: 1) they do not respond. A miracle must take place within the heart of the person. That miracle is none other than the New Birth whereby God imparts life to the spirit which lies dormant in man. When he is made alive he then will have the capacity to appreciate his Bible and to enjoy the preaching of God's Word. Since Christ said that It Is necessary for one to experience the New Birth before he can "understand" and "enter" into the Kingdom of God, (John 3:3-5) it would behoove everyone to inquire "what must I do so that I may be born again?" Just three things are necessary. 1st. Repent of your sins. 2nd. Believe the record that Christ died for your sins. 3rd. Ask Jesus Christ to become your Saviour.

Sen. John Marshall Butler

"THE GREAT DEBATE"

In an election year, fact and fiction are often confused in the scramble for vote-appealing issues. And so, as the Great Debate rages on about the relative strengths of the United States and the Soviet Union, it might be helpful to keep in mind the following statement by General Nathan Twining, the military expert of the Pentagon, and chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of Staff:

We have great strength, we are a powerful country, and I do not think we should downgrade our capabilities as a nation to the Russians. That is what gives me great cause for concern—this downgrading of our capability.

Let us not downgrade our capability at a time when we are entering upon negotiations which may lead to peace and disarmament. We want to deal from strength.

Calm and considered words that needed to be said by so highly placed an expert in the defense establishment that his evaluation could not be dismissed as rose-colored pap by Chicken Liberals perennially crying, "The sky is falling!" Secretary of Defense Gates later corroborated General Twining's testimony before a Senate committee when he asserted: "The impression in some quarters that the Soviet Union has overtaken or even outdistanced the United States in military power simply is not supported by the facts."

Despite these assurances, the Great Debate will undoubtedly continue, which it should. The It can be dangerous to our national security and our position in the world to allow a false impression to gain ground that the United States is second to the Soviet Union."

Saves 58 miles of travel,
25 hours of time
and $12.11 of expense in two weeks

by phoning friends, family, doctor and department stores

Mrs. Carroll of Catonsville, Maryland, uses her phone to chat with a friend about a change in time of the Card Club meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are active in their church, the P.T.A. and the Boy Scouts. These activities, combined with raising two teenagers (Patricia 16 and Phil 13), make their phone an important part of running their home.

Like other busy wives and mothers, Mrs. Carroll has many activities to attend to each day. She knew her phone was a help to her—but she thought she'd like to know exactly what it saved in time, money and travel. To find out, she kept a telephone diary of all calls made or received for a two-week period.

Her diary showed that phone calls saved days of waiting for information . . . hours and miles of travel on everyday errands, and friendly visits. Not surprisingly, the money saved on travel was greater than the cost of her phone.

Maybe you'll never keep a telephone diary—but if you take a few minutes to think of the value of your phone to you, we believe you'll agree that your phone pays for itself in convenience—and in money saved as well

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

The Short and Long of Fingernails

- Thin Eyebrows
- Itching
- Night Jerks

Q. I have often wondered whether the fingernails grow in spurts or at a steady rate. Any comments?

A. The rate of nail growth varies considerably in different persons but for any particular nail, growth is more or less constant throughout life. The fingernails of a healthy adult grow, on the average, about ⅛ inch per month. Various things seem to affect nail growth. Pregnancy is said to increase the rate of nail growth as much as 25 to 30 per cent. Growth is slowed in certain chronic diseases and in malnutrition. It is not known whether a completely uncut nail would continue to grow or eventually stop growing. Hair, which is structurally similar to nail tissue, stops growing when it reaches a certain length characteristic for the individual.

Q. I am 51 and have gone through the change of life. About six months ago I noticed much thinning of my eyebrows. What causes this?

A. Partial loss of scalp hair and/or eyebrows may occur before, during or after the menopause. If there is no fungus infection (this can be determined by your doctor), the condition is probably due to body changes which inevitably take place beyond the reproductive years.

Q. What can be done for rectal itching?

A. This common complaint can be due to certain obvious and correctable disorders or may occur for reasons that are not so apparent. Doctors now have various drugs and other measures which help relieve the itching although complete success is not always possible. Surgery may be advised if the itching is associated with such conditions as fissure (cracks) or hemorrhoids, but here again the curative effects on the pruritus (itching) may not be complete or lasting.

Q. From time to time my leg or arm will jerk quite hard just as I fall asleep. Is something wrong?

A. Nearly everyone is annoyed or puzzled at some time by feeling a sudden uncontrollable jerk of his body when he is falling asleep. The jerk is apt to be momentarily alarming and affects all or part of the body. Occasionally it is associated with a vivid dream. It is difficult to be certain just how often these jerks must occur to be considered abnormal. Certainly, infrequent jerks are common in normal people. There is no reason to believe that the occasional muscular jerk is due to anything more than fatigue.

Piedmont Lions Get Revenge on Southern

Piedmont High School's Lions gained revenge for their only loss of the season in the Potomac Valley Conference when they defeated Southern High School's Highlanders at Piedmont Tuesday night by the score of 76 to 62.

Southern had won on its home court by the score of 63 to 61 in a double overtime and had boasted a 12-game winning streak.

The win was the 12th in 13 starts for Piedmont in the PVC. Southern suffered its first loss in the conference in five starts.

In spite of Piedmont's floor full of hot hands, it took a rousing fourth quarter splurge to give the Lions their revenge victory, as the scrappy invaders from Southern overcame a 12-point deficit in the third period with a sparkling display of courage and shooting to tie the score, and this was accomplished while Southern regulars were sitting on the bench with four personals hanging over their heads.

Little Don James, who entered the battle in the role of substitute meshed a gift toss after time ran out to deadlock the score for the tenth and last time at 54-all.

It was not until the final quarter that Southern faded out of the picture. Stuck and Wine ran into foul trouble in the first half and sat out the third period.

Southern led 21 to 19, at the end of the first period but was down nine points at the half, 39 to 30. Substitutes kept plugging away along with the regulars remaining in the lineup and whittled away the lead. The third period ended at 54-54. Three quick baskets at the beginning of the fourth period by Piedmont took Southern by surprise and they were never able to recover completely. The Lions went for 22 points in the final frame with Southern 8. Wine and Ron Colaw were banished on five personal fouls in the final heat, and likewise W. Russell for the Lions.

Ron Colaw had starred under the banking board all evening, grabbing many rebounds.

Wayne Russell headed the Lions' attack with 20 points on eight field goals and four fouls with Ronnie Foster taking runner-up honors with 19. Dick Stuck led the Southern attack with 17 points on six field goals and five fouls, while Terry Colaw had 14 points on six field goals and two of three foul attempts. Prince also had 2, Wine 1, Ron Colaw 9, Bolyard 6, James 7 and Stemple 3.

Piedmont had 31 goals from the field compared to 23 for Coach Carl Schoonover's Highlanders. Southern had 16 for 27 at the foul line compared to 14 of 30 for the Lions.

Teacher Pay Fight Near Passing Stage

The battle of teacher pay was put about won for Gov. Tawes in the House of Delegates Wednesday. Delegates voted down 76 to 11, two attempts to change the governor's recommendation and moved it toward a passage vote, perhaps on Friday.

A test vote in the Senate may come up Thursday on a duplicate version of the bill to give teachers with ten or more years of experience $300 more a year. The Senate bill came out of the Finance committee by a hair splitting 8-7 favorable vote.

The Teacher's association had proposed to raise all salaries from an average $353 in Baltimore county to $672 in Calvert county. The governor's pay plan would cost $4,300,000 against 16 million for the teacher plan.

One amendment offered would have given all teachers an increase from $213 in Baltimore county to $497 in Calvert. Sponsors estimated it would cost nine million dollars. They proposed to finance it by lowering personal state income tax exemption from $800 to $700.

Another amendment would have allowed each county to decide how to spend its share of increased state aid in raising salaries instead of limiting it to $300 for only the veteran teachers. "The real need is at the beginning of the scale," argued one of the delegates.

Barebacks Are Winners Of Donkey Basketball

The "Bareback Riders" of the Grantsville Legion post won the donkey basketball game played on the Northern High court last Friday evening, with the Friendsville Rotary "Rough Riders" as their opponents. The final score was 8 to 6.

On the winning team were Harry Bowser, Don Hershberger, Delford Crowe, Wayne Durst, Randall Wiley, Emmons Hardwick and Harold Wiley. On the losing team were Jim Lininger, Blaine Livengood, Byron Livengood, Harold Humberson, Walt Friend, Jim Spear, Walt Fearer, Ralph Smearman and Ed Grove.

In a preliminary game the Faculty defeated the FFA boys 48 to 38. Representting the FFA were Joe Friend, Kenny Thomas, Kenny Sisler, Eddie Wilburn, William Buckel, Richard Humberson, Larry Grove, Dale Sisler, Freddie Brant, Kermit Yoder and Ellsworth Yoder. Kenny Thomas was high with 23 points.

Representing the faculty were Jones, Brown, Mitchell, Strauss, Wilson, Schwing, Meyers and Reckner. Jones was high scorer with 21.

eventually absorb some 150 employe directly and an additional 150 or 200 indirectly. Equipment valued at more than a half million would be moved into the plant within a reasonable time, with $100,000 at the start.

Seeks General Support

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to ask for general support from the public in an endeavor to raise $75,000 to $100,000 for the purchase of land and the erection of two initial buildings. An option on 25 acres of land adjacent to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, east of town, next to Eastern States, now owned by the H. Weber and Sons company, already has been obtained.

The building would be so constructed that it could be used by any interested industry, but this was considered merely a safeguard for any citizen's investment in land or buildings.

Mr. Grimm also indicated that there were definite plans to be associated with the Luke paper mill in the expansion of its pulpwood program.

At last Friday's special meeting a committee composed of officers of the Chamber were empowered to proceed with the details of incorporation. It included Frank Peters, president; Earl Zepp, vice-president; and Frank McDaniel, secretary.

Another committee, named to work with the new corporation, included Wesley Schaible, cashier of the Garrett National Bank; Irvin Feld, owner of the H-P Stores, Inc.; and Frank McDaniel, cashier of the First National Bank.

The plan is for complete utilization of logs from farmers of the area, and from commercial timber operators. Not a small part of the industry's aim would be the educational program that would be launched to provide a perpetual business here which would include teaching people not to deplete the forests but to beautify them, plant more trees, provide better trees, and conduct a program of selected cutting that would assure a financially sound crop from year to year.

R. T. Thayer, assistant district forester, indicated such a program would be one of the best from the standpoint of the State Forest program and one of the most lasting for farmers and woodland owners of the territory.

He also pointed out that one of the reasons local people are being asked to invest in the venture was to show the new company that it was wanted in the territory.

Mr. Grimm said the new company was prepared to move in as soon as the weather becomes suitable.

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi there! I missed last week and I'm really sorry I was wanting for some information, it didn't come and didn't come, then it was too late.

In co-operation with the school we have not been having Teen Club in competition with their activities held after games. We have not been asked to cancel any more so will have Teen Club again Friday nite.

I'm kind of glad that I had last Friday nite free, I wouldn't have missed that game for the world.

What do you think of Pat Boone's "Welcome New Lovers"? Personally, I think its way below Boones' par.

It was kind of funny, Annette Funcello on "Bandstand" one day, her boy friend, Paul Anlca the next. Why didn't they just come on together?

Brooke Benton and Dinah Washington do a bang-up job on their new, high climbing, duo; "Baby You've Got What It Takes."

Four girls came up from Northern last Friday night for the record hop at Teen Club. Sorry girls, try this week.

I have been very pleased to hear that Teen Corner has a good following in colleges. I hear Teen Corner makes quite a few rounds in the dorm at W.

I have just decided that after I step off the platform, after receiving my diploma, the first thing I'd do is check and make sure it has writing on it. If it should be blank or I don't see the printing for some reason everyone in the gym will turn to an audible shriek and the thud of a body hitting the floor. Then another. Don't mind though it'll just be my parents. Maybe it isn't too easy to put a son through twelve years of school. Well, don't worry mom and dad maybe the next four will be easier.

Hope to see you all tomorrow night, 8 til 11 in the Armory Real live record hop, come on out.

Announcing a Teen Club Special. Elections will be held week after next to pick our Teen Queen and King. They will be announced two weeks after that at a special "Coronation Ball." They will reign over the hop that night. Music will be furnished by a special band brought in for the occasion.

At the same hop, a trophy will be presented to the best athlete. The SHS Cheerleaders will nominate, and the Teen Club will vote on the season's best athlete.

We are trying to make this event one of the season's best.

It might have been about this time of year when the accompanying "old photo" was taken. That is the leaves weren't yet on the trees but already the thoughts of the boys had turned to the old ball game.

This group comprised a young team of Oaklanders in 1904. Several have been identified and perhaps one or more readers can supply more complete identification after an examination of the photo.

In the first row, the young fellow with the curly hair is Elwood Denmark, then across the row are David Jones, Billy Bogle, Harry Stemple and another player whose name at present is unknown.

The photograph was loaned to The Republican by J. G. Mealy of Mt. Lake Park.

Do you have pictures, heirloom or cherished material of organizations or an outdoor scene, we are also, which are of historical interest. Bring them in to Oakland and we will see that Oakland who can tell where and when.

Girl Scouts Plan International Party

During Girl Scout week, March 6 to 12, the troop will attend services at the Episcopal church on Sunday, March 13. A service display will be put in the W. C. Maglaughlin Paper company window.

The annual parents dinner will be held on March 26, open to the public. Lauel from the dinner will go for the girl scout trip to Washington, D. C.

Highlanders Take Overtime Thriller From Piedmont

Wine Puts In Winning Goal In Second Overtime Period

Southern High school's Highlanders took a stout-hook thriller from Piedmont High school last Friday night in a double overtime "sudden death" battle at Oakland. The final score was 63 to 61.

The loss made Piedmont's record 11-4 in the Potomac Valley conference and gave Romney High Pioneer sole possession of first place with a 11-0 record. The Highlanders have no chance for the PVC title not having scheduled enough games in the league to qualify.

Coach Carl Schoonover's Hoopmen chalked up their 12th consecutive victory and made their season record 13-5. Southern is 10-1 in the PVC.

There were some 900 cheering fans attending last Friday's game. The score was tied eight times, changed hands on 18 occasions and each team took turns at blowing chance to wrap up the victory before Jerry Wine tolled goal which tied the battle.

Wally Bolyard put Southern in front with a field goal at the game's outset but Ronnie Foster snipped the cords for Piedmont to tie it up. The frames were also deadlocked at 2-all and 6-6 before Wine put Southern ahead on a lamp after taking an assist from Dick Stuck. The Highlanders remained on top the rest of the quarter before Bill when the 100-pound minutes ran over Loran Herman however whipped in a left-hander in the second period to tie the score and Wayne Russell 6-4" rebound specialist followed with another two-pointer to give Piedmont an advantage that it never relinquished until sudden in the hectic fourth quarter.

Foster sparked the Lions in their 13-point second period with four baskets in five attempts. Wayne Russell had three and Dick Russell but twice. Terry Colaw found the range in this quarter with three outside fielders in six attempts but the Lions went the half-way mark with 33-26 edge. The seven point bulge happened to be the biggest lead enjoyed by either team.

Terry Colaw blasted the nets for three more goals in four attempts in the third quarter as the Highlanders chopped three points off the Piedmont lead, the Lions holding a 47-43 upper hand going into the fourth quarter.

The Highlanders left no doubt they were to be reckoned with in the drive down the stretch. Bill Stemple meshed a pair of free throws as the quarter started and with 35 seconds gone Terry Colaw tied the score at 47-all.

Stuck who had miserable shooting luck in the first half, making only one in ten attempts started slowly in the final quarter. He put one in with 4:52 of playing time remaining to lead 51 to 50. Foster put in two for Piedmont and Ron Colaw regained the lead for Southern on a layup after taking an assist from Wine. Twyman drove in for a two-pointer but Stuck's second outside shot gave the lead back to Southern and the margin went to 58-56 when Stuck sank a free throw.

With 1:40 to go Wayne Russell drove in for an easy layup to tie the score. Nine seconds later Southern called time out and apparently the Schoonover strategy was to try to hold the ball for the last shot. It worked until the Lions got desperate and Roger Fisher jostled Stemple in mid-court with 25 seconds remaining. Stemple made good the shot and dropped in his home shot. With 12 seconds to go Foster worked loose under the basket and calmly tossed in the winning basket, Stuck made the free throw and Wine rebounded.

Then, with just six seconds Wayne Russell committed a personal foul in mid-court, handing the ball into Stuck's hands. Stuck missed the first free throw but missed the second. Dick Russell grabbed the rebound. Green, a reserve, came in for the shot. The ball hung in the air as the buzzer sounded, tying the score at 61-all.

With three seconds remaining in the scoreless overtime Fisher fouled Wine. Wine missed and Green grabbed the loose ball. But time ran out. The Lions' chance came next. Thirty-one seconds after the sudden death period started. Stemple fouled Fagan under the Piedmont basket. A conversion there plus a bonus would have given the Lions the victory but Fagan missed and the rebound went to Stuck. The Highlanders worked the ball in front of the Piedmont defense and the opening finally came when Ron Colaw standing off on the side of the lane got a pass from the outside, whipped it to Wine and the latter dropped the ball through for the clincher.

Terry Colaw led the Southern attack with 18 points on eight field goals and 2 of 4 fouls. Wine and Stuck had 12 each. Bolyard had 4, Ron Colaw 11 and Stemple 6. The Lions outscored the winners by two goals from the floor and were paced by Foster with 17. Wayne Russell with 15 and Dick Russell with 13. Wayne Russell also had 16 rebounds compared to 13 for Wine of Southern. Fisher had 5 for Piedmont, Twyman 8, Green 2 and Fagan 1.

The Southern Juvvees also won the preliminary game 29 to 19 with Sonny Riggs putting in the final basket.

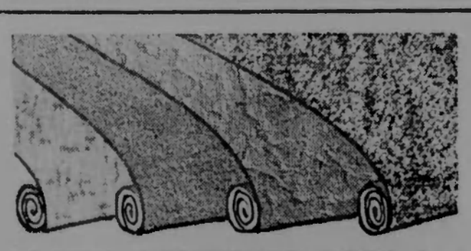
Seek To Form Aviation Cadet Corps Here

Attempts to organize a Civil Air Patrol Aviation cadet corps in Garrett county received impetus this week by Robin Conley, 17, cadet commander of Headquarters squadron.

Non-military and self-sustaining, the CACC is allied to private flying. It provides its cadet members 14 to 18 years of age with a preliminary course in aeronautics with observer and flight training to qualified cadets; provides a search and rescue service aid on ground; and strives to obtain an airport for every community. Western Maryland flights would include Cadet at Oakland and Cumberland. Other nearby flights are to be located at Morgantown and Mc Mechanicsdale.

Persons in the Oakland area interested in the formation of the CACC may contact the wing director at Dickerson.

Announce Engagement



Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sines, of Friendsville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marlene Sines, to Brian Alvin Boomer, of Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murice Boomer.

Miss Sines is a graduate of Northern High school, class of 1958 and at present is employed in Cleveland. Mr. Boomer spent four years in the U. S. Navy and is now employed at a plastics plant as a fiber glass cutter.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Does the goal you're seeking seem as remote—as unattainable—as this snow-frosted mountain top? Does it seem, sometimes, as if you'll never get there? Are you on the verge of giving up?

Don't! Though your objective may seem light-years beyond your reach, if it's the right thing for you, God will help you to attain it, if you'll let Him. The teachings of His Church will help you find the patience and endurance you need to accept setbacks . . . and still keep trying.

Don't try to climb to the top all by yourself. It's a lonely ascent. Let the Church help you, as it helped those who were here before you . . . and as it will help those who come after you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

Bible Material: Acts 20:13 through 21:16. Devotional Reading: 1 Thessalonians 1:1-2.

Top Service

Lesson for February 21, 1960

THE MOST over-used and ill-used word in the English language, perhaps, is "service." It's the great American catch-word. Your car dealer, florist, banker, garbage collector and preacher all talk about service. Certain business men's associations are called "service clubs." In numerable places have the sign over the door: SALES AND SERVICE. When you look into it, often it turns out that what is meant by service is "making something good that should have been good in the first place." It is often something that is bragged about whereas it ought to go without saying. It is often not done well (as in poor restaurants or garages) and sometimes consists in furnishing something not asked for or needed.

Dr. Foreman

Services of the Church

The church in America can't escape it. If the church did not offer service it would be most peculiar, and in fact would hardly be a church at all. For it, almost alone, serves by its very nature. All the institutions of society that do truly render service, were inspired or created by the church in the first place. (Orphanages and savings banks come to mind, and there are many others, notably schools.)

But what are the services of the church? We often use the term "church service" to mean the meeting for public worship and preaching. We cannot quarrel with that use of the word, but that is not what is meant here. What we mean is, when the minister calls on a new family and tells them the services of his church are at their disposal, what does he mean? Certainly something more than to say the worship-meetings of the church are open to them.

Many minor methods of service are used by the church: operating kindergartens, book clubs, employment agencies, loan funds, not to mention more elaborate projects such as educating people on the moral side of public questions, operating hospitals publishing houses, schools and so on. By calling these "minor" we do not mean they are unimportant or that the church should not undertake them. When Paul wrote: "Let us do good to all men, especially to those who are of the household of faith," he laid down the foundation principle of every service project that deserves the name.

Nevertheless, the question still is: What is the most vital service, the top service the church can render? Surely it must be to give people what they need the most. Suppose a man is dying of a serious disease. He may not want any particular medicine, or any medicine at all. But a doctor, examining him, may know just the specific medicine for his trouble. He ministers to the man's need, not to his immediate appetite.

What human beings need most is, in one word, God. The church is doing the supreme service for us when it shows us the way back to God. (Let us rather say, the way forward to God; he is ahead of us, not the other way around.) The doorway to God has two keys, like a safety deposit box: one key is marked Faith and the other Repentance. God gives us the keys but never forces us to use them.

To Feed and Defend

The church is often thought of as a flock of sheep, its leader as shepherds. In addressing the elders of Ephesus, who remembered well his three years among them, Paul marks out the two things a shepherd does for his sheep: to feed and to defend them against wolves and other beasts. Some people suppose that a church's service is confined simply to proclaiming repentance and faith — in other words, the church's whole and only business is evangelism. This was not Paul's practice. He, and the elders after him, if they followed his example, also fed and defended Christ's people. "Feeding" means all the church does in nourishing and building up Christ-like character, especially teaching, preaching, counseling, training for Christian service at the highest levels. "Defending" means keeping the church strong, despite the attacks of all who would destroy it, from without or within.

Urges Trailer Owners To Have Heaters Checked

The County Health department is calling attention to trailer owners of the need of having their panel heaters tested, to prevent the possibility of carbon monoxide fumes causing death.

Charley Miller, county sanitarian, said that persons having a Thurm wall panel heater, panel 3-M or panel 8-MNS, who had not heard from the company since November, 1959, should contact the salesman or the company for changes that are being made to make the heaters completely safe from carbon monoxide fumes.

After some complaints had been received from the area the R. W. Stafford Testing lab suggested modifications in the heaters to make them safe. The company, following the suggestions, got in touch with many persons known to have purchased the heaters. Those not contacted were urged to write to Thurm Engineering Corporation, 1109 Carlton Avenue, Elkhart, Ind.

1. Too much flexing wears out people...and tires!
2. The new "Low Profile" tire shape flexes less, reduces heat build-up, increases mileage!

Do a few quick, deep knee bends—and what happens? You heat up fast, soon feel real strain! Ordinary tires do 700 "deep knee bends" per mile... a flexing action that builds up heat, weakens rubber and fabric, increases blowout danger.

Now U.S. Royal drastically reduces the danger of tire failure with a revolutionary new tire—"Low Profile." These tires are lower, wider—flex less, run cooler, wear better.

Our stock is complete...all sizes available. And best of all, our prices for THE TIRE THAT DOESN'T GET TIRED will surprise you!

Nitrogen Shows Its Value on Small Grain

Yields of wheat, barley, and oats in Maryland are often reduced because there is not adequate nitrogen in the soil. Topdressing with nitrogen fertilizers in the early spring frequently increases the yields of these crops markedly.

Dr. James R. Miller, Extension soils specialist of the University of Maryland, pointed out that small grain fertilizer demonstration plots conducted on farms in 12 Maryland counties during 1959 showed that topdressing with 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre increased the average yield of wheat by 6.1 bushels per acre, barley 18.3 bushels, and oats 16.6 bushels.

Cost of the 30 pounds of nitrogen was about $4 per acre. In these same test plots the yields of straw were often increased by more than ½ ton per acre with the 30 pounds of nitrogen. In many cases more than $3 was returned for each dollar invested in fertilizer, he said.

Dr. Miller recommended on soils, where lodging is not a problem, that 15 to 45 pounds per acre of actual nitrogen be applied as a topdressing. This should be done just before growth begins in the early spring. In most sections of Maryland this is in late February and early March. Dr. Miller advised that the heavier applications of nitrogen should be used on the lighter sandy soils that are often low in available nitrogen.

He pointed out that most of the nitrogen fertilizer found on the market can be used for topdressing small grains. These include: ammonium nitrate, urea, sulfate of ammonia, nitrate of soda, nitrogen solutions, ammonium sulfate nitrate, ANL or Cal Nitro, and others.

To supply 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre for the small grain, it would take 190 pounds of nitrate of soda, 90 pounds ammonium nitrate, 70 pounds urea, or 150 pounds of sulfate of ammonia.

On soils where adequate phosphate and potash was not applied at the time of planting the small grains, Dr. Miller suggests the use of a complete fertilizer for topdressing such as 10-10-10.

Dr. Miller pointed out that topdressing with nitrogen is not recommended on fertile soils where lodging is commonly a problem. Also, it is not recommended when fields have been heavily manured, or where grains follow a productive leguminous crop such as alfalfa, ladino or red clover.

LaSalle Defeats Huskies 91 to 55

A fine performance by LaSalle High School's two high scoring forwards Scaletta and Long who scored 66 points, enabled the Explorers to ring up their 18th win of the season as they trounced Northern High School 91 to 55 Tuesday night in Cumberland.

The Huskies of Accident jumped off to an early 9-4 lead, but the Explorers tied it up and a basket by Long put LaSalle ahead to stay.

Long hit on 14 of 17 attempts and 6 for 6 at the foul line for 31 points. Scaletta dumped in 11 of 19 shots and was four for four from the foul stripe.

The Northern cagers were paced by George Patton with 25 tallies on ten field goals and five for eight at the foul line. Long also had 1. McKenzie 8, Lowery 13, McCurdy 5, Umbel 1 and Thomas 2 to complete the scoring.

LaSalle outgunned the Huskies 35 to 19 in field goals and had 21 of 21 fouls compared to 17 of 31 for Northern. LaSalle led 17 to 12 at the quarter and 39 to 32 at the half. The Cumberlanders turned on the heat and outscored the Huskies 26 to 12 in the third period and made the same number in the fourth period while holding Northern to 11.

LaSalle won the opener 65 to 47 earlier in the season. The Huskies now own a season record of four wins and ten losses.

House Permits Free Rein by Roads Group

The State Roads commission bid for a free rein on which highways to build during the next five years was halfway through the Maryland legislative mill by Monday night.

The House of Delegates gave final 101-3 approval to the commission's request to abandon the 12-year program restrictions. It is now up to the Senate to act on the bill strongly endorsed to Gov. Tawes.

The bill allowing the commission to spend 330 million dollars on 440 miles of major highways all over the state and only 40 million on secondary roads through 1965 was explained to the legislators. There was no House discussion at all on removal of limits on which roads the commission could build that were contained in the original 12-year program adopted in 1953.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!
Compare this list of Chevy advances with the features ordinary trucks are still talking about. You'll see why Chevy trucks get more work done in a day...why they go extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. These Sturdi-Bilt Sixties aren't just new, they're a full scale revolution!

TORSION-SPRING RIDE
Each front wheel, suspended independently of the other, is free to step individually over bumps. And shockproof torsion springs up front soak up the jars and jolts before they reach the body. With three rugged new tailored-to-the-truck rear suspensions to further reduce road shocks, Chevy gives you the smoothest truck ride you've ever felt.
With independent front suspension there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel.

CABS FOR BIG GUYS
Big guys get a bigger break in a Chevy cab. There's plenty of space inside to stretch out and relax; more room for hats and hips, more room for wide shoulders and long legs. There's horizon-wide visibility through a windshield with 26% more glass area; a new see-at-a-glance instrument panel. Cabs are safer, too, up to 67% more rigid.
NO SHIMMY, NO WHEEL FIGHT
Drive a '60 Chevy. Just once. Right away you'll notice the absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight common on ordinary trucks.
6'S SWORN TO SAVE
Chevy's 6-cylinder engines are set to squeeze extra miles out of every drop of fuel. They're long famous for low fuel consumption, high performance.
SHORT STROKE V8'S
Power-packed for peak performance, Chevy's husky V8's make child's play out of the toughest hauls. They have a mind tuned to economy, too, that keeps costs down, profits up.

SLICK NEW SUBURBAN CARRYALLS
These handsome new handy haulers "double in brass"—can transport eight passengers or up to 950 lbs. of payload. Rear and center seats are easy to remove and replace when necessary. For work or for pleasure, these double-duty beauties are best for both!

NEW DOLLAR-SAVING PRICES
Chevrolet's low prices make big truck news for '60. They mean money in your pocket on model after model. Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Also, prices have been reduced on all optional V8's.
SEE YOUR DEALER
It could be the most important visit you make in '60. When you've seen these new Chevies, you'll agree they're the world's most advanced trucks. Then drive one and find out why.

PAY MORE? FOR WHAT?

For more room maybe? You'll never need it. Valiant's got room for a family of six and their luggage. Could be it's spunk you're after? Valiant's got that too, from a 101 horsepower inclined engine that's got an extraordinarily light touch with a gallon of regular. Looks, we won't even mention. You could pay twice the price and not even come close to the "Valiant Look." And all the money in a miser's sock can't buy a fully-unitized body that's rust-proofed and rattle-proofed the way Valiant's is. Something else about Valiant you're really going to like, the alternator electrical system. You'd pay a pretty penny to get it anywhere else. On Valiant it's standard equipment. What does it do? It makes your battery last longer, much longer. Because it charges even at idle. Beginning to get the answer to our question? Sure! So why even think about paying more, when Valiant has it all? THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 83. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY MD., FEBRUARY 25, 1960 PER COPY, 8c NUMBER 52.

MISSED BY A FOOT—This photograph shows how narrowly the Lonnie Kitzmiller home was spared damage Sunday afternoon when more than 60 cars of two Baltimore and Ohio freight trains sideswiped just west of Oakland. The closest car came within a foot of the dwelling. It pushed over a tree damaging the roof of the house.

This scene was repeated many times last week throughout the county as sidewalks were plowed open to permit foot traffic. Here a hand propelled plow opens the sidewalk above the Oakland postoffice. Height of the drift can be judged by the parking meter to the left.

All Roads Open

Darrell Wotring, county roads supervisor, announced this morning that all county roads are open and in the process of being widened. He said all his crews had done exceptional work, not only on county roads, but also on a number of state roads.

County crews opened route 39 to Kitzmiller Saturday night and were able to get a piece of equipment at Elk Garden that had been isolated there. Wotring said the county crews also assisted in opening a section of U. S. 219, a section of 135, from Swanton to Bittinger, a section of 560, from Loch Lynn to Gormania, and another section of 135 near Grantsville. He said this was necessary in some cases in order to get to their own county roads.

Reprimanded for Neglect Of Six Children

Mrs. Helen Dumire was taken before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley yesterday afternoon in the Circuit Court on a charge of neglecting her six children.

The court ordered her to comply with the regulations of the Garrett County Welfare Board case worker for cleaning up her home, keeping it clean, keeping the children clean and properly caring for them. Judge Fraley said the case worker was to make a weekly report to the court. Mrs. Dumire resides in the Crellin vicinity.

Judge Fraley heard three other cases yesterday afternoon sitting as a juvenile judge. Two cases involved boys 14 and 15 years old who had not been attending school. The judge ordered them to attend school regularly, and if they did not the school officials were to notify the State's Attorney and they would be brought in and sentenced to the Reformatory.

The third case involved a girl who had refused to live with certain people. She was ordered to return to the parties she had been staying with originally, and be of good behavior. If not she was to be returned to the court where she would be sentenced to a Reformatory.

Man Found Dead In Snowdrift on Sunday

Morris Newton Merrill, aged 83, was found dead in a snowdrift in rear of his home near North Glade Sunday morning, February 21. He had apparently gone out of the house Saturday evening to tend to the chickens and bring in some wood and collapsed as he was returning to the rear door.

He died of a heart attack, according to the report of Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., deputy medical examiner, who saw him after he was brought to the Leighton Funeral home in Oakland.

Mrs. Merrill, an invalid for the past several years, was unable to get anyone's attention until Sunday morning. She had no telephone and was not able to make a search for her husband when she realized he had not returned to the house. She called to a passing neighbor the next morning who found the man in the snowdrift.

Born near Oakland he was a son of the late Isaac and Mary Savage Merrill. Surviving are his widow, Elizabeth McRobie Merrill; eight children, Charles Merrill, Alexandria, Va.; Lloyd Merrill and Mrs. Betty Lazelle, both Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. Grace Miller, Hyattsville; Truman Merrill, Canton, O.; Mrs. Helen Bittinger, Louisville, O.; Russell Merrill, Cumberland; Bobey Merrill, Baltimore; a brother, Austin Merrill Gormania, W. Va.; 18 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the North Glade Methodist church by Rev. Clarence Winkler. Burial was in the McRobie cemetery.

66 Freight Cars Derail In Spectacular Wreck

Two Passing Trains Involved In Massive Tie-Up Early Sunday Afternoon; No Injuries Reported

THE SNOW WASN'T ENOUGH—For the Lonnie Kitzmiller family, just west of Oakland on the Herrington Manor road. Many persons found themselves confronted with a yard full of snow last week, but the Kitzmillers went one better. Besides the snow, they found their back yard roof deep in Baltimore and Ohio Railroad empty coal cars following Sunday afternoon's spectacular two-train pile-up. The house was undamaged, but a pet dog belonging to the family found himself dog houseless in the mishap.

Sixty-six cars of two passing Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight trains were derailed in a spectacular accident about 1:20 p. m. Sunday just west of the Oakland City limits, but no one was injured. The engines and a number of cars of both trains remained on the tracks.

The wreckage blocked both main line tracks and stopped all movement of trains over the Cumberland division tracks between Cumberland and Grafton until about midnight Monday when traffic was resumed on the westbound rails.

Trains in the meantime were rerouted from Grafton to Fairmont, Connellsville, Pa., and then over the Pittsburgh division tracks into Cumberland.

R. J. Cannon, division superintendent, said the cause of the wreckage was not immediately determined although it was presumed that one or more of the cars became derailed as the trains were passing each other and as a consequence the general derailment ensued.

Trains involved were No. 88 eastbound from Grafton, and an unnumbered extra freight train headed west from Keyser with 110 empty coal cars. No. 88 had 85 loaded cars of miscellaneous freight bound for eastern points, and 37 empty cars.

Lawrence C. Arnold, Cumberland, was engineer for No. 88, while C. D. Sanders, of Keyser, was the engineer on the westbound freight.

Dog House, Shed Wrecked

Some of the cars of the westbound train came to rest in the yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kitzmiller, on the Swallow Falls road. One coal car was less than a foot from a corner of the home. A dog house and a coal shed were demolished but the dog was not harmed. Mr. and Mrs. Kitzmiller were visiting neighbors at the time.

Some of the coal cars took out the telephone lines along the road's right of way, which happened to be the trunk lines from Baltimore to Clarksburg, cutting phone service for almost twenty-four hours.

Because of the disruption in trains some 150 skiers from the Washington and Baltimore area had to be taken from Oakland to Cumberland in four county school buses where they boarded an east-

Wreck Sidelights

Lonnie Kitzmiller's cocker spaniel dog escaped injury Sunday when the railroad freight trains derailed and spilled several coal hoppers into the Kitzmiller backyard. The residence was narrowly missed. The animal was in his doghouse in the yard and cars were all around him, but none struck the small building.

Almost on Time

The Melvin Kights spent the week-end in Washington and boarded the National Limited Sunday night for the return trip. But because of the wreck on the B. and O. west of town, they were told they would have to detrain at Cumberland. But at Cumberland a Garrett County school bus was awaiting them. It brought them home by way of Keyser, Piedmont and Westernport, dropping passengers at all these places, and arrived in Oakland just twenty minutes later than if they had come by train all the way. Mr. Werdebaugh, of Swallow Falls, also a passenger on the Limited, arrived with them.

And why was the school bus in Cumberland? It was one of four buses which had taken some 150 skiers to Cumberland to catch a train for Baltimore and Washington. Some 190 to 200 skiers came to Oakland Friday night, but 219 was closed so they couldn't get to Deep Creek Lake. They spent the night in the B. and O. station and the Oakland fire hall. Some fifty got a might disgusted and returned home Saturday but the others arrived at the Ski area Saturday morning. Others arrived here Saturday so it took four buses to get them back to Cumberland when the wreck made it impossible to catch the train at Oakland. So the one bus remained to deliver train passengers to Keyser, Piedmont, Westernport, Luke and Bloomington. Most of the passengers were delivered almost to their door.

Fire Damages Former Sebold Farm Home

The farm home known as the George Sebold dwelling, at Sebold's turn, U. S. route 219, north of McHenry, was severely damaged by fire of undetermined origin on Monday evening about 6:30 o'clock.

The two-story dwelling is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Everett VanSickle. Three fire companies answered the alarm, and had it not been for a shortage of water, would have been able to save the structure.

The roof and upstairs ceiling were burned and water damage was heavy to the balance of the home. The Accident fire department was first on the scene and later the Friendsville and Oakland companies arrived to assist in subduing the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. VanSickle conducted a foster home for children. No one was injured in the blaze but Claude Friend, an Accident fireman, was overcome by smoke and had to leave the scene.

To Induct One

One person was scheduled for induction into the armed forces early next month, according to the clerk of the local Selective Service board.

He is Donald Ray Ashby, of Crellin.

Ashby will go to the induction station at Fairmont, W. Va., on March 8th.

Held For Investigation

Harold Estel Scott, 19, Daniels, W. Va., is being held in the county jail for investigation and also for violation of two motor vehicle violations.

He was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Bruce Close in the driveway of the H P Store warehouse at Loch Lynn Height.

Corporal Sam Conrad of the State Police charged him with displaying plates issued to another vehicle and for operating without a license.

He will be given a hearing within the next few days.

Northern - Southern Will Meet Tonight

The second of the two basketball games between the Southern Highlanders and the Northern Huskies will be played this evening on the Northern High court. The game was postponed from last Saturday night on account of the inclement weather. The meeting will be the seventeenth one of the two schools since 1953.

Southern won the first encounter this year 80 to 51. The game will determine the county championship but will have no bearing on the district tournament as Southern is an "A" school and northern is a "B" school. Ratings are determined by the number of male students in the senior high school.

This is the second change in the schedule. Originally scheduled for Friday, February 19, it was found impossible to obtain competent referees so the Saturday night date was decided.

There will be a preliminary game between the junior varsity teams of the two schools, starting at 6:45. The varsity game is set for 8 o'clock.

Car License Plates Are Now Available

License plates for privately owned passenger cars and motorcycles are now on sale at the office of Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer, and at the Department of Motor Vehicles. They may be displayed on and after March 1, according to John R. Jewell, commissioner of motor vehicles.

In addition to signing the application the question must be answered as to whether or not the individual carries insurance for liability and property damage to others. If this insurance is not carried it will be necessary to remit an additional fee of $8.00.

Licenses cost $15 or $23, depending upon the weight of the car, with 15 cents additional for handling charges.

If applications are not received by February 25 auto owners are asked to notify the department of motor vehicles in writing, giving full name, new and old address, title number given to the far right on the last line of the registration card, together with present tag number.

Applications for trucks and other classes will be mailed March 31, it was stated.

Tawes Requests Airport Funds

Gov. J. Millard Tawes yesterday added several requests in his capital improvements program which goes before the General Assembly.

One was a request for $125,000 for a new dormitory for Frostburg State Teachers college.

Another request added by Gov. Tawes included $37,500 toward a possible airport near Oakland. This has been a project contemplated for the past several years. A definite announcement may be made within the next few days.

Heavy Snow Storm Batters County; Power Is Cut, Travelers Marooned

Nineteen To Thirty Inch Fall Recorded; High Winds Whip Up Drifts And Block Highways

TIME OUT FOR REPAIRS—After 20 hours of almost continuous operation, this snow plow and its crew took time out for a little maintenance work Saturday morning while plowing open Route 219 north of Oakland towards Deep Creek Lake. State and county roads crews logged long hours to bring passable roads to county residents in the wake of last week's storm.

Garrett county was practically marooned for a day and hampered for several more, by a nineteen to thirty inch snowfall which struck the area last Thursday and Friday. The high winds whipped the powdery stuff into impassable eight to ten foot drifts and refilled the paths made by the snow plows almost as soon as they had been made.

Starting as a wet snowfall, this soon changed after about four to five inches had fallen. The cooling air changed the fall from wet to dry and gale-like winds of more than 50 miles per hour haltered the county.

Communications remained open at all times to Bloomington, east, and Terra Alta on the west, but U. S. routes 219, 40 and 50 were closed for several hours. Route 50 remained open in Garrett county but both West Virginia ends were blocked. The force of the wind disrupted telephone and telegraph communications and the only sure way of getting in or out of Oakland was by Baltimore and Ohio train. This also came to a halt on Sunday afternoon following a huge derailment, but by this time main highways were once again open.

Schools were ordered closed on Friday because many of the secondary roads were impassable and were not reopened until Wednesday. It was the second time within a week that schools had been closed. A serious storm on the previous Sunday night had blocked highways and caused school to be called off on Monday.

The "days of grace" for the schools have been used up and there are three days that will have to be made up before graduation in June. The school calendar allows for only three days of schools being closed throughout the year. There were numerous traffic tie-ups on Big Savage mountain on Thursday night before that road was completely blocked. The boom was completely lowered by Friday morning. On Long Stretch, west of Frostburg, there were a number of cars stranded by high drifts which blocked the roadway. State road

Storm Sidelights

A county woman who was snowbound in her home near Avilton gave birth to a daughter Saturday morning at 7:30 with a Frostburg physician giving directions via telephone.

Mrs. Doris May Jeffries Weimer, wife of Francis Weimer was under the care of Dr. Martin Rothstein. He received a call Saturday morning from Mrs. Ambrose Weimer, mother of the father to be. Dr. Rothstein held the line and gave instructions. At 7:30 the baby girl was born. Mother and child were doing well. Mrs. Weimer has another child, born last April 18.

Deer Park Relieved

Van Browning is receiving the thanks of most of the citizens of Deer Park. The town was in complete isolation last Friday. Mr. Browning took a bulldozer and plowed every street in the town and wouldn't hear of taking a cent.

70 Crellin Homes Offered For Sale

Seventy homes in the town of Crellin are being offered at private sale by Adams and Adams real estate agency, according to an advertisement appearing in today's issue of The Republican.

The homes are of various sizes, have hot and cold water, bath, sewage, electricity and other modern conveniences. A spitable plot of ground is to go with each home sold. Prices will depend upon location and condition, it was stated.

Kray Coal Plans Expansion in Area At Howesville

Stanley Ashby, Crellin coal mine operator, hastened to clear up a number of rumors this week concerning the future of Crellin, and explained that there would continue to be activity at the Kray coal company mines in that area.

With the announcement that seventy homes in that town were being offered for sale, a number of people got the idea that Crellin would soon be another ghost town. But Mr. Ashby said this was only because mining companies in general were "going out of the real estate business."

The Kray Coal company has installed a hydro separator, a coal washing machine, at a cost of $50,000 at Howesville, W. Va., where the company expects to concentrate its forces for the time being.

He said the Offutt mine, operated by the Stanley Coal company, as Ream mine No. 1 was being closed, but that the company was not giving up its lease on the property. The Kray Coal company will continue to operate its holdings in the area, keep its offices and store in the town. The company purchased some 8,000 acres of Freeport seam coal at Howesville in 1939, which it has mined for a number of years. This mine operation is now being expanded and some 40 to 50 men from Crellin will work in that area and commute to their homes. Mr. Ashby said this would put a force of some 150 to 200 men at the Howesville operation.

He said the new coal washing operation would make the coal more salable.

Candidates Are Not At All Plentiful

Candidates for city offices in Oakland were not very plentiful up to today. In fact, although the deadline for filing is next Wednesday, March 3, only one person has signified his intention of running for city council. He is Wilbur W. Close, employe of The Republican office.

The filing fee for city council is $2.50, while the fee for mayor or treasurer is $5. Russell L. Smith's term as mayor expires and it was not known whether or not he would be a candidate for re-election. Terms expire for three councilmen, John Wolf, Henry McComas and E. W. Adams. The latter was filling out an unexpired term of Robert M. Maroney, who resigned several months ago to accept the appointment of trial magistrate.

Hold-over members of council are Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Dr. H. R. Gibson and Howard J. White. Mrs. Berxldine Stanton is present treasurer, and filed for re-election this morning.

The annual election will be on Monday, March 14. Qualified persons may register until March 5, at noon.

NO PUNNY STUFF—Lots of folk don't like puns, so in deference to them, in describing this picture of the snow-bound Garrett National Bank we'll omit all reference to "frozen assets," "cold cash" and "snow bank." The photograph, taken last Friday morning, looking north on Second street in Oakland, shows a typical street scene following the heavy snowfall of the previous night. The mounds in front of the building are automobiles imprisoned by the sudden storm. All were rescued during the ensuing week end.

THEY CAN'T STAY HERE—There's always a "morning after" as wreck crews of the B. and O. found by the day's early light Monday when work of opening the right of way to traffic began in earnest following the previous day's train wreck on the main New York-Cincinnati line. The two trains involved were a westbound string of empties and an eastbound mixed freight. Traffic was restored Tuesday afternoon.

Stranded Travelers Are Safe In Church

Five stranded travelers including two small children, were rescued early last Friday from a roadside church where they had taken refuge from the blizzard.

Grantsville volunteer firemen rescued them from Zion church, about seven miles west of Frostburg on U. S. 40 after another member of the party hitched a ride into Frostburg for help.

Raymond S. Rhoads of East Riverdale told firemen he and his brother-in-law were driving east on 40 toward Shinnston, W. Va., early Friday when they spotted the stranded car of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Headreth of Delaware, about four miles west of Frostburg. Inside were Mr. and Mrs. Headreth and their two children four months and 17 months old.

Rudolph and his brother-in-law tried to drive the family to a garage but their car stalled near the church. They broke into the church and started a fire in a small heating stove.

Teen People Hitched a ride on a truck and old Frostburg firemen on the family's plight. Driven back by the heavy snow they called Grantsville firemen who sent out cars and an ambulance driven by Henry Darst, chief, and Don Newman, Jonas McKenzie, William Lewis and William Bricker.

Family and car were taken to Grantsville. Firemen said none of the travelers suffered any apparent ill effects.

By DICK CASTLOW

Hi again. Well, the weather took care of our plans for a big record hop last Friday night. It seems as if it's hard to plan something anywhere but doubly hard here. Our plans for a Teen Queen and King will be announced in their entirety next week.

For entertainment we are going to have entertainers from D. C. and Onda Records. Among those recording artists of which we are certain are the Individualists who recorded "A Blue Note" which was given a B plus rating in Cashbox magazine. You all have danced to, and enjoyed this record very much. I had one of the first prom records on this. Also Billy Rice of Dot records will be on hand to do his "Fool's Love" which is hot on the charts in the south and "Seventeen Little Kisses." By that time he may introduce a brand new hit type song. I was lucky enough to hear it a Billy was recording last week. The name of it is "Mandy," and it's really extreme. Both Billy Rice and the Individualists are great showmen and draw large crowds wherever they go. In Cumberland a few weeks ago, they drew a crowd of around 15 hundred teenagers.

I would like to see many of our friends from Friendsville, Grantsville, Accident, Aurora, and Bayard come down to this gala record hop. Remember at this hop we will award the "best athletic trophy of the year" to a high school student.

I received a batch of real-hot [illegible] rock-n-roll records. Hope I get them today, to make a go on the U. S. Personally I think they'll make it. This is a real big type band kind of music. You'll dig it.

If nothing happens like more snow, we'll have a great time at the hop tomorrow night at the armory. See ya!

HOYES

The weather permitting Sunday School will be at 10 a. m. and worship at 11 a. m. this Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll DeWitt and family were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Claude Bishoff.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bishoff and children were Monday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bishoff, the occasion being his father's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bishoff and children were Saturday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hauser and family.

Adult Education In Race Relations Is Subject of Address

The Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, rector of St. Matthew Episcopal church, Oakland, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Oakland Civic club on Tuesday afternoon at the William-James hotel.

Mr. Walthall, native of Alabama, was educated at the University of the South and Birmingham Southern college. Prior to coming to Oakland he had parishes in New Mexico, Texas and Queen Anne's parish in Howard county.

At present he is a special consultant with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, in adult education.

Mr. Walthall explained his plan of action which he recently devised and spoke at length on the plan. He told of four concrete ways in which this adult education program might be brought about.

He listed the four steps: first a preliminary investigation of existing adult education programs, especially in the south; second, a White House conference with the President and governors; third, organization of the country into regions with a bi-racial commission set up as well as in each of the states; and fourth, after complete preparations were made, the administration of the Plan of Action itself.

He said this included the program for re-education of the adult population in manners and morals, vocational guidance, instruction in the democratic processes of government and a fundamental understanding of one's community responsibility.

Mr. Walthall told the group that the basic philosophy underlying this program was that of raising social, economic, cultural standards of living of the Negroes and lower income whites of the land, thereby giving the former an opportunity to assume greater responsibility in the community. He said it was to reestablish communication between the two races that such a program was being undertaken.

Mr. Walthall was introduced by Mrs. W. W. Grant. Mrs. H. W. McComas, president, conducted the business session. Three new members were presented: Mrs. Stuart Hamill, Sr., Mrs. Charles Briner and Mrs. Jean Ashby. Guests were Mrs. William Naylor and Mrs. Lewis R. Jones.

It was announced that Mrs. Margaret Schwemmer, member of the House of Delegates, Montgomery county, chairman of the Committee for the aging in the state, would speak at an area meeting on health and education, to be held in the Oakland Fire Hall, March 8, at 7:30, on the topic, "On Care of the Aging."

Police Renew Effort To Get Helicopter

The State Police renewed their effort in the Legislature to get a helicopter notice you would have been helpful in rescuing stranded motorists along U. S. 40 during last week's snowstorm.

The superintendent and other officers appeared before the Senate Finance committee to defend their $5,798,780 budget request for next fiscal year, an increase of some $216,930 over the current budget. The budget includes $11,000 for part of the helicopter cost. The State Civil Defense agency would put up an additional $11,000 and the federal government would match both contributions.

All highways were reopened to traffic by Wednesday with only a few secondary roads now open to one-way traffic still needing to be plowed.

Darrell Wotring, county roads supervisor gave special praise to the county roads crews. He said they did an "excellent job not only in clearing the county highways but also in giving a hand to State Roads crews in opening the main roads." "We had to help the SRC in order to get to our own roads," Paul DeWitt, assistant supervisor, said.

Snow began melting Tuesday as temperatures rose to the high 30's. Temperatures varied from a low of 18 degrees in this county.

4-H Club Meets

The Bittinger Boys 4-H club met recently at the Community building. Mrs. Melda Georg, county health nurse, spoke briefly and showed a film, "Miracle in Paradise Valley."

Blaine Bowser, newly elected president, presided at the business session. Items of business included planning for the fair booth, a track meeting in April, and the purchase of 4-H signs for members. The group also voted to donate toward the purchase of a layette for a Korean mother.

It was announced that Ralph Buckel, Jr., and Larry Buckel would attend a training meeting for officers in Oakland.

Heart Surgery Is Televised Yesterday

A 22-year-old Garrett county mother is reported in excellent condition last Wednesday after a delicate heart operation at the University hospital, Baltimore. A hospital spokesman said Olen Beachy of Grantsville was recuperating rapidly and resume comfortably.

The operation performed by a 15-member surgical team was witnessed on television by thousands at Marylanders, only 5½ hours after it was completed Friday night.

Beachy had been afflicted with an interatrial septal defect—a half-dollar size hole between the upper heart chambers. The defect permitted blood lacking oxygen to mix with fresh blood, making Beachy virtually an invalid.

The surgical team used a heart-lung machine to by-pass the heart. Then surgeons cut open the heart and sewed up the defect.

The operation was recorded on video tape for televising on a Baltimore station because it demonstrated new techniques in open-heart surgery.

Participants will compete in one of two classifications with three prizes being awarded in each group. Winners are determined by popular ballot. Robert Wilson is talent chairman. Mrs. Dorothy Anderson and Mrs. Harry Fraley were named as general chairman and co-chairman of the affair.

Asked To Contribute Clothing For World Relief Of Destitute

American churchgoers have been asked to contribute ten million pounds of used clothing and blankets for overseas relief during Lent. An emergency gift of one million blankets was sought for refugees and disaster victims.

The shortage is so critical among some groups of refugees, the director of Church World Service said that an airlift will be used to distribute blankets to needy people. The requests have come from Algeria, Tunisia, Gaza, Egypt, Burma, Tibetan border of India, Calcutta, Japan and Korea.

Representatives of eleven Protestant denominations are cooperating in the drive. The goal represents a doubling of the clothing collected nationally last year. The particular need is for blankets, heavy underwear and men's clothing.

The New Windsor "pick-up" center in this area is the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, opposite Southern High school. The next pick-up will be on Monday, March 7. Clothing may be brought anytime before that date.

The wearable material at the New Windsor center is separated into men's, women's, older and younger children's lots and these in turn are divided into summer and winter weight. It is then packed with moth crystals and baled, the bale covered with waterproof paper and burlap, stenciled with weight and contents and then carried by truck to the nearest port where they are loaded on ship for the journey to the foreign countries.

Train Wreck

bound train arriving from Connellsville. One bus remained in Cumberland and picked up passengers to Keyser, Piedmont and Oakland areas arriving on the National Limited.

It was the second B. and O. accident in the Tri-State area in three days, a passenger train having rammed the rear of a stopped work train at Sand Patch, Pa., last Friday, injuring twenty-one persons.

The wreck attracted hundreds of sightseers to the scene but police held back many because some of the derailed cars contained alcohol and it was feared an explosion might occur.

It was the worst wreck ever to occur in this area, but also one of the most unusual in that no one was injured. The diesel units on both trains remained on the tracks along with a number of cars. These were detached within a short time and continued their journey to their destination. Wreck crews from both ends of the line converged on the wreck scene and immediately began to clear the right of way. Many of the empties were shoved over the embankment by bulldozer, the crews salvaging the wheels. Some cars were loaded with meat, cheese and oranges and these were sold to nearby produce men.

Cost Is $122,050

The derailment caused an estimated damage of $112,050 to the railroad company, according to railroad officials. Damage to the trackage was $5,000, cars and cargo, $115,000; signals, $2,000, and one locomotive, $50.

This did not include cost of repairs by the C. and P. Telephone company.

Three Family Week-End

Three families from Oakland were stranded while enroute to their homes, after a visit in Pittsburgh on Thursday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Shirer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ashby, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shirer. Their car became stuck in a drift on Cove. They spent several hours in the car until daylight, then spied a farm home. It was an empty house. They saw another. Nobody was home. Then the third one was the home of Carl Glass. They remained there until Saturday evening.

It Takes All Kinds

It takes all kinds. Over the weekend a man worked almost twenty-four hours in aiding the stranded, getting their cars moving, and other humane work. Monday he came to the ski-tow at Marsh Mountain and became stuck in the roadway. A man from Oakland came along and with a little push, got him extricated. Whereupon the man told of another person who had passed by a short time before, in a four-wheel drive Jeep. He had asked for a little shove to get him out of the drift but the man said he didn't have time. He had to get to the ski area.

Then there is the story of a garage along U. S. 40 where the proprietor made a number of people get out of his place when it came time to close up. So ont they went in the storm, to look for shelter elsewhere.

Chief Cook—Bottle Washer

Last Friday the city police worked at bringing in the nurses at the hospital, but they were unable to get any of the kitchen force to work.

But all three meals came out on time and the special diets were taken care of. Henry McComas, hospital administrator, and Jacqueline Myers did the cooking and Roy Harvey, engineer at the hospital, served as dish washer.

The dietitian and helpers arrived the next day and took over.

crews went through with large snow plows and opened most of the route to Grantsville last night, winds soon drifted it closed again. Rotary plows were called into play and worked in the Grantsville and Accident areas.

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale state police barracks, said that radio communications had been disrupted and state police throughout the area were without contact all day Friday.

The depth of the snow ranged from 19 inches to 30 or more. Ralph E. Weber, veteran weather man, said there were recordings of 4 inches Thursday night and 13 inches Friday from midnight on, with an additional inch falling on Sunday night. There were five inches or more on the ground when the new snow came. Other parts of the county reported the snowfall up to 30 inches. Seven degrees above zero was recorded Sunday morning for the coldest reading of the week.

Mr. Weber said it was the worst storm since 1936. There were some who would argue that the winter of 1957 was worse, but there was no doubt that roads were closed tight and took twenty-four hour service of both the County and State roads crews to get traffic moving again.

Two Deaths Occur

Two deaths were attributed to the storm. Carl Winters, 53, of Swallow Falls, collapsed and died near Swanto, after shoveling heavy drifts.

Newton Merrill, 83, of North Glade, died of a heart attack in the rear of his home on Saturday, after feeding his chickens and going for wood. He was not found until Sunday, almost completely covered by the snow.

The sun began to shine a little on Saturday and with the lessening of the wind, state and county roads workers redoubled their efforts to get both main and secondary roads open. Most of the secondary roads were able to accommodate at least one-lane traffic by Sunday evening, but officials of the Board of Education felt that travel for school buses was still too hazardous so called off school both Monday and Tuesday. Schools reopened on Wednesday with attendance still somewhat below normal. It was still impossible for a number of children to reach the county roads because their farm lanes were still blocked.

Many roads were still narrow and zig-zaggy due to abandoned autos, and efforts were made Tuesday and Wednesday in widening the narrow spots.

Friendsville was isolated until Sunday. The highway from Friendsville to Bear Creek was kept open and roads branched out for a mile or two in other directions, but people couldn't go any place.

Up to 300 motorists were stranded at Mt. Storm on route 50 from Friday night until about 3:30 Saturday when the road to Gorman was cleared. Thousands of travelers were stranded on the Pennsylvania turnpike. They spent two days in restaurants, motels and churches.

People of the county were keeping their fingers crossed as predictions of further snow in the area were broadcast. Some snow fell on Monday and Tuesday but not enough to further hamper road workers.

All of the county road equipment including 37 pieces 22 trucks, eight graders and two snow blowers were in service in combatting the storm. Paul DeWitt, Oakland, assistant county roads supervisor, said some drifts were up to 15 feet high. Nine bulldozers were added to the job on Monday.

Darrell Wotring, county roads supervisor, announced Monday that more than 90 percent of the secondary roads were open, although many still available for one-way traffic only. He said the road crews were maintaining a 24-hour schedule in an effort to clear the highways. No new drifting was reported.

The State Roads commission officially reported all main highways open to two-way traffic by Monday evening. Edward P. Kahl, state roads engineer here, said the storm wouldn't be considered as bad as the one in 1957. We have had more snow many times he said, but usually it comes more gradual. This storm last Thursday night became furious in such a short space of time. And along with the high wind there wasn't much any one could do.

Boating Bill Gets House Unit Backing

The bill giving the Tidewater Fisheries Commission authority to license and regulate every boat not under federal control was given a prompt favorable report Tuesday at the legislative session at Annapolis.

The House Ways and Means committee made two major changes in the bill before approving it. The committee broadened the bill to include all sailboats and require the operator of a motor boat towing water skiers to be at least 12 years old.

The bill as drafted would have excluded sailboats under 25 feet long from registering. It also would have required that there be at least two persons in a boat towing skiers with one person at least 12 years old, but no age limit for the driver was specified.

It will cost each boat owner $6 for three years to obtain a number which must be painted on the bow. Money is to be used for improving waterways.

The state is faced with the choice of adopting registration of boats by April 1 or having the federal government do it. The Department of Game and Inland Fish will administer the boat act on such waters as Deep Creek Lake and the Potomac River. Boats on the lake now are licensed by the department.

Shoes for Baby

- Youth Creams
- Unwanted Hair
- Sickroom Flowers

Q. When should the average baby start wearing shoes? What type of footwear should he wear?

A. An infant with normal feet should start to wear shoes when they are needed, that is, when he starts walking. Shoes are simply protective and there is no particular time that can be set for a baby to start wearing shoes. If the footwear is big enough and has a straight inner border it is immaterial whether shoes or boots are worn. In any case, a small heel is more comfortable.

Q. Are vitamin creams of any value in keeping the skin young and healthy?

A. There is not much known regarding the effects of applying vitamins to the skin. Vitamins are necessary to maintain the skin in a healthy condition and they can be absorbed through the skin. It is doubtful, however, whether Father Time can be greatly influenced by any means.

Q. I have a few rother long black hairs uround my nipples. Would cutting or shaving them make matters worse? — From an unsigned letter.

A. It is presumed that the inquirer refers to the nipples of the female breast. This is not so uncommon. Hair, regardless of location, is not made thicker or stiffer by cutting or shaving.

Note: Many unsigned letters go unanswered in these columns. Readers are reminded that names of persons who submit questions to Science Editors are never revealed. When initials are used they are most often scrambled to further mask the reader's identity. Only a few people see original letters submitted to Science Editors—confidential secretaries and the editors.

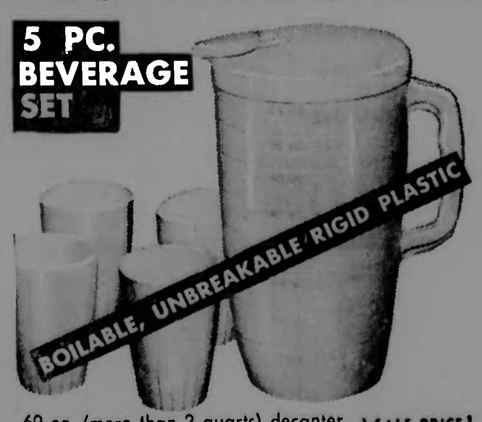
Q. I have always heard that plants rob the air of oxygen. Isn't it best to remove flowers and plants from the sick room at night?



A. Sorry, but plants do not rob the air of oxygen. The reverse is true. Plants absorb carbon dioxide (a gas we exhale) and give off oxygen. How this false notion ever got started is a mystery but quite a few people—and some nurses—habitually remove flowers from the sick room at night. Why just at night is another mystery. If plants used up oxygen (which they don't) they would do so day and night. In any case, the carbon dioxide oxygen exchange in plants is so scanty that a whole roomful of flowers wouldn't make much difference in the oxygen-carbon dioxide content of the room.

Sermon Series Has Lenten Emphasis

The following is the first of a series of brief sermons by one of the Lutheran pastors of the Mt. Top area, in connection with the Lenten emphasis on the Augsburg confession.

This week the Rev. John W. Kline, pastor of the Bittinger charge talks on "The Confessional Church."

THE AUGSBURG CONFESSION

Certainly all Christians know that each individual must make a response to God's revelation of Himself in Christ. The resulting confession of faith is very personal, for the individual has been overcome by the truth of the Gospel. The individual, however, then unites with the Church and her confession. In this way his personal confession becomes one with the confession of the Church.

The faith once for all delivered to the saints has endured many a trial through the course of history, and many doctrines have been formulated to ward off heresy. As Lutherans, we accept the decisions of the first seven ecumenical councils, the three ecumenical creeds, and also our specifically Lutheran Confessions of the Reformation era. Thus, as each member unites his personal faith to the faith of the Church there is a continuity with history which is lost apart from the Church, in which is preserved the fulness of the faith.

Let us consider this question as applied to the Bible. It is not for each man to judge for himself such a question as the divine inspiration of Holy Scripture. It is not a matter of personal choice at all, but depends on the judgment of the Church which established the canon.

Of course, thanks to Luther and the Reformation, each member of the Church has the right to possess and read the Bible. But, contrary to a popular belief, it was not Luther's intention that each individual should have the right to a private interpretation of equal authority to the Church's established teaching. It is this latter misunderstanding that has led to split after split in the Church. Any personal feeling toward the Bible should not remain isolated, it should not lose its connection with the Church.

In practice this means that if you, as an individual, want to understand the Word of God from the point of view of faith and dogma, you must be in accord with the interpretation of the Church handed down by the divinely inspired Fathers and Teachers of the Church, and from apostolic times. After His resurrection, our Lord opened the understanding of the Scriptures to His disciples (Luke 24:25). This understanding continues to be opened to us by the action of the Holy Spirit in the Church.

This principle, then, curbs the individual will by placing man face to face with the Church, the Body of Christ, and its entire history under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Thus each Christian is responsible not just as an individual, but as a member of the Church. The individual effort to read and understand the Holy Scriptures is not only a privilege but a duty of every Christian, but this effort must be full of the spirit of the Church. If it isn't, and individual interpretation assumes too great an importance, it breeds the spirit of disorder and disunity, which are not fruits of the Spirit.

For Lutherans, all of this means that a basic familiarity with the creeds and confessions is absolutely necessary for any participation in the fellowship of Lutherans around the world. Thus we ought to hear less of "I believe thus and so" and much more of "Our churches believe and teach thus and so." This means that the "I" has united itself with the Church. It is the spirit of the Augsburg Confession, the Spirit of unity.

District Basketball Plans Are Completed

District basketball tournament plans were completed at a meeting of principals and coaches of the area involved at Hancock last Saturday.

North High school of Hagerstown was named as Allegany High school's opponent in the Class A division of the district 1 tournament which would be held at Allegany High gym in Cumberland Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5.

The team qualified for the tournament by beating South High School last Saturday night 46 to 42 in a "rubber" game that was necessary to determine Washington county's class A champion.

Frederick High School and Southern High of Oakland are scheduled to clash on the Allegany High court Tuesday, March 1, and the winner of this game will play the team emerging victorious in the Westminster-Howard County game set for the same evening at Western Maryland college in Westminster.

If Southern eliminates Frederick the Highlanders will play the Westminster-Howard county winner at Campobello Friday, March 4 in the triple-header that will feature Allegany and North High and the Northern-Middletown class B contest.

If Frederick disposes of Southern high it will be the cadets against the Westminster-Howard county winner that will be decided Thursday, March 3 in Hagerstown. Walkersville and Smithburg, class "C" teams, will clash on the same evening on the same floor.

The Valley-Bruce class B winner will play the Washington county winner, Hancock or Williamsport, at Campobello on Thursday, March 3.

The team emerging victorious in the games involving Southern, Frederick, Westmister and Howard county will go to Campobello Saturday night, March 5, to play the winner of the North Hagerstown-Allegany game for the district class A title. The Northern-Middletown winner will play the survivor of the games between Hancock, Williamsport, Valley and Bruce for "B" honors while the "C" championship game will bring together the Allegany county winner, Flintstone or Oldtown, versus the winner of the Walkersville-Smithburg battle.

Authorities Again Seek Check Forger

Authorities are on the prowl again for that 'prolific forger,' who was arrested here November 17, 1958, and who was sentenced to serve eighteen months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of false pretense on February 25, 1959.

He was recently released from the institution and was back at his old tricks apparently. Arrison gave a bad check to Helbig's Market in Loch Lynn Heights for $20. The check was drawn on the Mellon National Bank and Trust company, of Pittsburgh.

Arrison's first arrest here in November, 1958, followed a series of check-writing incidents involving four business places in Oakland. He was finally identified as Arrison, aged 47 at the time, of near Pittsburgh. He had posed in Oakland as George Wilson of the Wilson Construction and Instrument company.

He told State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt, at that time that he was in the county to assist in building a radar station.

A search of the records in Maryland revealed at that time that the man had been released from the House of Correction several months previous.

There is a warrant out for the man's arrest.

Dumire Sentenced

Clintis William Dumire held in jail for the past few weeks on a charge of incest, waived the right to indictment by the grand jury and requested an immediate trial. He was tried last Friday before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley and pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Fraley sentenced him to serve three years in the Maryland penitentiary, the sentence to begin January 13, when placed in the county jail.

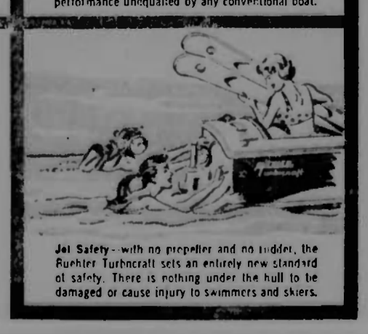
It makes 180-degree turns in its own length—at full throttle. The Turbocraft is fast. It's fun. And it's the safest boat afloat.



Stop in now and inspect the Turbocraft. See the unusual features that make this boat completely different from any you've ever piloted. Ask us about demonstrations.

Jet Power—the Buehler Turbocraft operates on the same principle as jet aircraft. Water under high pressure is directed out the stern of the boat, providing forward thrust similar to that of jet engines.

Jet Performance—instant acceleration, unparalleled maneuverability and the ability to plane in as little as three inches of water give the Buehler Turbocraft performance unequalled by any conventional boat.

Jet Safety—with no propeller and no rudder, the Buehler Turbocraft sets an entirely new standard of safety. There is nothing under the hull to be damaged or cause injury to swimmers and skiers.

Don't Wait For Summer

Stop in now and see the movie of the Turbocraft trial runs on both Colorado and Salmon Rivers.

Originally named were in the first row, Elwood Denmark, David Jones, Billy Boyle, Harry Stemple and another player who, at the time, was unknown. He still is.

Today's Picture

The photograph today is that of another baseball team of more recent vintage. This photograph of the Crellin players is probably 25 or 30 years old and no doubt some readers will have no trouble putting a familiar face. We'd like to hear about it.

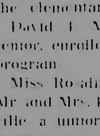
Senate Passes Pay Bill For Teachers



The Senate Tuesday passed and sent to the House Gov. Tawes' measure to give a $300 a year raise to Maryland teachers with at least ten years experience.

The action came on a 25-4 vote and coupled with earlier House passage of a similar bill, set up enactment of the government's proposal.

In contrast to Monday night's [illegible]-minute debate on attempts to kill or drastically revise the teacher-pay bill, there was only a minimum of talking before Tuesday's vote on final passage. Several senators remained firm in their opposition to the bill. They had sought for more generous pay increases for teachers, including those without the seniority requirement provided in the governor's bill.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Good Soldiers

Lesson for February 28, 1960

MAYBE too much is said about the peace and joy of the Christian life. Peace and joy there are, to be sure; but hearing about nothing else may give interested persons the notion that being a Christian is just like floating on your back in a sunlit swimming pool, half asleep. On the contrary, the Christian life is more like a swim across the English channel, fighting current, waves, cold and danger. If you're not prepared to swim against the tide, you'll never make it. Saint Paul more than once used language about the Christian life that make it sound like a fight. He compares it to a race (2 Tim. 4:7), to a boxing match (same verse), to a wrestling match (Eph. 6:12), to a war (Eph. 6:10f), to a battle with wild beasts (1 Cor. 15:32). He urges his young friend Timothy, who was a bit of a mother's-boy, to take his share of suffering like a good soldier of Jesus.

Dr. Foreman

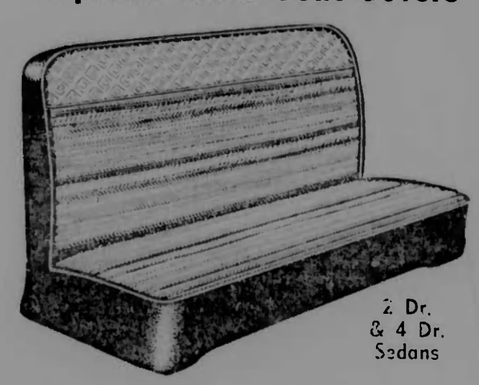
Where the Fight Starts

If this world were the kind of place that would give no trouble at all to a real Christian, it would not be the world that needed to be "saved." It is precisely because the world does not welcome 100% Christians that it did not welcome Jesus; it is definitely the hostility of the world that brought Christ here to endure the Cross.

Jesus did not go around picking on the world, and the Christian has no business picking on it, either. The way to be a good soldier of Jesus is not, usually, to start firing at will. There is enough fighting to be done without picking fights.

Consider the story of Paul's arrest at Jerusalem. It wasn't exactly arrest, it was being taken into protective custody to keep from being beaten to death by a lynching bent mob. What caused the uproar? Blunder caused it, for one thing; Paul was accused of sacrilege, defiling the Holy Place which he had not done at all. Prejudice caused it, inclusive race prejudice; Paul was accused, truthfully enough of being friendly with Gentiles. There were other factors, but already we can see the kind of cause that can always be found back of opposition to Christians: Accusations of which Paul was innocent, and hatred of the very thing he did that was good. The Christian will at times be misunderstood, but even when he is fully understood he still may be a target for broken bottles.

Enduring



There is one very important difference between Christian "warfare" and literal war as carried on in the modern world. The GI or other soldier at the front carries a deadly weapon. He goes after the enemy by bringing him pain and catastrophe, he destroys him if he can. The Christian soldier carries on his war by turning the enemy (of God) into a friend. He fights not by inflicting suffering but by enduring it. Paul being beaten by that insane mob was not fighting back. He would not have done it if he could. He wrote to friends that he carried the "marks of the Lord Jesus" about with him, and he meant literal scars. Read what he says about his trials in 2 Cor. 11: 23-28.

Witnessing

The other way the Christian soldier fights is by simply witnessing. It is an impressive sight. Paul with his clothes torn, himself bleeding and in fact half dead, looking more like an Egyptian bandit than a Roman citizen, quieting the crowd with a gesture, and then in their own language telling the story of how he became a Christian. That took courage. It was really his being a Christian that started the trouble. But this is what he will not tone down or deny. The Christian warfare is by witnessing. Let no one say this is all talk, that talk is cheap and easy, that nobody is going to lynch you for being a Christian in America today. Isn't it true, disgracefully true, that many Christians keep quiet about it? Stones are not thrown today; but laughter is. Don't Christians dread ridicule almost as if it were gunfire?

Lutheran Churches Of Area Cooperate In Lenten Program

In a cooperative effort to emphasize basic Lutheran teachings the pastors of the Mt. Top Lutheran churches are using the Augsburg Confession in their preaching-teaching at mid-week Lenten services which begin on Ash Wednesday, March 2.

According to the Rev. John Kline, pastor of the Bittinger Lutheran parish, the Augsburg Confession is one of the chief confessional statements of the world's 70 million Lutherans. Presented June 25, 1530, to Emperor Charles V at Augsburg, Germany, the document was intended to demonstrate that the Lutherans could not be lumped together with the more radical reformers, and to justify, on basis of Holy Scripture the correction of abuses.

In support of the Lutheran position the confession pleads that "nothing has been received among us, in doctrine or in ceremonies, that is contrary to Scripture or to the Church catholic." The confession shows the basic theological conservatism of the Lutheran Reformers and their appreciation of their link with the historic Church. It commits the Lutheran church to such an attitude.

General areas selected for coverage during the Lenten season include: God-Father, Son and Holy Ghost, Sin and Justification, Relation between Faith and the new life, repentance and confession, the Church and her ministry, the Sacraments, Baptism and the Lord's Supper, rites, usages and traditions.

Participating churches include Accident parish, St. Paul's Aurora; Bittinger parish, Christ, Grantsville; Trinity, Keyser; St. Mark's Oakland; St. John's, Red House.

JAMES E. HUBBARD

James E. Hubbard, aged 68, of Baltimore, died Sunday, February 21, shortly after being admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital. He formerly was a patient at the Weber Nursing home in Mt. Lake Park.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Chester Mason, Baltimore.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home and later taken to the Zeiler Funeral home in Baltimore. Funeral services and burial were held in that city.

MRS. JANET COYLE

Mrs. Janet Coyle, 84, of Cumberland, died last Thursday afternoon, February 18, in the Weeks Nursing home in Oakland where she had been a patient for the past month.

A native of Barton, she was a daughter of the late William and Anna Preston. She was a member of the Barton Presbyterian church and had resided in Cumberland 36 years.

Surviving are two daughters, a son, a sister, five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon from the Boal Funeral home in Westernport. Rev. Emil G. Teyssler, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiated and burial was in Philos cemetery at Westernport.

with Southern States Top Quality Seed

Sure. Top Quality Seed sometimes costs a little more than ordinary seed. Maybe a penny or two more per acre out of every dollar of annual production cost.

But Top Quality Seed gives you 10% and more greater yields than ordinary seed, say conservative agronomists.

Down go your production costs per acre, up go your profits.

"Land Of Canaan" Is Recent Book

"Land of Canaan"

Natives of Western Maryland who seek adventure, beauty and color in the mountains of West Virginia should be interested in "Land of Canaan" the latest book to be published on that region.

"Land of Canaan" is a collection of intriguing, hilarious and sometimes tragic tales from the mountains of Tucker and Randolph counties. It takes its name from the land around Canaan Mountain and the lovely Canaan Valley which is lazily drained by the Blackwater River before it engages in its mad leap over the falls near Davis.

The author, Jack Preble, has spent some twenty years visiting this portion of the Monongahela National Forest as a fisherman, cave explorer, rattlesnake hunter and, on the side, collector of the almost forgotten tales of the wild lumberjacks who once despoiled this land.

Here, in the Land of Canaan you will meet characters you never thought existed—from that almost extinct breed of happy-go-lucky, honest-to-goodness mountain moonshiner to the lusty, go-to-hell, wild and smelly wood hick with his caulked boots, unquenchable thirst and generous heart.

You will visit that lonesome and mysterious region around the Sinks of Gandy Creek and journey through the twisting tube formed by that little river of lost souls while the ghosts of the victims of the Civil War "Swamp Angels" shout their anguished cries at the author and his companions.

Preble again covers the territory embraced by David Hunter Strother some 88 years ago when he wrote, under the pen name of Porte Crayon, a series of stories for Harper's New Monthly Magazine titled "The Mountains."

"Land of Canaan" is not only a good book to read and enjoy but can be used to reach little visited parts of the land. It is predicted that this book will eventually take its place alongside those rare gems—Philip Pendleton Kennedy's "Blackwater Chronicles" and Porte Crayon's "The Virginia Canaan."

(Editor's note: Copies of "Land of Canaan" can be purchased direct from the author, Jack Preble, 117 Buena Vista Road, Steubenville, Ohio, for $2.00 postpaid.)

Utility Operations Are Back To Normal

Utility operations were back to normal Sunday night, after interruptions due to the storm, but a few areas were not out of difficulty until Monday.

A spokesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company said there were still 57 phones out of service in Garrett county Sunday night and 400 in Allegany county.

Phone crews from throughout the state restored toll service to all points Sunday but some lines were put out of service as a result of the train wreck Sunday at Oakland.

The wreck tore down lines carrying circuits between Oakland and Clarksburg, W. Va., Cumberland and Baltimore and some local circuits in Oakland. Phone crews worked around the clock and on into a legal holiday on Monday to get these lines back into service.

C. H. Smith, wire chief was able to get out of the Bittinger office on Sunday where he had been stranded since Friday morning.

Some electric lines were out in the West Maryland area on Friday but power was restored within a short time.

Charles Barkman remains ill at his home here.

Miss Leanna Tasker, of Terra Alta, W. Va., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinebaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carskadon were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fike and family in Oakland.

Robert Shaffer, of College Park, spent Sunday and Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shaffer.

Betty Foy returned to her studies at Frosthurg State Teachers college after undergoing two operations in Cumberland recently. She is doing practice teaching for nine weeks at Bruce High school in Westernport.

Mrs. Bliss Hahn was admitted to the Garrett County Memorial hospital, Monday morning.

Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lantz and family were Betty Foy and Carol Sanders, and Charles Brown, of Cumberland.

Married In Nation's Capital

The marriage of Miss Sylvia Joanne Halsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie Halsey, of Oakland, to Vasile Simplicio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Simplicio, North Fork, W. Va., was solemnized Saturday, January 23, at two o'clock.

The ceremony took place in Saint Matthew's Cathedral, Washington, D. C., with Rev. Fr. John G. Kuhn officiating. Traditional wedding music was played.

Given in marriage by her brother, Roger I. Halsey, of Washington, the bride wore a full length white gown of pure silk satin with princess lines and a chapel train. A lace insert at the neckline was decorated with seed pearls. She wore a small pearl crown holding a fingertip veil and carried a white orchid surrounded with carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Carolyn Long, Deep Creek Lake, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Simplicio, sister of the groom; Miss Carol Phillips and Miss Amanda Maciel. They wore street length gowns of pink organdy chiffon over taffeta styled on princess lines with contrasting pink bows and matching pink veiled headbands. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Serving as best man was Bruce Aldrich, Washington. Ushers were Al Hernandez, Neal Sauve and Bernie Kohler. Flower girl was Pamela Guttenberg, wearing a pink organdy dress and carrying a basket of rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace over taffeta street length dress with matching coat and brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a medium blue lace over taffeta street length dress with matching blue accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother, Roger I. Halsey, 3503 Chambridge road. Presiding at the punch bowl was Gertrude Payne. The table was decorated with white mums and gladioli as a centerpiece. Silver candelabra with white candles decorated the room. A four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Upon leaving on their honeymoon the bride wore a gray wool tweed suit trimmed with black fox cuffs with a white wool knitted coat and black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Nancy Benedetto, New York, grandmother of the groom; Mrs. Jacqueline Daverson, Mrs. Mary Benedetto, New York, aunts of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Phillips, Oakland.

The bride was graduated from Southern High school in 1957 and at present is employed by Field Enterprises Educational Corporation in Washington. Mr. Simplicio is a graduate of North Fork High school, class of 1952, and is at present a manager of the same corporation. The couple will be at home at 1111 Upshur street, N. W., apartment 307, Washington, following their wedding trip to Virginia.

Two State Forestry Camps Were Isolated

The two state forestry camps in this county were marooned for over twenty-four hours by the season's heaviest snowfall. Electric power was restored however after several hours.

The camp near Lonaconing was without light and heat for about 15 hours after going off about 11:15 Thursday night. Power was restored about 3:30 Friday afternoon. Electricity is needed to operate the furnace's hot air blower system.

Difficulty started earlier Thursday for Swauger and Jack Blair, assistant. They had been to Baltimore and were unable to get within two miles of the camp by motor and had to trudge the final two miles through the snow.

Snow at the New Germany camp was measured at 30 inches. There was a week's supply of food there for the 17 boys and leaders.

THE THIRD BEAUTITUDE
The Meek
C. P. ANDERSON, Pastor
Deep Creek Baptist Church

Matt. 5:5: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth."

For our meditation today we are considering the third of the beatitudes of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount, "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth."

This beatitude of Jesus to the hearers on the mountain top seemed like a startling statement, so contrary was it to the common lot of man. There was little or no sign of the meek inheriting the earth when these words were spoken. In the past the world had been conquered by force.

And yet the minds of those Palestinian peasants probably were prepared for this statement of Jesus, because they had read practically the same thing in their book of Psalms. Here more nearly than anywhere else In the Beatitudes, Jesus quotes from the ancient Scriptures, for the psalmist hath said, as recorded in Psalm 37:11, "the meek shall inherit the earth."

Meekness was one of the outstanding characteristics of Jesus and it is the only grace which he invites all men to study in him, when he says to them, "Learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart."

What is meekness? Some one has defined it as strength grown tender. The Christian conception of meekness primarily has reference to our attitude, or rather our disposition, towards God. The meek are those who lovingly bow to the will and authority of God. Who in affliction bless him. Who by prayer seek his guidance. They are slow to give offence. They are slow to resent offences. The Negro boy had been well trained who, when asked, "Who are the meek?" replied, "Those who give soft answers to rough questions."

What are some of the characteristics of meekness? The first one I mention is humility. The meek man will be a humble brother to every man, and will he the meek servant of all.

Humility will manifest itself in the individual. It will also manifest itself in the church. Nearly all the schisms of church history could have been avoided if there had been meekness of spirit on both sides involved.

Another characteristic of meekness is patient endurance. The meek men believe that it is good policy as well as good principle to yield rather than to resist on many occasions. It is the soft answer which frequently turns away wrath. It is non-resistance to evil which often puts evil to shame and to flight.

Still another characteristic of meekness is gentleness. Gentleness goes with great strength of character. The stronger the person, the gentler and the milder he is. The great Christian statesmen are usually calm, mild and meek. They take a firm stand for the right but are generally self-controlled, even in the most trying conditions.

Now let us look briefly at the latter part of this beatitude. We are told that the meek shall inherit the earth. The prayer that Jesus taught his disciples to pray, "Thy kingdom come," would indicate that God's people are to inherit the earth.

It sometimes seems that worldly people, those who live far away from God, are going to inherit the earth. But whenever they win a victory, it does not last. It is not a permanent victory. The people that forget God will never inherit the earth. Those who stand for righteousness and justice will eventually inherit the earth.

The meek inherit the earth in one sense, now. To inherit the earth, one does not have to literally possess it. Those inherit it who find in it the richest and fullest life. The selfish person can never inherit the earth. The little bit of earth that he claims really possesses him and makes him its slave. But with the meek person it is different. He is inheriting the earth because he is content with what he has. He can enjoy the beauties of life without coveting, and without owning.

Take an inventory of your life and see if you possess the characteristics of meekness. Are you humble? Are you patient and forgiving? Are you gentle and kind? Are you thoughtful of others? Are you seeking to point men to Jesus and his way of life?

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . . ."
—Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . . ."
—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . . It is a great car."
—Don Stewart, Motor Life

What's Wrong, Right? - - -

As we observe a trend to lower our moral standards and ponder its effect on the over-all stability of the United States, we were struck by articles in the U. S. News and World Report of February 22, giving; views of what's wrong and what's right with today's America.

The flow of news describing television scandals, police corruption, teen-age crime, tax dodging, student cheating in the classroom. All of these happenings raise a big question in many minds as to whether there is such a trend.

Five authorities gave their answers. It is not possible to give everything but the main thoughts we would do well to ponder.

A top ranking Protestant spokesman says this about U. S. moral fiber: "We don't seem to feel the need of striving for anything." "One side of us is hard headed, money making. The other side is very idealistic and visionary." "A lot of religion people are taking today is not the best." "The American people may still have resources of health."

A historian: "I would emphasize corruption—slackness and softness." "We haven't got adjusted yet to a world of abundance—nor to a world of very deep uncertainty." "There's still much more faith and bounce in people generally than there was in the last centuries of Rome."

Philosopher: "Silly sentimentality about children is bad for the children, bad for our society, bad all along the line." "The child should be given a full burden of work." "Men fight better when kicked than when pampered." "My faith is that we can't fail."

Scientist: "People are rich with power and goods beyond the dreams of kings . . . . They have to be inspired." "Give every student the greatest challenge he can meet." "Set standards above what people think they want." "The great majority of people don't want things too easy."

Distinguished Catholic scholar: "I notice an erosion of our morality—a dangerous thing." "Russia's achievements are the result of dedication."

"Americans still have all the moral stamina you want—if it's honestly required of them." "There must be a consecration to a higher ideal."

Make you own list. And then resolve to do something about our "wrongs" and work constantly to maintain our "rights."

More Snow Keeps Road Crews Busy; All Schools Close

Eastern Storm Brings Additional Eight Inches To County

After being embroiled in additional snow storms during the week and road crews getting things pretty much back to normal by Tuesday, Old Man winter delivered another blow to the county's snow-line Wednesday night that tied up traffic and caused schools to be closed once more, the second time within a week.

All-Time Record

Snowfall in February hit an all-time record, according to Ralph E. Weber, veteran weather man. During that month there was a total of 42.4 inches of snow, the most ever recorded for any one month. Mr. Weber said there had been 30 inches or more a number of times but never as much as last month.

The total for the winter thus far is 75 inches up to the end of February. Between eight and twelve inches fell last night.

Highways Blocked

State Roads commission reported this morning that the Hoyes-Friendsville road, the Bittinger-Grantsville road, and U. S. 219, around the Cove were all blocked this morning, and that U. S. 219, south of Red House, had been blocked temporarily but that it was now open.

Edward P. Kahl, roads engineer, said he hoped to have all roads open by this afternoon, providing the wind did not get any worse.

The last storm came from the east and by this morning had deposited some eight inches on the ground. Wind began additional drifting which again blocked secondary roads and caused cessation of schools for at least today and possibly tomorrow. Snow fences, calculated to minimize drifting, are on the wrong side of the highways for this storm in many instances, but all available plows were in action this morning to clear them for two-way traffic.

Some twenty inches of snow have fallen since last Thursday. There were five inches or more of new snow last Thursday and Friday, two more inches on Sunday and at least five additional inches on Monday. Wind began to blow again Sunday night and drifted shut a number of secondary roads which made it impossible for schools to be in session on Monday.

The winds also kicked up additional trouble last Thursday and caused schools to be closed early in order to get all the children

Dairy Problems To Be Discussed Mar. 11

A winter Extension dairy meeting will be held on Friday, March 11, at the Oakland Fire hall, it was announced by James McHenry, county agricultural agent. All dairymen are invited.

McHenry said the program would be designed to present educational, up-to-date information of interest to dairymen. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m., and continue until 3 p. m.

Representatives from the University of Maryland Extension Service will present various topics.

Dr. J. R. Schabinger, Extension Dairyman, will present "Economics and Analysis of the Dairy Operation." This subject will deal with dairy analysis, facts to consider in expansion of the dairy operation, investments that return money, and size versus production capacity. Dr. Schabinger will also present "Current Food and Drug Administration Requirements in the Marketing of Milk." This subject should be of particular interest to the dairymen in this area, McHenry said.

Dr. Morris Decker, Agronomy Department, will discuss "Management and Harvesting of Quality Forage." This subject will include fertilization, seeding, variety recommendations, management, and harvesting practices.

Dr. Paul Santelmann, Extension Agronomist, will discuss "Spray Programs for Forage Crops". Current chemical recommendations for controlling weeds and insects will be presented under this subject.

Dr. James Miller, Soil Testing Department, will present the topic "Test, Don't Guess." The procedures of taking soil samples and submitting them for analysis and the method in which recommendations are made will be presented.

Mr. McHenry said he was hoping to see over a hundred dairymen at the session.

Southern Wins 74-53 Over Cadets

To Play Ellicott City Friday; Northern To Meet Middletown In "B" Game

Southern High School's high flying Highlanders took advantage of a sluggish Frederick defense to easily defeat the Cadets 74 to 53 in first round action of the Maryland District one tournament Tuesday night on the Allegany High school court in Cumberland.

The Highlanders will play Howard County High School of Ellicott City on Friday evening at 7:30 in the class "A" semi-finals at the Campobello gymnasium. The Howard county five edged Westminster by a 48-45 score on the Western Maryland college floor on Tuesday.

Frederick stayed within reach of Southern for the better part of three quarters but the Oakland team coached by Carl Schoonover put its offense in high gear in the final period and ripped off 26 points while holding Frederick to 12.

The first half was closely contested as the Cadets, hitting with some degree of consistency from outside, matched the fast moving Highlanders point for point. The lead changed hands eight times and the score was tied on nine occasions. Southern held a one-point advantage at the end of the first quarter and a 34-29 edge at the half.

A foul conversion by the Cadets' Ronnie Hartsock broke the last tie at 28-all but Terry Colaw came right back with a pair of free throws that gave Southern a lead it never relinquished.

Successive field goals by Hartsock and Bill Brooks and penalty pitches by Harold Blank and Pete Nelson cut Southern's margin to five points at 46-41, with 29 seconds to go in the third period after the Highlanders had built up an advantage of 11 points 46-35, with less than two minutes remaining in the quarter.

This was the last semblance of a threat made by Frederick as the play in the final frame.

Three Frederick cagers fouled out with Wayne Rinehart being first to leave followed by Blank and then Kreissig.

Terry Colaw made seven field

Fire Burns House Near Kitzmiller

Fire catching from an overheated flue entirely destroyed the bungalow of Wesley Whittaker on Pee Wee hill, near Kitzmiller about 5:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker and their children, they attempted to put out the flames and ran to a neighbors to call the Kitzmiller Fire department which responded. The fire had gained too great a headway and could not be extinguished before it had burned to the ground.

There was no insurance. Mr. Whittaker is employed as a coal miner in the Kingwood neighborhood.

Oakland Firemen Called

Oakland firemen were called twice in two days to extinguish flue fires. One was at the home of Ray Martin in Crellin about 6:15 p. m. Tuesday. The home was damaged to the extent of about $50.

The second call was to the home of Edward Rice on Cozy row, in Mt. Lake Park, about 11:30 Wednesday morning. There was no damage.

Called Last Night

Oakland firemen were called for the third time within two days about 8:15 o'clock last night as the result of a fire in the Edward Fitzwater store at Deer Park.

The Deer Park firemen already were on the scene but called the Oakland department as a precautionary measure.

There was considerable smoke damage to the contents of the store but the blaze was soon under control. The Oakland department was not called into action.

Legislature Planned To Adjourn This Morning

Grand lodge officers and representatives from nearby lodges have been invited.

The entertainment committee has scheduled a program of vocal and instrumental numbers, quartet and group singing. Fifty and twenty-five year pins will be presented to veteran members. Refreshments will be served.

At the meeting this Friday movies will be shown at the close of the lodge session.

Over 52 Percent of County Taxes Paid

Over 52 percent of the total amount of county taxes for 1960 have been collected in the first two months of the tax period, it was learned from Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer.

A report this week showed that $278,379.50 in January and February on the real and personal property, and $61,593.50 from public utilities, for a total of $339,973.00. The amount from public utilities came from the Pennsylvania Electric company for taxes on the Deep Creek Lake area. The total amount from the electric company, including real and personal, amounted to some $75,000.

Corporations have thirty days after getting their tax bill to remit the amount and still receive the five percent discount, so it is hard to make a direct comparison with previous years.

Mr. Welch said that actually he had collected $408,151.83 during the period but the amount above the $339,973 was from taxes in prior years and from other sources.

The actual percentage of taxes collected was 52.12 percent of the total. Total amount to be collected is $531,017.02. During the two months' period Mr. Welch allowed $17,041.29 in discounts, this being the amount saved taxpayers by paying during the five percent discount period.

Mr. Welch reminded taxpayers that all 1959 taxes must be paid by April 1st, otherwise the treasurer is compelled by law to arrange for forced collection.

The discount period on county taxes dropped to four percent for March and April. It will drop to three percent in May and June. No discount is allowed after June 30. The interest period will start September 1. There is no discount on state taxes.

Sentenced to Jail

Karl Kyle, Oakland, unable to pay fines of $100 and $25 and costs on motor vehicle law violations, was sentenced to serve 55 days in the county jail, in default.

In other cases before the trial magistrate were the following:

Harold Estel Scott, Daniels, W. Va., charged with displaying plates issued to another vehicle and for operating an automobile without a license.

He pleaded guilty in both instances and was fined $5 and costs on both offenses. The fines and costs were suspended by the magistrate.

Harry Ray Mason, Jennings, reckless driving, $10 and costs.

The Department of Motor Vehicles announced this week that the driving privilege had been revoked in the case of W. W. Price, of Mt. Lake Park.

Red House Man Is Killed As Tractor Upsets Yesterday

Harman C. Rolf, 55, a farmer of the Red House area, was accidemally killed yesterday afternoon when the tractor he was operating upset, pinning him beneath.

Dr. James H. Feaster, deputy medical examiner for the county, said Mr. Rolf died of head injuries sustained when he was pinned under the rear end of the tractor.

Dr. Feaster said the accident occurred as Mr. Rolf started the tractor up a slight grade which was covered with snow. The vehicle reared up and Mr. Rolf apparently was pinned beneath the rear of the tractor.

A neighbor, Ray Mosser, discovered Mr. Rolf. Assisting with the investigation was Bruce Close, deputy sheriff.

New Law Requires License Renewal

The House of Delegates last Saturday enacted a Senate bill calling for all drivers to renew their licenses every two years.

Governor Tawes said he planned to sign the Act into law.

It was pointed out during the debate preceding the 80 to 30 House vote which completed legislative action on the measure that Maryland is the only State which does not require general reregistration at regular intervals.

All Maryland drivers paid $1 each in 1937 to have their licenses renewed. The state is now in the final year of a three-year registration period. Under the recent enactment operators' licenses will expire every two years.

Under the new legislatiun, drivers born in an even year will renew their licenses in 1962 and those with birthdays in an odd year in 1963. The renewal applications will be due during the month of the driver's birthday.

The renewal licenses will cost $2 and will be obtainable by mail.

Ronald Beitzel, Tom Magruder and Bill Magruder will represent Garrett county 4-H'ers at the 4-H and F. F. A. Dressed Turkey Show, according to Barry Carr, assistant county agent. Each boy will exhibit a dressed tom and hen as well as his completed record book.

The event will be held Wednesday, March 9 in connection with the annual meeting of the Maryland Turkey Producers' association at Harundale Mall shopping center near Glen Burnie.

Barry said an elaborate show was being planned to promote the use of Maryland produced turkeys. A frozen turkey display will be exhibited for a week. He estimated some sixty thousand persons would view the display.

CRATES FOR MISSILES—The Garrett Building Supply corporation, Mt. Lake Park, is shown loading the first of a number of missile crates being constructed for a firm in the Washington area that deals directly with the federal government. The project may develop into a valuable one for the lumber dealer. See story on this page.

Missile Crates Are Under Construction By Garrett Building

The Garrett Building Supply corporation in Mt. Lake Park is launching a program of supplying missile crates for a firm in the Washington area that deals directly with the Federal government. The present order is for five units and Veryl Weimer, member of the company, revealed this week that he had been low bidder on the furnishing of many hundreds of similar crates. Pending the awarding of the contract, he was working on the order of five units.

The missile crate is about 15 feet long and almost three feet square, made of plywood. In each crate are five cradles to carry the missile with an inch of felt around the cradles. The crate weighs from 900 to 1,000 pounds, including the runners to which it is attached. The crate is painted red. Weimer said that it takes about 48 man hours for each crate.

If the contract is awarded and full scale producton gets underway, Weimer said the job would employ five ur six men full time.

Has Beer License Suspended 2 Weeks

At a hearing before the County Commissioners, sitting as the county liquor board, the license to sell beer at the Sky High Tavern was suspended for a two weeks' period, February 25 to March 11, it was learned this week.

Joseph Westcoat, who operates the Tavern on Deep Creek Lake, was fined $750 and costs on one of three violations of the Garrett County liquor laws on January 28, at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney. He pleaded guilty to the charge of possession of whiskey fur the purpose uf sale.

For a violation of the county beer laws, it is possible lor the county liquor board to suspend the license or revoke it up to two years.

Stuart F. Hamill, attorney to the Board of County Commissioners, explained that the license to sell beer actually was in the name of Joseph Rhodes, who was now in Florida, and not Joseph Westcoat, and there had been no charge against Mr Rhodes. He indicated that Mr. Westcoat had been fined heavily on the violation.

Magistrate Maroney said the heavy fine was imposed after learning that three cases of drunken driving were directly attributed to the selling of liquor at the tavern. One wreck involved Carl Kyle, who was released from the hospital this week after being treated for a broken leg, and who was tried Monday on charges of driving an automobile while under influence of liquor and for reckless driving.

Sheriff James E. Frantz expressed dislike for the action taken by the liquor board, and voiced the opinion that "There's not much use to catch them."

The events in the meet will include a slalom race which tests the precision judgment and skill of a skier in negotiating gates placed on a steep slope, and is a race against time. There will also be a gaint slalom which places more emphasis on speed and nerve. Also planned is a mother-son and a dad-daughter race.

WEEKLY SERMON

Some Pointed Words

Dr. Frances Steele, one of the world's top authorities on Babylonian cuneiform writing, and discoverer of the Lipit-Ischtart law code which dates back to 1860 B.C., gave a noonday lecture at University of British Columbia. Quoting from the Now Magazine, "Only the uninformed scoff at the Bible. The informed man, whether Christian or not, knows that to do this is silly because of the weight of evidence against him. I was interested to note that some of the Professors at your University, as at mine, are brilliant in their own field but are absolute saps in their lack of awareness of the historical accuracy of the Bible," he said. Continuing he said, "Wherever it is possible to obtain information, it always agrees with Bible History. The reason people are bitter about the Bible is that the Bible is not just another book about the world and about man. It is the Word of God, and its message is unpopular because it states men are sinners and their only way to salvation lies through Jesus Christ and the Cross. But they do not like to be told that they are incapable of managing their own affairs. Therefore the Book annoys them." If you want a word of authority from Science, here it is.

Competition, the "Life Blood"—An editorial which deserves repeating appeared in the Baltimore Sun under the heading, "No Justification, Except . . . ":

"When a steel warehouse in St Louis dropped its prices this week, a competitor remarked sourly 'There is absolutely no justification for lower prices at this time except a move to grab more local business.'

"How true! That is always the reason for price cuts: An effort to grab more business. Henry Ford was out to grab more business when he cut prices of Tin Lizzies in the early days—and it worked. It brought cars within the reach of ordinary people. It put the nation on wheels. It made his company the leader in the automobile industry, until his company and his competitors began to soft-pedal competition. Price competition benefits the consumer immediately by making his dollar go farther, and is the greatest spur to productive efficiency and hence the greatest stimulator of economic growth. This country could do with a great deal more of it."

Farm Program—$1,000 Per Minute!—In mid-1952, the Federal government held surplus wheat totaling 166 million bushels—taxpayers' investment: 400 million dollars. In mid-1960, the Federal government held surplus wheat totaling 1,300 million bushels—taxpayers' investment: 3,300 million dollars.

President Eisenhower, in his special farm message, asked Congress to act sensibly and swiftly to end a wheat program now costing the Government $1,000 a minute. The President stressed the urgency of new legislation to end a program which is "visiting havoc upon the very people this program is intended to help." He specified that the new program must be "economically sound and not a political poultice."

Maryland-Washington Area Planning—The Maryland-National Capitol Park and Planning Commission, with headquarters at Silver Spring, Maryland, will prepare a comprehensive plan for the growth and development of the Maryland-Washington regional district with the aid of a $60,000 Federal grant, it was announced on Thursday.

Security or Growth?—The attitude of some of your young men in looking for "positions"—inquiring closely about retirement plans and other fringe benefits—has caused me to wonder if perhaps we have not taught our children to have too much concern with "security." Perhaps we have been misled by present-day psychologists who say that the greatest need of the child is for security. That, I believe, is not true. A healthy child loves adventure, and so does a healthy man. But when we make a fetish of security, we can expect our son to pick the job that promises security more than significant growth, surround himself with social security, and lose a trait of character that made this country great, the taste for risk and adventure.

Biggest Item on Our Growing Debt—Since World War II, our Public Debt has increased some 15.4 billion dollars. Of that, 6.8 billion has been accumulated Postal deficit. In other words, nearly half of the debt increase can be charged to one item: What the Government is losing on Postal service.

Between 1960 and 1940, the Postal deficit amounted to an average of 332 million dollars a year. The Postal deficit for the last fiscal year before President Eisenhower came to office was 720 million dollars. This Administration was able to reduce the loss; the average annual Postal deficit between 1949 and 1959 was 496 million. However, for fiscal year 1961 (which starts July 1, 1960), the Postal deficit will be more, due to increased costs all along the line; it will cost approximately 603 million dollars plus all the Postal receipts for twelve months to give you Postal service next year.

Interest Rate Ceiling Hurts Everyone—Generally speaking, we avoid technical financial subjects, but here's one requiring attention, as it affects the daily life of every man, woman and child in the United States.

President Eisenhower asked Congress to remove the interest rate ceiling on Government bonds—an action designed for your benefit. And look what happened! The political opponents of this Administration—with a jaundiced eye on the election coming up this Fall—cried: "It's only for the benefit of the bankers." Nothing could be further from the truth.

What will take place when the interest rate ceiling is removed? For the time being, let's skip over the indirect benefits of a halted inflation, important as that is, and go on to direct benefits. When interest rates rise, the benefit flows to the millions upon millions of people of modest means who manage to put a few dollars away in a savings account. There are: 22 million accounts in mutual savings banks, averaging $1,527, and totaling 48 billion dollars; 37 million savings accounts at commercial banks, averaging $962, and totaling 40 billion dollars. In addition to the millions of savings accounts, there are 8 million people participating in payroll savings plans to buy U. S. savings bonds, and about 40 million Americans who own Government bonds. The millions of people who have savings accounts and the other millions who buy Government bonds are beneficiaries of interest payments. They are lenders.

There are far more lenders than borrowers. The direct benefits of higher interest rates flow to the many, not the few.

A Great Space Glider—Contrary to earlier reports, the Air Force's first manned space vehicle, the Dynasoar, will not initially be a weapon carrier. It will be an experimental plane to begin with—as is the X-15, not being tested. The X-15 could well be the first vehicle in the world to carry man for a few moments to the fringes of the atmosphere, 80 to 100 miles high. The Dynasoar will carry experimentation another 50 miles higher and is designed to glide in space.

"You People are the Bosses"—A significant point in President Eisenhower's recent conference remarks on the "space race" has been almost overlooked in all the hubbub about his statement to the effect that he considered space exploration and defense as two different things. Answering a reporter who had implied that Soviet space victories would produce a defeatism in the United States, Mr. Eisenhower had answered earnestly and ardently, referring to America's free enterprise system as preferable to dictatorship and belittling the importance of Soviet leadership in space, likening it to a sports event. In communicating his deep feelings, the President revealed a basic philosophy about our system which has escaped more than passing attention, he concluded his warm exposition with these words: "Let's remember, you people are the bosses of the American Government. You can make the decisions . . . We want things or we don't want them. All right, then, it's your responsibility."

What Would You Do?—As the President said, you people are the bosses. I would like to know how you feel about the various matters in the public mind. In pursuance of this information, next week's issue of the "Senate Cloakroom" will be a questionnaire.

Roads Commission Gets Green Light On Highway Plans

Maryland's planned 12-year program of building roads is to change during the final five years. Gov Tawes will sign a bill giving the State Road commission the green light to forget the limitations imposed on what it could build and when.

The 1953 Legislature which adopted the ambitions program spelled out how fast the commission could proceed. The main restriction was that the commission had to build 90 percent of its outlined roads in a four-year period before progressing to roads in the next period.

The Roads commission decided there wouldn't be enough money to carry out the entire program without increasing taxes. Without more money the commission said that it the 12-year program were followed Maryland would wind up in 1965 with "crazy quilt network of partially completed arterial highways and partially completed secondary roads."

Instead it proposed that 330 million dollars of the prospective money be spent on completing 400 miles of major highways and spending the 40 million left over on secondary roads. The commission is to decide which secondary roads will be build after consulting with county officials and county legislators.

goals in 20 attempts and came through with 10 of 13 at the foul line to wind up as high scorer with 21 points. Ron Colaw and Jerry Wine tallied 20 and 16 respectively to aid the winning cause. Bolyard had 4. Stuck 7, Stemple 1 and James 2 to complete the scoring. Non-scoring were Prince, Malone, Broadwater and DiSimone.

Hartsock had 20 for the Cadets with Rinehart 12 and Brooks 11.

Southern collected 24 field goals on 76 attempts and 26 out of 46 fouls. Frederick made 19 field goals out of 67 attempts and 15 of 23 at the foul line. The Highlanders did little fouling and closely guarded the Cadets, giving them few chances to shoot in the open.

Several hundred from Oakland were on hand to witness the event.

W. Kenneth Johns, principal of Southern, said the school was planning to run a bus to Friday's game for the students.

A pep rally is being planned for Friday morning at the school.

In the other game Tuesday night a spirited Hancock High quint rallied in the final period to upset Bruce High of Westernport 64 to 61 in a class "B" contest. Kenny Shives proved to be the undoing of Bruce scoring 26 points. Bruce led by five points 45 to 40 as the fourth quarter got under way and held the lead for three minutes. Two free throws and a pair of jump shots put Hancock in front 55 to 51. Friedl goals by Wright and Wiltison and a foul shot by the latter tied it up at 59-59 with 40 seconds to go. Smith converted a foul for Hancock, and Wright got a field goal that regained the lead for Bruce 62 to 61. At this point Shives tossed in a shot with 20 seconds left and then sank a pair of free throws with four seconds showing on the clock.

The win put Hancock into the finals. It will play the winner of the Northern High vs. Middletown game which is set for Friday evening, March 4, at 6 o'clock, prior to the Southern-Howard county game at 7:00. The third game on Friday will be between Allegany and North Hagerstown in another semi finals "A" class game.

safely home before nightfall. The trouble was said to be spotty, particularly in areas on Backbone mountain, around Deep Creek lake, and on route 219 and route 40 in the vicinity of Keyser Ridge. All state roads remained open.

March was ushered in with colder weather and after hitting seven above zero on Tuesday morning it dropped to 15 below zero on Wednesday morning for the coldest reading of the winter.

Motorists traveling along county highways last Friday night ran into zero visibility. The storm was intense from Oakland to Deep Creek Lake and on route 40 at Long Stretch, Keyser Ridge, and also along route 495. The latter route was operated as a one-way road. The temperature hovered around the 22 degree mark in the Oakland area Friday night. High temperature for Monday was 26 degrees.

Today the thermometer was around the 20 degree mark. Eight to ten inches of snow had been predicted and this already has been fulfilled. The fine snow, coming from the East began to descend after 7:30 and inches had been added by midnight. Then the wind began its work and by morning drifting had become serious. A somewhat warmer week-end is predicted.

Gives Assurance On Routes 40 and 219

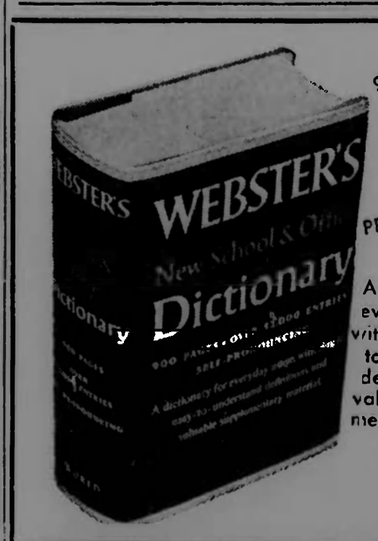
State Senators of this area were informed by the head of the State Roads commission of the application in Western Maryland of the new five-year roads program as included in legislation passed in the General Assembly.

If the measure is signed by Gov. Tawes, which he has said he would do, John B. Funk, chairman, told the Senators that work on route 40 would start in October. The portion affected would be from Hancock to Keyser Ridge, with 44.1 miles, at a cost of $15,543,140.

Route 219 work from Keyser Ridge toward Oakland would begin in April, 1961, with $4,236,000 to be expended. Senator Bernard I. Gonder said the roads commission would start to survey this route this spring.

Funk said: "I would like to assure you that every effort will be made to provide a continuous construction schedule in each area of the state in order that the road contractors, employes and suppliers may have a continuous benefit of the program during the five-year period."

Three Escapees From Moundsville Captured



Three escapees from the West Virginia state penitentiary at Moundsville were recaptured early Wednesday morning by Maryland and Pennsylvania State police.

Corporal Sam Conrad said the night patrol from the LaVale barracks picked up one early Wednesday on Negro Mountain, along route 40, but the two others escaped temporarily in their stolen car but were picked up a short time later at Somerset, Pa., by the Pennsylvania state police. The break from the penitentiary occurred on Tuesday.

The three convicts were returned to the West Virginia penal institution last night. They were identified as Emmett R. McCarthy, 28, serving one to ten years for larceny, who was recaptured on Negro mountain by Cpl. Charles H. DeWitt; Roy F. Haines, 34, one to ten years for breaking and entering; and Simon Whytsell, Jr., 36, serving a life term under habitual criminal act. The two latter had walked about 10 miles through knee-deep snow and near zero temperature after wrecking a stolen station wagon. They were grabbed at Springs.

Prison authorities said the three men escaped by taking a guard's hat and coat and making their way to a parked pickup truck inside the prison gates. Gate guards, thinking a fellow guard was inside the truck, waved it through the gate.

Seed Test Advised For Best Results

With the cost of labor, equipment and fertilizer so high, farmers and homeowners should avoid wasting their time by using low quality seed this spring. Best way to make sure of using good quality seed is to have it tested, says Gus Day, Supervisor of the Maryland Seed Testing Laboratory.

Testing the seed will show insect damage, chemical over-treatment with fungicides and pesticides; seed borne diseases; kind and amount of weed seed; and the capabilities of the seed sample.

According to Mr. Day, a high percentage of the locally grown red clover and lespedeza seed lots are of poor quality this year. This is due to weather conditions last year and to the great demand for seeds of legumes this spring.

To make sure these and other vegetables, flower and field seeds are good for planting, growers should send in a representative sample to the testing laboratory.

Put the sample into a strong container. Properly label it to show the kind of seed, the lot number and the sender's name and address. Your County Agent will send it to the laboratory, or else the grower may send it directly to the seed laboratory by mail. Mr. Day says.

He suggested that the sample be large enough to enable the laboratory to make a complete test. For example, 2 teaspoonfuls of red clover and lespedeza, or a quart of soybeans and corn, are needed.

Results of the seed test are sent to the submitter as soon as completed. The first six units tested per year are free to all farmers and homeowners. A small service charge is collected for additional units, he says.

Seed lots should be sent well in advance of planting date—3 weeks to a month. Send to Maryland Seed Testing Laboratory, University of Maryland, College of Agriculture, College Park, Md.

BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT!
Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrific heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using tin cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

To Conduct Lenten Services At Methodist

Services will be conducted each Wednesday evening at 7:30 through Lent at St. Paul's Methodist Church. These services, sponsored by the commission on membership and evangelism will be informal, and include messages designed to meet human need, according to Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor.

The commission plans a visitation of prospects to accompany this Lenten series.

Also, planned for Sunday Mornings during Lent is a sermon series entitled, "A Christian is—" The sermon each Sunday will complete this statement by adding in order: humble, forgiving, patient, obedient, steadfast, courageous (Palm Sunday), and victorious (Easter).

The calendar of coming regular meetings includes: Official Board, March 9; Methodist Men, March 16; and Fourth Quarterly Conference on March 23.

The House fell 22 votes short of overriding Eisenhower's veto of a bill to increase federal spending on water pollution control.

Q. Every month I go through two or three days of absolute misery. I have tried everything under the sun. Can't anything be done for this periodic pain?
—Miss W.

A. Most women probably have some periodic discomfort but consider it normal and pay little attention to it. Although dysmenorrhea (difficult or painful menstruation) can be caused by specific disorders, in most cases no cause can be found. If the doctor who examines you fails to pinpoint the cause, don't assume that he is going to say, "It's all in your head." The pain is there and no one knows it better than the sufferer. The first step in getting lasting relief of the "causeless" type of dysmenorrhea is often difficult for the victim because it may involve disregarding folklore and unlearning false ideas about a normal and natural function. Menstruation is not a state of ill health although terms commonly applied to it often imply illness. Some women have the false notion that menstruation is some sort of purgation which rids the body of poisons or that it is an indication of inferiority. Talk things out with your doctor. You may be surprised by the results.

Q. Our 3-year-old is mentally okay but doctors say she is completely deaf. Are there any books or pamphlets that will help us with our problem?
